Paul O'Toole pitched a no-hitter over the seven-inning route as Local 1139 defeated Quincy Elks, 7-0, in the Quincy Babe Ruth League. In his last 14 innings he has given up one hit and struck out 20.

Paul helped his own cause with a double and single. Kevin Howlett hit a home run and single, Mark Millane had a triple and a single, Willy Kilgallon a triple and Bob Howlett, Tom Richards, Chris Petrillo, Bill Cooke and Anthony Twohig had a hit each. For the Elks Mike Crowley made a sensational one-hand running catch off the bat of Bob Howlett with the bases loaded and two outs in the second. Steve Healy took a one-hop line drive hit in right field and threw a strike to first to catch batter Richards in the first.

The Police Club defeated Granite City Electric, 3-1, behind the three-hit pitching of John Costigan. Shawn Murphy was the hard luck loser, giving up five hits and all three runs in the first inning. It was Costigan's fifth win. Billy O'Connell provided the big blow with a two-run homer. Bobby Cronin followed with a single, stole second and scored on Kevin McKinnon's single. O'Connell also singled in the fifth and John Sweet had a single. Police Club played an out-defensive game. Tony Camillo, Bobby Campbell and Nick Bertsononi had the Granite City hits.

Local 1139 topped Bryan VFW Post, 6-4, in an extra inning game, scoring three runs in the eighth. Richie Hallberg was the winning pitcher, hiking his record to 6-1. He continued to display amazing control. For 1139 O'Toole had a homer and two singles, Bob Howlett a triple and two singles, Richards a triple and single, Kevin Howlett two hits and Cooke, Petrillo and Hallberg one hit each. For VFW Jim Hacunda and Andy Orrock had three hits apiece.

Police Club scored all its runs in the first three innings to topple Sons of Italy, 8-5. O'Connell pitched six-hit ball. Police clinched it with five runs in the third when John Sweet singled, Gary DiNardo and Bobby Cronin walked, Steve Sweet doubled home two runs, John Sullivan walked, John Costigan singled and Ron Pettinelli singled. John Sweet had two hits and Sullivan, Steve Sweet, O'Connell, Pettinelli and Costigan one each. For S. of I.

John Boyle and Bobby Hayes had two-run homers.

Local 1139 walloped Firemen, 8-2, with Mark Millane pitching a three-hitter. He was afforded excellent support. Cooke in right field robbed Pete Notarangelo of what would have been his second triple with a sensational catch. In the third a fast double play, Kevin Howlett to O'Toole to Hallberg bailed Millane out of a jam. Notarangelo's triple and singles by Greg Madden and Jim Sullivan were the only Firemen hits. Cooke, Hallberg, Richards, Kevin and Bob Howlett and Millane had the hits for 1139.

Jaycees Co-sponsoring Good Sports Competition

The Quincy Jaycees have joined with the Massachusetts Jaycees and WBZ television-radio in sponsorship of the fourth annual Massachusetts Jaycees Good Sports Competition, a statewide project to highlight the fun of amateur athletic competition and the importance of regular physical exercises.

Grouped according to sex and age, competitors will take part in the following events: basketball foul shooting, the 440 yard run, an obstacle course, an eight lb.

and twelve lb. shotput, soccer and football kick, and softball throw. Age groupings will be: under 16 years; 17-29 years, and 30 years and older.

Local competitions will be held July 30, with winners advancing to the regional competition July 31. Regional winners will go on the statewide finals to be telecast on WBZ-TV.

The local competition will be at Cavanagh Field in North Quincy. Competitors must register by July 23. For further information, contact any member of the Quincy Jaycees, or call 272-5072.

Junior League

HN Takes First Place

Houghts Neck Legion finished with a 17-5 record and first place in the Junior Baseball League's American League and opened the playoffs with an easy win over Burgin Platner.

HN came from behind to defeat Boston Gear in its final regular season game, 5-3, after trailing, 3-0. HN scored its five runs in the fifth with key hits by Kevin White, Mark Righini, Mark Abbound and Mike Notorangelo. In its playoff opener HN bombed Burgin, 9-1, with an 11-hit attack and fine pitching by Marty McLaughlin, who struck out 11.

White had three hits, Righini had two doubles and four RBIs, McLaughlin had a double, Kevin Tenny and Joe Oriola had two singles each and Danny Kelly and John Comeau had singles. Comeau, Jim McParland, Dom Peters, John Phelan and John O'Connor turned in excellent defensive plays.

RECREATION ROUND UP

The Quincy Recreation Department is into its second full week of an enthusiastic and fun-filled summer for Quincy's youth.

Director Robert K. Beniers and Assistants Frank Brillo and Barry Welch report on some of the main features of this year's program:

 HAPPY ACRES DAY CAMP, under the supervision of John Osgood, provides Quincy's children with special needs, new learning experiences available to them. They have a variety of programs including field trips to zoos, museums, aquariums, and other places of interest. Activities of this camp are planned to provide each child with an opportunity to compete and learn in accordance with their own skills and abilities.

 WILLIAM F. RYAN Boating and Sailing Facility at Black's Creek. Supervisor Steve Kenney's instructors are: Regina Hussey, Marsha Katz, Judith LeFleur, Thomas Nee, Mary Kay Albanese, Robert Nord, Steve Robinson, Holly Spanks and Robert Sweeney.

Instruction in sailing, rowing, canoeing, and boating safety is available at the Black's Creek Boathouse. The schedule: Children - 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday. Adults - by appointment only, 4 p.m. - 8 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Family sailing - Saturdays 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Sundays noon to 6 p.m.

 SWIMMING LESSONS: Swimming instructions under the supervision of the Recreation Department's trained Water Safety Instructors in association with the Red Cross hold swimming lessons five days each week with the time schedule varying with the tides. Classes are for swimmers with skills which range from non-swimmers to advanced, and there is also special classes for mothers.

 PLAYGROUND PROGRAMS: Daily playground activities are provided at the parks throughout the city. Each playground is supervised with trained leaders. The parks are open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Besides the regular activities, there are also special sports clinics like the Boston Lobsters Tennis Clinic at the Vo-Tech tennis courts scheduled for Wednesday July 20, at 10 a.m.

Budget Hits Another Snag

"Up to this moment the Mayor's office has refused to provide this information and claims that all the figures submitted originally by the departments are in error.

"The Mayor's office further stated that after a review of the figures with each department head, that the department heads agreed with the Mayor's figures and clearly understood the amounts added and what these amounts were for.

"However, none of these figures have been submitted to the City Council.

"The Council realizes that the Department Heads have been ordered by the Mayor's office not to discuss these changes with the Auditor and have been prohibited from answering questions by the Council.

"Because of this I have no alternative other than to recommend to the Council that they assume the original figures submitted by the department heads to be correct unless the department heads specify by category and amount the additional funds they now claim are necessary.

"The Council realizes the pressure you are under, but it also realizes its and your obligation to the taxpayers of this city to provide all necessary information so that a prudent and intelligent decision may be made in this matter.

In her message to the Mayor, which was forwarded to the City Council, Miss Saccone said in part:

"As you are aware, the city department heads have had no raises since July 1, 1974, at which time they were granted varying percentages of salary adjustments after a Salary Survey Committee recommendation.

"My recommendation to the City Council was to give the department heads the same percentage increases as the majority of the city union personnel, namely 5 per cent effective Jan. 1, 1977, and 8 per cent effective Jan. 1, 1978.

"These were to be further offset by an additional 5 per cent effective July 1, 1976, to make up for the 8.9 per cent that all other city employees received July 1, 1975.

"Since I am aware of the compression factor problem that has been building up I have compared several of the department head positions with the next highest position in the department."

The figures presented by Miss Saccone showed that, as of Jan. 1, 1978, without raises for the department heads:

* The City Clerk would be getting $17,000 while his assistant would be receiving $18,456. On July 1, 1974, the City Clerk received $17,000 and his assistant got $15,500.

* The director of Veterans Services would be getting $17,000 while the assistant director would be receiving $17,980. On July 1, 1974, the director got $17,000 and his assistant $15,100.

* The City Personnel Director would be getting $13,476 while those under the general classification of "head clerk" would be receiving $13,932. On July 1, 1974, the Personnel Director got $13,476 and head clerks received $10,062.

Miss Saccone listed seven other departments in which the second in command was paid almost as much as the chief - assessors, library, sewer, water, highway, forestry and wire inspector.

The Budget Director's message went on:

"The compression factor was adversely affected when the rest of the city work force received an 8.9 per cent pay increase in July, 1975, and the department heads did not receive an increase at all.

"Compounding this fact will be the 5 per cent and 8 per cent increases before the City Council and in most city contracts.

"If the City Council passes the supplemental budget as it is before them with the department head adjustments included the problem will be addressed.

"If, however, they do not, as has been indicated at their public meetings, salaries would appear as reported on the attached report.

"In some instances, the second level salary or mid-management level will surpass the department head salary.

"In some instances also, there is additional money that will be paid to the second level salary such as overtime and differentials that would not be paid to the department head which would cut the spread even further.

"I cannot understand how the City Council could knowingly create a problem of this magnitude.

"A selected passage of department head wage adjustments would certainly not solve this problem, but only make it worse.

"Not only is that very unfair and discriminatory, but it would serve to compound the morale problem that the compression factor has brought to light.

"I feel the fairest way to handle the problem is as you have - granting the same percentage to all department heads.

"The proposed action by the City Council would be a step backward for the city department heads and surely create a serious problem with the management level personnel morale.

"I know of absolutely no valid reason why the City Council should not grant the department head raises as they were recommended by you in the supplemental budget.

"The city department heads certainly do not deserve to be treated in such a manner by the City Council."

Talent Show Finalists To Perform Thursday

Tonight [Thursday] the curtains will rise on the finalists in a talent show which has performed for the residents of seven Quincy Senior Citizen housing facilities.

The show will start at 8 p.m. at the Broad Meadows Junior High School. Producer and director is Edward Bennett of West Quincy, himself an old song-and-dance man.

The performers, mostly from Quincy High School, who will go on stage tonight are: Patty Maddeleena, song stylist; Peggy Burchill and Tommy Dunn, song-and-dance team; Jeanne Grasselli, singer; Mike Gill and Bill White, comedy skit; Anne O'Hare, singer; "The Leslie Vinson Dancers" - Mary Trainor, Lisa DelVecchio, Diane Martinelli, Lisa Ohman and Leigh Ann McHugo; and from the "Nancy Palmer Troupe", the Junior Rockettes - Stacey Quintiliani, Sheila Egan, Patty Pettrilli, Michelle Casey, Suzanne Farari, Debbie Garafalo, Donna Pecci and Kim Connor.

The shows first were performed March 16 at Fenno House, and subsequently went on to Oceanview, 1000 Southern Artery, Wollaston Manor, Pagnano Towers, 90 Clay St., and 100 Martensen St. The audience at these performances judged the events, although tonight the winner will be chosen by a panel of judges.

Mayor LaRaia and his wife will present the winner with an award.

Following the performances, Ed Bennett's band will present a concert. Band members are: Arthur Jordan, first guitar; Christine Puccia, piano; and Quincy High School students Glen DiBona, trumpet; Peggy Burchill, flute and saxophone; Dale Solander, drums; and Chuck Palmer, saxophone. Alternate pianist is Dianne Houston.

Mr. Bennett extends an open invitation to all people regardless of age, who would like to take a part in his entertainment program and perform in future shows, to apply for an audition by calling 471-1014, or by writing to him at 21 Franklin St., Quincy, 02169. Everyone selected will have the opportunity to receive professional assistance and perform in a future show.

PRICING YOUR HOUSE RIGHT

The value of your house is not what you think it is - or what the buyer thinks. It is determined chiefly by the location, the neighborhood, and the current market. An overpriced house sitting on the market for months becomes almost impossible to sell. So first, you must get in line with the market. That means a realistic appraisal.

Nobody - but nobody - is more acutely aware of the current housing market than your local Realtor. A capable Realtor can bring in his own appraisal expert or even a team of salesmen who will individually price your home and then reach a fair consensus. Or you can hire a qualified independent appraiser. You may be pleasantly surprised to find out that you were intending to price your house for less than its fair market value.

If possible, your price should include curtains, draperies, refrigerator, air-conditioners, dishwasher, built-ins. It's a better package deal and may hasten the sale.

Thinking of selling your home? It makes sense to list it with PRESIDENT REAL ESTATE, 356 Hancock St., Phone: 328-8345.

Through our nationwide network of ERA Realtors, we can help you relocate anywhere in the country.

Also, we have available a one year warranty on all plumbing, heating, mechanical, electrical systems and built-in appliances on homes that we sell.

Phone or drop in. We are here to help.

Most Stores Do 'Very Well'

Sidewalk Bazaar Boosts Business Despite Intense Heat

By SARAH RICHARDS

Business was, on the whole, "very good" for members of the Quincy Center Business and Professional Association during the three-day Sidewalk Bazaar held in downtown Quincy last week.

Most businessmen reported they did very well, but thought they could have done even better if the weather had been cooler and if the South Shore Plaza's bazaar hadn't been held at the same time.

Charles Ryder, owner of Ryder's and president of the Quincy Center Business and Professional Association, reported his own business as "terrific," although it was hard to compare the volume with last year, when his store had only just opened.

Ryder said Lerner's, Touraine, Colman's Sporting Goods, Paulsen's Lighting all did very well, while Kincaide's was little under that of last year.

Jason Feldman, of Jason's Luggage and Music Shoppe said his business was a little better than last year, although in the afternoons the crowds fell off due to the heat. "We did go ahead of last year, so all in all it was fairly good. "But we were hit by the heat."

Jack Kerrigan, owner of Baskin-Robbins Ice Cream Shop reported business was "excellent, the best since 1971, when we opened. There was good promotion and good events, which brought the people downtown, and we had the heat, and that was the formula."

"Fantastic!" was also the description used by Richard Barker of Barker's, who said business was about the same as last year's.

Cecelia Letorney of Bottoms Up reported the only definitely negative reaction among the store owners surveyed. "The whole city didn't see the crowds there were last year. It was so hot, and there was a bazaar at the South Shore Plaza. Thursday was our best day, we did better than Thursday last year. Friday was O.K., and Saturday was the pits. It was so bad, and so hot, that we closed at 3:30, and we've never done that before."

Gerry Herwitz of Sawyer's Campus Shop said business was "excellent. We're very pleased. We accomplished everything we'd hoped for. We sold off most of the merchandise I'd wanted to, although the volume of people was off. There were fewer people, probably because it was a little too warm and with the Plaza sale."

Ove Strandskov, manager of Sears Roebuck, thought business was "pretty good. It was a good event, we had good traffic. The store itself did a little better with the sidewalk sale."

The Houghs Neck Legion Post also reported a busy three days of free fire engine rides for youngsters. Approximately 1,500 children rode the engines, said William Morrill.

Time Runs Out July 31

Will Messina Win North Quincy Shopping Center By Default?

By TOM HENSHAW

Will Francis X. Messina, the developer, win a flood plain permit to build a North Quincy shopping center off Quincy Shore Drive by default Monday [Aug. 1] because the Board of Zoning Appeals failed to act on his request May 3?

Mrs. Eleanor Johnson of 180 Landsdowne St., Squantum, one of the leaders of the opposition to the center, thinks so, and apparently no one in any official capacity can or will dispute her.

At the root of the problem, says Walter J. Hickey of 155 Huckins Ave., Squantum, is the fact that the legal notice of the board of appeals hearing that appeared in The Patriot Ledger in April did not make it clear that Messina was seeking two permits.

The Board turned down his bid for a special permit for access to the property from Quincy Shore Drive but it did not act on his request for relief from flood plain zone regulations.

Messina went before the Conservation Commission June 1 and was denied permission to build his planned $5 million shopping center until he obtained the flood plain zone permit. He has appealed to the State Department of Environmental Quality Engineering.

But Mrs. Johnson fears that the Board of Appeals does not fully understand the legal possibilities implicit in a state law which reads:

"Failure by a special permit granting authority to take final action upon an application for a special permit within 90 days following the date of the public hearing shall be deemed to be a grant of the permit applied for."

In other words, since the Board of Appeals failed to act on the request for a flood plain permit within 90 days of the May 3 hearing, the permit will be automatically granted on July 31.

Mrs. Johnson said she has informed Peter McDonald of the Board of Appeals, City Solicitor Thomas F. Williams, and the State Attorney General's office of her fears but has not heard from them.

Attempts by The Sun to obtain information on the case from McDonald were unsuccessful and Charles Corkin, chief of the Attorney General's Environmental Protection Division, was in conference during repeated calls.

Solicitor Williams said that

In Wake Of Slowdown

Council To Probe NQHS Clerk Of Works Charges

The City Council's Public Works Committee will look into Council President Arthur Tobin's charges that Ralph Cappola, the North Quincy High School project clerk of the works, has been working at another job at the same time.

Chairman Leo J. Kelly has called a meeting of the full-council committee for Monday at 8 p.m.

The $15 million addition and renovation project at the 50-year-old high school building was scheduled to be completed June 1, 1978 to give the school Department time to prepare for fall classes.

Last week, however, it was noted that construction activity at the site had slowed almost to a standstill.

But, although construction may be as much as seven weeks behind schedule, Acting Public Works Commissioner Paul Anderson has not given up hope that it will be able to open for classes in September, 1978.

"The schedule now indicates a completion date of July 20," said Anderson, "but that does not mean that it can't be improved upon."

picks up speed the project might not be completing on time and students would face continued double sessions in the 1978-79 school year.

Mrs. Mary Collins, a candidate for School Committee, observing that little or no work was done during the week of July 11, charged that "there is a real possibility now that the project could take from six months to a year longer."

The reasons given for the delays are vague.

Mrs. Collins said she was told that the contractors, Blount Corp., was six months behind before it started because it got the job late and time was lost during the winter due to minor strikes and the spell of cold weather.

Anderson said the next critical function on the project will be the addition of the masonry shell to the steel framework that has been completed so that work can be

Surplus City Vehicles

Auction Set For Aug. 5

Quincy will auction off its surplus city vehicles Aug. 5 at 10 a.m. behind the Maintenance Department building at 64 Field St., Quincy Center.

Mayor LaRaia said it is the first auction of its kind in Quincy.

Up for sale will be a variety of used and damaged vehicles, including automobiles, station wagons, vans, half-ton to four-ton trucks and specialized vehicles such as snowthrowers, boats and dump trucks.

Unclaimed stolen bicycles recovered by the Police Department also will be auctioned but they must be paid for in cash. The larger vehicles may be purchased with cash or certified check.

"This auction will give an equal opportunity to anyone wishing to bid for these vehicles and it should turn a good profit for the city as well," said Mayor LaRaia.

PAUL D. HAROLD

... to measure mood of the city.

The most important problem facing the city of Quincy today is taxes.

But, close behind is a general unhappiness with the way city government is being conducted.

And nearly two out of three Quincy residents feel the city is run by politicians and they feel left out of the decision-making process.

Those are results obtained from a poll taken for City Councillor Paul D. Harold by Cambridge Survey Research, Inc.

Cambridge Vice President James Murphy confirmed that the poll was taken for Harold.

Last winter, a similar poll, attributed by those polled to Cambridge Survey Research, Inc., turned out not to have been taken by Cambridge at all.

But this one was and, according to Harold, this is the way it turned out:

● Taxes were the big issue to 27 per cent of the people polled. This is an unusually low percentage, said Harold. Usually it is as high as 50 or 75 per cent.

● Dissatisfaction with government was the overriding issue with 21 per cent. Specifically they complained about "corruption, dishonesty in government, cronyism, politics, government and leadership in general, the mayor, the mayoral election, bickering in government, divisiveness and political dissension, lack of harmony in government, fights between the Mayor and City Council."

● Crime and lack of police protection was a distant third with 4 per cent.

The 300 respondents in the poll were asked:

"How strongly do you agree or disagree: Quincy is run by the politicians and sometimes I feel left out of what is going on?"

Some 41 per cent said they agreed strongly and 23 per cent said simply that they agreed. Three per cent disagreed strongly and 18 per cent agreed. Fifteen per cent didn't know.

Harold said he interpreted those figures to mean that many Quincy voters were alienated from the political process.

They were also asked: "Some people say that the city of Quincy is run by a political machine while others say that it is not. Which do you feel is closer to the truth?"

Some 47 per cent said they feel that the city is run by a political machine while 32 per cent said they didn't think so. Twenty-one per cent couldn't make up their

Tobin Requests Willard St. Litter Cleanup

City Council President Arthur H. Tobin has asked Paul Anderson, acting commissioner of Public Works, to place a section of Willard St., West Quincy, on his priority cleanup list to alleviate a dangerous and unsightly condition.

Tobin said in a letter to Anderson that he has received numerous complaints from residents about the condition of Willard St. from the intersection of Copeland St. to Ricciuti Drive.

"The entire area is completely littered with broken glass, cans, and debris of all kinds apparently left by those people using the quarry for swimming," he said.

School Custodians Union Concedes 8 'Inaccuracies' In Flier

The Quincy school custodians union has conceded eight "inaccuracies" in a flier that was distributed around the city two months ago at the height of a pay dispute between the union and the School Committee.

John J. Sullivan, vice chairman of the School Committee, said the "retraction of the falsehoods" was included as part of the settlement of the contract on the demand of the School Committee.

The letter to School Supt. Dr. Lawrence P. Creedon from Robert V. Canavan, chief counsel of the National Association of Government Employees, said:

"In the interest of promoting harmonious collective bargaining relations between the National Association of Government Employees and the School Committee of the City of Quincy, the NAGE wishes to correct certain inaccuracies which were inadvertently included in a NAGE flier distributed in and around Quincy on May 16, 1977.

"The corrections which are in order are as follows:

1. "To the extent that the flier suggested that school administrators have the legal authority to grant themselves pay increases, it was inaccurate.

2. "The flier, in no way, purported to imply, that Dr. Creedon had the exclusive use of any motor vehicle owned by the School Department. We wish to correct any impression to the contrary.

3. "Dr. Creedon's salary as of May 16, 1977, was $43,000 and not $51,500, as erroneously reported in the flier.

4. "The bank lease arrangement related in the flier is incorrect when it states that the School Committee rented the entire top floor of the bank at $35,000 per year. Fact: The School Committee rented less than one-half of the top floor at an annual rent of $23,000 including utilities.

5. "There is no connection between the Courthouse and the bank insofar as School Administration use of these buildings is concerned. The Courthouse provides classroom space for the High School and Quincy Junior College."

(The flier had said that "Norfolk County Commissioners gave them the use of the former Quincy District Court for classrooms at no charge. Now they have rented at $35,000 a year the entire top floor of a new Quincy bank for the same class space they had for free.")

6. "The flier was incorrect when it implied that the school administration offices were being renovated at a cost of $50,000 for two administrators. In fact, the renovated space will be for 12 individuals and not just two administrators. No final cost is in for these renovations but the projected cost of same is $30,000.

7. "The school administrators did not place any salary demand on the table as stated in the flier.

8. "The flier was incorrect when it implied that the School Committee did not run the school system and that the superintendent runs the school system."

Beniers Resigns As Recreation Director

Quincy Recreation Director Robert K. Beniers will resign from his post effective Aug. 31, announces Arthur Casey, executive secretary to the Mayor.

Beniers is a candidate for the Ward 2 City Council seat, opposing incumbent Daniel Raymond.

"Mr. Beniers felt that resigning from office would resolve any question of conflict of running for one city office from another city office," Casey said.

Beniers met with Mayor LaRaja Tuesday morning to discuss his resignation.

"The Mayor wanted Mr.

Beniers to stay in office until the end of the Recreation Department's summer program in August," Casey added.

Casey said the Mayor has no one in mind just yet as a replacement for Mr. Beniers, adding that, "it's not as if we're pressed for time."

Commercial Traffic Banned On Hughes, Lurton Sts.

The State Department of Public Works has finally approved a ban on commercial traffic on Hughes and Lurton Sts., South Quincy.

City Councillor Daniel G. Raymond said he was notified of the ruling by Joseph Donovan of the DPW following a meeting arranged by Sen. Arthur H. Tobin.

"This is a long awaited victory for the people of the area," said Raymond, adding that it represents the culmination of a year and a half of effort.

The state recently took a traffic count on the streets but Raymond said there were indications that a large trucking firm in the area had been forewarned of the count.

No matter what the occasion, flowers seem the perfect answer for gifts, for remembrances, for decoration, both inside the house and out. Traditionally, flowers have come to have special meanings: The lily for purity, the forget-me-not for remembrance, the violet for shyness. Flowers are also sometimes legendary—remember Narcissus? In the weeks and months to come, we hope to bring the flower's beauty of shape, color, legend, tradition and arrangement to you. We might even persuade you to try out your own green thumb! In any case, we hope you will enjoy hearing about what we have thought important enough to make a way of life.

Our staff at NORFOLK FLOWER SHOP, 49 Beale St., Wollaston, 472-7100 would like to welcome you as regular readers of this most informative column and to invite you to stop by and say hello. Mayor's Political Use Of Downtown Development Sketch Hit By Harold

An architect's rendering of the enclosed second story shopping level of the proposed downtown Development Program appeared, apparently for the first time, in the July issue of the tabloid "Mayor's Report", angering at least one City Councillor.

The semi-secret plan, which is scheduled to be announced in detail next month, was disclosed in general terms to members of the Quincy Center Business and Professional Association June 23. The City Council has yet to see it.

Councillor Paul D. Harold called publication of the architect's sketch in the "Mayor's Report" a political move that will "greatly reduce" the chances of the $500 million project gaining the necessary approval from the Council.

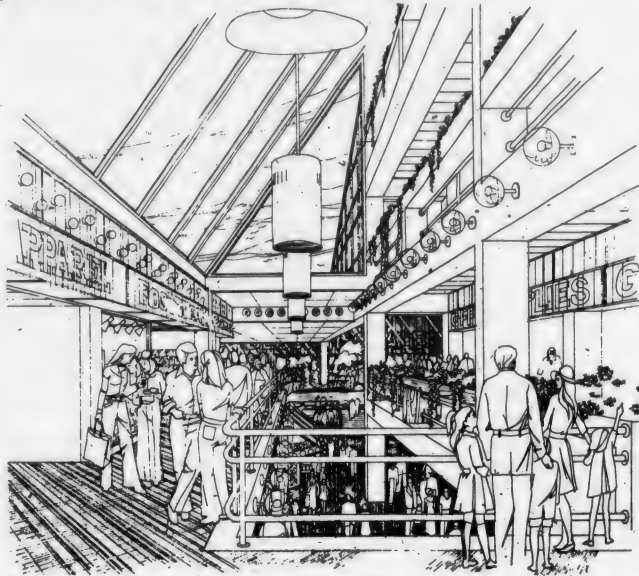

Harold said in a statement: "The first briefing I had on the downtown proposal was at a meeting of the QCBPA. I was invited, not as a Councillor, but as a QCBPA member.

"And now the first rendering of the downtown mall appears in a campaign flier for the Mayor.

"I told the planning director and the architect two months ago that if the downtown was to be widely accepted and successful they would have to remove it from the political area of the upcoming Mayoral campaign.

"Unfortunately, they've failed to do this.

"The revitalization of downtown Quincy is too important an issue to be manipulated as a campaign gimmick and too important to be kept secret from Architect's rendering of second story shopping level of proposed downtown Quincy development project is reproduced by The Quincy Sun from Mayor LaRaia's own political tabloid where it first appeared.

Councillors and others who will eventually have to vote on the project.

"Unless the planning director and the architect begin to defuse the politics of the downtown plan and start to inform the Councillors of the general plans, I'm afraid that the chances for the project being successful will be greatly reduced."

The "Mayor's Report" is a four-page tabloid newspaper, published monthly with the notation, "This Report Paid for with Private Funds," and signed by Charles W. Hedges, 123 Elm St. Hedges, a former sheriff and state senator, is Mayor LaRaia's campaign manager.

According to Planning Director L. Norman Lundin, the Downtown Development Program would be accomplished in five phases over a period of 15 years with most of the money coming from federal sources.

Among its major innovations are the extension of McGrath Highway through downtown Quincy, an enclosed shopping mall along the extension and an international merchandise mart, said to be the first on the East Coast.

The "Mayor's Report" said that five foreign countries have expressed interest in participating in the merchandise mart. The countries were not identified.

Police Dept. Ambulances Certified By State

Quincy Police Department ambulances have been certified by the State Department of Public Health as complying with a new state law, effective July 1, setting more rigid standards in equipment and personnel.

MDC To Build Twin Pipe Across Fore River

The MDC plans to construct a twin 54-inch pipe across the Fore River between Quincy and Weymouth, Congressman James A. Burke (D-Milton) announced today in Washington.

A $3,175,762 grant from the federal government will fund the project.

The grant was awarded by the Environmental Protection Agency, as part of the federal government's effort to clean up the nation's lakes, rivers, and harbors.

Police Chief Francis X. Finn said the department was given three licenses, two for the ambulances currently in operation and one for a third ambulance which is expected soon.

The new law specifies that each ambulance be manned 24 hours a day by persons qualified in Emergency Medical Treatment (EMT).

The Quincy department has only 16 EMT men right now and four more are taking the three-month course in EMT at City Hospital. A spokesman for the chief said that 30 would be a good number to man the three ambulances.

Vacation House & Tax Deferment

Among the benefits of being a homeowner are the unique tax advantages available. One of them to be wary of is the provision which allows you to defer paying income tax on any profit made from the sale of your home if you buy a more expensive one within a certain amount of time. It does not apply in all cases.

For example, if you sell a vacation home at a $2,000 profit and promptly buy a much more expensive place, can you defer paying the income tax on the profit? The answer is no!

This tax break is available only when both the house sold and the house purchased serve as your principle residence. A vacation house doesn't qualify. However, if you owned the dwelling for more than the required time to allow the profit to be taxed as long term capital gains [nine months during calendar year 1977 and one year after that], the $2,000 profit would only be taxed at half the normal rate.

Thinking of selling your home? It makes sense to list it with PRESIDENT REAL ESTATE, 356 Hancock St., Phone: 328-8345.

Through our nationwide network of ERA Realtors, we can help you relocate anywhere in the country.

Also, we have available a one year warranty on all plumbing, heating, mechanical, electrical systems and built-in appliances on homes that we sell.

Raymond Gamache Receives $1,000 Teamsters Union Scholarship

Raymond G. Gamache, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gamache of 125 Darrow St., Houghs Neck, is among six winners of $1,000 in the sixth annual William J. McCarthy Scholarship Program of Teamsters Union Local 25.

Gomache, 18, was an honor roll student four years at Boston College High School and made the National Honor Society.

He also was president of the Drama Society and a member of the Debating Society and the Speech Team and wrote for the school newspaper. He played intramural football.

He appeared in the Massachusetts State Drama Festival and won three all star awards. He was active in the drama group of the Cambridge Community Collective.

He has worked as a delivery boy for a bank supply firm and this summer he will sell frozen yogurt at the giant milk bottle on the Boston waterfront.

Gamache plans to study English and theater at the University of Massachusetts in Amherst for two years and then switch to Yale for two years.

His mother, Ellen, has been in Teamsters union six years and works at Jordan Marsh Co. as a processor. His father is an

The Gamaches have three daughters, Marie, 24; Elizabeth, 23, and Monica, 19.

The grants bring to $36,000 the amount that the union has invested in higher education for members' children.

Local 25, with headquarters in Charlestown, is the largest union local in New England with 13,000 members.

The scholarship program was started and named for William J. McCarthy, president of Local 25 and an international vice president.

WHY TULL FOR MAYOR WHY TULL

Dear Friends and Neighbors:

Have you had enough, I have. A bitter fight has developed between the powers that be and the powers that were, all to the detriment of the Citizens of Quincy. George M. Tull, as a concerned citizen and taxpayer, has offered to serve in an effort to rectify this situation. He certainly believes that Quincy's Citizens are in need of someone to guide them. He believes that he can be that person.

Where do we the citizens fit in, or are we forgotten?

We won't be, at least momentarily. Just prior to election day, we'll be asked for our vote to perpetuate the present battle, to forget the mistakes of the present administration, and to condone the skyrocketing taxes and the seemingly costly architect and consultant fees for the addition to City Hall, is this necessary.

Have you been asked for approval? No!

Have our thoughts and welfare been considered? I don't believe so.

Have the Council and the Mayor considered us in these matters? Doubtful.

Has the Welfare, or progress of the City been thought of by the Council or Mayor? I don't believe so, at least I haven't seen any.

If you're unhappy with the present administration -

Consider, George M. TULL FOR MAYOR

If you don't want a part-time Mayor -

Consider, George M. TULL FOR MAYOR

If you don't want inexperience -

Consider, George M. TULL FOR MAYOR

Both the powers that be and the powers that were have forgotten that their duty is to serve us.

Only you and I can correct this situation. We have an inherent right to self-preservation, and we should fight for same.

I want an opportunity to serve you in regaining and preserving that right. Will you join me in this fight?

We must be making new history - one that many of us are ashamed of.

This is incredible. We need cooperation and not competition. The people of Quincy have had enough double talk. We need the truth and we need action. We need answers from both the administration and the Council. We need favorable results.

Picking on each other and the department heads has resulted in confusion and a loss of confidence which must end.

If you are fed up as I am and have the desire to cure these ills within our City, help me finance my campaign by sending contributions to me.

Make checks payable to: "COMMITTEE TO ELECT GEORGE M. TULL MAYOR", 28 Russell Park, Quincy 02169.

As you assist me, I will attempt to keep you abreast of what I feel is wrong and what GEORGE M. TULL will do about it.

Your thoughts and ideas will help in this area also.

Your invitations for me to meet with you and your neighbors will be gratefully accepted. Call 471-3916.

Cordially Yours,

George M. Tull

Faherty Reports

Fund Raisers Successful

Michael Faherty, candidate for Councilor at-large, announces that the poolside reception held at the Merrymount home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Loeb and the North Quincy car wash sponsored by the Committee to elect him, were both financial successes.

About 75 cars were washed in the 80-degree heat by 10 high school students the candidate reported.

Faherty said of the support, "This is the type of grass roots support on which my campaign depends. This is my first time in a political race. I can't fund $50 or even $20 ticket dinners or receptions, I have no political favors owed me. Even if I could I wouldn't want to, and if I wanted to my wife wouldn't let me.

"When I see kids 16 and 17 years old washing cars on a day far better suited for the beach, I hope they'll realize that running for political office isn't easy, that it represents a commitment and demands persistence. ... I look at those young people who worked so hard and I pray I'll be around to help them if they should ever decide to enter politics."

tuberculosis," he said.

"It is important to note that the Hospital is maintaining its high standards of patient care in its new role as a specialty hospital for the treatment of pulmonary disease."

Warren Powers Candidate For Re-election

Warren A. Powers, 35, an attorney who lives at 3 Grandview Terrace, Wollaston, has announced his candidacy for a third term in the Ward 5 seat on the Quincy City Council.

Citing what he called his "positive record of accomplishment", Powers expressed dismay at the atmosphere of confrontation that has developed between the City Council and Mayor LaRaia.

"The city is more important than politics," he said in his announcement. "People want a city government that serves them, not a faction or a political career. It's easy to forget just how many people there are in city government who understand public service."

Powers noted that he has been able to work successfully with city departments under two different administrations since he was first elected to the Council in 1973.

is, shame alone should compel us to pay attention to what little they ask of government."

Working with Mayor LaRaia, he designed a plan to make snow removal from sidewalks on School routes a top priority during any snow removal emergency.

His concern with traffic safety led to the placing of stop signs on Beach, Willet, Mason and Bromfield Sts. and on roads and avenues like Oxenbridge, Rawson, Willow and Elm. He helped the Police Department to introduce "Operation Speed Watch", which has led to safer residential streets in Wollaston.

Powers said he intends to expand on his record during the next two years.

He listed these accomplishments in his role as an advocate of neighborhood services:

- At his urging, the Department of Public Works has undertaken a series of improvements in the Wollaston area, including new streets in the Strand section and curbing along Sachem and Cushing Sts.
- He enlisted the aid of MDC Commissioner John Snedeker and Sen. Arthur H. Tobin in a successful drive to acquire the site of the old Kimberley's Restaurant on Quincy Shore Drive as the location of an MDC Police substation.
- Working with Senior Citizens at Wollaston Manor, Fenno House and Tobin Towers, he spearheaded an effort that saw wheelchair ramps built at housing sites for Quincy's elderly.

"No one," he said, "has a claim on public office. Experience is a great teacher if you are willing to learn from it. Experience has helped me to do the job I know that my constituents expect."

As a member of the City Council, Powers introduced a resolve to require advance notice of the agendas of the City Council and board meetings.

"Citizen pressure," he said, "is the best insurance for effective, honest government. And citizens can only be involved when they know what their government is doing."

He said the top priorities for the next two years on the City Council are open and responsive government and containment of the property tax rate.

Powers is a graduate of Suffolk University Law School and is an assistant to Norfolk County Dist. Atty. William D. Delahunt. He is married to the former Molly Grazioso.

He is a member of the Montclair Men's Club, the Quincy Lodge of Elks, the Knights of Columbus, the Quincy Citizen's Association and the Wollaston Park Association.

Hickey Says His Engineer Experience Would Aid Council

Walter J. Hickey, a candidate for the City Council seat from Ward 6, says that his experience as a professional engineer would help to achieve a better balance on the Council.

"Many of the problems the Council faces could benefit from the cold, analytical approach that is meat and potatoes to a trained engineer," he told a coffee social at the home of Mr.

and Mrs. Joseph L. Graham, 50 Mayflower Rd, Squantum.

Hickey, who is president of a consulting engineering firm, emphasized that, as a professional engineer, he deals on a day-to-day basis with the complex problems that are faced by many cities.

This, he told the group, makes him the best qualified of the five announced candidates.

Can Joe Brett Come Back?

Entrance of Joseph Brett into the City Council at-large ring has a double impact on the Sept. 20 city preliminary election.

First of all, his candidacy just about guarantees a preliminary runoff. He is the sixth candidate to announce for at-large. Incumbent Paul Harold—although seen by some as a possible 11th hour mayoral contender—is expected to decide on a re-election bid instead.

Harold would then become the seventh at-large candidate, setting up a necessary preliminary election face-off for the six nominations for the three seats in the November finale.

Brett's entrance will certainly perk interest in the race and could have considerable effect on the results of the final election.

Can he make a successful comeback at 69 after losing his House seat to young Michael Morrissey last fall in one of the biggest local political upsets in recent years?

For Brett, whose political career spans 20 years, that defeat was one of the most heartbreaking experiences in his life.

Well, can he come back?

He is virtually certain to win one of the nominations in the preliminary. And with a name as well known as his—he has a good shot at taking one of the three seats in November—providing he gets out and works at it.

Young Morrissey campaigned circles around him last year to pull the rug from under him. Brett cannot just rely on his name or past laurels.

If Brett can't come back, he could be "the spoiler", taking enough votes from other candidates to greatly affect the outcome.

Question: to what degree might he hurt Dennis Harrington who is giving up his Ward 6 seat to run at-large? Or John Quinn, "dean" of the council? For the past 20 years the so-called experts have seen Quinn "in trouble" each election but each election he wins. Or incumbent Paul Harold? Or former State Police Capt. Michael Faherty who some observers feel has a good chance to win one of the seats? Or, any of the other candidates?

Regardless of his effect on the election, Brett has made it considerably more interesting merely by tossing his hat in.

THE REASON YOU haven't seen Councillor Warren Powers around too much the past two or three weeks is that he has been sidelined with a pinched nerve in his back. He's back in action now.

FRED LANE, former director of Quincy Heritage, is now a broadcasting technician with WBZ-TV. Fred, of course, was a long-time [28 years] engineer at WJDA.

WHICH REMINDS ME: If you think that face behind the newest beard walking around Quincy reminds you a little of Jay Asher, head of WJDA, it should be Jay. He admits friends are offering to buy him a razor. But at last report he was still not quite ready to shed the whiskers.

WHAT DO TWO beauty queens talk about right after a pageant? Well, for Mary Pickering, Miss Quincy Bay of 1976, and Terri McLaney of Weymouth, her successor, the subject was muscular dystrophy.

Mary is chairman of a dance marathon to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association to be held from Saturday noon, Aug. 6 to Sunday noon, Aug. 7 at the George F. Bryan VFW Post, Quincy. And Terri volunteered to dance up a storm to help.

Terri's looking for sponsor pledges for each hour she dances. Call the MDA office [843-2797] if you would like to sponsor her to help fight muscular dystrophy.

INCIDENTALLY, last week's outdoor boxing show for Muscular Dystrophy presented in St. Ann's School Yard by the South Shore Youth Boxing Club and The Quincy Sun brought out among the fans a number of well-known former boxers. Enjoying themselves watching the youngsters in action and talking about old times were: Sammy and Frankie Garcia, Joe Rindone, Andy Martin [who fought six lightweight champs], Dick Madden, Jimmy McCarron, Tommy Rawson [now a member of the Mass. Boxing Commission], Dick Flaherty, Jordan [Tinker] Picot and Jackie Caporale.

SABINA STENBERG, candidate for city council at-large, has opened her campaign headquarters at 661 Hancock St., Wollaston.

MIKE MORRISSEY's newest traveling sign says "Have A Safe And Happy Summer".

HAVE YOU EVER wondered about the number of turns that clock on the Weymouth Savings Bank in Weymouth Landing makes? Well, President George Thompson tells us it makes six complete revolutions every 65 seconds—not quite six revolutions per minute.

Almost two-thirds of the people of the world live on 10 percent of the earth's surface.

Taxes, Dissatisfaction With City Government Major Issues

minds. Of those who believed the city to be run by a machine, a whopping 87 per cent said they thought that it was a bad thing, 4 per cent thought it was a good thing and 5 per cent didn't see much difference.

Harold released only part of the poll, saying that "the rest would prejudice the Mayoral election."

The Councillor said he had the poll taken to measure the mood of the city, to judge the issues in the coming campaign and "to measure my performance as a Councillor compared to the other elect officials."

The "big problems" section of the poll brought these results:

- Taxes, 27 per cent.
- Corruption, dishonesty in government, greedy politicians, cronyism, 6 per cent.

- Politics, government and leadership in general, 6 per cent.

- Mayor, new mayor needed, the mayoral election, 5 per cent.

- Bickering in government, divisiveness and political dissension, lack of harmony in government, fights between mayor and City Council, 4 per cent.

[The previous four categories, all similar in nature, add up to 21 per cent.]

- Crime, lack of police protection, 4 per cent.

- Vandalism, gangs, youth hanging out, 3 per cent.

- Lack of growth, businesses going bankrupt, renewal of city, decline of downtown, planning takes too long, 3 per cent.

- Growth, overpopulation, growing too fast, zoning, 2 per cent.

- Jobs, unemployment, 2 per cent.

- Traffic, 2 per cent.
- MBTA and problems caused by the MBTA, 2 per cent.

- Many, 2 per cent.
- Arena, 1 per cent.

[The poll was taken in late June when the proposal by the Boston Celtics to build a new arena in the Montclair Marshes raised a controversy in North Quincy.]

- Inflation, high prices, 1 per cent.

- Pollution, litter, 1 per cent.

- Noise pollution, airplanes, 1 per cent.

- Schools, 1 per cent.
- Parking, 1 per cent.

- MBTA extension, T extension to Brintree, 1 per cent.

- None, 4 per cent.
- Other, 5 per cent.

- Don't know, 16 per cent.

Agreement On Transfer

Of Pre-School Special Needs Children

Rep. James A. Sheets [D-Quincy] has obtained a letter of agreement from the State on the transfer of pre-school special needs children, ages 3 to 7, from the Department of Mental Health to the Department of Education.

Sheets said the agreement was worked out after a series of meetings among representatives of both departments, state reps and senators, local school officials and parents of the children concerned.

The letter, agreed to by Commissioners Gregory A. nrig of Education and Robert Okin of Mental Health, includes a consultation contract from the Mental Health Department to the newly formed Educational Collaborative.

Also included is a guarantee that the Mental Health Department will help to fund the continuation of support services to the children and their families.

Audrey Swartz of the Quincy Office of Children, the South Shore Mental Health Organization and the South Shore Collaborative were involved in the negotiations but, said Sheets, "the real credit for their success belongs to the parents."

"They spent many long hot hours making sure that everyone understood the entire problem," he said. "If it had not been for their persistence and hard work I doubt that we could have accomplished all that we did."

The youngsters will be entering a program this fall which will be run by the South Shore Collaborative at the Memorial School in Weymouth and the Lakeside School in Brintree.

READER SPEAKS OUT

Sees A Change In The Mayor's Attitude

Editor, The Quincy Sun:

Isn't it grand that Mayor LaRaia can overlook party philosophy and put Republican Charles Hedges in charge of his political campaign? How different it is from LaRaia's attitude two years ago when [he] wanted the people of Quincy to know that he was a Democrat, and Walter Hannon was a Republican.

LaRaia kept Hedges and his friends behind the scenes then.

But now, like Charles Colson, LaRaia has seen the light, and wants to be the man of the people. It all has the sound of a tin horn to anyone who has listened to what [LaRaia] has been saying.

LaRaia, for example, was fond of noting two years ago that he was a veteran. Yet, when the time came to take care of veterans on the fire department, Joe LaRaia tried to take care of his friends...

No one would believe a word the man says, since he is liable to change his mind at a moments notice, depending how the wind is blowing.

Joe LaRaia ought to try to recall what he has promised in the past, so at least he will realize it when he contradicts himself five minutes later.

Finds City Council Coverage 'Excellent'

Editor, The Quincy Sun:

I would like to take this opportunity to commend you and your staff for the excellent coverage of the recent turbulent City Council meetings. By presenting the residents of our city with the exact dialogue of these meetings, you have given us the chance to decide for ourselves what is going on, and who is responsible.

Many residents of the city are not able to attend these meetings, but that does not mean that they are indifferent. Most of these people, in fact, care a great deal about Quincy city government, and its present state of chaos. These concerned residents must depend on accurate media coverage in order to judge for themselves what has taken place in their absence.

In my opinion, your format has presented the people of Quincy with a precise picture of the meetings, and has allowed them to be the judge. All too often, information of this nature is presented to us as it is seen and heard through someone else's eyes and ears. However, issues of importance, such as those under consideration these past months by our City Council members deserve your style of priority coverage.

N.Quincy Youth Basketball Appreciates Assistance

Editor, The Quincy Sun:

The newly organized North Quincy Youth Basketball League would like to thank Mr. Richard Koch, Mr. Ray Cattaneo and members of their park department staff for their help in making our league a success. Their promptness in making ready many basketball courts in North Quincy, often times on short notice, was not unappreciated by both the children and coaches involved in the organization.

We would also like to thank The Quincy Sun for their fine coverage of our basketball league. It is a pleasure to be associated and assisted by such fine men as Mr. Koch, Mr. Cattaneo, Mr. Henry Bosworth and Mr. Tom Sullivan in helping the youth of our city enjoy recreational activities, provided for them with much appreciation.

Tropical Squall Batters Quincy

Quincy was battered by a violent early evening tropical squall during which winds reached hurricane force for a period of 15 minutes, uprooting trees, blowing off roofs and swamping some 50 small craft gathered for Quincy Bay Race Week.

The Goodyear blimp, Reliance, tied down for the night at Dennison Airport in North Quincy, was in danger of blowing out to sea but the watchman, Joe Nick, pulled the cord that released 123,000 cubic feet of helium worth $8,000, collapsing the big bag.

The oldest oak tree in Quincy, located on the lawn of Joseph W. Powell's home at 79 Presidents Lane, came down blocking Fairmont Way, and the huge billboard atop the South Shore Buick Co. fell to earth, halting traffic on Hancock St.

The brief storm, called the worst since the Hurricane of 1938, struck about 6 p.m., depositing .65 inches of rain in 15 minutes. By 6:30 p.m., the skies were clear and the breezes gentle. Damage in Quincy was estimated at about $200,000.

SHIPBUILDERS WIN

Bill Mainhall won his sixth South Shore League victory of the season, scattering seven hits as the Fore River Shipbuilders defeated the Squantum Yankees, 5-2, at Adams Field. The lineup:

Fore River - Eddie Bowles ss, Mike Nally lf, Joe Shapiro c, Jake Cormier cf, Nick Malvesti cf, Jay Desmond lb, Frank Courtney rf, Johnny O'Malley 2b, Joe Saunders 3b, Bill Mainhall p.

Squantum - Bob Workman 3b, Sonny Elia ss, Tunney Dixon lf, Dikka Hallysworth rf, Lou Clay lb, Bub Doyle cf, Gunk Dinsmore 2b, Bill Moody c, Mel Danton p, Jim Frazer ph.

Members of the South Shore League included: Milton, Braintree White Sox, Thorp Motors of Weymouth, Fore River, South Quincy Brookside, Squantum, Hingham and the Weymouth Sons of Italy.

Social Security Debacle

If you think you have financial worries, imagine coping with the problems of the Social Security system! The system has a long-term financial deficit of $4 trillion and unless something is done, it's going to increase.

How we got into such a mess and what we're going to do about it has been a topic of much concern in the White House and the Congress recently. There are a number of reasons for our current troubles:

- The number of persons retiring before the age of 65 has been gradually increasing.

- The life expectancy of the American citizen is longer.

- The declining birth rate has caused a decrease in the number of young people. Each year, as a result, there are fewer workers to support more retirees.

To satisfy their growing senior constituency, Congress has been increasing the amount of S.S. benefits often without simultaneously increasing the tax rates.

But as everyone is discovering, the causes are easier to find than a satisfactory cure. The Congress must either reduce benefits and/or find additional revenue. The Carter Administration proposal does a little of both.

First, the growth rate of future benefits would be slowed. This means that for future beneficiaries, the size of the pension would be approximately the same percentage of pay as it is now. This is a generally accepted alternative.

The second side of the Carter package-financing the program-is more controversial. The Administration has proposed that general tax revenues be transferred to the ailing Trust Fund when unemployment exceeds 6 percent rather than raising payroll taxes. Current estimates of this measure show a cost of $14.1 billion between 1978 and 1982. This will be a hard pill for our economy to swallow. There are no excess general revenues to dip into. The country is already deeply in debt and further strains on general revenues can only lead to higher taxes and inflation.

In addition, the President proposes increasing the proportion of the tax paid by employers on behalf of their employees. Currently, the total tax is split 50/50 between the employer and the employee on earnings up to $16,500. The new plan would break this historic partnership. Employers would be required to pay taxes on their employees total earnings by 1981. But for employees, the taxable wage would increase at a much slower rate reaching $30,300 by 1985. Thus, the plan places a disproportionate amount of the burden on the employer, a tactic Mr. Carter seems to favor for the solution to situations ranging from this to postal deficits.

In addition, the proposal does not account for the fact that corporate payments for S. S. are tax deductible, which would result in a reduction of general revenues. Can we afford to draw money from the general revenue fund, while simultaneously decreasing the amount of money being put back in?

There is a basic flaw to these financing proposals. For benefits to increase, so must taxes, on both employees and employers. This requirement acts as a check on financial responsibility by the Congress, because constituents would directly feel the burden of the increased benefits through higher S.S. taxes.

The Carter financing proposals alter the relationship between taxes and benefits by using money that does not directly affect the voters - i.e., general revenues and corporate income. But no federal program is without cost. The indirect effects of such a policy can only be increased by inflation, unemployment and economic stagnation. This is a steep price to pay.

Social Security is important, but so is the fiscal stability of the federal government. Many citizens do not realize that the Social Security system was designed to supplement the retirement incomes of working Americans. It was never intended to be the sole source.

Thus, the only answer to the problem is to stop the political promises and devise a financing plan which would be shared equally by both the employee and the employer.

[Eric Swider is the Executive Vice-President of the South Shore Chamber of Commerce.]

Quincy Delegation Favors Financial Disclosure

Quincy's legislative delegation is unanimous in favor of financial disclosure by major officials, both elected and appointed, on the state and local levels, says Jay Hedlund, executive director of Common Cause/Massachusetts.

Hedlund said that Reps. Thomas Brownell, Robert Cerasoli, Michael W. Morrissey and James A. Sheets all expressed favorable views on financial disclosure on questionnaires sent out prior to last fall's election.

He said that Sen. Arthur H. Tobin did not answer the questionnaire but indicated he favored financial disclosure in a recent conversation with a member of Common Cause, which is pushing a financial disclosure bill in the State House.

The bill would ask office holders for their sources of economic interest, such as businesses, directorships, real estate, professional services and gifts rather than for exact amounts of money or tax returns.

Council On Aging Conducting Survey

The Council on Aging is conducting a door-to-door survey of Quincy under an $80,000 grant from CETA to determine the needs of the city's Senior Citizens.

The survey, under the direction of Kathleen White, began Monday [July 25] after a period during which the six contact persons were trained by Molly Stanley of the Information and Referral Center.

The six are Marjorie

Newcomb, Marie O'Connor, Mary Spina, Mary Sweeney, Linda Tarentino and Edward Cass.

Each will be photographed and will be wearing an identification badge for the protection of the Seniors to be interviewed. The information they elicit will be held in confidence.

The Council on Aging says there are nearly 20,000 Senior Citizens in Quincy.

Early Bird BINGO 7:30

Last Winner Takes All $125 - $219 $500

Morrisette, Quincy, Wollaston In Action

Rained out of its scheduled game with Quincy Monday night, Morrisette Legion's baseball team was due to continue its quest for a 21st Zone 6 championship last night [Wednesday] at Weymouth, its closest competitor.

A win over Weymouth would virtually assure Morrisette of the crown.

Morrisette [14-4] had three games to replay, rained out games with Quincy and Dedham and a tie game with Randolph. Weymouth was 12-6 going into this week's games and everyone else in the league had at least seven defeats.

In other scheduled games last night Quincy hosted Holbrook and Wollaston was home to Randolph.

Friday Morrisette stranded 15 runners and dropped a 9-6 decision to Braintree's Zone 6B champions.

Braintree scored all its runs in two innings with four in the first and five in the fourth. Morrisette, which had scored twice in the second, made it interesting with one in the fourth, two in the sixth and one in the seventh.

Chuck LoPresti and Jim Maze had two hits apiece and Don Perdies, Mark Giordani, Sal Coscia and losing pitcher Ron Donovan one each.

Quincy was defeated by Weymouth, 5-1, as it was held to three hits by John Manning.

The only hits were collected by Lew Fishman, Mike Murphy and Billy Deitsch. Dave Raftery was the losing pitcher, going all the way.

Earlier in the week Morrisette stopped Wollaston, 7-4.

LoPresti hit a two-run homer in the first. Morrisette added three in the third and two more in the fourth.

Quincy was mauled by Randolph 12-0.

Koch Club's North Quincy District Closes Out 27th Season

The North Quincy District of The Koch Club closed out its 27th season of summer recreational activities Wednesday at 6 p.m. at Cavanagh Stadium, North Quincy.

Both the Boys Baseball and Girls Softball Leagues participated in the final event conducted each season as "The Awards Night". Some 500 parents and boy and girl member of the leagues participated in the program.

Gary Demole, North Quincy District Director of The Koch Club boys baseball unit, presided over that portion of the presentations event, assisted by Mrs. Joan Demole secretary, and the coaches and umpires of the four divisions, cadets, juniors, intermediates and seniors including boys five through 14 years.

Mrs. Simone Koch directed the awards night ceremonies of the girls softball part of the program. She was assisted by Mrs. Mina Scanlan, Mrs. Marilyn Nestor and the women leaders of the six age groups.

Twenty-five perfect attendance awards with a special gift were presented to the girls, while those participating in 75% of summer programs also received special recognition.

Oldest of The Koch Club Youth programs, the boys baseball league, was formed in 1951 with 44 boys participating at Cavanagh Stadium in North Quincy, and during the past season the program expanded to include four districts, North Quincy, Broad Meadows, Montclair and West Quincy with a total of 1,000 boys.

The girls softball league was founded in 1952 with 12 members playing independent games at Cavanagh Stadium and has increased to 700 girls participating in intramural softball programs in the four sections of the city during the 1977 season.

Richard J. Koch, founder and executive director of the Koch Club, was master of ceremonies during the evening, and outlined briefly the club's plans to commemorate the 30th anniversary of The Koch Club in 1978.

West Quincy and Montclair Districts have closed out their 1977 season, while the Broad Meadows district will complete its summer season on Thursday, August 11, 1977 at Broad Meadows Junior High School Field.

Games will be played on Mondays at 7:50 p.m., 9 p.m., and 10:10 p.m.

Hockey players older than 29 should register at the Quincy Youth Arena on or after Aug. 8. The games will be played at the Quincy Youth Arena.

McCaffrey, Hackett Furnace Brook Winners

Quentin McCaffrey and Gail Hackett shot low gross of 41 in the weekly mixed Scotch foursome at Furnace Brook Golf Club.

Dennis Morrissey and Edna Phelps shot low net of 30 and there was a three-way tie for 6:40 p.m. and 7:50 p.m.

Interested players age 30 and older who have not been contacted by phone should call Ed O'Riordan at 471-0567 to register for the Summer League.

The Executive League will start its Winter League on Sept. 12.

Roxie's, J's Split Doubleheader

The battle for first place in the South Suburban Softball League between Roxie's Raiders and J's last Sunday lived up to expectations and with the rivals splitting an exciting doubleheader, leaving Roxie's with a game and a half lead over J's.

Roxie's won the first game, 11-10, jumping off to an 11-1 lead and barely holding J's off. Steve O'Rourke [14-2] went the distance for the win. Ron Bouchard led the Raiders with three hits. Tom DiTullio hit a home run and Mike McAuley drove in three runs.

J's overcame an early 5-2 deficit and went three extra innings to nip Roxie's, 10-9, in 10 innings in the second game.

Winning pitcher Rick Palmer's single up the middle brought home Dan Conner with the winning run. Jeff Johnson went five for nine in the doubleheader for J's and Moose Russo contributed two for four.

Pat Graham had three hits including a home run and O'Rourke, the losing pitcher in the second game, also had three hits.

Skateboarding Safety Tips

Last year there were an estimated 27,500 skateboard injuries serious enough to be treated in hospitals, 8½ times as many as there were in 1974. Parents who buy them for their children should take steps to minimize accidents.

Equipment. Buy skateboards that are well constructed; they cost more but they're safer. Check the skateboard each week or so for any loose nuts or screws and to see that the wheels spin freely and are not wearing down unevenly. Require your child to wear protective equipment - at least a helmet and gloves, and ideally elbow and knee pads too.

Safety Rules. Impress upon your child the importance of these do's and don'ts:

- Do apply non-skid tape to the top of the skateboard. Don't skate in streets that are heavily traveled or on sidewalks where other people are walking. Do avoid sloping surfaces where it's easy to lose control of the skateboard. Don't hitch rides on moving vehicles. Do skateboard with a friend.

RECREATION ROUND UP

City Recreation Director Robert Beniers, reports there is still time to enroll in the summer program activities.

Activities this week included: The Happy Acres Day Camp members travelled to the Mound St. Beach, where they received swimming instruction from instructors Dotty Pope and Bob DiPietro. The campers also toured McDonald's restaurant in North Weymouth, and were treated to free hamburgers, french fries and shakes.

Boston Lobsters representatives Mike Estep and Mimi Wikstedt - the second ranked woman player in Sweden, her homeland - were hosted by the Department at the Vocational Technical High School courts. The Lobsters demonstrated proper techniques of the game of tennis, and gave personal instruction to every person at the clinic.

McGuigan, Mark Chambers, Bobby Forman, Judy Riordan, Brian Durante, Lisa Glynn and Lisa Noe.

Winners of the Junior Olympics program conducted this summer received trophies.

The Rowing program at the William F. Ryan Boating and Sailing Facility at Blacks Creek has openings for youngsters wishing to learn how to row and sailing.

There is time available for adults who have taken sailing lessons from the Department and who wish to practice evenings from 4-7:30 p.m.

Over 600 are registered in the swimming instruction classes at the Lincoln Hancock Pool. Instruction times are: Children ages 6-16, 1-5 p.m. Mondays-Thursdays; Mothers and tota - 1-5 p.m. on Fridays. Pool instructors are Linda Walker, Elaine Murphy, Tom Joyce, Lorraine Conroy and Bob Fordon. Pool Activity Coordinator is Linda Vitagliano.

The canoeing program has openings in its afternoon classes. An adult canoeing class is being formed for Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 6 p.m.

A racing sailing class is being formed for young sailors on Tuesdays and Thursday afternoons.

Bristol Vs. All-Stars

Preview Of Future Red Sox Stars Aug. 11

By TOM SULLIVAN
Quincy Sun Writer

Although the Red Sox are engaged in a red hot fight with the Orioles and Yankees for the American League's Eastern Division flag, many fans are anxious to see what the future holds in store for the Boston club.

They will have the opportunity of seeing some of the future Sox stars in action on Aug. 11 when the Bristol, Conn., Red Sox of the Class A Eastern League take on the league all-stars at Fenway Park.

The Bristol All-Stars game will start at 5 p.m. and will be followed by the Red Sox-California Angels contest.

Probably number one in everyone's mind is the highly-touted Otis Foster, the first draft choice in 1975 who is batting just under .300 and leads the team in home runs and runs batted in.

Foster made a tremendous impression on Quincy's Sam Mele, special assignment scout and troubleshooter. "This kid is a terrific prospect and I feel that, at his current state of development, he is every bit as powerful as Jim Rice was at the same point," Sam lauded.

Ed Kenney of Braintree,

Director of Minor League Clubs for the Sox, lists several other top Bristol players upon whom the fans will get a chance to pass judgement Aug. 11.

Among the top pitchers is Win Remmerswaal, a rightie who was born in and still lives in Holland. He has the best record on the team and has been especially strong of late.

Others are Joel Finch and Rick Waller, right handers, and lefties Bruce Poole and John Tudor, a resident of Peabody. In only his second year of pro ball, Tudor started in the bullpen but is now in the starting rotation.

Mike O'Berry is an excellent receiver with a strong, accurate arm, who looms as a Sox catcher in the not-too-distant future.

The most promising young outfielder on the Bristol team is Gary Purcell who has the best average and is right up there with Foster in home runs and RBIs.

"These at present are the best looking Bristol players, but there are others who are coming along fast," said Kenney. "I think the fans are going to enjoy seeing them play at Fenway."

John Kennedy, former Sox handyman and one of their most popular players, is managing Bristol and, according to Sports Editor Chuck McCarthy of the Bristol Press, "Kennedy says the main trouble this season has been the pitchers' failure to challenge the batters. But this is a good team to watch."

Several of the younger Red Sox stars played at Bristol and the fans down that way remember the feats of Rice and Fred Lynn, who were teammates there in 1973, Steve Dillard, who played there in 1974 and 1975, pitchers Bob Stanley and Mike Paxton and the newest Boston sensation, Butch Hobson, who starred for the Connecticut team in 1975.

Hobson, incidentally, is making Mele look like a good prophet. When he first came up with the Sox, Sam insisted he would be a fine hitter as well as fielder.

Butch has been struggling at the plate but has been little short of sensational lately. At this writing he was batting .275, had 19 home runs and had 70 runs batted in, tops on the team. He also had hit in 18 straight games.

Darrell Johnson, dumped last season as Sox manager, returns to Fenway for the first time on Aug. 12, 13 and 14 with his fine looking expansion team, the Seattle Mariners, who have been playing excellent ball for an expansion team. He has several former Sox players with him. Saturday, Aug. 13, will be T-Shirt Day with youngsters receiving Red Sox T-shirts free.

24 Track Club Members Qualify For Boston Finals

The Quincy Track Club qualified 24 members for the Boston finals yesterday (Wednesday) at Boston University by virtue of their finishes in last week's Jesse Owens Sectional Meet held at White Stadium.

Quincy's qualifiers were: 10-11 Boys: 50 yards - Mike Williams, 6.6; long jump - Mike Bourikas, 13-2½.

10-11 Girls: Long jump - Sheila Barrett, 12-6; Geraldine Murphy, 10-5; and Betty McLaughlin, 10-1.

12-13 Boys: 440 - Kevin Wood, 64.9; Dave Church, 69.4, and Cliff Burgess, 71.3; high jump - Jack Leone, 5-6, and Bill Bourikas, 4-4; baseball throw - Bob Pound, 204.

12-13 Girls: 100 - Liz Wait, 13.1; long jump - Denise Santo, 15-3½; and Teresa Biagini, 11-7; baseball throw - Michele Millane, 178, and Patrice McDermott, 123.

14-15 Boys: 100 - Carroll Colletti, 10.9; 440 - Shawn Burnes, 60.9; long jump - Dan Flannery, 17-8; high jump - Tom Pound, 5-2.

14-15 Girls: Long jump - Sue McLaughlin, 14-7; high jump - Cheryl Ayles, 4-10; softball throw

- Janet Sines, 187.

Four members of the club will compete in the Region One AAU Junior Olympics this weekend at Brown University.

Mike Gallagher will throw the discus, Mike Larsen will take part in the shot put, John Saville will run the two-mile and Linda Cellini will be in the half mile.

Winners will travel to Lincoln, Neb., for the nationals. Second and third place finishers will be alternates.

Broken records were the rule again as the second summer age group meet was conducted last weekend at Veterans Memorial Stadium with 150 boys and girls participating.

Sixty-six competitors came away with ribbons. The meet was marred by an unfortunate incident which saw Bobby Sheehan, a nine-year old sparkler, running away with the 220 only to pull up lame and run off the track. He was sent to Quincy Hospital where it was found he had broken an ankle.

Mike Williams came up with a fantastic effort winning three events for the second week in a row. Among his accomplishments have been national qualifying times in the 100, 220 and high jump and he is close in the 440, 50 yard hurdles and long jump.

Sheila Barrett broke Denise Santos' record in the 11 and under 220. Miss Santos broke Karen McCarthy's 12-13 record and Karen broke Janice Kelly's 14-15 mark. Santos' time of 28.0 is a national qualifying age group performance.

Terry McLaughlin also made a national calibre high jump of 3-6 in winning the girls 10-11 division and Jack Leone turned in an outstanding 5-6 in the boys 12-13 jump.

A 50-foot long humpback whale was found to have in its stomach 2,000 pounds of sardines plus an assortment of other small fish and shellfish.

Quincy City Club Donates $100 To Muscular Dystrophy

The Quincy City Club has unanimously approved a $100 donation to the Muscular Dystrophy Association in conjunction with the Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon scheduled for Sept. 4-5.

Richard J. Koch, club president said that the organization is primarily a charitable oriented organization and last fall a $112. check was also presented to Muscular Dystrophy from the proceeds of the City Club sponsored road race.

Although the club has a limited membership of 85, it has presented $5,000 in charitable, community and civic projects since being chartered in September of 1974.

As a first, Quincy will have its own pledge Center for the Jerry Lewis Telethon at the offices of The Quincy Sun, 1372 Hancock St., Quincy Sq., and Koch is requesting members of the City Club to volunteer an hour or more to answer telephones during the Labor Day weekend.

Those members interested may contact Koch.

Koch said he is sure other organizations in the city will match or surpass the $100 donation of the City Club to Muscular Dystrophy and the telethon.

He noted that 81.6% of all Muscular Dystrophy receipts are expended on program services including research, medical services, professional education and training and public health education.

Koch was re-elected president of the Quincy City Club at the annual election of the board of directors. Thomas R. Burke was re-elected treasurer and Joseph M. Lydon, secretary and clerk.

The Quincy City Club conducts four breakfast meetings a year and will reconvene in September.

Last Christmas season, the City Club provided three color TV sets, a radio and a small personal gift to each patient at the Long Island Hospital in Squantum.

Tobin's Constitutional Amendment To Block 100% Revaluation Backed

Senator Arthur H. Tobin's proposed constitutional amendment to block court-ordered 100 per cent revaluation is receiving support from mayors, assessors, and selectmen across the state, in anticipation of next month's constitutional convention on the issue, he reports.

Tobin said response to his request to local officials across the state urging support of the amendment has been gratifying, with many officials urging their local representatives and senators to vote for the plan.

Under the Tobin bill, the state constitution would be amended to allow local assessors to assess and tax real estate according to its use, effectively blocking revaluation.

Under the plan, income-producing commercial and industrial property could be assessed differently than residential homes.

Tobin's action in filing the proposed amendment came in the wake of a 1974 Supreme Judicial Court decision ordering all Massachusetts cities and towns to assess real estate at "full and fair cash value" without regard to its use.

Many cities and towns are already undertaking the expensive revaluation process, while others could face action by the state tax commission, including removal of assessors from office, unless they begin compliance procedures soon.

The legislature already approved the plan during the 1975-76 session. If it approves it a second time, the question will then go on the statewide election ballot as a referendum question for approval by the people.

Tobin said the amendment is the only means of halting the court-ordered revaluation, since the Court was interpreting the state constitution as it now stands in holding that all property must be assessed at full cash value.

"The great reliance Massachusetts places on the property tax requires that the outmoded and unfair approach to revenue raising be modernized to allow for the reality that the residential homeowner can no longer withstand the tax burden, and certainly could not endure the impact of revaluation," Tobin said.

"Wealthy property interests, of course, oppose this plan, and will no doubt lobby and conduct an advertising campaign against it, as has been done in the past. However, I believe that with enough support by local officials and citizens across the state, this amendment stands a good chance of approval by the legislature, and endorsement by the voters on the statewide ballot next year."

MBTA Studying Bus Service In South Shore Area

The MBTA has informed Rep. Robert A. Cerasoli (D-Quincy) it is starting a comprehensive study of its South Shore bus service, a six-month project that the MBTA's Community Affairs and Marketing Department is calling "The Experiment."

"It will test an innovative method of providing MBTA customers with the best possible service within the limits of existing resources," said Cerasoli. "The Experiment is a pilot project. If successful, the T will duplicate it in other areas."

The survey will examine bus routes and related service operating in communities served by the MBTA's Quincy bus garage, focusing on bus routings, scheduling, parking availability, informational aides and other issues.

Community participation, said Cerasoli, is a crucial part of The Experiment, since it is planned to incorporate the recommendations and views of the MBTA riders into the analysis by the MBTA's Service Planning Unit.

'Do Not Enter' For Dee Rd.?

City Councillor Daniel G. Raymond has asked for a study of the possibility of painting "Do Not Enter" on the roadway at Fore River Circle just before Dee Rd. and Whiton Ave. to clear up some current traffic confusion.

Raymond told Ed Lynch, superintendent of Traffic Signs and Signals:

"It has been brought to my attention by residents and police officers that there had continuously been a problem with vehicular traffic traveling from the bridge making a left turn onto Whiton Ave. to avoid the many sets of control signals on Washington St.

"Many of the travelers using Whiton Ave. are knowingly violating the "Do Not Enter" and "No Left Turn" signs in the area but some of the people being stopped by police are claiming that the signs are confusing."

Quincy Health Commissioner Dr. Samuel Solomon urges Quincy adults between the ages of 20 - 50 to take advantage of the Blood Pressure Screening Clinic now being held at the John F. Kennedy Health Center.

Noting that 98 percent of the 673 people who have visited the clinic so far have been over 50 years of age, he said, "It is important that young adults, in their 20's and 30's, become aware of the growing number of people in their age bracket who have high blood pressure, and of the consequences of not diagnosing and treating it before it leads to a heart attack or stroke."

The clinic is held every Tuesday afternoon from 2-4 p.m. and is staffed by the city's public health nurses in cooperation with the American Red Cross, the American Heart Association and nurses from Quincy City Hospital.

Mayor LaRaia has commended Dr. Solomon and the clinic's team of nurses for their efforts to provide Quincy residents with a good preventative medicine program and urges that more people use the clinic.

"The function of the clinic is to benefit the health of city residents and unless people take the time to go down to the health center, then the program isn't going to do them a bit of good," the Mayor said.

Raymondi, Sweeny Take Out Nomination Papers

City Councillor Daniel G. Raymond and School Committee member Charles T. Sweeny took out nomination papers this week to run for re-election, leaving Councillor Paul D. Harold the lone incumbent who has not yet made known his plans.

The third person to take out papers this week was Mrs. Helen

M. McDonnell of 116 Crescent St., West Quincy, who plans to make a third run for an at-large seat on the City Council.

Council To Approve $2.6 Million Budget

The Councillors, she said, "have taken no action on this budget request since June 20 except for the attempt to establish an illegal reserve fund. It has been a case of excuse after excuse for not acting on the request."

"They admitted on July 14 that they then had been given by me all the necessary information to act on the funding."

"What they ask for, I give them, then suddenly that material becomes inadequate and they need something else. They evidently have run out of excuses so now they have chosen the tax rate as their crutch."

The Administration's package also contained letters from virtually all the city's department heads conceding that the budget figures they worked out with Auditor Shea "were in most cases mathematically correct but not complete as to all necessary funding."

"In all due fairness to the department heads," said Miss Saccone in a covering letter, "they were asked to perform a task by the auditor that is not their responsibility and were not provided with all the facts that they needed to arrive at complete estimates."

"In my 11 years with the city of Quincy, I never have seen the City Council resort to having the department heads compute the initial appropriation necessary to fund raises and contract adjustments. This has always been done by the Administration."

She asked the Mayor to forward the letters to the Council "so that they are aware that the original estimates as submitted to the City Auditor by the department heads are no longer valid but rather have been increased and these department heads are now aware of the added costs."

Tobin Protests Hike In MDC Rink Rates

Senator Arthur Tobin (D-Quincy) has lodged a formal protest with MDC Commissioner John Sneidercker about the commission's recent decision to raise rink rates by $10 to $45 per 50 minutes of ice time.

"While I recognize that the rinks have been operating at a deficit, it seems to me that some other action could have been taken rather than raising the rate $10, thus penalizing the children using the rinks for their worthwhile hockey programs," Tobin said.

"My thought has always been that the value of the MDC recreational facilities bears a direct relationship to the affordability of the facility by the people."

"I regret forcibly your unilateral action and would urge that you reconsider this tremendous increase in your prices."

Council To Probe NQHS Clerk Of Works Charges

carried on inside the building during the cold months.

"If it is not enclosed with masonry by Dec. 1," he said, "there will be great difficulty getting the internal work done during the winter."

Anderson said he asked the Blount Corp. why the masonry work had not yet been started and he was told that the company planned to give the work a "big push" starting toward the end of last week.

"I'm giving them this week to see how they perform," he said. "Personally, I'm not satisfied with their performance to this point. We will continue our vigilance."

Anderson said his department had virtually an identical problem with the $1 million addition to the Merrymount School and "we sat down with the general contractor and worked it out." The contractor was not Blount Corp.

The Commissioner said he was "deeply disturbed by the politicization" of the issue, referring to Dr. Creedon's warning to the School Committee and Council President Arthur H. Tobin's call for an investigation of the project's clerk of the works.

Tobin has charged that the clerk of the works, Ralph Cappola, who is paid $20,000 by the city, is also involved in three private construction projects for which building permits were taken out in his name.

Cappola agreed that he had obtained the permits but that the buildings were owned and supervised by John Marrone, who consulted with him on evenings and weekends when problems came up.

The clerk of the works post itself was a matter of controversy last fall when some City Councillors felt that the job was unnecessary since the project was being supervised by a management firm, Kent Corp.

Anderson called Tobin's concern for the clerk of the works "political," since the Council President is a candidate for Mayor.

"He never showed any interest in the North Quincy project before," he said. "Other councillors have asked me how things are going. At least they showed some interest. Now, suddenly, we have a fearless leader..."

Tobin said he regrets that Anderson and other members of the administration "see fit to make personal attacks on me. I wish they would stop the personal attacks and step in and correct the situation."

In the case of Cappola, said Tobin, "A city ordinance says that anyone who takes out a permit must exercise continued direct supervision over the job. This is being violated. This needs to be corrected."

The Council President said that Mayor LaRaia took out an ad not long ago in which he said the work on the high school costs $13.5 million.

"There is a document at the School Department, Form F which went to the School Building Assistance Commission, signed by LaRaia, which says that the cost is now $16.1 million," he said.

"The students and their parents have a right to know. This is being covered up."

Southeast Expressway Stretch To Be Fenced In West Quincy

State Public Works Commissioner John J. Carroll has announced the award of a contract to the New England Chain Link Fence Company for fencing on and near the Southeast Expressway in West Quincy.

Rep. James A. Sheets [D-Quincy], said two of the areas to be done are along the inbound side of the expressway, abutting the Old Colony Crushed Stone Quarry and running parallel to Willard St. for about 1,000 feet.

"These fences," said Sheets, "will not only make the Expressway safer for motorists, but also for the families who live near the roadway."

A third location to be fenced is the area behind the Howard

Johnson restaurant on the Expressway, where, said Sheets, there has been an increasing problem of vandalism and car thefts in the neighborhood.

The new fencing will prevent vandals from cutting through the area.

Sheets added that the city is also working on additional lighting and screening for the neighborhood.

Raymond seeks Cleanup Off South St.

City Councillor Daniel G. Raymond has requested a cleanup crew as soon as possible to take care of city-owned land below Aquarius Apartments on South St. where brush is growing out over the sidewalk.

Raymond, in letters to Paul N. Anderson, acting commissioner of Public Works, and Richard J. Koch, executive secretary of the Park and Recreation Board, said the overgrowth is "causing a hazard to people who are forced to walk in the street."

"I have made this request in the interest of safety to residents who use this sidewalk area frequently," he said.

North Quincy Shopping Center

the city was not involved in the case since the Board of Zoning Appeals was an autonomous body and that the only recourse from its decisions was through the courts.

Mrs. Johnson told The Sun however, that opponents do not have the money to initiate and carry out a taxpayers' suit.

Mrs. Johnson said McDonald told her that the question of a flood plain permit was "moot."

"In other words," she quoted him as saying, "Mr. Messina would still have to go to the Building Department for a building permit and the Building Inspector would refuse to issue the permit again because of the flood plain."

Meanwhile, the State Department of Environmental Quality Engineering notified Hickey that principals in the Messina appeal from the Conservation Commission decision will meet to view the site Friday [July 29] at 1 p.m.

Hickey is part of a 10 taxpayers petition which also appeals the ruling from the other side.

Hancock Group Inc. Reports 60% Increase In Net Income

The Hancock Group, Inc., a Massachusetts bank holding company and its subsidiary Hancock Bank report a 60 per cent increase in net income for the second quarter this year over the first quarter ended March 31, 1977.

Net income jumped from $67,460 or 24 cents a share to $108,199 or 39 cents per share according to William E. Kelley, president.

Substantial increases were experienced in both deposits and assets for the first six months of 1977 compared with the corresponding period a year ago. Deposits rose from $84,247,840 to $91,314,924. Likewise, assets increased from $93,585,469 to $101,913,140 for the same six month period.

Kelley said that net income for the six month period ended June 30, 1977 was $175,659 or 63 cents per common share down from $313,616 or $1.12 per common share for the similar period a year ago.

Income before security gains for the six months ended June 30, 1977 was $158,438 or 57 cents a common share compared to $312,366 or $1.12 a common share for the same period in 1976, Kelley said.

Hancock Bank, headquartered in Quincy, operates 16 branches throughout Norfolk County stretching from Plainville to South Weymouth.

Cut Mayor's Requests

Council Expected To Approve $2.6 Million Budget

The Finance Committee and the City Council were scheduled to meet in quick succession Tuesday night to appropriate $2.6 million of Mayor LaRaia's $3.2 million supplementary budget to cover salary increases.

The Council was scheduled to take the action in the face of warnings from Budget Coordinator Sarah Saccone that the amount will fall short and, once the tax rate is set in three weeks, no more money may be appropriated for the purpose.

Miss Saccone, who the City Council has accused of overestimating the amount of money needed, said she has been told by the Mayor that the Board of Assessors will set the 1977-78 tax rate within the next three weeks.

"With this in mind," she said in a statement issued prior to Tuesday night's meeting, "I would like to state the position the city unions will be in if you indeed follow through with voting the $2.6 million salary appropriation that you have advocated.

"I have contacted officials at the State Department of Corporation and Taxation and at the State Bureau of Accounts in order to determine exactly what the city's position will be relative to insufficient funding for the union contracts with the tax rate established.

"Both agencies have indicated the following:

"The city cannot include in the tax rate computations any amounts that, although owed the individuals, have not been appropriated by the City Council. This means that, once the tax rate is established, no provisions can be made for additional funds since they can no longer be applied against the tax rate of 1977-78.

"We do not estimate a sufficient cash surplus in the city finances to enable the city to pay the difference between the $2.6 million and the total amount needed to fund the labor contracts of $3.2 million.

"This being the case we anticipate that there will be insufficient funds to pay salaries and expense costs in the spring and overtime funds in the Fire Department will be exhausted by the first payday in August, 1977.

"The amount suggested by the City Auditor is inadequate to fund the labor contracts and that amount of $2.6 million in our opinion will violate the General Laws, meaning that the unions will have the right to renegotiate the cost items of the contracts and could force the city to incur even more costs.

"I feel it is my responsibility to make you aware of the ramifications of your intended actions to vote $2.6 million of the total amount that is before you in the supplemental budget.

"Since the tax rate will be set in approximately three weeks, it is important that you realize the position the city will be in relative to needing additional appropriations and not funding them at this point in time."

Also on the eve of Tuesday night's meeting, William S. Grindlay, who served as budget coordinator in the administration of ex-Mayor Walter J. Hannan, came to the support of Auditor Charles L. Shea's figures.

He said his computations agree with Shea's that Miss Saccone overestimated the salary needs by some $600,000.

Meanwhile, the LaRaia administration informed Shea that it was stopping payment of the $1,600 he receives annually as financial advisor to the City Council until it could be determined whether or not the stipend is legal.

In the wake of the July 19 meeting of the Finance Committee, the LaRaia administration released a package of letters and messages that it said had been sent to the City Council but had been ignored.

One of them was a letter from Miss Saccone in which she referred to Auditor Shea's warning of a $16 tax hike as "a scare tactic being used by the City Council as an excuse not to have to fund these amounts before them."

"The tax rate is not the issue here but rather the unfunded city employee contracts," she said.

"The agreements have been signed and should be funded.

"There is absolutely no base to the remarks of the City Auditor relative to a $16 increase in the tax rate this year. This represents a political tactic by the City Council to avoid having to keep their promise to the city employees that they would completely fund their contracts.

"They have chosen to play politics with the lives and jobs of the city employees rather than address the situation head-on."

Miss Saccone quoted Shea as telling her on July 14: "If we don't fund enough money to pay all the city employees, then lay people off."

"This," said Miss Saccone, "is a very poor attitude to demonstrate when there are 14 signed union agreements waiting to be fully funded.

"The Mayor has chosen to eliminate some positions in his original budget as best he could and still maintain services.

"Cuts as are proposed by the City Auditor could not be tolerated. The Auditor's suggestion would force cuts in essential services to the taxpayers and citizens of Quincy.

"In addition, his suggestion would violate the signed agreements that were a product of good faith bargaining and put the City Council under unfair labor practice charges."

Miss Saccone said the stalemate that developed over the supplementary budget "is an example of pure, raw politics at work" on the part of the City

6.6 Acres Declared 'Excess'

City To Get Chance To Buy Back Army Reserve Land

The House Armed Services Committee has approved the Army's recommendation that the 6.6 acre Army Reserve Center off Southern Artery, Quincy, be declared "excess to the Army's needs."

This action frees the land, which is surrounded by Merrymount Park, for disposal through the General Services Administration. The GSA will check to see if any other federal agencies are interested in the property, but Congressman James A. Burke said he does "not anticipate any problems in that area." The site will then be offered for sale to state and city interests, and unless something unforeseen occurs, Burke reports, Quincy "will be given a shot" at buying back the property which it sold in 1957.

Burke estimated that it will take around 60 days for the army to send all its paperwork to the GSA, and approximately another two months to solicit the federal agencies. Burke said he will be pushing the agencies to stick as closely as possible to this schedule.

In a statement submitted to the House Committee, Burke said: "[The Army's recommendation] is the culmination of numerous meetings with Army officials over the past 10 years, and numerous attempts to provide the 187th Army Reserve Unit with an alternative site for its operations. All phases of this issue have finally converged, and all qualifications have finally been met... I think it is entirely appropriate that this land in the birthplace of two Presidents—land which was passed down through several generations of the Adams family—should be restored to the use for which it was intended."

Surplus Vehicles Auction Reset For Noon Friday

The auction of surplus city vehicles, scheduled for Friday, Aug. 5, behind the Maintenance Department building at 64 Field St., Quincy Center, has been moved up from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, the Mayor's office has announced.

"We have rescheduled the event," said Mayor LaRaia, "so as to accommodate the many city employees who would have been unable to attend the auction at its previously scheduled time."

Building Permit Causes Delay

NQHS Project Set At $16 Million-Plus

By TOM HENSHAW

The total cost of the addition and renovation work at North Quincy High School is $16,110,000, says City Council President Arthur H. Tobin, and not $13.5 million as claimed by the Mayor last February.

And Mayor LaRaia not only agreed with him but he expressed amazement that everyone didn't know that all along.

"No one ever claimed that $13.5 million was the total cost of the project," the Mayor told The Sun. "It was just the cost of construction. The total cost involves a lot more things. This is all basic information, available to anyone."

Tobin, who is running against LaRaia for Mayor, introduced into Monday night's meeting of the Public Works Committee a document called Form F, on which the State School Building Assistance Bureau bases its formula for reimbursement.

The bottom line read: $16,110,000.

"I ought to know what the cost is," retorted LaRaia. "I signed Form F. That was almost six months ago. I don't know why they're bringing it up now. Is it all politics? I believe it is."

"I'm saying it's the whole City Council that is playing politics and deceiving people. It's one or two individuals. I'm not saying who they are. I think everybody knows by now."

During the discussion, Councillor Daniel Raymond pointed out that Kent Corp.

took over as management firm two months before the building permit was issued to Blount Corp. on March 10, which could have caused a delay up to three weeks.

"Could you tell me what Kent Corp. was doing in that period?" Raymond asked.

Public Works Commissioner Paul Anderson replied:

"There was an issue at the time, believe it or not, Blount Brothers was arguing with Kent, who told them to get down there and get the building permit so they could get started, they

Court Hearing Soon

Taxpayers Association Seeks Extension On Revaluation Suit

A motion by the Quincy Taxpayers Association for an extension of its 10 taxpayer suit against Quincy seeking to bring all properties to full market value is due for a hearing shortly in Norfolk Superior Court.

The association has been granted an extension each year for the past eight years with the understanding the City and the Board of Assessors will do everything within their power to equalize assessments so that each taxpayer will pay his fair share of taxes.

"We appreciate the fact that as long as there are taxes there will be some inequities," said Harry Roemer, executive director of the QTA. "And we do not feel that under the present legislation the homeowner will get a fair shake."

"Each year the taxpayers suit has been given an extension in the hope that the legislators the people elect will see fit to modify the law so that the small homeowner and those on fixed incomes are not taxed out of their homes."

Roemer said that the QTA has spent thousands of dollars in the past year in advertising in press and radio asking voters to "get out and vote for the candidate they feel will represent their interest."

"We are a non-profit, non-political association," he said, "and we do not and will not recommend candidates. However, we do feel that after you elect them you ought to put up with them until you replace them with competent people."

"We also commend the people, or we should say the registered voters, for their turnout because we feel that the percentage of registered voters that vote in Quincy is the highest in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts."

"We urge you to screen your present candidates and vote for them in September; become involved in the operation of your government. We certainly do our best. However, we need help - your help."

Tobin Suggests Metric Program For Adults

City Council President Arthur H. Tobin has suggested a metric system program for adults be started in the city's schools, so that parents can be as knowledgeable as their children about it, and can help them with their homework.

In a letter to School Supt. Dr. Lawrence P. Creedon, Tobin noted that Dr. Creedon and Vincent Sullivan, who is directing implementation of metric system instruction in the city's schools, have devised a program to teach school children about the metric system; so they will be prepared when the United States converts to metric measurement.

Sullivan has also conducted workshops for parent-teacher groups and civic organizations.

"However, despite these efforts, I believe it is likely that the vast majority of adults and parents in Quincy would benefit from a school-sponsored program on the metric system, and perhaps would even enjoy some practice in using it," Tobin said.

"As one who tried mightily to assist my children with the 'new math', I know that the specter of helping them with metric system homework must be troubling a great many parents."

Tobin suggested that an evening or weekend program in neighborhood schools would be the most convenient for interested citizens to attend such a program.

Meets With Harold

Udall Would Help Place Adams Birthplaces Under National Park Service

Councillor at-Large Paul D. Harold met in Washington, D.C. last weekend with Congressman Morris Udall, chairman of the Interior Committee, to assess the possibility of having the city-owned Adams Birthplaces placed under the control of the National Park Service.

The Congressman, Harold said, was very interested in the proposal, and said that if the city petitions for federal take-over of the properties, he will personally help guide the legislation through Congress. Udall said that if the special sub-committee which is studying the future of the birthplaces decides on federal take-over by December, a bill could be voted out of Congress as early as July, 1978.

At Harold's request, Udall said he would make a personal visit to inspect the birthplaces sometime in October.

Udall noted he had previously visited the birthplaces last year during his campaign for the Presidency.

Harold also met with Congressman James Burke's aide, Robert Herring, while in Washington. Herring, who has been helping Quincy find funding sources for the birthplaces, said the city can count on Burke's full support if it decides on a federal take-over.

The birthplaces were placed on the National Register of Historic Places by Udall's brother Stewart, who served as Secretary of the Interior under Presidents Kennedy and Johnson.

QJC Financially Needy Students Eligible For Grants

Quincy Junior College has been informed by the Office of Education, Washington, D.C., that its financially needy students are eligible to receive unrestricted grants totaling $138,150, during the 1977-1978 academic year.

Announcement was made by Dr. Edward F. Pierce, president. The awards to students registered at Quincy Junior College will range from $100 to $1,100, on the basis of financial need, and will provide funds for approximately 150 students. Students in financial need who plan to attend Quincy Junior College this September should obtain an application for the Basic Educational Opportunity Grant from their counselor or the College offices.

$2,697,437 Appropriated

Who's Right: Saccone Or Shea?

The City Council, following the advice of its financial advisor, Auditor Charles L. Shea, has appropriated $2,697,437 to fund union-negotiated salary increases for fiscal 1978, a figure that is $585,450 less than requested by Mayor LaRaia.

Then everyone sat back to see who is right, Shea or Budget Coordinator Sarah Saccone, the Mayor's financial advisor, who maintains that by next spring there will not be sufficient funds to pay salaries and expenses out of the $2.6 million.

City Councillor John J. Quinn who is chairman of the Finance Committee, said the remainder of the Mayor's $3.2 supplementary budget request will be considered further by his committee in the future.

Included in that part of the Mayor's request that was not appropriated were raises for department heads who were not included in the union-negotiated salary hikes. The Council action also rescinded an earlier move placing the $2.6 in a reserve fund.

The morning after the Council meeting, before both sides settled back into what promises to be a month or two of trench warfare, Miss Saccone fired off the parting shot at the Council.

She stopped just short of congratulating the Council of its action, adding that the amount appropriated "is not sufficient to satisfy all the cost obligations in the contracts. More funds will be needed before June 30, 1978."

"The hard fought labor negotiations have been brought to fruition through the efforts of Mayor Joseph J. LaRaia and his staff," she said.

"Through the Mayor's constant urging that the City Council meet and appropriate the necessary funds to pay contract obligations under collective bargaining, the city employees can begin to receive the money due them."

"It is unfortunate that the City Council did not see fit to fund the department head raises as these individuals have not received a pay adjustment since 1974. The administration has done all that it could to point out the ramifications of ignoring these people again, the second time in three years."

"Not funding these raises and adjustments will create serious problems that will have to be addressed in the next several months as city employees begin to receive a higher wage than the department head for whom he works."

Miss Saccone promised a more detailed statement later after a further review of the figures.

RED DYE NO. 4 SEESAW

For almost half a century, starting in 1929, the chemical food coloring known as Red No. 4 has been used in marshmallow cherries and many other foods. In 1939, it was approved for drugs and cosmetics. Then, in 1964, a warning signal was hoisted. Studies showed that when ingested, the coloring adversely affected dogs. On the basis of that finding, the order went out: No more Red No. 4 in food or anything else taken internally. A year later the processors of marshmallow cherries were back at the FDA arguing that limited use of the additive to color cherries would not hurt anyone. FDA relented - for cherries and short-term use for some drugs.

Then, in 1976, the FDA concluded it had acted too impulsively. New studies raised doubts about the safety of the dye, no matter how little is consumed. A request that industry provide evidence to the contrary drew a mute response. Result: 47 years after it was first used, Red No. 4 has been permanently and irrevocably banned from marshmallow cherries and drugs taken internally.

Talent Bank Response

Over 50 Women Interested In Serving On City Boards

More than 50 women have expressed an interest in playing a larger role in the city government through the Women's Talent Bank, set up in June by the Mayor's Commission on the Status of Women with a grant from the Quincy Savings Bank.

Toby Felton, a member of the Talent Bank Task Force, said some 165 areas of interest have been identified, the most popular of which are education and arts and the humanities.

Those registered in the various fields number: education 27, arts and humanities 23, health, recreation and human relations 15, women 13, youth 12 and historic preservation 11. Limited interest was expressed in trades, industry, finance and conservation.

In view of the fine response, Miss Felton said, the Mayor's Commission is starting to make the Talent Bank operational.

"In fact," she said, "20 women have already been notified of possible openings on boards and commissions."

When a vacancy occurs, she said, all women who have expressed an interest in the area are notified and asked to submit a detailed resume which is forwarded to the appointing body. The Mayor's Commission does not screen applicants.

"Diversity and enthusiasm best describe the responses we've received to date," said Miss Felton.

She quoted one applicant as saying:

"As a resident of Quincy for only two years, I appreciate this opportunity to become more involved with the Quincy Community and think that the Talent Bank is a great idea."

"The Talent Bankers offer a great variety of experiences and skills," said Miss Felton, noting that 53 per cent of applicants are working while 43 per cent are at home.

Edna Austin Receives Certificate Of Recognition

Edna B. Austin, 90, the only woman ever to serve on the Quincy City Council, has been presented a Certificate of Recognition from the city of Quincy for her years of service on the Council and as a lawyer.

The presentation was made by Mayor LaRaia at the Crestview Nursing Home on Greenleaf St., where Mrs. Austin makes her home.

She served on the City Council from 1943 to 1959 with the exception of the 1946-47 term when she suffered her only defeat. Council records indicate that she is the only Councilor ever to regain a seat after being defeated.

"Edna Austin devoted a great portion of her life to making Quincy the thriving and progressive city it is today," said the Mayor. "This certificate is the least we can do to show our gratitude for her many years of service."

Kids-In-The-Kitchen Program At Germantown Center

Flower tips from

Ferns, a family of plants that have delicate, light green foliage. Their fronds resemble lace, feathery - even snowflakes - in their intricate design. Ferns look best when planted in a group of one variety. The optimal time to plant them is in the early spring or in the fall. Prepare the soil as you would for a lawn, and plant the ferns one foot apart; increase the space for larger species. Ferns must be kept moist, but aside from this need they demand almost no work at all. Varieties of fern range in use from low ground covers to tall shrubby borders.

At NORFOLK FLOWER SHOP, 49 Beale St., Wollaston, 472-7100 we can help you select a perfect gift of fresh flowers or a long lasting houseplant that will be appropriate for almost any occasion. You can be sure of quality when you rely on us. All of our flowers are maintained in humidity and temperature controlled cases and most are delivered daily from the market. We are multi-lingual and can assist you in French, Italian and Spanish. Member of FTD and Teleflora. Master Charge and BankAmericard honored. Open: Mon. - Sat. 8-6, evenings by appointment.

S.S. Day Care Services Open House At Christ Church

South Shore Day Care Services, Inc., will hold an open house for people who need child care and for people who are interested in providing it Monday (Aug. 8) from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. at Christ Episcopal Church.

South Shore Day Care is starting a new Family Day Care program under which children from birth to five years of age will be cared for in individual homes during the day while parents are working or attending school.

Currently it operates two programs in which pre-school youngsters, ages 2 years, 10 months to 5 years, are cared for all day in centers, as are after school kids, ages 6 to 14, between 2:30 p.m. and 5:30 p.m.

Family Day Care Director Carol Anger said the open house will be unique in that parents will have an opportunity to meet some present day care providers in the system and speak to a representative of the Office for Children.

Information also will be available on child development, activities for children, trips around the Boston area and slides of children in day care homes. Materials used by children in the day care homes will be on display.

Helping Young People Growing Up Germantown Center Topic

Dr. Tod Gross, youth counsellor with the Newton public schools, discussed the techniques of helping young people to cope with the tasks with which adolescents have to deal at an in-service training session at the Germantown Service Center.

Director Patricia Peers emphasized that the public is welcome to all of the in-training sessions.

"We want to acquaint the community with the resources that exist to help people deal with problems and crisis situations," she said.

The program for next week at the Center, 9 Bicknell St., includes:

Monday - Weight control group meets at 10 a.m. at the Fore River Clubhouse, Nevada Rd., Quincy Point.

Tuesday - Sheila Jordan will conduct a story hour for children between the ages of 6 and 8 at 10 a.m. Call to register. Rosemarie Hanley of Greater Boston Legal Services will be available to assist with problems in welfare, social security and veterans services.

Wednesday - Family planning clinic appointments from 4 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Thursday - No feature activities but regular daily services will be available from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Friday - Family planning clinic appointments from 11:45 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Grocery orders for the Food Coop may be placed daily until 12 noon with Karen O'Neil.

The Harborview Residents Committee Inc. meets at the Center on the second Tuesday and the fourth Wednesday of each month at 8 p.m.

Raymondi Seeks CETA Workers For Faxon Park

City Councillor Daniel G. Raymondi has requested the Park and Recreation Board to assign CETA workers to Faxon Park to cut back overgrown brush and remove debris that has accumulated along Faxon Park Rd.

"The unkempt condition of the park detracts from the neighborhood and I am sure that upon completion of this project the entire roadway will be much more attractive," he said in a letter to Richard J. Koch, executive secretary of the Board.

Raymondi said residents of Faxon Park Rd told him that some areas of Faxon Park along the road were cleaned up two or three years ago "and the residents were quite pleased with the results."

4 Residents On Wentworth Dean's List

Four Quincy residents were named to the dean's list at Wentworth Institute for the second semester, Wentworth president Dr. Edward Kirkpatrick has announced.

They are, Norman Anderson of 36 Brook Rd, South Quincy; William Bent of 33 Vershire St., North Quincy; John Hallett of 69 Post Island Rd, Adams Shore and Richard Malloy of 56 Elm Ave., Wollaston.

3 Wollaston Girls Set Up Own Day Camp

Three Wollaston girls, who think they might want to be teachers when they grow up, got off to a good start this summer by setting up their own day camp at 103 Cambridge Rd.

They are Laurie, 15, and Lois Leonhardi, 14, both of 123 Cedar St., and Jeanne Burke, 15, of Willow Ave.

For two weeks in July they operated the day camp from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., hosting up to 20 youngsters, ages 3 to 7, at the home of Mrs. Anne Amendolare, the Leonhardi girls' aunt.

It was well supervised, too, since Mrs. Amendolare, a former school teacher with a masters degree in elementary education, is an inspector of nursery schools for the state.

The girls started the day camp when they got bored looking for jobs as baby sitters and decided to do something a little different and a little more exciting.

They charge! $1 a day per youngster, providing, in addition to baby sitting for grateful mothers, all the lemonade the kids could drink, instructions in cooking [jello and pudding], arts and crafts and games of kick ball.

Condon Says Many Factors To Be Considered For Marina Landing

"There are many factors still to be considered about the construction of Marina Landing at the old Squantum air base," said Mrs. Joanne Condon, candidate for the Ward 6 City Council seat, at a coffee hour at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Volpe of 70 Holyoke St., North Quincy.

Residents attending had expressed concern about a recent article which said construction may be started by next spring. Mrs. Condon mentioned several things indicate no decisions have been made:

"First, the land is PUD zoned, and this means that a vote of the City Council is necessary. Second, no traffic study report has yet been submitted. Thirdly, the Citizen's Advisory Group appointed by the mayor just submitted a report which said there was not sufficient information available and that the residents oppose the construction."

Mrs. Condon told the residents she would bring to their attention any new plans regarding this proposed development.

In a recent letter to the MDC, Mrs. Condon commended the MDC police.

"Along Quincy Shore Drive, especially during the summer months, there are severe traffic problems and excessive speeding resulting in many accidents," she said.

"The MDC police officers have obviously increased their patrols in this area and are effectively enforcing the speed limit. Their diligence in this matter has made the area much safer for the many residents of the neighborhood who utilize the beach during the summer months."

BE CAUTIOUS WITH DEEDS

Probably the deed to your property is filed away, all but forgotten. Probably you've never checked it since the day it served to pass title from the previous owner to you. Perhaps you didn't even check it then. There may have been no urgent reason to. Nevertheless, an apparently secure deed can turn out to be a worthless piece of paper.

For instance, suppose the deed states the name of the seller, but doesn't contain his signature? Suppose the seller was under 21? Suppose the seller died before you received the deed? Suppose there's an error in the way the deed describes the property?

Any of these defects — as well as many others — could make your deed invalid. But defective deeds are the exception, not the rule, so don't be frightened. Just be cautious. And the best way to be cautious is to deal with a reputable real estate professional and a knowledgeable real estate lawyer.

3 Wollaston Girls Set Up Own Day Camp

Three Wollaston girls, who think they might want to be teachers when they grow up, got off to a good start this summer by setting up their own day camp at 103 Cambridge Rd.

They are Laurie, 15, and Lois Leonhardi, 14, both of 123 Cedar St., and Jeanne Burke, 15, of Willow Ave.

For two weeks in July they operated the day camp from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., hosting up to 20 youngsters, ages 3 to 7, at the home of Mrs. Anne Amendolare, the Leonhardi girls' aunt.

It was well supervised, too, since Mrs. Amendolare, a former school teacher with a masters degree in elementary education, is an inspector of nursery schools for the state.

The girls started the day camp when they got bored looking for jobs as baby sitters and decided to do something a little different and a little more exciting.

They charge $1 a day per youngster, providing, in addition to baby sitting for grateful mothers, all the lemonade the kids could drink, instructions in cooking (jello and pudding), arts and crafts and games of kick ball.

Condon Says Many Factors To Be Considered For Marina Landing

"There are many factors still to be considered about the construction of Marina Landing at the old Squantum air base," said Mrs. Joanne Condon, candidate for the Ward 6 City Council seat, at a coffee hour at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Volpe of 70 Holyoke St., North Quincy.

Residents attending had expressed concern about a recent article which said construction may be started by next spring. Mrs. Condon mentioned several things indicate no decisions have been made:

"First, the land is PUD zoned, and this means that a vote of the City Council is necessary. Second, no traffic study report has yet been submitted. Thirdly, the Citizen's Advisory Group appointed by the mayor just submitted a report which said there was not sufficient information available and that the residents oppose the construction."

Mrs. Condon told the residents she would bring to their attention any new plans regarding this proposed development.

In a recent letter to the MDC, Mrs. Condon commended the MDC police.

"Along Quincy Shore Drive, especially during the summer months, there are severe traffic problems and excessive speeding resulting in many accidents," she said.

"The MDC police officers have obviously increased their patrols in this area and are effectively enforcing the speed limit. Their diligence in this matter has made the area much safer for the many residents of the neighborhood who utilize the beach during the summer months."

Tobin Ahead, 40% Undecided Harold Poll Shows

What else did the Paul Harold poll show?

Harold disclosed some of the results last week which show taxes and general dissatisfaction with the way city government is being conducted as the two big beefs of those polled.

Harold, however, has held back on the results of another part of the poll saying it would "prejudice the mayoral election."

He has withheld those results but there is no such thing as a real secret in politics and poll results - like water - have a way of leaking out.

The poll, according to reliable sources, shows that of 300 voters questioned, 40 per cent were still undecided as to whom they will vote for mayor.

Three mayoral preference names were mentioned in the poll: Mayor Joseph LaRaia, Senator-City Council President Arthur Tobin and Councillor Harold.

Of the 60 per cent giving a preference, Tobin was first, Harold was second and LaRaia was third.

The actual percentages among the three is still a pretty well guarded secret.

The poll was taken four weeks ago by Cambridge Survey Research.

What it indicates is that if the preliminary election had been held then Tobin and Harold would probably have been nominated for mayor and LaRaia eliminated. Depending, of course, on what the 40 per cent undecided finally decided.

The poll reportedly also shows that if Tobin and Harold were in a two-man run-off for mayor, Tobin would win. Again, the actual vote per centages are still a secret.

This indicates that if the final election had been held four weeks ago, Tobin would have been elected over Harold. Depending again, of course, on who got what of the 40 per cent undecided.

The 300 voters polled represent a good cross section of the city according to party affiliation, age, income, education, religious and ethnic backgrounds.

The poll was taken four weeks ago and of course, things can change between then and the Sept. 20 preliminary election.

Another poll taken around the same time or just after, reportedly agrees with the Harold poll.

If the polls are pretty much on the button, it would seem the LaRaia camp would have something to be concerned about.

EDNA AUSTIN was presented with a Certificate of Recognition by Mayor LaRaia the other day for her long service to the city.

It was a nice gesture on the part of the mayor and most deserving. But if the certificate had been 10 miles wide and 20 miles long it still wouldn't have been large enough to begin to match her contributions to Quincy.

Now 90 and living in the Crestview Nursing Home on Greenleaf St., Mrs. Austin is a living milestone in Quincy's history: the only woman ever to serve in the Quincy City Council, starting in 1943 and retiring in 1959.

"Madam Councillor" she was known as among eight male colleagues. She stood for progress, and fought for it. She was candid, speaking out on the issues whether they won or cost her votes.

Down through the years a few of the male members needed her now and then but usually confessed great admiration for her.

When she stood up to speak, people listened. And if they didn't always agree with her, they respected her opinions and honesty.

We have said in the past we would like to see another Edna Austin in the City Council. Hopefully, we one day will.

Meanwhile, "Madam Councillor", congratulations on your official recognition. You deserve every word of it-and more.

FORMER Mayor Thomas Burgin is a patient at Mass. General Hospital's Baker House [Room 322]. Nothing really serious, his friends will be happy to know. He's doing fine and should be out soon.

JEANNE UMANA, who served as the Mayor's press secretary from November, 1976, until the City Council abolished her salary in the 1978 budget, is back at the old stand this week, this time as press aide in Mayor LaRaia's re-election campaign.

She will also be a consultant to the Mayor, Miss Umana said, adding that no city funds will be involved in the work that she does on the LaRaia campaign.

The daughter of Boston Judge Mario Umana spent the last month or so at the Esalen Institute in Big Sur, Calif., immersed in transcendental meditation and yoga and otherwise revving up her motors for the coming campaign.

Said Miss Umana in an informal statement:

"The Mayor was kind enough to invite me on his campaign staff and I look forward to finishing out the last three months of the campaign with great enthusiasm. I believe he has done some beneficial things for Quincy and I would like to help him to get the information across to the people."

No Gubernatorial Pulse Taking

Tom O'Neill: A Lt. Governor With Desire And Drive

By TOM HENSHAW

The last time Thomas P. O'Neill III stopped by The Quincy Sun office he was a State Rep, wandering the far corners of the Commonwealth, hoping lightning would strike and make him lieutenant governor.

It did.

At the same time, he was a little concerned that, once he had taken the governor's pulse in the morning, the lieutenant governor didn't have very much to do.

He does now.

"You might say I'm loaded down with work," said O'Neill last week on a return visit to The Sun. "As lieutenant governor, I have new responsibilities and I'm quite satisfied with them, thank you."

You might say also that O'Neill created his own responsibilities with his desire and drive - not to mention a certain unique relationship to House Speaker Thomas P. [Tip] O'Neill Jr. He's his son.

Since he and Gov. Michael S. Dukakis took over the executive wing of the State House in January, 1975, O'Neill has been in charge of liaison between the state and federal governments.

Liaison, in this case, means money, federal money to be spent in the state.

"We have increased federal funds in Massachusetts," says O'Neill, who figures he averages one day or a day and a half a week in Washington.

"About $1.3 billion came to the political subdivisions and private industry in Massachusetts in 1975. This was duplicated in 1976. And there is no reason it can't be done in 1977."

O'Neill said he expects

that a bill funding a new Charles St. jail in Boston will be ready for the President's signature in late September or early October.

The significance to Quincy is that the House of Correction on Deer Island can then be transferred to the new jail and MDC sewerage treatment facilities moved from Nut Island on Houghs Neck to Deer Island.

He said he is hopeful Federal Economic Development Administration funds can be channelled into construction of a new Fore River Bridge.

"The entire state Congressional delegation is behind it," he said. "They can understand the economic benefits to the state of a healthy shipyard. They want to corner the market in LNG tankers, which would be a multiple benefit to the state."

O'Neill was in Quincy last Thursday primarily to visit the elderly housing complex at 1000 Southern Artery.

He's taking what might be called a crash course in the problems of the senior citizens prior to attending the Lieutenant Governor's Conference on the elderly that starts Aug. 27 in Seattle.

"I want to have a good working idea of the needs of the senior citizens before I go," he said.

"We're going to have a poll put out to the senior citizens to determine their most pressing problems. I realize they don't all live in places like 1000 Southern Artery and receive the same things."

QJC Evening Course Brochure Available

The Quincy Junior College

Division of Continuing Education brochure, listing all the credit and non-credit evening courses offered for the fall semester beginning Sept. 12, is now available.

The brochure also lists course description, day and time of class meetings, tuition fees and times of registration.

Registration will take place from Aug. 29 - Sept. 9.

Anyone interested in QJC evening courses can pick up a brochure at the college or call 471-9200 or 471-2470 and request a brochure be sent.

Alcoholism Discussion Topic For Quincy Senior Citizens Association

Alcoholism was the scheduled main topic of the Quincy Citizens Association, to be held Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the Montclair Men's Club, North Quincy.

Donald Sarney, Randolph High School media instructor, was to present a slide program on alcoholism, prepared by media students of Randolph High School.

Sarney's slide program was highly commended at a recent alcoholism symposium in Boston on "Alcohol, Youth and Media".

The regular Quincy Citizens Association agenda includes:

The report of the Zoning Committee by Arthur Chandler.

A discussion of Planned Unit Development rezoning of Montclair Marsh and Ricetto property in West Quincy. [Public hearing will be held on Sept. 13 by the Planning Board.]

A discussion of future QCA programs and activities.

Planning for the Candidates Night in late October.

Other matters, as time permits. The meeting will adjourn at 10:30 p.m.

President Arthur Chandler reports that attendance at the QCA's monthly meetings has been great, and invites all Quincy citizens to become involved with the QCA.

Civil Service Exam Deadline Aug. 15

Closing date for submitting applications for the U.S. Civil Service Designation Exam will be Aug. 15, it was announced by Cong. James A. Burke [D-Milton].

The exam is a primary consideration for nomination to one of the service academies - the Naval Academy at

Single men and women between the ages of 17 and 22 who are assured of high school graduation by June 30, 1978, are eligible to apply. Consideration is given to high school rank and SAT scores as well as leadership demonstrated in extra-curricular activities.

Interested young men and women are asked to contact Cong. Burke at his Washington office, 241 Cannon House Office Building, Washington, D.C.

Some elephant tusks can weigh more than 300 pounds.

Third Big Fire In Five Days

The third big fire in five days, the worst series of fire losses in Quincy in years, ravaged the Memorial Granite Co. at the foot of Weedon Place, South Quincy, causing an estimated $60,000 damage.

Earlier the same day, fire destroyed the offices of the Forbes Grant Co., 149 Brook Rd, South Quincy.

Five days before, fire gutted the interior of Most Blessed Sacrament Church in Houghs Neck with damage estimated at a half a million dollars, sending 4,000 parishioners to services in Atherton Hough School.

HURRICANE WATCH

The Weather Bureau was keeping a wary eye on Hurricane Connie, the third tropical storm of the season, which was hovering over the ocean some 200 miles off Wilmington, N.C., with 135 mile an hour winds near the center.

Thomas F. MacDonald, director of Civil Defense in Quincy, hurried home from vacation in Marblehead to place his unit on alert and Quincy yachtsmen, recalling the devastation of Hurricane Carol of 1954, secured boats in the Bay.

PONY ALL-STARS ELIMINATED

The Everett Pony League All-Stars sped out to a 9-0 lead in the first three innings and then had to hang on for a 9-6 victory over Quincy to win the New England sectional championship in Waltham. In an earlier game, Fred Kelly knocked the ball out of Brockton catcher Peter Marchegiano's glove to score the winning run in extra innings as Quincy won, 4-3, to enter the finals.

REFERENDUM UNCHALLENGED

George A. Yarrington, executive director of the Quincy Taxpayers Association, said the QTA will not take the trouble to challenge the validity of signatures on a petition asking a Plan A referendum in the fall election.

"I think the Plan A referendum will be defeated on its merits at the polls," he said.

NQHS Project Cost Set At $16 Million-Plus

were claiming that they didn't have to purchase a building permit because it was a municipal project. My position was, yes, they had to pay for a building permit to erect that structure. They argued that point. This is one of the arguments I'm throwing at Blount right now for this time extension that they're requesting.

"How much does a building permit cost for that type of project?" Raymondi asked.

"I believe somewhere around $30,000," answered Anderson.

Along with Form F, Tobin also introduced a copy of The Quincy Sun for Feb. 3, 1977, in which LaRia had purchased a full page advertisement to say that his plan for North Quincy High School cost $13.5 million, compared to $15 million for a plan which he rejected.

In a related matter, the Public Works Committee, chaired by Leo J. Kelly, seemed to have squared away charges that work on the North Quincy project was falling so far behind that the Sept. 1, 1978, opening date for the addition was in danger.

The committee drew from Public Works Commissioner Paul Anderson a promise and a prediction that students will be in the North Quincy addition in September, 1978, even though there have been problems with the general contractor, Blount Brothers of Braintree.

It was explained that the original date set for completion of the work was June 1, 1978, but that had been moved up 50 days, to July 20, 1978, when problems were encountered early in the project.

"We were advised," said School Supt. Dr. Lawrence P. Creedon, "10 days or two weeks ago, that it was extremely doubtful that the July 20 date could be held to. It was indicated that date was no longer realistic but maybe something a month later."

Under questioning by Councillor Dennis E. Harrington, the superintendent could offer no hard evidence to back up his concern, except that:

"I've been associated with the Quincy public schools during the construction of the Vocational Technical School, the Squantum addition, the Lincoln-Hancock School and major renovations to many of our other plants and it's been my experience that construction projects usually come in late rather than early."

Creedon told the committee: "...essentially I did indicate that in my judgement, there was a substantial slowdown in the forward progress in construction at North Quincy High School. Originally it was suggested we'd have it on June 1, 1978, and then there was a modification of that which brought it up to July 20, 1978. As a result of our assessment of the progress of the work that was going on, a week ago last Wednesday, we felt there was an additional slowdown which would further withhold from us the availability of the building. I expressed that concern to members of the Quincy School Committee during its first summer meeting on July 20, and apparently that was reported in the press and I assume that is why this meeting is being called here this evening.

KELLY - I said earlier that I had contacted Mr. Riley, who is the superintendent, and he said there is no stoppage. But I believe that you stand by the statement that there was a stoppage in the work there.

CREEDON - What I want to do, is define in proper context the term that was used in the press. The term was that work had come to a standstill. I would like to define that in the contextual setting. We have been operating under the notion that the building would be available to us on June 1, 1978, so that we could move in on an orderly fashion and thus make the existing building ready for renovation as soon as we had vacated it, 30 days later, or whenever. Then due to the problems on the initial construction phase, we were informed that the building would not be available to us until July 20, 1978. Then, as we continued to review the matter, in cooperation with the commissioner of Public Works and his people, we came to the conclusion that the July 20 date would no longer hold and that it would be a date that would be sometime after that. We had been advising all parties concerned that it was very important to us in the school system that we have the building available to us for the opening of school in September, 1978, so that we could move all the young people out of the existing building and into the new addition and make ready the existing building for the extensive renovation that it was to receive. And we indicated at the time, and it has been our position, although it's under review right now, that if we did not have the building for the opening of school in September, 1978, it would be very difficult for us from an educational point of view to move in on a 15 or a 30 day notice.

KELLY - It would be other than fair of me if I didn't also state that Mr. Riley said they would be through with the job on the date that they had stated before in September. They are behind schedule and as soon as the masonry work and the walls are enclosed that they would be able to catch up. Do you go along with that statement?

CREEDON - I'm not qualified to comment on that sort of question. I'm only qualified to comment on what is going on right now or what has gone on in the past. I do know

Clerk Of Works Charges Bring No Action

City Council President Arthur H. Tobin's charges that the clerk of the works on the North Quincy High School project is working at two jobs failed to produce the anticipated fireworks at Monday night's Public Works Committee meeting.

Tobin had disclosed that Ralph Cappola, the clerk of the works at $20,000 paid by the city, also is involved in three private construction projects for which building permits were issued in his name.

Cappola agreed that he had obtained the permits but that the buildings were owned and supervised by John Marrone, who consulted with him on evenings and weekends when problems came up.

Tobin introduced at Monday night's meeting a copy of a city ordinance which, he said, "states that anyone having a license must, under Section 244, perform under continuous, direct and personal supervision."

"I'm going to introduce it," he told committee chairman Leo J. Kelly, "and those department heads, it comes under their jurisdiction, they can uphold the law. You have it from here."

Members of the committee, perhaps wearied by some four hours of hearings on nine subjects, chose not to pick it up and run with it.

Tobin conceded that he had heard nothing that would indicate Cappola is shirking his clerk of the works duties at North Quincy.

Carnival Against MD At Braintree Hospital Aug. 7

Braintree Hospital, 250 Pond St., Braintree, is sponsoring a Carnival Against Muscular Dystrophy Sunday, Aug. 7, from noon to 4 p.m.

The Frank Marinelli Trio, featuring Frank Marinelli, his brother Peter Marinelli, both Braintree residents, and Bob Tombari, Quincy, will provide music at the Carnival.

The Trio, who, with their music, have earned their college tuitions, are donating their time and talent to the fight against Muscular Dystrophy.

In addition, there will be food, games, rides in the Braintree police paddy wagon, contests and prizes, including cinema passes and McDonald's gift certificates.

All proceeds from the carnival will go to the Muscular Dystrophy Association to help make patient services and research progress possible. Carnival profits will also help send children with Muscular Dystrophy to one-week Muscular Dystrophy camp sessions, of which there are currently 92 in 36 states.

The planning committee for the Carnival Against Muscular Dystrophy at Braintree Hospital seeks your support in order to raise a substantial sum of money for the Muscular Dystrophy Association. The committee welcomes money and baked goods donations and urges the public to attend Aug. 7. This is a great opportunity to help others by having fun.

For more information, call Cindy Hogan or Denise McClean, Monday through Friday, at 848-5353.

One Act Plays, Dances

Quincy Summer Scene Productions At Broadmeadows

The Theater Arts Division of Quincy Summer Scene will present its second production of the summer tonight [Thursday] at 7:30 p.m. in Broadmeadows Junior High School, 50 Calvin Rd.

Four one-act plays along with interpretive dance selections and musical selections will be presented. Tickets will be available at the door. Donation is $1.00.

The program is going into its fourth season under the advisorship of Frank Moffett who is also the programs' creator, together with Mr. Louis DiMartino the Coordinator of Quincy Summer Scene. For the first time graduate students have become a major part of the program. They act as directors of the four one-act plays and as assistants to the younger students. All of the graduates plan to continue their study of theater at the colleges they will be attending next year. Each director is given the opportunity to create their own show from beginning to end. It's an experience that can be found nowhere else.

Each summer there are two productions, one at the end of each three week session. The plays and the casts for this session, the final one to be presented this summer, include: "The Monster" directed by Peter DelVecchio. Cast includes Linda Kelleher, Nancy Maimaron, Peter DelVecchio, Debra Pasquale, Jim Martorano, Bobby Welch, Elan Ezickson, Bobby Burrelli, Dana Neitlich, John Green, Mark Matthews, Robert Wood, Joe Vallier and Sarah Poole.

"Neglected Husbands' Sewing Club" directed by Linda Viegas. The cast - Sarah Poole, Anthony Andronico, Karen Bishop, David Carbonneau, Robert Wood, Janine Mudge, Paul Valante, Valerie Grande, John Green, Bobby Welch and Tricia Mullen.

"Spy Me This One" directed by Kathy Bertrand. Cast - Katy Carlisle, Marcia Ryan, Danielle Carbonneau, Michelle DeSaulniers, Tricia Mullen, Robin Parsons and Maura McCormick.

"Please No Flowers" directed by Geoff Chamberlain. Cast - Katy Carlisle, Robin Parsons, Elan Ezickson, Betty Ann Drobia, Carolyn Robinson, Michelle DeSaulniers, Anthony Andronico, Debra Pasquale and Joe Vallier.

There will also be unique interpretive dance selections choreographed by Dawna Andronico. The dancers are Bobby Burrelli, Danielle Carbonneau, Linda Kelleher, Nancy Maimaron, Tricia Mullen, Dawna Andronico and Carolyn Robinson. Two musical numbers will also be performed. Dawna Andronico will sing "The First Time Ever (I Saw Your Face)", Sarah Poole and Linda Kelleher will sing "The Desperate Ones". The Musical Director for both the dance and musical selections is Karen Bishop.

Skate-a-thon Friday Night Benefits Muscular Dystrophy

The Quincy Youth Hockey Association will sponsor a five-hour Skate-a-thon to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association Friday night from 7 p.m. to midnight at the Quincy Youth Arena.

Skaters will raise money to fight muscular dystrophy through sponsor pledges.

The top three fund raisers will appear on the Jerry Lewis Telethon on the Labor Day weekend, representing the Quincy Youth Hockey Association.

Ken Hodge, former Boston Bruins star, now with the New York Rangers, and Massachusetts chairman for Muscular Dystrophy, hopes to attend Friday night's Skate-a-thon.

Sponsorship forms for the skate-a-thon are available at the Quincy Youth Arena and at the Quincy Sun office in Quincy Sq.

A special prize to be awarded during the Skate-a-thon is a hockey stick autographed by Boston Bruins players. There will be other prizes awarded by drawing each hour during the Skate-a-thon.

A "thank you" party for all participants will be held at the Quincy Youth Arena Aug. 26.

The committee for the skate-a-thon includes Dorothy and Joseph Engrassia, Louis and Pat Sandomato, Tom Bille, Barbara McConville, Marge Fitzpatrick and Beverly Reinhardt.

The Skate-a-thon is one in a series of events being held by the Quincy-South Shore Jerry Lewis Telethon Committee.

Henry Bosworth, publisher of The Quincy Sun and Richard J. Koch, executive secretary of the Quincy Park-Recreation Board are co-ordinators for the event.

The Sun will be a pledge center for the Jerry Lewis telethon with volunteers manning telephones for donations in the Quincy-South Shore area.

Furnace Brook Scotch Foursome Winners

In the weekly mixed Scotch foursome at Furnace Brook Golf Club, Tom Tehan and Mary Donoghue shot low gross and there was a tie for low net between Tony Spinello and Pat Tehan and Bob Donoghue and Dolly Nogier.

Joe Barranco and Priscilla O'Neill shot second net, George Flate and Pat Cugini had third net, Bob Donoghue and Ginnie McCann shot fourth net, and Quentin McCaffrey and Mary Morrissey shot fifth net.

Cornella Corbin and Rose LaHive shot low gross in the weekly Ladies tournament, a blind partners affair.

Jo Hineckley and Marilyn Harris and Carmella Corbin and Marie Conroy tied for low net, Jennie Lutfy and Isabell Morrison and Ellie Mulroy and Pat Cugini tied for second net, and Eda Flate and Priscilla O'Neill shot third net.

● Women's Softball League A.L. All-Stars Defeat Nationals, 12-6

The American League defeated the Nationals, 12-6, in the annual Quincy Women's Softball League all-star game played before more than 300 at Kincaide Park.

Going into the sixth inning the Americans led, 9-0, with key hits by Gigi Wallace, Missy Trainor, Cissi Leonard, Nancy Willard, Cindy Hill, Gina Tempesta and Sue Smith.

The Nationals scored four times in the sixth with Cece Fagan and Margaret Cuddy driving in the runs.

The Americans added three in the seventh on a triple by Kathy McConarty and singles by Diane Costa and Toni Alibrandi, and the Nationals added two in their half.

The American League coach was Bob Swirbalus of Dee Dee's. His squad included Willard, Wallace and Saralee Cobban of Dee Dee's, Hill and Diane Schevede of South Shore Bank, Ginny and Missy Trainor and Chickie Mormile of Trainor's Truckers, Alibrandi and Cory McCord of Shea's Formica, Costa and Smith of Bocce Club, Cheryl Walsh and Debbie Mann of Palma's Hair Stylists, Leonard and McConarty of Balducci's and Tempesta and Donna Tamulis of Budget Rent-A-Car.

Richy MacArthur of Jimmy's coached the National League and his squad included Clair Coyne, Fagan and Peggy Tobin of Jimmy's. Sue McInnis and Mary Ann Fritz of King's, Noreen Picot and Paula Murray of Caradonna's, Nancy Amrhein, Linda and Margaret Cuddy of Alumni Cafe, Marsha Mele and Clare Oliverio of Wollaston Credit Union, Susan Drew and Michelle Sacchetti of Palmer Pubettes, Judy Petta and Rachel Anderson of Elkettes and Carol Carnali and Mary Jane Clarke of Liberty St. Auto Body.

Milmore Second In Marblehead Hobie 14

Art Milmore of Quincy, a member of the Wessagusset Yacht Club, placed second in the Hobie 14 Class in last week's annual Marblehead Race Week.

On the first day of racing Milmore, a Quincy Sun photographer, won his first race and took second in the second. He placed third and fourth on the second day and the third day's racing was fogged out.

"On the final day we had to go for broke as they sent us on an eight-mile race," Art said. "The wind dropped and John Mills of Lexington and I took a chance and broke away from the rest of the fleet and it worked so well that we had a mile and a half lead at the first mark. The wind changed and we had a half hour lead at the second mark."

Milmore finished second to Mills in the race and second to Mills overall. "I taught John to race and I guess I taught him too well," Art said.

Milmore wound up with a silver plate, a set of glasses and a pair of gloves for his achievements.

Roxie's Wins Suburban Title

Roxie's Raiders clinched the South Suburban Softball League title by sweeping a doubleheader from Presidential Pub, 15-14 and 9-5, last Sunday. Roxie's finished 23-3, while runner-up J's finished with a 21-5 mark.

In the first game Mike McAuley led Roxie's attack with four hits. Marc Walsh drove in five runs and Bob Pistorino, who was six for eight in the two games, drove in the winning run with a clutch single in the last inning.

In the second game it was Pistorino again with three hits and Walsh with two more RBIs. Danny Minton also had three hits. Steve O'Rourke was the winning pitcher in both games, finishing with an impressive 16-3 record. Some fine fielding by shortstop John MacFarland and first baseman Chip Harding helped Roxie's seal the title.

with a 19-7 record, swept two from King's, 11-7 and 12-7.

Ed Mack was six for nine in the two games and drove in eight runs. Spike Mitchell was the winning pitcher in the first game and Bill Fong won his first game of the year in relief in the second.

Rich Louchier and Pete

Petrakus had three hits apiece in the second game and Al Rosey hit his 15th home run.

The Koch Club and Spoilers split their twin bill, the Kochs winning the first game, 13-10, and the Spoilers the second, 12-4.

The Koch Club broke in front early and held its margin as it came up with the big hits when needed. In the second game the Spoilers' bats came alive together with fine defense. In the opener Jerry Dyer pitched a complete game, with Bob Bosader the loser. Bruce Norton defeated Gary Cunniff in the second.

Junior League All-Stars Bomb Triple A, 18-2

The Quincy Junior Baseball League all-stars had too much for the Triple A. League stars, romping, 18-2, in the recent all-star game.

Winning pitcher was John Balzano, who had 10 strikeouts in 4 1/2 innings. He also hit a grand slam home run and a double and scored twice.

For the Triple A team, Bobby O'Brien had a double. Dave Venezia had a single and scored a run and Kenny Wright had a single. Dale Adams made a fantastic catch to save two runs.

In the Triple A League playoffs the Pirates defeated the Indians in three games.

In the opener the Pirates won, 9-7, with Jimmy McNamara the winning pitcher. He had 11 strikeouts, giving him 100 for the season.

With the score tied, 1-1, in the third, Mike Barter hit a grand slam home run. He also drove in another run with a single. Brian Gibbons had a single and double, as did McNamara. For the Indians Adams had three singles, Bob Glidden two singles, Scott Barba and Marty Nazzaro doubles.

The Indians evened the series with a 21-9 romp, with Kenny Wright the winner. Adams had a fantastic day with a homer, three doubles and a single. Jimmy Grassi had three singles, a triple and double. Glidden was outstanding at shortstop. John Culhane had a double and McNamara had two doubles. Mike McArdle had a double and a single for the Pirates.

The Pirates, managed by Wayne Elmore and assistant Dee Hennessey, squeezed by, 8-7, in the deciding game.

Michael Cascarano was the winning pitcher. Gary Brown, Brian Gibbons, Cascarano and McArdle all had doubles and Mike Hennessey was three for three. For the Indians, Jimmy Garrity had a double and Chip Griffin, John Cosgrove, Venezia, Adams and Jimmy Doherty singles in the sixth inning when the Indians scored all their runs.

Lee Staskiewicz managed the Indians with Tom Duane and Richard DiPietro as assistants.

Wollaston Shocks Weymouth

Zone Champs Morrisette In Tourney Action

By TOM SULLIVAN

Morrisette Legion's baseball team is the Zone 6 champion for the third year in a row and the 21st time in 32 years and tonight [Thursday] opens state tournament play but at press time no announcement had been made as to its first round opponent.

Morrisette met Plymouth and Walpole this week in practice games to keep in shape for the tournament.

Wollaston, winner of only two games on the field [it also won a game by forfeit], played a big part in Morrisette winning another crown, as it scored three runs in the final inning to shock runner-up Weymouth, 4-3, making it possible for Morrisette to clinch the title with an 8-3 victory last Saturday over Quincy. Morrisette finished 16-5.

This is the most satisfying championship for Coach Ray Cattaneo.

"We have a lot of 16-year-olds and have our youngest team ever," Cattaneo said. "A few of our boys played in junior high during the past season but they showed they had what it takes. Weymouth was the zone favorite but our kids did a great job and deserve the title."

In title-clinching win over Quincy, John Wilkinson made his first pitching start, gave up six hits, struck out seven and allowed only one walk over the seven inning route.

He gave up two runs in the first, then blanked Quincy until the seventh when it scored its second run.

For Morrisette Dave King, Sal Coscia and Wilkinson had two hits apiece and Mark Giordani, Ron Donovan, Chuck LoPresti, Jim Maze and Pete Niosi one each.

For Quincy Dave McLaughlin had three hits and Lew Fishman, Kurt O'Sullivan and losing pitcher Dave Raftery one each.

Quincy Women Invited

To Join Atlantic Soccer League

Quincy women are invited to join the Woman's Atlantic Soccer League.

Teams are now being formed on a regional basis throughout the Greater Boston area. Beginners of all ages and abilities are eligible.

Wollaston had set the stage for the Morrisette win with its best two-way game of the year in surprising Weymouth.

Sharing the hero roles were Tom LeBlue, who pitched three-hit ball, struck out six and walked only one, and Bob McCabe, who singled in two runs in the big seventh inning. Wollaston trailed, 3-1, going into the final frame.

McCabe, Tom McBride and Jim Travers had two hits apiece and John Andrews, Bob Stevens and LaBlue one each.

Weymouth had kept its title hopes alive by twice coming from behind to nip Morrisette, 11-10, in a wild one which saw Weymouth score four times in the bottom of the seventh after Morrisette had scored three in the top half.

There were a total of 56 hits in the game, 19 by Weymouth.

For Morrisette Coscia and Niosi had four hits apiece, King three, Mike McCormack and Maze two each and LoPresti and Ron Donovan one apiece.

Wollaston, which lost several one-run decisions, had dropped another in the previous game, 3-2 to Scituate, as it rallied for two runs in the sixth but just fell short.

LaBlue pitched another outstanding game, yielding six hits, striking out five and walking two.

He and McBride had two hits apiece and Andrews and Brian Condon one each.

"Our big problem at the start of the season was our pitching," Morrisette's Cattaneo said. "None of the boys had pitched in high school, except for a few innings here and there, but they certainly came along well and did a tremendous job for us."

Ron Donovan and Gary Earl did most of the starting and Wilkinson, Mark Giordani, Dave Austin and Ray Coscia saw considerable action, either as starters or relievers.

Quincy Junior League

HN Legion Champs Again

Houghs Neck Legion, American League champion, repeated as Quincy Junior Baseball League titleist with a three-game sweep in the playoffs.

In defeating Colonial Federal, 5-3, Glen Oriola pitched an outstanding game, hurling a four-hitter and striking out 11. Colonial's Joe Conti hit a two-run homer in the fourth to tie the game but Oriola's two out, bases loaded double in the fifth iced the win. HN had seven hits, with Mark Righini hitting a homer and single, Marty McLoughlin two singles and John Phelan and Mark Abboud a single apiece. Key defensive plays were turned in by Steve White and Kevin Tenney to help wrap up this second playoff win. HN had earlier walloped Burgin Platner, 9-1, in its playoff opener.

In the championship game HN blanked Burgin 3-0, as McLoughlin pitched a three-hitter and struck out 4. Kevin White and Kevin Tenney had doubles, McLoughlin had two singles and Phelan, Mike Notorangelo, John Comeau and Righini had a single each. In the sixth inning with Burgin making its lone threat, with a man racing home, Dick Comeau threw a strike to the plate for a vital out. HN Legion, sponsor of the team, treated the players to a ride around Quincy Center in its personal fire truck with siren screeching and bell clanging.

Keohane's had won the National League crown but was eliminated by Colonial in the playoffs.

Quincy Oil Streaks To Fast-Pitch Softball Title

Quincy Oil, in only its second year of existence, after losing its first game, streaked to 11 straight wins to clinch the South Shore Fast-Pitch Softball League title.

Manager Tom O'Connell and Coach Jimmy Mezzetti credit the success to outstanding pitching and defense.

Stellar pitching by Jim Hatfield in key games paved the way to the crown. Leading the defense were catcher Ed MacDonald, second baseman Bob MacIntosh, outfielders John Menard and Bill Thorne and first baseman Mike Walsh.

Leading the offense were shortstop Eric Tuori, who batted .533 and drove in 24 runs; Brad Kimball (.476), Dan Vespaziani (.433) and Brian Osborne (.406).

Quincy Oil is now playing Sports Haven (7-5), and defending champion Convenient (10-2) is facing Wollaston Purity (7-5) in the playoffs.

that the construction of the steel was supposed to begin on Dec. 13. It began on Feb. 17, fully two months after it was projected to begin. I do know that the general contractor was supposed to arrive on site on a particular date; his arrival on site with a building permit from the city of Quincy was three to four weeks after that. I can add that up and conclude that from the very outset we were seven, eight, nine weeks work time behind. There is nothing that has been reported to me to indicate to me that that time has been made up. I believe that is why the original projection date of June 78 was changed to July 20, '78, a date which we can still live with. We're still a year away from that date, and if we are to have other additional delays for one reason or another, I served notice on the Quincy School Committee that we were rapidly running out of time in which the building would be available to us. The additional slowdowns on the week or two prior to July 20 indicated to us that there was a real serious doubt as to whether or not the July 20 date would hold. We were led to believe by the representatives of the general contractor that it was doubtful if they could still hold to the July 20 date.

TOBIN - Do you remember when you had that conversation?

CREEDON - Ironically enough, we had it on July 20, 1977.

TOBIN - And they did not, think they could hold to the July 20, 1978?

CREEDON - They had serious doubts as to whether they could hold.

TOBIN - And did they give you a new date then?

CREEDON - No they did not, at that particular time.

TOBIN - Have you received a new projected date yet?

CREEDON - I have not, no.

TOBIN - So as far as you know, all they're telling us, we know for sure that we are behind schedule and there is a possibility of catching up but we don't know when.

CREEDON - I believe that's their position. That they still hope they will be able to catch up.

ANDERSON - Basically what Dr. Creedon says is correct. But let me give you the chronology. In early June, we revised our critical path method, which is the basis for the scheduling for North Quincy High that Kent Corp. is monitoring for the city. We reviewed the effect that the snow and the steel strike had on the construction and we did come to the conclusion that it could be considered to be 50 days behind schedule at that particular point in time. I will further state, however, that the city has a contract with the general contractor which states that the completion date is June 1, 1978, and I am not willing to concede that 50-day delay to the contractor at this point. But, I thought it expedient to advise the School Department that in the event that we could not expedite the construction progress over the next 12 months that in fact the new completion deadline was July 20, 1978. Apparently the reason for concern occurred immediately after the 4th of July when one particular activity which was supposed to occur had not yet started, and that was masonry. It is my job, as commissioner of Public Works, to oversee that construction project and guarantee that everyone under contract performs under the terms of their contract. As a matter of fact, the day the School Department called me relative to what they thought was a slowdown or obvious non-work being performed, I had Barry Colletti, the architect, and the representatives of Kent Corp. in my office discussing the problem. We had a meeting just this morning to determine with the general contractor what his plans were for making up the 50 days - now they're claiming it's 65 days, 65 days is the new figure the general contractor is attempting to use - we had a meeting to determine what plans they were making to expedite the construction flow to bring the project back in line with the contractual completion date of June 1. And that's where we stand right now. Under no circumstances am I, as commissioner, accepting the fact from the general contractor that the job is that far behind. He feels that it is and he feels there is legitimate reason. However, the city in its review, myself, Kent Corp., and the architect, don't necessarily agree with the figures the general contractor is supplying relative to the delay time.

QUINN - Is there any penalty if they do not meet these completion dates?

ANDERSON - As far as time penalties, I've asked the solicitor to review the contracts. What disturbed me more than anything else after the 4th of July was the fact that masonry had not started as per the schedule and that's where this two week additional delay has been built in by Blount into what they consider to be a legitimate contractual extension. However, it is my opinion that the delay was solely caused by Blount Brothers not having the scaffolding on site in a timely manner for erection to allow the masonry contractor to begin his work. What we're talking about here, and I think this whole issue boils down to us enforcing a contract on the general contractor. As far as I am concerned the contractual completion date is still June 1. I believe after this morning's meeting that the general contractor does have the intention of complying with the contractual date and expediting the flow of work at the project. I anticipate seeing the masonry start within the next week to 10 days. The scaffolding is currently going up on the west side of the building. But, based on my opinion, that is not as much as I would like to see but that is still enough to allow us to meet a July 20 completion deadline.

RAYMONDI - What can we tell the people that we represent that the commissioner of Public Works is telling us when this project will be completed?

ANDERSON - I will say that the building will be ready for occupancy by students in September of 78.

RAYMONDI - So we don't have to have any problems of double sessions or ...

ANDERSON - That is correct.

RAYMONDI - ... the people not being able to utilize the building.

ANDERSON - That is correct.

While answering a question put to him by Councillor Paul D. Harold, Anderson cited an instance of the failure of Blount to cooperate with Kent Corp., the management firm. Raymond pounced on the phrase.

RAYMONDI - You made an interesting statement that due to the lack of cooperation of the general contractor there was about a two-week delay in this project. Could you elaborate? What did the general contractor do?

ANDERSON - He didn't have the scaffolding up when he was supposed to. He just plain didn't do it.

RAYMONDI - What action did we take as a city to make sure he did do it?

ANDERSON - I sent him a notice of non-compliance with contract.

RAYMONDI - And what happened then?

ANDERSON - He immediately called me and said he was not in non-compliance and wished to sit down with me for an immediate meeting.

RAYMONDI - Would it have been possible for the city to make arrangements to get the scaffolding on the job and bill the general contractor?

ANDERSON - This is one of the questions I am asking the City Solicitor. If he threw the general contractor off the job completely then in fact we would have the right to go against his surety company and backcharge the additional costs to the city. However, given the magnitude of that particular type of move, in other words the total disengagement of the general contractor, I thought it more advisable to try to work out the problem, because when you do that it involves extensive litigation. So this is why we're reviewing some of the less serious alternatives that we might have under the terms of the contract. In my non-compliance letter, one of the items I mentioned was the fact that the city would not tolerate any attempt by Blount Brothers to utilize the strategic objective of utilizing that project for their own benefit. In this morning's meeting I let them know in no uncertain terms that, if I believe after the expiration of the next several weeks, that that is what appears to me to be their strategic objective, I would have no compunction about utilizing the city's contractual rights relative to a change of contract.

CREEDON - My office and the office of the commissioner of Public Works have pretty much seen everything eye to eye. But the commissioner indicated that the building would be ready for occupancy on Sept. 1, 1978. I've discussed this with him before and I think I can modify that to an extent that he will agree to. It's not READY for occupancy Sept. 1, it's that we're IN it by Sept. 1. That's a major difference. If we have the building READY for occupancy Sept. 1, that is not good enough. We need to be IN it Sept. 1 which means that we need to have two to three to four weeks ahead of that. And, in response to an observation by Councillor Raymond, there will be double sessions during the 1978-79 school year. That's part of the original plan.

10 Quincy Police Officers On Boston State Honors List

Ten Quincy Police Officers have distinguished themselves through their academic achievements at Boston State College's Law Enforcement Public Service Program which recently concluded its Spring Semester.

Officers Dennis Mannix and Paul T. Quinn made the President's List, an honor which necessitates an average of 3.5 or above.

Eight Quincy policemen made the Dean's List, with an average of at least 3.0. They were Francis Bertoni, Robert Edgar, Francis W. Kane, John M. Kelly, Terence P. Kelly, Richard P. Savard, Michael J. Sullivan and Kevin L. Williams.

In a letter to Quincy Police Chief Francis X. Finn, Alan Balboni, Ph.D., the Acting Chairman of the Boston State College's Law Enforcement Department, congratulated Chief Finn and the Quincy Policemen who achieved the honors.

McDonough Takes Out Ward 4 Papers

One new candidate was added to the lists for the Sept. 20 preliminary city election.

Joseph P. McDonough of 65A Miller St., West Quincy, a prominent Quincy Sq. attorney who is active in veterans' affairs, took out nomination papers to run for the Ward 4 seat on the City Council.

He will oppose the incumbent, Councillor James A. Sheets, who is seeking re-election.

2 Firefighters Bunker Hill Graduates

Two Quincy firefighters, William J. Barron Jr. of West Elm Ave., Wollaston, and Robert Mood of 25 Hanna St., Quincy Point, graduated recently from Bunker Hill Community College with perfect 4.0 averages.

Both men received Associates degrees in Fire Science.

Raymondi To Seek 2nd Term

Ward 2 Councillor Daniel G. Raymondi, 29, announces he will seek re-election to a second term.

Raymondi noted that during his first term he has dedicated himself "to providing aggressive and effective leadership for his constituents thereby insuring that government in Quincy is responsive and accountable to the people."

"Quincy is facing a critical period in its history," he said. "It is a time when integrity, responsibility and positive attitude are essential to our future. I shall continue to respond openly to the issues of the day and to reiterate to my colleagues that the people of this city cannot afford the level of spending that we are experiencing."

Raymondi noted these accomplishments in his role as being the voice of the people:

- Implementation of the towing ordinance, which he calls an important victory for the residents in the shipyard area who have experienced a serious traffic problem for too long a period of time.

- Rolling back the hours of drinking establishments in lower Quincy Point from 2 a.m. to 1 a.m.

- Neighborhood clean-up projects at Faxon Park, Victory Park, Fore River Field, Avalon Beach, Elm St. and Bradford St. Playgrounds and other recreational areas of Ward 2.

- Initiated meetings with Quincy Point residents and city officials in order to correct the problems at the Quincy Point pumping station.

- Successfully fought for city and state approval of ordinance restricting commercial vehicles on Hughes and Lorton Streets in South Quincy.

- Working with the Public Works Commissioner and the Mayor's office to bring much needed water main repair work and street resurfacing projects to Ward 2.

- Together with area residents successfully opposed Ashmont Discourt's move to the already congested area at the intersection of Washington St. and Southern Artery.

- Joined area residents in opposing construction of any access from Independence Avenue to proposed South Quincy MBTA Station and called for legislation prohibiting the action.

- Firmly stood behind the taxpayers and continually opposed new jobs and excess spending in city government.

- Supported Town Brook Flood Control Project.

- Introduced resolve calling for the tape recording of city council meetings to make elected officials more accountable to the people.

- Worked with the parents of the Adams and Pollard Schools to develop a plan of sidewalk snow removal.

- Responsive to the needs of the parents of the Point-Webster School Complex, with meetings on traffic, snow removal and problems regarding trucks in the area.

- Met with Traffic Commission and area residents in an effort to resolve the serious parking and traffic problems on Independence Ave., South Quincy.

- Supported the Energy Conservation Commission.

- Supported Senior Citizen Housing and activities.

"I stand proudly behind my record of effectiveness in working together with the residents of Ward 2 and responding aggressively to the issues that concern them," Raymondi said. "I shall continue to be the watchdog over taxpayer's money as well as functioning as a dependable elected official that people can turn to for assistance on any matter."

Raymondi graduated from Quincy Point Junior High School, Quincy High School, College of the Holy Cross with a BA in History, and Boston College Law School. He is married to the former Sharyn Thibodeau of Quincy Point. They reside at 88 Elm St., Quincy.

Council Public Works Committee Gets Gal Friday

Something new has been added to the City Council's Public Works Committee.

Mrs. Rita Henderson of 34 Sunnyside Rd., West Quincy, a former service representative of the New England Telephone Co. in Quincy, started work Monday in the role of Gal Friday for the committee.

She's been hired for a year at $8,300, federally funded through

CETA.

Chairman Leo J. Kelly, who describes his committee as the busiest of the Council's committees, said Mrs. Henderson will follow up on complaints and research other problems. "things City Councillors don't have the time to do."

She was introduced to the Committee, which includes all members of the City Council, Monday night at which time the Committee was holding no less than nine public hearings.

In addition to her work with New England Telephone, Mrs. Henderson has been a personnel assistant with Alloys, Inc., of Braintree, and administrative assistant and secretary at Cornwall Corp., Boston.

Faherty Sees Symptoms Of Organized Crime In Quincy

Michael E. Faherty, a retired State Police captain who is running for an at-large seat on the City Council, says he sees symptoms of organized crime in Quincy and he told the Quincy Citizen's Association that now is the time to act before "a serious sickness" sets in.

He also expressed his concern over voter apathy, noting a very low voter turnout in recent elections in Lynnfield and Charlestown. Voter apathy, he said, can lead to a form of dictatorship where "the machine gets in and stays in".

Faherty said he considers the City Council race the most important in the coming city elections. The city, he said, is going to have to "break with tradition and say 'yes' to certain changes while holding the line and refusing other attractive offers."

He said his candidacy was prompted by his confidence in his ability to perform effectively as a city councillor.

He described his experience as a State Police captain in charge of the 125-man force assigned to the Massachusetts Turnpike, with a budget of $2 million and his duties as state deputy of the Knights of Columbus, where he coordinated activities of 206 chapters with 60,000 members.

Faherty noted that he is now director of corporate security for State Street Boston Corp., where he implemented a sophisticated, $250,000 electronic security system for the State Street Bank, a subsidiary.

Miller Urges Crackdown On Illegal Clam Diggers

stripping the natural clam beds and depriving our clam diggers of a decent living, but they are depleting and disturbing an ecological cycle."

He noted that, technically, Quincy clam beds are under the jurisdiction of the State Department of Marine Fisheries since the beds are classified as contaminated.

"However," he said, "due to recent financial cutbacks, state wardens, who are also

James Miller, candidate for the City Council Ward 1 seat has called for increased patrols of Quincy clambeds by city wardens in order to keep illegal diggers from working the beds.

"At a time when working people are faced with severe economic constraints, it is an outrage that clam diggers in our city should be forced to compete with illegal intruders," he said.

"Not only are the violators responsible for enforcing fresh water fishing and game laws, are spread very thinly throughout the Commonwealth."

This being the case, he said, it is time for the city wardens to step in and step up their patrols of the Quincy clambeds to protect the interests of the resident diggers of the city.

This, he said, would be the first step toward bringing effective shellfish management back to the local level.

Barron Stresses Professional Management Approach

Thomas M. Barron, candidate for mayor, stressed the need for a professional management approach to city government at a reception given recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Porcaro of Richie Rd, South Quincy.

Barron emphasized his belief that the city "could be best run by a qualified administrator who could work well with all people in the city government."

"The major concerns and objectives of my candidacy are the rising costs of city government, the need for adequate realistic budgets, and the necessity that departments live within these budgets," he said.

He voiced the following objectives for his term, if elected:

- To improve the cash flow procedures by implementing new systems with the ultimate result of eliminating short term borrowing.

- To "sophisticate and automate" budgeting to the degree that supplemental budgets will not be needed.

- To utilize the resources of business and industry, and the highly trained skilled and profession people in Quincy.

- And to open government to all people and to attract the mature and experienced to work with the young and ambitious.

Barron said he plans to accomplish this by employing the SCORE theory [Service Core Of Retired Executives] wherein qualified, retired individual's skills would be matched with talent such as the Women's Talent Bank, CETA applicants, and recent graduates of local colleges.

"In this way we can have the young and intelligent working in tandem with the mature and the experienced, resulting in a managerial approach with realistic labor and operational costs," he concluded.

Barron invited all qualified citizens to contact him with their ideas.

This is the 16th in a series of articles written
By Rep. MICHAEL W.
MORRISSEY

The legislature is starting to gear up to full sessions. Last Monday was the first day of session since the recess.

The biggest issue facing the legislature is the abortion issue. "Should the state pay for welfare abortions?" The Committee on Ways and Means recently held hearings on the matter. A vote is slated on the issue for next Monday. I have received many calls and letters on this issue, if you wish to make your views known, please feel free to call or write me. Your input into important matters such as this, make my job as a representative of the people, much easier.

The Governor recently announced that the state had incurred a surplus of $69 million. Many legislative leaders are disturbed that such an amount was not used to help those programs that had been hurt by cutbacks due to the financial situations.

If you wish to contact me, I can be reached by calling 328-0900 or 727-7035. My district office, 69 Billings Rd is open every evening except Friday. I hold office hours on Monday, Wednesday, Friday 8:30 to 10:00 A.M. and Wednesday 6:30 to 8:30 P.M.

Special August Promotion

Plus/24 Is Going Burgers At Quincy Savings Bank

"Plus/24 is Going Burgers" is the title of a promotional campaign to be run during the month of August by Quincy Savings Bank [A Redi Bank] and several other banks.

With each Plus/24 withdrawal transaction during August, a free McDonald Hamburger Coupon, entitling the bearer to one Big Mac hamburger, will be enclosed.

Plus/24 is an automatic teller machine that allows a bank depositor who owns a Redi Cash card, to make deposits, withdrawals, and loan payment transactions at any hour of the day, any day of the year.

Charles Pearce, president of the bank, commented, "We at Quincy Savings Bank have been very pleased at the wide acceptance of Plus/24 since it was first offered 18 months ago. And because of this enthusiastic response, we wish to inform those who have been meaning to subscribe to this service but haven't, that now is the ideal time to do so."

"Another customer convenience feature that recently has been added to the Redi Cash Card is a check cashing identification privilege currently available at Star, Fernandes, and Angelo's Supermarkets," Mr. Pearce noted.

"I feel confident that in saying that, as legislation permits, Quincy Savings Bank will continue to offer those services which best meet our customers' needs and conveniences," concluded Pearce.

Other Banks "Going Burgers" are Mutual Bank for Savings, Salem Five Cents Savings Bank, Peoples Savings Bank in Worcester, and five other Redi Banks.

West Quincy Tot 'Satisfactory' After 7-Story Fall

Augustus Alderman Jr., 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Alderman Sr., of 33 Furnace Ave., West Quincy, was listed in satisfactory condition at Quincy City Hospital after his seven-story fall from his apartment building Monday.

The boy was being treated for multiple injuries.

He had climbed out a large sliding glass window while playing with his sister, Sonya, 4, and had fallen 70 feet to a bed of gravel below. He was rushed to the Hospital in a police cruiser.

Police said the accident occurred while Mrs. Alderman was in the kitchen, at about 6 p.m.

Tocchio Resigns

Patrolman John Tocchio resigned from the Quincy Police Department shortly before he was placed on probation for one year in Norfolk Superior Court in connection with the theft of $26,000 from the Quincy Police Betterment Association, of which he was president. Judge Henry Chmielinski permitted Tocchio to be placed on probation without changing his innocent plea.

Quincy 10th In Crime

Quincy had the 10th highest crime rate among the state's 351 cities and towns during the first three months of 1977, according to figures made public by the State Department of Public Safety. Police reported 784 crimes, including 326 larcenies and thefts, 212 auto thefts, 27 burglaries and one rape.

Messina Site Checked

Christopher Tilden of the State Department of Environmental Quality Engineering toured the site of the proposed Messina Mall off Quincy Shore Drive, North Quincy, in connection with rival appeals by Messina Enterprises and 10 taxpayers from a Zoning Board of Appeals ruling denying Messina access to the site. Tilden will meet again with area residents Aug. 25 at the office of Walter J. Hickey, 275 Hancock St.

Bridge Openings

Boston District Coast Guard has recommended that the Fore River Bridge be opened for commercial river traffic but remain closed for pleasure craft during the rush commuter hours, 6:30 a.m. to 9 a.m., and 4:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. Coast Guard concluded that delaying commercial vessels would do more harm to the South Shore economy than rush hour tieups of autos.

Wahlberg Reports:

6 Reasons For RSVP Switch To QCAO

Rosemary Wahlberg, executive director of Quincy Community Action Organization, Inc., has taken issue with Sabina Stenberg, chairperson of the Council on Aging, over the switch in sponsorship of the Retired Senior Volunteer Program.

RSVP, with a federal funding of $40,000, recently was removed from the aegis of the Council on Aging and placed under Community Action by ACTION, the federal agency that runs volunteer programs.

Mrs. Stenberg called the switch a "big mistake".

She said the switch was made because ACTION feared it was in danger of becoming restricted to Quincy residents at the expense of 10 other towns that are also included in the RSVP consortium.

On the contrary, said Mrs. Wahlberg, there were six reasons given for the move, including:

- Unresolved role-relationship difficulties among the sponsor staff, the project staff and the advisory committee.

- Establishment of operating procedures in conflict with Action policy, including unauthorized and inappropriate reorganization of the project structure.

- Concentration of the project in the city of Quincy with the result that the cities and towns in the service area are not adequately served as required by the grant.

- Failure to use an acceptable method for staff hiring as embodied in ACTION procedure.

- Failure to act on filling staff vacancies.

- Adverse public attention resulting from unresolved internal project management problems.

Mrs. Wahlberg said the Community Action Organization did not seek the sponsorship of RSVP but rather "ACTION sought out a federally funded agency in the area familiar with complying with federal regulations. ACTION sought an agency in the development of social service programs with a history of citizen participation, an agency with a reputation for sound fiscal management."

RSVP annually receives

$40,000 from the federal government. Norfolk County contributes $6,000. And Quincy puts up $11,000 to reimburse Quincy seniors for their lunch and transportation.

Mrs. Stenberg indicated the city might be unwilling to turn the $11,000 over to RSVP under the CAO and Mayor LaRaia has suggested that the city establish its own RSVP program for Quincy residents only.

Mrs. Wahlberg said that a second RSVP program for Quincy "would confuse and divide the senior population unnecessarily."

"Quincy Community Action feels any duplication of services by the city of Quincy on the part of a program such as RSVP would be a great injustice to the taxpayers of the city," she said, "and to the seniors who would lose the reimbursement of lunch money and transportation money for the volunteer services."

"A second program run by the city of Quincy would necessitate that this money be used for a staff person to supervise the program."

$80 Million In Subsidies For 2 LNGs

The U.S. Department of Commerce has signed an agreement to provide nearly $80 million in subsidies for a $310 million contract to build two liquefied natural gas (LNG) tankers at the General Dynamics Quincy shipyard.

of the contract by the Department of Commerce for the Maritime Administration's Title II Construction Differential Subsidy Program.

Commerce Department officials estimated that construction of the two tankers will generate 4,500 man-years of employment with an equivalent amount of work created in the allied marine supply industry.

The 936-foot vessels, duplicates of those now under construction at the Fore River Shipyard, will transport 125,000 cubic meters of LNG from Algeria to Lake Charles, La., when they are completed in December, 1979, and March, 1980.

'Hot Line' Set Up In Shipyard Strike

The strike of 5,000 shipbuilders against the General Dynamics Quincy shipyard was in its 18th day today [Thursday] with the seats around the bargaining table still unoccupied.

In the most recent developments:

General Dynamics set up a special toll free telephone "hot line" which striking workers could call to hear the company's side of the story. The union charged that callers were told they could come back to work only if they quit the union.

The company dropped its charges of unfair labor practices against the Shipbuilders Local 5 but made no move to reinstate 10 workers, including some union officers, who were fired for "illegal mass picketing" on the first day of the strike.

SAD-EYED dog is led out of cage by Bruce Biloni, assistant dog officer at obsolete Quincy Dog Pound. In the background, a window, through which dogs have tried to escape, is boarded up and screened off because the pound doesn't have the money to continually replace the glass. Behind Biloni's right leg is a hole in the fencing which was made by dogs, and which has been covered by a board.

Wants $80,000 New Facility

Dog Officer 'Ashamed' Of Quincy City Pound

By SARAH RICHARDS

Looking for a puppy, dog, or kitten to brighten your days and keep you company?

If so, the Quincy Dog Pound is one place to look. The animals there are of all breeds and ages, and all are in need of a good home - probably more so than dogs in other pounds, because the Quincy Dog Pound is in such bad condition that Dog Officer Berlucchi has called it "one of the worst pounds in the Commonwealth."

The pound and its facilities are so inadequate, antiquated, and badly financed that they greatly inhibit the range and number of services the pound offers. The pound's appearance is shabby, so much so that Berlucchi says he is "ashamed of it's appearance". His equipment - except for a recently purchased dog truck - is all second hand. He has no assistant dog officer, and his staff is not authorized to perform many of the tasks a dog officer does.

These are the conditions Berlucchi must work around six days a week, and he thinks something should be done about it.

"The City of Quincy needs a new pound - an absolutely brand new dog pound," he declared. For a city of Quincy's size, this pound is just too small. The city will have to keep up, with the problem, and it's going to have to face it soon.

"What we're operating out of is a building about 120 years old. It used to be an old smokehouse, and has been the pound officially since 1969. Part of the building is an old chicken coop that was added on."

The dog pound, located on Broad St., next to the Quincy Registry, is a small, wooden, pink building in need of a coat of paint, with most of its windows boarded up. Inside, a tiny office is shared by Berlucchi, this three CETA assistants, and whatever dogs that come wandering through. There are 33 cages in two rooms, but three cannot be used because they are needed for storage space.

The building and cages were not designed to house dogs, and Officer Berlucchi readily pointed out the evidence. "Dogs are just like people," he explained, "they try to escape. The wire on the cages isn't strong enough to hold the dogs back. They chew and claw their way through it. One dog dug a tunnel under his cage. We don't have the money to constantly replace wire, and the floor, so we have to use wooden doors secured over the holes."

"The windows are boarded up because the dogs have tried to jump through them. It's summer time, and if we

Court Says Police Chief 'Boss'

Solimini Expected To Be Replaced Soon, Other Changes Seen

By TOM HENSHAW

Top-level changes in the Quincy Police Department are planned by Chief Francis X. Finn in the wake of his apparent victory over Mayor LaRaia in the court fight to determine who runs the Police Department.

One of the changes may involve Lt. Corady Solimini, whose appointment by Mayor LaRaia to the post of inspector of divisions, in effect, second in command of the department, touched off the dispute in the first place.

Finn told The Sun he has made "no decision on Lt. Solimini at the present time," but he added:

"We expect to receive some federal grants to implement new police programs. I would think that when they are received there will be some top level changes in the department."

Solimini was expected to be replaced soon, however.

Mayor LaRaia agreed that Solimini's future was in Finn's hands.

"defeats purpose of electing a Mayor"

"The chief can act," he said. "I don't think that the fact of our appeal stops anything. But I think the chief might allow the inspector of divisions to remain in that position. He's doing a good job."

Judge Ellis F. Brown in Norfolk Superior Court ruled that the Mayor does not have the authority to order transfers or make duty assignments for police officers within the Quincy Police Department.

He said in effect that the Chief - not the Mayor - is boss of the police department.

The judge also ruled that LaRaia acted outside his authority when he named Lt. Solimini inspector of divisions

No Money For Rent

Central Maintenance Garage Moving To City's Sea St. Facility

The Central Maintenance Garage, which has been orphaned since conception by the City Council's refusal to recognize its existence financially, is moving into less expensive quarters at the end of the month.

Since last summer, the garage, in which all the city-owned vehicles are serviced and repaired, has been located in a building at 64 Field St., Quincy Center, leased from the Reardon Realty Trust at a figure that is in dispute.

"It's not a matter of the lease expiring," says Arthur Casey, the Mayor's executive secretary who doubles as director of the garage, "as much as it's a matter of the money running out to pay the rent."

The new Central Maintenance Garage will be located in the city-owned building off Sea St.

that is currently used to store Forestry Department vehicles. Those vehicles will be stored out of doors at the old Nike site in Merrymount Park.

"The City Council has not appropriated the money to renew the lease so we've got to move," said Mayor LaRaia, for whom the Central Maintenance facility was a major item in his first inaugural address in January, 1976.

"It's a shame," he said. "We have made substantial savings and the facility has proved its efficiency even though the City Council's decisions have hurt our attempts to conduct a cost-saving operation."

Casey said the facility will be moved into the Forestry Garage by the end of August even though it may not be able to operate at maximum efficiency due to lack of equipment, particularly lifts.

"We will have to modify the garage somewhat," he said. "It will have to be properly ventilated. We have been investigating a new type of lift that has been installed at Dave Dinger's garage in Braintree."

Casey said the new lift is of the accordion type which does not require a central pole sunk in the ground. The lift costs some $2,000 wholesale, he said, but the city cannot expect to get the two it needs at that price.

"The City Council would have to approve the money," Casey added glumly.

Casey said the city pays $30,000 a year rent for the Reardon Realty Trust garage but the precise figure has been disputed since part of it involves taxes that the city winds up paying to itself.

Court Action Pending After Bullets Hit Home

Seven bullets allegedly fired by an employee of the Norfolk County Presidents Golf Course Facility at the course hit a neighboring house and yard, the homeowner and police said.

Mrs. Robert Burnham of 43 Vershire St., Montclair said the shots were fired at around 5 p.m. Aug. 2.

"One bullet came through the kitchen window, and I was standing near the kitchen table. The other bullets went into the siding outside the house," she said.

Quincy Detective Lt. James Fay said the incident has been investigated and court action is pending.

"The suspect is an employee of the facility, Fay said. "He said he was having target practice and the shots spilled over."

$104,910 In New Wiring

The Department of Wire Inspection issued 102 permits for wiring estimated to cost $104,910 during the month of July, it was reported by Inspector William H. Pitts.

The department collected $1,221 in fees, issued 53 certificates of approval, made 184 inspections, noted 12 defects, made 10 reinspections and had one fire call.

The major wiring project for the month was a new addition to the YMCA, on Coddingdon St.

Street Lighting Improvement Underway

A program to better light Quincy streets and conserve energy at the same time by converting to mercury and sodium vapor lights has been started by the Massachusetts Electric Co.

Mayor LaRaia and Mass

Electric signed an agreement last week under which the program will be conducted in four phases, involving more than 1,000 lights and costing the city about $20,000.

Phase One of what the Mayor calls a "safe street lighting program" will consist of implementing a number of requests for lights that have been made by citizens and businessmen and studied by Mass Electric.

Phase Two will be the installation of new lighting in areas selected by the Police Department's Planning Division because they have a history of crime that may be reduced through better lighting.

Phase Three will be the replacement of all incandescent street lighting in the city with mercury vapor lights, a major undertaking that will involve some 1,000 lights.

Phase Four will consist of the installation of sodium vapor lights in locations to be determined by a study that will follow the first three phases.

Installation of the sodium vapor lights, said the Mayor, "will result in an overall reduction in the amount of energy now consumed by the city of Quincy."

Mercury vapor lights use about one half the energy of incandescent lights while providing the same amount of light. Sodium vapor lights use about one-fourth the energy but are limited by their intensity to major highways.

Quincy Firms Win MBTA Contracts

The Dorel Steel Corp. and the Quincy Corp., both of North

Quincy, have been awarded a $54,900 joint venture contract by the MBTA for alterations at the old Canal St. loop area near North Station in Boston.

The work, which is part of the federally-aided Green Line Improvements Program, includes removal of old concrete slabs and foundations, installation of new drainage and subgrade work for installation of new tracks.

Referendum Possible

Group Petitions To Rescind $2,697,437 For Pay Raises

A group calling itself "The Committee Against Increased Taxation" began circulating petitions Tuesday requesting the City Council to rescind an appropriation of $2,697,437 to fund pay raises for city employees.

If the Council can't or won't take the action, the petition asks that the question be submitted to the voters for approval or disapproval in a referendum, either in a special election or in the city election, Nov. 8.

Complicating the issue is the fact that the wage increases were negotiated under collective bargaining, a prospective confrontation between union and taxpayer that has never gone the full route in court.

"It's the power of the people vs. the power of the unions," said Russell Kelcourse of Granite St., West Quincy, a member of the committee that initiated the petition. "There is no precedent. It's never come up before."

Joining Kelcourse on the Committee Against Increased Taxation are John Isaac of Shaw St., Quincy Point, and Karen Garland of Liberty St., South Quincy. Isaac is chairman.

Kelcourse pointed out that Chapter 43, Section 42 of the General Laws "gives the citizens the right to approve or disapprove of an appropriation order" passed by the City Council.

He said the petitioners will need 12 per cent of the registered voters or some 6,500 signatures.

Barilaro Takes Out Ward 4 Council Papers

Three familiar political names in Quincy have taken out nomination papers in the past week to run in the preliminary election as the deadline for filing [Tuesday, Aug. 16] drew near.

One of them, Albert R. Barilaro of 65 Grove St., took papers to run for the City Council from Ward 4, the seat from which he was ousted in 1973 by the current incumbent.

James A. Sheets. Barilaro had served three terms.

School Committeeman Francis X. McCauley of 210 Manet Ave. who served on the City Council from Ward 1 from 1964-68, took out papers to run for an at-large seat on the Council.

And Paul D. Harold of 31 Riverside Ave. obtained papers to run for a second term in an at-large seat, bringing to nine the number of candidates who have signified intentions to run for the three city-wide spots on the Council.

The deadline for taking out nomination papers from the city election office is 5 p.m. Friday [Aug. 12] and the deadline for filing is 5 p.m. Tuesday [Aug. 16]. Preliminary election is Sept. 20 and final election is Nov. 8.

Special Voter Registration Sessions To Begin Aug. 23

Voter registration will be visiting various sections of the city during the last week in August in drive-in to register as many voters as possible for the Sept. 20 preliminary election before the registration deadline on Aug. 31.

The registrars will be available from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. in the following locations on the following days:

Tuesday, Aug. 23 - Ward 1, Merrymount School, Agawam Rd.; Ward 2, Fore River Clubhouse, Nevada Rd.; Ward 4, Gridley Bryant School, Willard St.

Thursday, Aug. 25 - Ward 3, Wollaston School, Beale St.; Ward 5, Wollaston Methodist Church, Beale St.; Ward 6, Quincy School, Newbury Ave.

City Hall on Hancock St., Quincy Center, will be open from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Saturday, Aug. 27, and from 8:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Wednesday, Aug. 31, the final day for registration.

In addition, potential voters may register in the election department in City Hall daily, Monday through Friday, from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

$18,000 In Traffic Fines May Be Missing

The State Bureau of Accounts has been asked to audit the traffic fines account at Quincy District Court after it was discovered that some money, perhaps as much as $18,000, might be missing.

Court Clerk Dennis F. Ryan said he asked for the audit two weeks ago and that it should be completed by the end of this week. No further action will be taken until the audit report is in, he said.

Shipyard Strike 25 Days Old

The strike of 5,000 shipyard workers at the General Dynamics Quincy yard entered its 25th day today [Thursday] with little immediate prospect of either side returning to the bargaining table.

IT MAY BE HOT BUT...

Mayor LaRaia has signed a $7,500 contract with engineering consultant James F. Kelly of Quincy for an evaluation of current snow removal policies and procedures in the Department of Public Works.

The contract calls for Kelly to develop specific recommendations to increase the efficiency of the snow removal program and conduct a two-day seminar among key supervisory personnel in the department.

The first phase of the study will be a review of current techniques used by the DPW, including ordinances and regulations, weather forecasting service, organizational procedures, routing of snow plows, use of chemicals and sufficiency of equipment.

Mayor LaRaia said the study was particularly important because snow removal "is a critical operation and represents a major commitment of DPW personnel and equipment." Snow removal cost the city more than $500,000 last winter.

Toddler, Parent Program At Jewish Community Center

Life with a toddler can be a difficult one.

It is a time of bewildering contradictions: the toddler has a great desire to be with other children and yet he is not old enough to be unsupervised. To make life easier, both for children between the ages of 18 months and two years, nine months, and their mothers, the South Area Jewish Community Center Nursery School in Quincy is running a Toddler Playgroup and Parent Discussion Group to be held for 10 consecutive weeks Thursday afternoons from 1 - 3 p.m. starting in October.

The children's group is structured around simple and age appropriate nursery school play. Friendships are encouraged and language and social skills are an area of concentration. The mother's group, which will meet concurrently, will be a discussion group with topics of their own choosing such as toilet training, discipline, temper tantrums, negativism and the toddlers social, emotional and intellectual development. This supportive group will help with the stresses and strains of being a mother of a very young child. For further information please contact Carole Neitlich, Director at 773-3000.

The South Area Jewish Community Center is a member agency of Associated Jewish Community Centers of Greater Boston and affiliated with the Combined Jewish Philanthropies of Greater Boston.

"If you don't have time to do it right... when will you have time to do it over?"

There seems to be no end to the number of "new" ways to lose weight. Some are inexpensive; others are very costly. Some are based on a sound diet; others may actually be dangerous to your health. Some depend on group support; others rely on a restricted and artificial environment.

Beware of promises of fast "guaranteed" weight loss. Our goal has always been safe, steady, and permanent weight loss achieved in a natural environment.

The Weight Watchers program offers you more than weight loss. We teach you how to change your eating habits and attitudes to help you maintain that weight loss in any situation for the rest of your life. We give you the time it takes to help make those changes in thinking and behavior. With a little of your time, and all of our help, you can do it, and do it right!

CHILDPROOF MATCHBOOK

There is a law of nature called "Murphy's Law" which states: "If there is a way for something to go wrong, it will unless you physically make it impossible to happen." Such was the case with the advent of "child-proof" aspirin bottles. That little innovation has cut by 50% the source of aspirin poisonings by children under the age of five.

The same tack has been taken with matchbooks and children. But it is running into considerable trouble. Two years ago, the Consumer Product Safety Commission announced that matchbooks were to be made safer. It recommended to a skeptical industry a lock-type cover that tiny fingers could not easily pry open. That proposal suffered from three knockout blows before it was hardly even in the advanced stages. First, the cost was figured at about $68 million annually. Secondly, five producers promptly said the expense might put them out of business. Third, questions about the design's effectiveness in preventing fires. Some experts said impatient adults were sure to leave the covers open after use (like unused seatbelts). The Commission is now back to the drawing board with a match designed to extinguish itself after no more than 15 seconds.

Mr., Mrs. John Caruso Celebrate 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John Caruso of 21 Berry St., Quincy Point, celebrated both their golden wedding anniversary and their eldest son's 49th birthday recently with a large party for family and friends.

Married July 2, 1927, in St. John's Church, Quincy Center, both Mr. Caruso and his wife, the former Marie Serroni are life-long residents of Quincy. Both attended Quincy High School, and have lived at their present address 33 years. Mr. Caruso is a retired Quincy post office clerk.

The 140 guests who helped celebrate the occasion with the Carusos came from as far away as Ohio, and also from New Hampshire, Connecticut and Cape Cod. Among them were the couple's best man and bridesmaid, now married to each other, William and Mary Morril of Grove St., West Quincy.

The occasion was doubly special for the Carusos because July 2 is also their son John's birthday. He was born in 1928, on the Carusos first wedding anniversary.

The party was given for the Caruso's by their sons and daughters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. John Caruso and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Caruso, both of Braintree, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Caruso of Bourne.

MILESTONE - Mr. and Mrs. Jerome F. Corcoran of West Quincy were honored recently on their 50th wedding anniversary.

Mr., Mrs. Jerome Corcoran Honored On 50th Anniversary

More than 200 guests from as far away as Florida attended a reception for Mr. and Mrs. Jerome F. Corcoran of 13 Cross St., West Quincy, on their 50th wedding anniversary at the Adams Heights Men's Club.

Special guest was Frank Bowden of Quincy, who was best man at the wedding a half century ago.

The Corcorans renewed their marriage vows at a Mass at St. Agatha's Church, East Milton, at which Msgr. Ralph Gallagher was celebrant and the Rev. Antonio Cinto of St. Peter's Church, Malden, was concelebrant.

The Corcorans were communicants and choir members at St. Mary's Church, West Quincy, for more than 50 years. Mrs. Corcoran, who retired from Quincy City Hospital after 20 years, is past president and current vice president of St. Mary's Senior Citizens. Mr. Corcoran retired from General Dynamics in 1967.

Both Corcorans were born in West Quincy, she the former Adeline Gaudiano.

They have four children, Mrs. Eugene [Genevieve] Bertoni and Mrs. John [Julia] McAuliffe, both of Quincy; John F. Corcoran of West Palm Beach, Fla., and William Corcoran of Braintree; 14 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Dog Officer 'Ashamed' Of City Pound

replaced the windows they'd try it again, so we boarded them up. The dogs broke the lock on the door between the office and the cage room, and we can't keep them out."

Because the windows are boarded up, the pound is, in the summer time, hot and smelly. There is one large open cage attached to the pound where dogs are put in good weather to have fresh air and about 400 square feet of exercise space. The eight-10 cats currently at the pound don't fare as well: due to lack of space, they are kept in two small cages.

Berlucchi firmly believes the city needs an absolutely brand new dog pound, and even has the blue prints for it. He estimates a new pound would cost $80,000 for the needed 75-100 new cages with reinforced mesh.

"I'm on the record for the last five years requesting this," he said. "It's been to committee, to the Council, but until recently there's been no action. Councillor Leo Kelly led the fight for the new pound at a Council meeting recently, and Councillor Arthur Tobin said he would research the possibility of a federal grant for the pound."

"I also need a new assistant dog officer. He could do things the CETA people can't do, like giving out citations. The salary is about $8,500 a year, but that's not for just 40 hours a week. The dog officers work on weekends and nights, to feed the animals and to go on road calls, picking up dead animals."

The need for a new pound is particularly urgent since the amount of business the pound conducts increases each year. For example, 4,131 dog licenses were issued last year, and about 3,225 so far this year.

The number and scope of services the pound could supply, given a new building and a bigger budget, could be much greater, Berlucchi said.

"We have now only 30 operating cages, and we issue about 25 citations a week. If we had more cages and equipment, each of my men could pick up many more additional dogs a week. We'd have those 75 cages in use all the time."

Despite the conditions the pound is in, Berlucchi asserts that "his dogs" are well fed and well kept.

"As long as the dogs are fed, and housed, and loved, the appearance of the pound doesn't really matter."

"The dogs," he continued, "are fed the best. I feed them canned food, kibbles, and right now I have a supply of ham from the federal government."

Berlucchi wants action from the Council on the pound, not sympathy or "interference" from "do-gooders like the SPCA," he said.

We're a law enforcement agency, not an animal shelter. It's a City problem," he said.

"People must be willing to spend their money to get the service. Berlucchi concluded, "Quincy is going to have to face up to this problem."

Bloodmobile At St. Chrysostom's Aug. 18

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Quincy Thursday, Aug. 18, at St. Chrysostom's Church, 523 Hancock St., Wollaston, between the hours of 12:45 p.m. and 6:30 p.m.

Call 472-2700 for an appointment.

Administrative Director Tim M. Hurst said that blood collections have improved considerably since two weeks ago when a one day alert was called as inventories in the Northeast Regional Red Cross Blood Program dropped to one day.

"We're not out of the woods yet," Hurst said. "The overall blood supply is above the one-day minimum but some types, such as O and B positive and O and A negative, are still critically low."

The program needs to collect 1,300 units daily to meet patient needs in more than 200 hospitals throughout Maine and Massachusetts. Collection projections for the next two weeks average only 900 pints a day.

Red Cross Appeals For Flood Victims Aid

The American Red Cross has issued a public appeal for disaster relief contributions in the wake of floods which swept southwestern Pennsylvania, leaving 10,000 families homeless and destroying or damaging 8,000 homes and businesses.

Contributions should be sent to the Greater Quincy Red Cross, 57 Revere Rd., Quincy, 02169. Checks may be made payable to the American Red Cross with the notation "Johnstown Flood".

"We have been asked to raise $62,000 as our share of the $3 million already committed to help alleviate the suffering," said William Salaticch, vice chairman of the board, Gillette Co., and chairman of the Special Disaster Campaign for Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

"I feel confident that the people of our two states will demonstrate their compassion and concern by meeting this goal."

Salaticch noted that some 400 Red Cross disaster volunteers are currently assisting in recovery activities in the flood devastated area.

Sheets Planning Bills

On Tuition, Tax Problems

A visit by Rep. James A. Sheets [D-Quincy] to the National State Legislative Conference in Detroit may soon bear fruit in the areas of education and the controversial property tax.

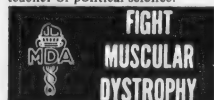

Sheets said that as a result of an exchange of ideas at the conference, he is planning to submit a bill in the 1978 legislature governing tuition at state institutions and is preparing legislation concerning property tax problems.

Sheets, who was named by House Speaker Thomas McGee [D-Lynn] to represent the Mass Legislature at the conference, attended seminars on curtailing the increasing costs of higher education and reducing the property tax burden.

The major theme of the conference centered around the impending energy crisis. Main speaker was former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger.

Speaker McGee indicated that Sheets was chosen to attend the annual conference, now and in the future, because of his background as a student and teacher of political science.

8 Begin Work In Delahunt's Juvenile Diversion Program

Seven new caseworkers and an administrative legal aide have begun work under Norfolk County Dist. Atty. William D. Delahunt's Juvenile Diversion Program, which is aimed at helping non-violent juvenile offenders outside the court.

The seven caseworkers are Robert Foley, Wayne Strong, Geoffrey Rockett, Kevin Burke, Charles Cittadino, Maureen Thayer and Deborah Infantino. The legal aide is Calvin Carr.

Since it was initiated by the district attorney nearly a year ago, the Juvenile Diversion Program, operating out of the courts in Quincy, Wrentham, Stoughton and Dedham, has dealt successfully with some 480 juveniles from Norfolk County.

The caseworkers provide short term intensive counselling for defendants referred to the program and work in conjunction with various state agencies to provide necessary services for defendants and victims of juvenile crime.

Tobin Seeks Landscaping Improvements At N.Q. MBTA Station

Senator Arthur Tobin [D-Quincy], has called upon the MBTA to improve and landscape the grounds of the North Quincy MBTA station.

In a letter to MBTA Director Robert Kiley, Senator Tobin noted that the North Quincy station has been in use for several years, but that only one part of the grounds has been landscaped.

"The other portion has suffered from lack of proper landscaping, and although some temporary paving has been done to improve the parking area, the lack of grass and shrubs makes the area far less attractive than it ought to be," the Senator said.

Tobin also noted that residents have been patient in waiting for the landscaping to be done, but that more than enough time has passed for the problem to be resolved.

McCauley Council At-Large Candidate

Thomas Cooley

Second Lieutenant

School Committeeman Francis X. McCauley, 210 Manet Ave., Houghs Neck announces his candidacy for City Council at-Large.

McCauley, 47, a life-long resident of Quincy, is married and the father of five children. A graduate of Boston College High School, he attended Boston College and is a graduate of Bentley College of Accounting and Finance and the Indiana University Graduate School of Banking. He is President-Treasurer of the Presidential Cooperative Bank in Quincy.

McCauley has been active in city government for the past 14 years. His service includes four years on the city council, a five year term on the Housing Authority and, for the past six years, he has been a member of the School Committee.

During his tenure on the city council, McCauley served as chairman of the Finance Committee for two years and worked for improvements in sea wall and shore protection projects. In 1973, while serving as chairman of the Housing Authority he worked with other city and state officials to obtain state funding for 200 units of elderly housing on Clay St., Wollaston, now known as Tobin Towers.

Elected to the School Committee in 1971, McCauley sponsored school Committee resolutions and rules changes that opened school committee budget sessions to the public and provided the School Committee with more information and greater control over School Department spending procedures.

In announcing his candidacy,

McCauley said: "In view of the complex problems facing the city of Quincy and other municipalities today, a strict, business-like approach to city government is vital. I feel that my 14 years experience in decision-making in areas of finance has qualified me to meet the challenges of the office of councillor at-large."

Thomas J. Cooley of 95 Alrick Rd., Quincy, was commissioned a second lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force during commencement weekend at St. Michael's College, Winooski, Park, Vt.

He will report to Reese AFB, Texas for undergraduate pilot training in April, 1978. Cooley graduated cum laude in business and was also a member of the Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps at the college.

Raymond-Beniers Mayoral Barometer

Early returns watchers will probably look to Quincy Point and South Quincy preliminary election night for an indication as to who will top the mayoral field.

Most observers agree that incumbent Joseph LaRaia and Arthur Tobin his biggest threat to a second term, will win the two nominations although you hear the word "upset" here and there.

The odds are against one of the other contenders - Tom Barron, George Tull, Leo Hannion or Thomas McHugh winning a nomination.

No doubt, though, they can affect the mayoral election as to whether LaRaia or Tobin takes the No. 1 advantage spot preliminary election night.

Who will they take the most votes away from: LaRaia or Tobin? Early returns out of Ward 2-Quincy Point and South Quincy-may be a good barometer as to how the mayoral race will go Sept. 20.

Although there are three candidates for the Ward 2 City Council seat, the battle is mainly between two of them: incumbent Daniel Raymond and City Recreation Director Robert Beniers. The third candidate is Patrick Faherty Jr.

Raymond, seeking his second term, and Beniers, making his first run, offer Ward 2 voters a clear-cut choice.

Raymond is one of Mayor LaRaia's severest critics and has thumped him quite frequently on the City Council floor over a number of issues.

Beniers, related to LaRaia by marriage, has been one of the latter's staunchest supporters.

Raymond thus symbolizes the anti-LaRaia forces and Beniers the pro-LaRaia. Both Raymond and Beniers have strong support among Italian families in the area.

If early returns out of Quincy Point and South Quincy give Raymond a good lead it could mean that LaRaia is in serious trouble. On the other hand, if Beniers grabs the lead over Raymond, it could mean trouble for Tobin.

A vote for Raymond in a sense would also be considered a vote for Tobin while a vote for Beniers would be a vote for LaRaia.

It will be interesting to see if the rest of the city goes as Ward 2 goes.

SPEAKING OF BENIERS, some City Hall observers are wondering whether his pending resignation as city recreation director was voluntary. Or, maybe a little premature.

Reports are that the first Beniers knew of his resignation was when he heard it on WJDA. The resignation [effective Aug. 31] was announced by Mayor LaRaia's office - not by Beniers himself.

Speculation is that Beniers [1] did not plan to resign or [2] did plan to resign but wanted to announce it himself or [3] preferred a leave of absence.

City Hall observers think LaRaia wanted the resignation announcement and wanted it early so there would be no conflict of interest issue raised regarding Beniers' dual role as recreation director and political candidate. Others note, however, if that was the case then the resignation should have become effective immediately not just one month before the preliminary election.

There is no doubt LaRaia would like to see Raymond knocked out of the Ward 2 seat and that he thinks Beniers makes a strong challenger.

Incidentally, when The Sun questioned Beniers about resigning or taking a leave of absence, he replied [June 30]:

"I may have to take a leave sometime in the final two months of the race. If the campaign starts to interfere too much with my duties here, I will take a leave of absence, but I do not foresee that happening until the end. I can't say right now because I have never run for office before and I don't know the time commitment it involves.

Interestingly, he never mentioned resignation then.

SCHOOL COMMITTEEMAN Francis McCauley's entrance into the City Council at-large ring sort of turns that race into a free-for-all.

It could be one of the most interesting council battles in recent years with at least nine candidates for the three seats-one of them [Arthur Tobin's] being vacated and up for grabs.

McCauley, now in his sixth year on the School Committee, was in the City Council [Ward 1] from 1964 to 1967. He also served five years on the Quincy Housing Authority.

McCauley, a businessman [President Presidential Cooperative Bank] had had some people urging him to run for mayor. He flirted with the thought for awhile but decided to run for the council instead.

As a councillor in the mid 1960's, McCauley was outspoken and never timid about facing a controversial issue head-on. He was his own man and never a rubber stamp for anyone. When someone wanted to do something-spend certain monies or create certain jobs-he always wanted to know "why".

His candidacy will put some added zing into the council at-large race.

FORMER City Councillor Carl Anderson is home after a short stay at Quincy City Hospital. Though he's been out of the political limelight now for sometime, he still keeps close tabs on the political scene.

WE'LL KNOW SHORTLY what this year's preliminary election ballot lineup will look like. Friday Aug. 12 is the deadline to take out nomination papers and Tuesday, Aug. 16 is the deadline for filing them. So if you're thinking of running for anything, better move it. Or you'll have to wait two more years.

Solimini Expected To Be Replaced, Other Changes Seen over the objections of Chief Finn. The city will appeal.

Spokesmen for the Mayor's office said they feel that the ramifications of the decision go far beyond a simple dispute between Mayor LaRaia and Chief Finn.

"It goes to the very nature of the office of Mayor," said Sanford Kowal, the Brookline lawyer who is city's contract labor negotiator. "The issue is not the acts of Joe LaRaia but the acts of future mayors."

"Essentially, the judge is saying that the Chief of Police is not accountable to any elected official," said Kowal. "That's an incredible statement when you consider the fact that the chief has police powers."

"Suppose the public disagrees with what the police are doing and it becomes an issue in a campaign and the public votes for the Mayor who wants to change it. The judge is saying that the Mayor cannot do the things for which he was elected after public debate."

"The judge's decision has nothing to do with Joe LaRaia. It's not a question of whether what he did is right or wrong. The judge is saying that he acted illegally, that he had no right to do it."

Judge Brown did point out in his decision that the Mayor is empowered to remove the police chief "for cause, but only after preferring formal charges" under state law.

Mayor LaRaia called the decision "lopsided."

"It protects the chief of police from any higher supervision in the law enforcement area," he said.

"The Mayor, by virtue of his office, is being scrutinized by many groups of people, the press, the City Council, the public, almost anybody you can think of. Now the court has set up an autonomous body outside public scrutiny."

"It's incongruous. It defeats the whole purpose of electing a Mayor. How can the Mayor be responsible to the people for what a department does if he doesn't have control over that department?"

"The things that a Mayor can do are limited by Civil Service, union contracts and other checks and balances. How many more restraints are going to be placed on the person that the public itself has put in charge?"

Finn said he was "delighted with the court decision. I hope that in the best interest of the public we will be able to work with the Mayor."

He declined to comment further until he had a chance to discuss the decision with his attorney, Martin Cosgrove, who he said was out of town.

Judge Brown's decision said, in part:

"The complaint was filed in February, 1976, and 14 issues were initially presented to the court to be determined by declaratory judgement. Through numerous pre-trial motions, hearings and stipulations, the parties were able to reduce the number of issues to three."

"These three issues which remain to be resolved are:

• Does the Mayor or the Chief of Police have the authority to

The chief has 'authority over all units of the Quincy Police Department and over all its members and employees. He is the commander, supervisor and administrator of the Police Department.'

designate the officer to serve as inspector of divisions?

• Does the Mayor have the authority to make orders regarding the transfer of police officers within the city of Quincy Police Department?

• Does the Mayor have the authority to make duty assignments for the police officers within the city of Quincy Police Department?

"Shortly after taking office in January, 1976, Mayor LaRaia appointed Corady Solimini, a lieutenant in the Quincy Police Department, to the position of inspector of divisions within that department."

"On Jan. 22, 1976, Lt. Solimini made several written recommendations to Chief Finn regarding the re-organization of the department and changes in the duty assignments of various police officers. After consideration of these recommendations, Chief Finn implemented some of them and rejected others."

"Lt. Solimini then attempted to implement the rejected recommendations on his own. He issued orders to other police officers in furtherance of this objective. He also made his recommendations known to Mayor LaRaia. All of these actions were undertaken without the prior knowledge or approval of Chief Finn."

"On Feb. 11, 1976, Mayor LaRaia sent a memorandum to Chief Finn ordering him to adopt the recommendations of Lt. Solimini which he had previously rejected. Chief Finn complied with the Mayor's directive."

"From time to time, the Mayor has issued other orders to Chief Finn regarding Police Department policies, personnel, duty assignments and investigatory materials. He has removed officers from their regular assignments and given them new ones. He has transferred officers within the Police Department from one unit to another and also changed the manner of operation of certain units."

"Under a Plan A form of municipal government, the Mayor is 'the chief executive officer of the city.' The legislative powers of the city are vested in the City Council. The revised ordinances of the city of Quincy provides that the Mayor is 'the chief administrative officer' of the city whose responsibilities include the administration of the 'branch of public safety.' The Police Department is within the branch of public safety."

"The Rules and Regulations of the Quincy Police Department [referred to hereafter as RRQPD] were adopted by the City Council of Quincy as a resolution."

"Section 100 of the RRQPD sets out the basic organization of the Police Department. 'The Quincy Police Department shall consist of a chief of police and as many captains, lieutenants, sergeants, patrolmen, policemen and employees as are deemed necessary by the Mayor..."

"Section 101 further states... 'the Mayor appoints the chief of police and is limited only in that his selection must be made from a list of competent persons certified to him by the Civil Service Commission. The Mayor is the appointing authority and shall determine the number of members to serve in all categories as he deems necessary and may remove any member for cause, but only after preferring formal charges.'"

"The powers of the chief of police are set forth in the revised ordinances of the city of Quincy and in the RRQPD."

"The chief of police shall be responsible for the discipline, good order and proper conduct of the men constituting the police department and for the good condition of all the property connected with the department."

"The chief of police shall make to the Mayor annually, and oftener if required a detailed report of all the business of the police department..."

"Various sections of the RRQPD provide further clarification and specification of the duties and responsibilities of the chief of police. He has 'authority over all units of the Quincy Police Department and over all its members and employees.' He is the commander, supervisor and administrator of the Police Department."

"Specifically ... he shall 'exercise final command responsibility over all members of the department; issue orders and delegate authority to effectuate department policy; instruct - the commanding officers in all phases of their duties; detail and assign officers to their duties.'"

"The chief of police is appointed by the Mayor and is responsible to him but he 'shall have unlimited tenure during good conduct.'"

"On the basis of the foregoing findings of fact and rulings of law, the Court makes the following responses to the three questions presented for resolution by the petition for declaratory judgement."

• Does the Mayor or the chief of police have the authority to designate the officer to serve as inspector of divisions?

"The Mayor is the appointing authority to the Police Department, but this rule must be understood in light of the other relevant sections. Section 100 of Chapter 1 Paragraph 2 specifically places in the hands of the chief of police the power to designate individuals to serve in certain staff positions."

City Whoops It Up For V-J Day

Official Quincy was shut down for two days in response to President Truman's call for a holiday observance of V-J Day, marking the end of three and a half years of war against Japan in the Pacific. Church bells pealed, cars with honking horns jammed Quincy Square, City Hall and the Fore River Shipyard closed down for two days and City Councillor Carl Anderson and Guy Faiella organized an impromptu parade in Quincy Point.

A few barrooms were closed after the celebrations erupted into fist fights and eight persons were treated at City Hospital for holiday mishaps but Quincy residents generally behaved themselves during the holiday.

"Never before has Quincy seen such spontaneous enthusiasm with so little vandalism," said Police Capt. George W. Fallon.

Perhaps the feeling in Quincy was best expressed by Bruno Ranieri, a Quincy Point grocer and veteran of World War I, when he said, "Very nice. It means my two sons will be coming home."

The three sons of Mr. and Mrs. Albert A. Whitman of 56 West Elm Ave., Wollaston, already were home, to the surprise and delight of their parents.

Cpl. H. Rowan, 24, Cpl. William H., 21, and Seaman Vernon C., 20 sat down to family dinner together with mother, father and sister Alice, for the first time since June 3, 1942.

Meanwhile, the Navy Department ordered work on the heavy cruisers USS Northampton, Cambridge, Bridgeport and Kansas City halted at the Bethlehem Fore River Shipyard where they were calculated to be from 21 to 54 per cent completed.

"The immediate effect in the next month or two will be relatively minor with the exception of the structural trades," said William H. Collins, who was in charge of Bethlehem's Boston district. Some 20,000 men were working at the Yard.

The Mathewson Machine Works in North Quincy laid off about 200 of the 350 men working in its shops due to the cancellation of war contracts to build outboard motors for the Navy's landing craft.

Court Rules Chief 'Boss' Of Police Dept.

"The department organization shall be comprised of, but not limited to, such staff positions, divisions, platoons, units and sections—as may be established by the chief of police. It shall consist of six staff positions and six basic divisions whose supervisory personnel are designated by and report directly to the chief."

"The inspector of divisions is the supervisor of the inspectional services, one of the six staff positions for which the chief of police is directly responsible. Although the Mayor has the authority to appoint persons TO the police department, the chief of police has the authority to appoint or designate persons WITHIN the department to fill staff positions. The power to designate the inspector of divisions is given exclusively to the chief of police and not to the Mayor."

• Does the Mayor have the authority to make orders regarding the transfer of police officers within the city of Quincy Police Department?

• Does the Mayor have the authority to make duty assignments for the police officers within the city of Quincy Police Department?

"Both of these questions must be answered in the negative."

"The Mayor is the chief executive and administrative officer of the city of Quincy. He stands outside the Police Department. He may control the size of the department by determining the number of persons who serve within it. He has the power to appoint these persons as well as the power to appoint the chief of police. As Mayor, he may order the chief of police to follow his directives. If the chief refuses, the Mayor has recourse to the procedures outlined [in the General Laws].

'Neither the General Laws, the Revised Ordinances of the city of Quincy nor the Rules and Regulations of the Quincy Police Department gives the Mayor the power or the authority to exercise the degree of control he has attempted to wield within the Police Department.'

"Neither the General Laws, the Revised Ordinances of the city of Quincy nor the Rules and Regulations of the Quincy Police Department give the Mayor the power or the authority to exercise the degree of control he has attempted to wield within the Police Department."

"The day-to-day functioning of the department and the final command responsibility for the department resides in the chief of police who in turn must answer to the Mayor."

"As stated in 'Commonwealth vs. Pelletier': 'It would be practically impossible to organize and efficiently maintain a police department if control of the department were not conferred upon someone with authority to direct the members of the police force.'"

"The Mayor is an elected city official who serves a two-year term. There is, therefore, the distinct possibility that there might be a new person serving as Mayor every two years."

"The chief of police, on the other hand, is an appointed official who has unlimited tenure and may not be removed from office except for cause."

"It is only logical that the right to control the day-to-day functioning of the department and the personnel within it must reside in the person with continuous authority."

"That person is the chief of police."

Harold Candidate For Second Term

City Councillor Paul D. Harold of 31 Riverside Ave., Adams Shore, announces his candidacy for re-election to a second term at large seat.

"I want to continue as an independent voice for the people who are less concerned with politics than with the quality of city government," he said.

Harold cited two areas in which he has worked to improve the quality of city government—expanded citizen participation and more careful scrutiny of city expenditures.

In order to expand citizen participation, Harold introduced charter reform proposals that would allow citizens to serve as full members of city council committees, so that those with a special knowledge in a given area could provide the council with their expertise.

Harold also introduced an amendment to the City Council rules that would give citizens the right to speak at Council meetings so that councillors could develop better understanding of issues affecting citizens and neighborhoods.

Harold has also been a proponent of better control of city expenditures. He introduced proposals for a finance commission to oversee spending and a post-audit committee to make certain that appropriated funds are properly spent.

"The need for fiscal control is obvious when we consider the tax increase last year, and the abuse of bond issues," he said.

"It is both ridiculous and illegal to propose a five-year bond issue to buy police cars which only last one year."

Harold also arranged for a state-sponsored safety survey at City Hospital to reduce workmen's compensation claims, and he proposed guidelines to control the hiring of consultants on major city development projects.

He is also working to convince federal officials that they should assume the expense of maintaining and repairing the Adams Birthplaces at a potential saving to the city of a half million dollars, and has proposed that the MDC prepare the design work for the Town River flood control project to save both money and an estimated two years on construction.

"The job of councillor at-large is similar in many ways to the job of a judge," he said.

"The councillor is called upon to judge expenditures, appointments and programs on their merits. Like a judge I've tried to be fair and independent in my judgments and represent the taxpayers of this city responsibly and honestly."

Harold is a graduate of UMass-Amherst and Suffolk University Law School. He also studied at the Johns Hopkins European Center in Bologna, Italy and at Worcester College, Oxford, England. He is a practicing attorney and an instructor in business law at Aquinas Junior College in Newton.

Lucky 5 Associates Seek $500 For Muscular Dystrophy

A Quincy Lucky Five Muscular Dystrophy Association has been established to benefit the Jerry Lewis Telethon on the Labor Day weekend with all proceeds going to the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Richard J. Koch, organizer, said the goal of the group is to raise $500, to be presented Sept. 5 on the Chan. 5 Muscular Dystrophy Telethon. One hundred persons donating $5 each will enable the group to meet the $500 goal.

Those who have had recent success, good fortune or others wishing to share in the event by contributing to the worthy endeavor are invited to contact any of the following officers:

Chairman Richard M. [Dee Dee] Morrissey, 297 Newport Ave., Vice Chairman Edward J.

Keohane, 163 Clay St., Treasurer David J. Donahue, 88 Wallace Rd., Secretary Joseph M. Lydon, 219 Parke Ave., and Wesley Clark, President of Local 1139, C.I.O.

A wallet size card will be presented to those participating in the special event in recognition of the assistance rendered. Koch said 25 have already pledged.

Volunteers are also being sought to answer telephones on Sept. 4-5 at the Quincy-South Shore Telethon Pledge Center at The Quincy Sun office, 1372 Hancock St., Quincy Sq. The area includes Quincy, Braintree, Weymouth, Hingham, Randolph and Milton.

Henry Bosworth and Koch are co-chairmen of the Quincy-South Jerry Lewis Telethon committee.

● Legion Baseball

Morrisette So Far 'Cinderella Team'

By TOM SULLIVAN

The "Cinderella Team" cliché has been overused, but it applies to the Morrisette Legion baseball team, which appeared at the start of the season to have little or no chance of winning another Zone 6 title.

Morrisette not only won its third straight zone crown and 21st in 32 years, with its youngest team, but continued to roll in the double elimination South Sectional Tournament at Adams Field, winning three out of four games and forcing the deciding game Tuesday night. A win for Morrisette would send it to Chicopee for the state finals with three other sectional winners.

Morrisette forced a deciding game with Taunton by handing Taunton its first loss of the season, 14-4, Monday night before a large crowd at Adams. The defeat left Taunton with a 2-1 tournament record and Morrisette was 3-1.

"Every win for us now is gravy," Coach Ray Cattaneo said. "No one expected us to win the zone title with Weymouth a heavy favorite, but our kids came through in fine style. It would be great to make the state finals, but even if we don't, it is my most satisfying season."

"None of our young pitchers had any high school experience to speak of and this was our big worry when the season started. However, they have come along fine and have proven a big and most pleasant surprise."

Gary Earle, one of Cattaneo's many 16-year olders, pitched six strong innings Monday and another youngster, Ray Coscia, finished up with another three fine innings. Meanwhile, their mates pounded out 14 hits, including many for extra bases.

Taunton took a 2-0 lead in the third but Morrisette scored five runs in the top of the fourth on a double by Jim Maze, singles by Don Perdios, Mike McCormack, Dave Perdios and Dave King and a walk. A brilliant diving catch by the Taunton center fielder kept Morrisette from scoring more.

Morrisette added two in the fifth on a walk, an error and Chuck LoPresti's double. The Zone 6 champs added another in the sixth when Steve Cook walked and LoPresti tripled. Taunton added one in the bottom half.

In the seventh Morrisette scored twice on a single by Sal Coscia, a bunt by Ray Coscia and a bad throw by the catcher enabling pinch runner Fran Donovan to score. Coscia scored on McCormack's single.

Morrisette added three in the ninth and Taunton scored its final run in the same inning.

LoPresti had a triple, double and single, and sparked in center field, McCormack had three hits, Dave Perdios and King two hits each and Maze had a two-run double. Cook drove in his ninth run of the series.

Morrisette defeated Braintree for the second time, 8-5, Sunday night to eliminate the Zone 6B champs and set up the showdown games with Taunton. Norwood had earlier been eliminated from the tournament.

Southpaw Mark Giordani was the starting pitcher Sunday and his wildness kept him in trouble as he walked nine. John Wilkinson, hero of the first win over Braintree, took over in the sixth and turned in 3 2/3 innings of one-hit, one-run ball.

After Braintree had scored a run in the top of the first, Morrisette came back with four runs thanks to some loose play by Braintree. One run scored on Chuck LoPresti's single and three more runs scored on a wild throw by the third baseman and two wild pitches.

Morrisette added a run in the fourth on Giordani's single and a long triple by Mike McCormack.

In the fifth Dave King walked, Jim Maze singled and both scored on Steve Cook's triple. Morrisette finished with a run in the eighth when Wilkinson singled, Mark Giordani sacrificed and Dave Perdios doubled.

Dave Perdios, Morrisette captain and outstanding shortstop, had three hits and McCormack, LoPresti, Maze, Cook, Sal Coscia and Don Perdios and Wilkinson one apiece.

Braintree was sparked by its outstanding slugger, Kevin Buckley, with two doubles and a single.

In the first win over Braintree, 8-1, Wilkinson pitched the nine-inning route and allowed nine well-scattered hits. He got out of some early scrapes when Braintree could have put the game away.

Fireman Win Babe Ruth Title

Firemen Local 792, which tied the Elks for first place in the Quincy Babe Ruth League's American League, won the city championship last week in the playoffs which followed the tightest races in years.

Police, Local 1139, Morrisette and Granite City Electric had finished in a top tie in the National League.

Firemen opened the double elimination playoffs with a 3-2 win over Barry's Deli as Greg Madden went all the way with a six-hitter. Arie Roberts had two hits and two runs and Steve Notorangelo had two hits and scored the winning run.

Firemen then romped past Local 1139 as they collected 14 hits good for 11 runs. Phil Caggiano collected a triple, double and two singles. Greg Oriola was the winning pitcher.

Next came a 17-11 win in a wild one over VFW as the winners collected 17 hits to only five for VFW. Bob Beniers and Marc LaFleur were three for three and Jimmy Sullivan excelled defensively.

Firemen then dropped their only playoff decision, 3-0, to Barry's as Bill Deitch held the champions to one hit, a triple by Roberts, as the game's leadoff batter.

In the title game Greg Oriola pitched and batted his team to the crown with a triple, two singles and two runs scored. Firemen's left fielder, Dave Dwyer, was outstanding on defense making three spectacular catches. Sullivan had a fine defensive game and had a timely run scoring hit.

Furnace Brook Scotch Foursome Winners

In the weekly mixed Scotch foursome at Furnace Brook Golf Club, Bob Donoghue and Marie Corayer shot low gross of 37 and Tony Spinello and Pat Cugini had low net of 27.

Fred and Jennie Lutfy and Quentin McCaffrey and Edna Phelps tied for second net, Jim Morrison and Mary Donoghue had third net, Earl Sylvester and Isabell Morrison shot fourth net and Joe Fitzgerald and Edna Phelps had fifth net.

In the weekly ladies' tournament, a convert to par event, Jo Hinckley had low gross and Jennie Lutfy and Dolly Nogier tied for low net. Ellie Mulroy shot second net, Edna Flate had third net and there was a three-way tie for fourth net between Marilyn Harris, Rena Roche and Rose LaHive.

Jo Hinckley and Marie Corayer were chairmen.

Women's Softball League In Playoffs

The Quincy Women's Softball League is in the midst of its playoffs and the championship series, the best of three games, will be held next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, if needed.

The winner of the American League and the winner of the National League will meet at Welcome Young Field at a time to be announced.

In the playoff quarterfinals Jimmy's eliminated the Elkettes in two straight games, Dee Dee's ousted Balducci's in two games, Wollaston Credit Union defeated King's Dept. Store in two and Bocce Club topped Shea's Formica in three games.

The semifinals got under way last night [Wednesday] with Wollaston Credit playing Jimmy's and tonight [Thursday] Dee Dee's faces Bocce Club at 6:15 at Kincaide Park. As an added attraction tonight Richard Trainor and Ricky Murphy will parachute on to Kincaide Park with the game ball just before the game.

Skate-A-Thon Raises Over $2,400 In Pledges To Fight Muscular Dystrophy

More than $2,400 in pledges was raised Friday night when the Quincy Youth Hockey Association sponsored a five-hour skate-a-thon at the Youth Arena to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

The pledges will be turned in Friday, Aug. 26, from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Skate-a-thon "thank you" party at the arena.

The boy and girl raising the most money will appear on the Channel 5 Jerry Lewis Telethon on the Labor Day weekend.

The top three boys and top three girls raising the most money will receive a year of free public skating at the Youth Arena.

All participants who turn in their proceeds will receive a citation of merit from the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Among the prize winners

during drawings at the skate-a-thon were:

Joseph Mastroianni, hockey helmet donated by Noble's Sporting Goods.

Donald Reidy, autographed hockey stick donated by the Quincy Sun.

Louis Sandonato, hockey stockings donated by the Quincy Youth Hockey Association.

John Kelly, helmet bag donated by the QYA.

Billy Bomar, five skate sharpenings donated by Beacon Sportswear.

Chris Edgar, five sharpenings donated by the QYA.

Shawn Barry, Tom O'Connor and Peter Schofield, QYHA T-shirts sponsored by the QYA.

John Reinhardt, Fonzy poster donated by Jason's.

Mike McAuliffe, silver dollar donated by the QYA.

Joe Donovan and David Fasano, gift certificates donated by Balducci's.

Marty Tolson and Lisa Pugliese, gift certificates donated by Howdy's.

Freddie Palmer, gift certificates donated by Happy Chef.

The committee for the skate-a-thon included Dorothy and Joseph Engrassia, Louis and Pat Sandonato, Tom Bille, Barbara McConville, Marge Fitzpatrick and Beverly Reinhardt.

The skate-a-thon is one in a series of events being held by the Quincy-South Shore Jerry Lewis Telethon committee.

Henry Bosworth, publisher of The Quincy Sun, and Richard J. Koch, executive secretary of the Quincy Park-Recreation Board, are co-ordinators.

The Sun will be a pledge center for the telethon with volunteers manning telephones for donations in the Quincy-South Shore area.

Roxie's, Warriors Split In Suburban Softball Playoffs

First place Roxie's Raiders and third place Weekend Warriors broke even in their South Suburban Softball League playoff series last Sunday. Roxie's won the second game, 9-7, after being walloped in the opener, 11-2.

The teams will meet Sunday at 10 at Andrews Field in Milton in the third and deciding game.

The winner will face second place J's, which swept fourth place Gutz, 15-2 and 9-3, in their series doubleheader last Sunday.

Marc Walsh's bases loaded double in the seventh inning saved Roxie's from elimination. Roxie's trailing, 7-5, scored four runs in the final for the win. Winning pitcher Steve O'Rourke set the Warriors down in the bottom half to nail down the win.

Warrior pitcher Spike Mitchell turned in an excellent performance in the opener, spacing 10 hits. The Warriors have been Roxie's hex team as they twice defeated the pennant winners during the regular season.

Presidents Wallop Portsmouth In Junior Baseball Tourney

The Quincy Presidents' walloped Portsmouth, R.I., 12-0, in the Greater New Bedford-New England Invitational Junior Baseball Tournament and tonight [Thursday], at 6 will meet Whaling City at Joseph Dias Sr. Memorial Field in New Bedford.

John Balzano pitched a no-hitter for Quincy against Portsmouth, the first time a Quincy pitcher has performed the feat in a tournament game.

Quincy collected 16 hits including two singles and a double by Glenn Oriola, two doubles and a single by Marty McLaughlin, three singles by Jim Austin, three singles by Mike Righini and a single apiece by Billy O'Brien, Kevin Whelan, Frank Leveque and Mike Cullen.

Tennis Rates For Youths Cut At Wollaston

Youths can now play tennis at the Norfolk County Recreational Facility, Wollaston Golf Course for the reduced price of $1 per hour between 7:30 a.m.-5 p.m., Rep. Michael Morrissey announces.

The reduction of the price by $1 for people under 18 years of age is effective immediately.

Morrissey said he had been working on the price reduction with the County Advisory Board. The County Commissioners recently voted to reduce the price.

"I had suggested free tennis or low rental hours so that more neighborhood youths could take advantage of the court facility, thereby allowing maximum use of the courts," Morrissey said.

A WEEKLY MESSAGE FROM MICHAEL E. FAHERTY, CANDIDATE COUNCILLOR-AT-LARGE

"When we Understand things we're better able to deal with them. But when we read threats of a $16 tax hike, hear terms like an 'overlay budget', get some mumbo-jumbo as to why a traffic signal problem can't be solved...we're confused. Janet Sines In Good Sports Finals

Janet Sines, a 15-year-old Quincy High School student, has been chosen to be one of 36 finalists to compete in the Massachusetts Good Sports Competition Sunday from 9:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. at Newton North High School.

The competition is sponsored by the Massachusetts Jaycees and WBZ/TV Radio, and will be held at Newton North High School. It will be broadcast live from Channel 4 from 3-4:30 p.m.

Miss Sines is interested in tennis, swimming, track and gymnastics.

She made the finals after successfully competing in two previous rounds of competition. She was chosen to be one of the six competitors from this Jaycee region, and will compete with them, as a team, against the teams of the other five Jaycee regions.

Youth Hockey Car Wash Set For Saturday

The Quincy Youth Hockey Association will hold the first of two August car washes Saturday with all proceeds going to the association.

Cars will be washed by boys from the Pee Wee and Bantam divisions from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Youth Arena parking lot off Sea St. Donation is $1.

The second wash will be held Saturday, Aug. 27 at the same time and place by the Squirt and Midget players.

Free Overnight Group Camping Permits Available

Rep. Robert Cerasoli [D-Quincy] announces the availability of free overnight group camping or day use parking within the Massachusetts state forest and park system through the state department of Environmental Management.

Applications for the special use permit which will provide for the waiver of the normal user fee, and a brochure entitled "Camping in Massachusetts" are available through Cerasoli's office to non-profit organizations. The brochure lists State and Private Campgrounds, Day Use Areas, Wildlife Sanctuaries, and Museums of the Outdoors for reference.

Cerasoli said any non-profit group considering an overnight or day camping trip at one of the state parks can obtain the application at his office, fill it out, and mail it to George I. Muro of the Department of Environmental Management, State Office Building, 100 Cambridge St., Boston.

All qualified groups will receive a special use permit which certifies their eligibility for free overnight or day camping.

For further information, contact Rep. Cerasoli in Room 26, the State House, Boston.

RECREATION ROUND UP

It's the half way mark of the Recreation Department's summer program. Here's what's happening.

The Happy Acres Day Camp had its first Boys Overnight, with a cookout, campfire singalong, and a story telling session. Girls Overnight is coming in the near future. The camp enjoyed another outing to Ferrings Pond in the Myles Standish reservation.

Pond St. Playground played host to the other five district playgrounds with the First Almost Anything Goes Competition. Pond St. leaders, Bob Roberts, Patti Myers, Mary Jo Gavin, and Frank Battistone provided refreshments and fine supervision.

This is a team competition, one team from each playground competing for the highest point totals in five events: the obstacle course, the baseball throw, the football throw, the basketball shooting contest, and the water balloon throw.

Winners received a plaque commemorating the event.

The Junior Olympic Finals were held at Veterans Memorial Stadium with many enthusiastic youngsters taking part in the modified track and field events. Winners were:

Softball Throw: [Girls] Cathy Pace, Patty McKinnon. Susan Estabrook. [Boys] Jack Bolster, Jimmy Bandera, John Castigan.

50 yard dash: [Girls] Maureen Roach, Karen Connin, Deanna Galante. [Boys] Steve Higgins, Dave Colletti, Carroll Colletti.

1/5 mile run: [Girls] Simmy Jo Koch, Kathy McKluskey. [Boys] Sal Lorenzo, Paul Murphy.

The Quincy Recreation Department in association with Coca Cola, WMEX, and Finast Supermarkets sponsored the Eddie Pellegrini Baseball Clinic at Adams Field. The clinic was conducted by a highly qualified staff of instructors under the guidance of Eddie Pellegrini, former Red Sox infielder and now coach of Boston College.

A few big coming events:

The Junior Miss Quincy Recreation Department Beauty Pageant for girls ages 10-13. Preliminaries will take place at the neighborhood playgrounds with the finals at Faxon Park Aug. 19. Inquire at your playground or call the Recreation Office for further details.

The Pepsi Hot Shots. This is an event for youths based on a one-minute basketball skills competition. Winners receive medals as well as advancement in competition all the way to National level. So look for the Pepsi Hot Shots Competition.

Parents Nights are also being held. Parents are invited to attend and participate in playground activities with their sons and daughters. They also enjoy a cookout, plays, and many other special activities.

The summer is not half over, but just half begun, so come on down and get involved in the summer program.

Boat Protection Workshop At QYC

The Marine Protection Division of the Quincy Police Department will hold a workshop on the protection of boats and equipment Aug. 16 at 7:30 p.m., at the Quincy Yacht Club, 1116 Sea St., Houghs Neck.

11 Track Club Members In Jesse Owens Classic

Eleven members of the Quincy Track Club are among 36 Greater Boston youngsters competing this week in the Jesse Owens Junior Track Classic at UCLA's Drake stadium in Los Angeles, Calif.

The Quincy boys and girls left this morning [Thursday] from Logan Airport for the four-day, all expense paid trip, which includes an excursion to Disneyland and a banquet for the more than 500 youngsters from 14 cities taking part in the classic.

Competition runs through Sunday.

Four other Quincy TC members are competing this weekend in the National Youth Games at New Haven, Conn. They left by bus Wednesday from Boston City Hall. Like the team in the Jesse Owens Classic, the Boston Youth Games contingent includes boys and girls from around Greater Boston.

Track and Field events were held on July 27 at Boston's Nickerson Field, where first, second and third place finishers received Olympic-type medals from former Olympic great Jesse Owens himself.

The games, for those between 10 and 15 are funded by the Atlantic Richfield Co. and coordinated by Boston Parks and Recreation Dept.

The following will compete in the Jesse Owens Classic:

Cheryl Ayles will compete in the 14-15 age group high jump. She trained at Northeastern University last winter and works out with the Falmouth Track Club in the summer. Her best jump is 4-10.

Sheila Barrett will compete in the 10-11 long jump. Her best jump is 12-6. Comes from a running family and her brothers, Artie, Kenny and Mike were North Quincy High standouts. She led QTC to the cross country title last fall and she holds club records in 220, half mile and mile.

David Church, a four-year QTC veteran, will run the 12-13 220. He has great range and runs anywhere from 100 yards to the half mile.

Carroll Coletti, who turned in an amazing 10.3 in the Jesse Owens qualifying meet, will run the 14-15 100-yard dash. He has run just about every event and also is good in the running events.

Rich McCarthy, who holds QTC high jump record, will compete in this long jump in the 12-13 division. He has great jumping talent and is outstanding in both the high and long jumps.

Jack Leone, son of Quincy Athletic Coordinator Carl Leone, will high jump in the 12-13 group. Although standing only 5-3, he qualified with a 5-6 jump. He is one of the best young jumpers in New England.

Susan McLaughlin, vastly improved over last year, will long jump in the 14-15 group. She excels in the sprints, has done 12.6 in the 100 meters and is the two-time city junior high school high jump champion. Her best long jump is 15-4.

Michelle Millane, ranked number one nationally in the 12-year old discus with a toss of 96-9, will compete in the baseball throw, having qualified with a throw of 182 feet. She is also tops in New England in the shot put and javelin and has run 5:48.5 in the mile and 2:37.6 in the half mile.

Denise Santo will compete in the 12-13 long jump. Also an excellent sprinter with an 11.6 in the 100 and 27.0 in the 220. Her best in the long jump is 15.8.

Mike Williams will run the 50-yard dash. He won local meet in 6.5. He has run the fastest times in New England in the 100, 220, 440 and has the best high jump in the 10-11 division. He is ranked in the top 25 nationally in these events.

Kevin Wood will run the 440, having won the Boston meet in 64.9. Is versatile in running and an excellent high jumper. He won the junior high city meet for Central.

Competing in the National Youth Games are:

John Burgess, who comes from a big running family, will run the half mile in the 14-15 group. His father coaches Boston City League schools. Has run a 4:48.1 mile this spring.

Nancy Chludzinski, who has outstanding strength for her age, will throw the shot put in the 14-15 age group. She started only this spring but had done 31-7.

Karen McCarthy, selected All-Catholic in track at Abp. Williams as a freshman, will compete in the 220 and long jump. She also excels in jumping. Her best time in the 220 is 26.8 and her best long jump is 16-6.

Linda Morash will compete in the 440 in the 14-15 group. Her best time is 67.0 and she also is an outstanding cross country runner. She competed last year in the Falmouth road race and will run again this year.

In last week's third QTC summer development meet at Veterans Memorial Stadium, Robbie Sheehan, Sheila Barrett and Denise Santo were triple winners and Claire Murphy, Williams, Bernadette Murphy, Church and Donna Reardon were double winners.

The winners:

GIRLS

9 and under: 100 - Claire Murphy, 16.0; 440 - Murphy, 1:30 [club record]; mile - Maureen Galton, 9:05.7; long jump - Ann Marie Hughes, 10-7½; baseball throw - Dierdre Murphy, 28-7 [she is only five years old].

10-11: 100 - Sheila Barrett, 14.3; 440 - Barrett, 1:13.7; mile - Barrett, 6:31.1; long jump - Bernadette Murphy, 12-8; shot put, Murphy, 20-2.

12-13: 100 - Denise Santo, 12.2; 440 - Santo, 69.4; mile - Michelle Millane, 6:00.2; long jump - Rich McCarthy, 16-2; shot put - Martha Donaghue, 18-0.

14-15: 100 - Karen McCarthy, 11.9; 440 - Janet

Sines, 68.3; mile - Donna Reardon, 6:17.3; long jump - Susan McLaughlin, 15-4; shot put - Donna Reardon, 22-6.

BOYS

9 and under: 100 - Robbie Sheehan, 14.7; 440 - Sheehan, 1:19.9; [club record]; mile - Harry Morash, 7:26.5; long jump - Sheehan, 12-2 [club record]; shot put - Bobby Galton, 18.7 [club record].

Broad Meadows Koch

District Awards Night Thursday

The Broad Meadows district of the Koch Club will close out its 16th season of summer activity tonight [Thursday] at 6:30 p.m., with a parents and awards night at Broad Meadows Junior High School Field, Calvin Rd., Adams Shore.

Special awards and certificates will be presented to members of the boys baseball and girls softball leagues who excelled in attendance, the criteria established by the leagues for responsibility to the organization and teammates.

Anthony T. Delmonico, founder and district director of the Koch Club Unit, will be emcee for the program assisted by Mrs. Gerry Delmonico and the coaches and umpires of both the boys baseball and girls softball leagues.

The Broad Meadows District was founded in 1962 with 120 boys participating. During the 1977 season 225 boys and 175 girls were registered.

Following the awards ceremonies, ice cream will be distributed to the boys and girls in attendance. Richard J. Koch, executive director of The Koch Club, will be present and outline the 30th anniversary program for 1978.

Bottoms Up Opening Chestnut Hill Shop

Bottom's Up, located at 1420 Hancock St., in downtown Quincy, will open another shop at 1198 Boylston St., Chestnut Hill, Aug. 15.

Owners Lillian Cohen and Cecilia Letorney, both with many years experience in the retailing field, said they selected the Chestnut Hill area for the new location because the women who shop in this area, research has found, are well dressed and would most likely appreciate the Bottom's Up concept.

BOTTOMS UP specializes in fashions for Junior, Contemporary Ms., and Misses sizes, and also fits women who wear clothing starting at size "zero". All merchandise is selected by the owners from leading fashion designers and famous names.

This fall season, Bottoms Up will feature both classic and contemporary dresses, skirts, jumpers, suits, evening wear, shirts, sweaters, slacks, jeans, separates and accessories.

A recent addition to Bottoms Up is a collection of fine jewelry by Kenneth J. Lane, Les Bernard, Panetta and Cardinale.

The new store's decor is a blend of antique and contemporary styles, with a background of earth colors. The store is well lit, to enable shoppers to clearly distinguish the exact colors and fabrics of garments.

A free Bottoms Up tennis visor will be given away during the Longwood Tennis Tournament week of Aug. 22, while they last, with any purchase at the store.

S.S. Research, Planning

Team To Get Federal Funding

A South Shore Chamber of Commerce proposal to establish the South Shore Economic Development Research and Planning Team (SSEDPT), an adjunct of the South Shore Economic Development Corporation, has been accepted for federal funding.

The group was made possible in part by a grant from the Quincy office of CETA, under Title VI of the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act, which supplies funding for the salaries of eligible, unemployed persons working in public service jobs.

The Quincy CETA office selected the Chamber's request from among 70 proposals received from local government and nonprofit agencies. The decision will add 20 new workers to the Chamber staff.

The primary purpose of the new program is to assist in the formulation of an overall economic development plan for the South Shore. The team will also develop a marketing program based on this plan designed to stimulate existing industrial output here, and to attract new companies to the area. In addition, members of the team will provide technical assistance to local industrial development commissions in the area.

The research team will develop a library of materials from their surveys, including a Business Information Center. The latter will specifically assist small businesses in the area, hopefully creating more badly needed jobs here.

Just moved in? I can help you out.

Don't worry and wonder about learning your way around town. Or what to see and do. Or whom to ask. As your WELCOME WAGON Hostess, I can simplify the business of getting settled. Help you begin to enjoy your new town... good shopping, local attractions, community opportunities. And my basket is full of useful gifts to please your family. INVESTING IN LAND

One of the nice things about investing in land is that it rarely presents management problems. However, since it will produce no income, it should be bought only if you are financially able to carry the debt.

For the typical investment, you have to put down cash amounting to 25% to 50% of the total cost of the land, with regular payments on the remainder until the entire debt is paid. But if you prefer to pay taxes on a long-term capital gain, rather than ordinary income, then land can be an attractive investment.

The key to a good land investment is predicting land needs of the future. Here is where the experience of a good, local Realtor comes in. He has intimate knowledge of community needs, and can forecast, far better than the layman, what will be required for future land use and the best areas for growth potential.

Monitor Development Proposals, Condon Urges N.Quincy Residents

Mrs. Joanne Condon, who is a candidate for the Ward 6 seat on the City Council, has warned North Quincy residents to be vigilant in monitoring development proposals and be active in expressing their views to their elected officials.

"We must be realistic, further development of our neighborhood is inevitable," she told a coffee hour at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Weaver, 47 Billings St., North Quincy.

"But it is our responsibility to insure that it is the type of development that enhances our community."

She stressed the need for management capabilities, understanding of neighborhood problems and responsiveness to the people to deal with these issues.

"Greater fiscal responsibility is also needed," Mrs. Condon said.

"All new proposals should be evaluated in terms of their total costs and returns to the city as well as their impact on the neighborhood."

She cited her experience with management and budgets in her job as administrative assistant with the Community Action Program and her knowledge of the city budget.

"Through my attendance at the City Council meetings and my review of the budget," she said, "I can work for more accountability in spending."

Mrs. Condon said she is presently reviewing the police coverage of the North Quincy area. She commended the Police for increased patrols of certain trouble spots and urged residents to work with the police.

Raymondi Seeks Stop And Slow Signs

City Councillor Daniel G. Raymondi has asked the city to paint a STOP sign in the roadway on Mechanic St., and a SLOW sign in the roadway between 124 and 164 South Walnut St., Quincy Point.

He made the request to Ed Lynch, superintendent for traffic signs and signals.

Raymondi said he also has submitted a resolve to the City Council requesting a Traffic Commission study of the feasibility of placing a STOP sign at the intersection of South Walnut and Union Sts. due to an increase in near accidents.

He said Lynch has agreed to paint a SLOW sign on the roadway in the area and install signs noting a dangerous intersection while awaiting a Traffic Commission decision on his request for a STOP sign at South and Summer Sts.

"I have requested immediate action be taken on these requests thereby helping to ensure a secure and safe neighborhood for residents," said Raymondi.

Parents Want Discipline In Schools, Collins Reports

Discipline in the Quincy public schools is a concern of a large number of citizens, according to School Committee candidate Mrs. Mary P. Collins.

While campaigning throughout the city, Mrs. Collins reports she has found a majority of parents feel there should be a tightening up of discipline in the schools at all levels.

"Good, firm discipline in school is something parents have a right to expect," she said, "and the school committee, as a policy making body, can set clear guidelines concerning discipline. This is not a matter which one or two parents have mentioned, but seems to be a genuine area of concern for a majority of the parents to whom I have spoken."

Lack Of Police Visibility Cited At Kelly Coffee Social

The major concern voiced at a recent coffee social for Michael Kelly, candidate for the Ward 6, City Council seat, was the lack of police visibility in the Squantum and Atlantic neighborhoods.

The coffee social was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Cochran, 32 Huckins Ave., Squantum.

Residents complained that the lack of police visibility has created many problems, one of which is the large number of teenagers congregating in the residential areas.

Kelly explained he would try to resolve the problem by working to coordinate the efforts of the police with those of the residents, and suggested that residents increase their use of the Neighborhood Watch Program.

"I plan to continue talking with, and remaining available to all the residents of Ward 6."

Kelly invites Ward 6 residents to inform him of their concerns by calling him at 328-3737.

More Info Sought On Furnace Brook Flood Control Project

The Army Corps of Engineers has returned the half-finished Furnace Brook Flood Control Project to its regional office in Waltham for additional information and rewriting, it was disclosed by City Councillor James A. Sheets.

Sheets indicated that the move does not necessarily mean a delay in the project, whose completion date is still three or four years away, since the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors is not scheduled to meet until mid-October.

But, he added, the temporary return of the project from Fort Belvoir, Va., to Waltham might also have a bearing on the Town Brook Project in South Quincy, which is currently before the district engineering staff in Waltham.

Sheets said the project was returned to Waltham as incomplete because the draft report did not contain a report on the work done in the Black's Creek area, where Furnace Brook empties into Quincy Bay.

Division engineers in Fort Belvoir, he said, felt that improving or eliminating the flood problem on upper Furnace Brook would simply increase the speed and volume of water dumped into Black's Creek and increase the flooding problem there.

A rewriting of the feasibility study for September could include a pumping station at Black's Creek to facilitate the entrance of water into Quincy Bay.

Sheets said the division engineers also were not convinced by the data that the yearly damage done to property in the Furnace Brook area is done by flooding, and not by inadequate drains.

If the problem is in the storm drainage system, he said, federal funding might not be provided under a policy established in 1972.

Sheets said he is working with the Army Corps of Engineers in Waltham to have the draft report rewritten by mid-September.

Sheets warned that the same planning defects may be present in the Town Brook Project in South Quincy and that fast action to correct Furnace Brook might speed up the Town Brook project.

The Town Brook project is uniquely important since it is tied in with the South Quincy MBTA station and the Upland Rd. Extension.

The Language of Flowers Flower tips from Andre Moreau

Who can sniff a gardenia without conjuring up a nostalgic thought or memory from the past? And who can resist the yen to grow a gardenia plant indoors? It takes no special magic, just a bit of pampering to win this temperamental beauty over. Temperature is the secret of continuous blooms - 70 degrees during the day, and 63-65 degrees at night. Acid, moist soil at all times is a must. Attention to humidity, four hours of direct sun and monthly feeding with a house plant fertilizer, are the main requirements of this fragrant plant. Set your pot on a bed of moist pebbles to maintain humidity if your home is dry. Don't fret if a few yellow leaves appear. It's normal. With care you will be picking gardenias for every occasion.

Our plants and flowers at NORFOLK FLOWER SHOP, 49 Beale St., Wollaston, 472-7100 receive the finest care so shop here with confidence. As your full service florist we are well known for our unique and original designs and arrangements suitable for almost any occasion. If you are a business man let us show you how to dress up your decor with living plants. Call us today for more details. "For the Creative and Unusual in Floral Designing", Master Charge and BankAmericard honored. Open: Mon. - Sat. 8-6, evenings by appointment.

NQHS On Double Sessions

Public Schools To Open Sept. 7

Quincy schools will open Wednesday, Sept. 7, with North Quincy High School on double sessions while work continues on the addition and renovation to the 50-year-old building.

Quincy Junior College day and evening classes will start Monday, Sept. 12; kindergarten classes will begin Monday, Sept. 19; and the Adult Evening Program will commence on Monday, Oct. 3.

The opening schedule announced this week by Arthur S. Woodward, coordinator of secondary education, is as follows:

- Aug. 31 - Sept. 2 - Orientation for all new teachers starting at 8 a.m., Aug. 31 in the Method. Center, Quincy High School.

'65 Days Behind Schedule'

Tobin Calls For Weekly Report On NQHS Construction Progress

Council President Arthur H. Tobin has asked School Supt. Dr. Lawrence P. Crendon and Public Works Commissioner Paul Anderson to file a weekly "list of accomplishments, progress and work schedule made toward the opening of North Quincy High School on time."

Tobin noted that the work on the addition to the high school, which is expected to be finished in time to admit classes in September, 1978, is "65 days behind schedule with nothing being shown at this point except hollow promises."

Anderson conceded on Aug. 1 that the work had fallen 50 days behind the contractual completion date of June 1, 1978, and the general contractor was claiming it was now 65 days. He added that the city was not accepting the 65-day figure.

The commissioner promised flatly that students would be in the addition on Sept. 1, 1978.

Tobin called it a "tragedy to see thousands of dollars in taxpayers' money being spent on high priced consultants' fees doubled up with a clerk of the works salary and fringe benefits and be told we are 65 days behind schedule with nothing to show at this point except hollow promises."

"It is time that the taxpayers and citizens of North Quincy were given a fair shake."

"I request that Supt. Crendon and Commissioner Anderson file with the office of the city clerk on a weekly basis a list of the cafeteria by 12:20 p.m. Freshman teachers are to be on duty from 11:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Juniors and seniors do not report to school today.

QUINCY HIGH SCHOOL: Students in Grade 10 report to the Vo Tech School gym at 8 a.m. for orientation. Home room teachers are to be in the gym by 8 a.m. Lunch will be served. Dismissal at 2:30 p.m. Full day for all staff.

Juniors and Seniors do not report to school today.

QUINCY VOCATIONAL TECHNICAL SCHOOL: Students in Grades 9 and 10 report to the cafeteria at 8 a.m. for orientation. Homeroom teachers are to report to the cafeteria by 8 a.m. Lunch will be

6 Mayoral Candidates File Papers

By TOM HENSHAW

If you think the coming mayoralty contest is simply a race between those bitter rivals Mayor Joseph J. LaRaia and Council President Arthur H. Tobin then you've got a little more thinking to do between now and the Sept. 20 preliminary election.

No less than six candidates for the highest office in Quincy filed nomination papers before the Tuesday deadline.

There will be a total of 29 names on the Sept. 20 ballot, with the most exciting races probably for the At-Large and Ward 6 seats on the City Council where there are vacancies as the incumbents attempt to move up. There will be no preliminary contests for Council seats in Wards 3 and 5 or for the three seats on the School Committee, where the list has already been narrowed down to the maximum number for the final election Nov. 8.

In addition to LaRaia and Tobin, the mayoral candidates include Atty. George M. Tull, Atty. Thomas M. Barron, real

Finance Committee Session

Council To Meet On School Pay Raises, Streets, Water Mains

City Councillor John J. Quinn says he plans to call a meeting of his Finance Committee before the end of the month to deal with pay raises in the school budget and with $2.8 million in bond issues for street resurfacing and water mains.

And City Auditor Charles L. Shea says he is still considering a ruling by City Solicitor Thomas F. Williams that the City Council cut $160,091 illegally from the Mayor's budget. He promised to answer next week.

Quinn, prodded by a letter from Public Works Commissioner Paul Anderson, said he is "waiting for the school negotiations budget to be put before us. Then we'll put it all together and call a meeting. We'll entertain the bond issues at the same time."

"There are no impediments to the bond issues as far as I can see," he added. "We are interested in providing the necessary city services. We are just taking it one step at a time."

MESSINA NORTH QUINCY SHOPPING CENTER AD CALLED 'PREMATURE'

An advertisement in the August issue of the magazine "Shopping Center World" is offering leases in the controversial North Quincy Shopping Center on Quincy Shore Drive, a project that has yet to win local or state approval.

Ed Stevenson, a spokesman for Messina Enterprises, which placed the ad and proposes to develop the shopping center at a cost of $5 million, called the appearance of the ad "premature."

"As far as I know the whole project is in limbo," he said.

A story accompanying the advertisement in the trade magazine, which is published in New York City, describes the site as "a 150,000-square-foot center in North Quincy, [locally pronounced 'Quin-zee'] featuring Caldor plus a supermarket [the center will have a second story restaurant overlooking Quincy Bay and the Boston skyline]."

The Messina proposal was stalled on May 3 when the Quincy Board of Zoning Appeals turned down a bid for a special permit for access to the property from Quincy Shore Drive. Messina has appealed.

May Be Fun But...

Charcoal Cookouts On Balconies Dangerous, Warns Dr. Solomon

"Everyone seems to enjoy the back yard barbecue, or the cook-out at this time of year but the settings for this kind of cooking are changing to the balconies of Quincy's high-rise apartment buildings, which creates several dangerous situations," cautions Quincy's Health Commissioner, Dr. Samuel Solomon.

Dr. Solomon pointed to the recent death of a young man in a Quincy motel room.

"That man was cooking on a charcoal stove and died from carbon monoxide poisoning. The charcoal fire has to be well ventilated in order to carry away those deadly fumes. An enclosed room, a rear porch area, or even a doorway to a balcony is not enough ventilation to carry away the deadly monoxide. There are 25-30 deaths a year in Quincy associated with fires from grilles or outdoor cooking units."

The Health Commissioner further pointed out the dangerous conditions that exist with the use of apartment house balconies for this purpose.

"Fires have been started from curtains blowing into the charcoal grille and from an over-use of the flammable liquid starter fuels. Perhaps most dangerous of all is the storage and use of the propane gas-fired cooking grilles that are becoming more popular. These gas units are prohibited in apartment buildings by State Building and Fire Codes.

"I am not asking anyone to give up the summer time fun of outdoor cooking. I am simply asking that common sense be used to prevent fires, deaths, and disability from what should be a happy summer activity."

$46,350 Grant For

S. Quincy Pollution Control Plan

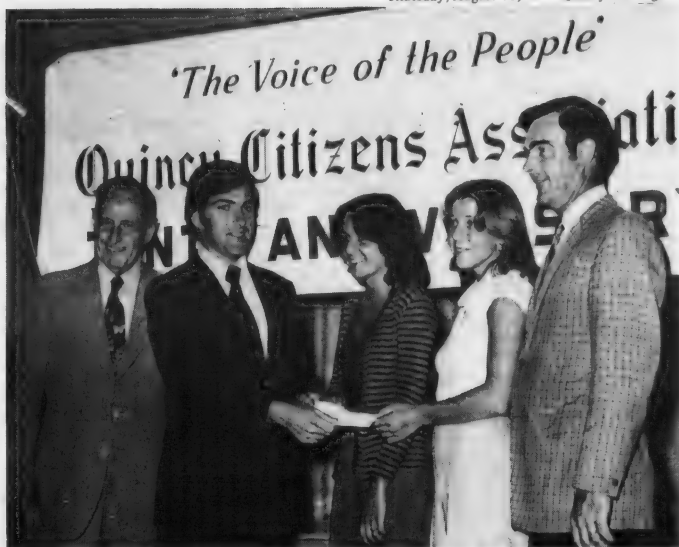

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has awarded Quincy a $46,350 grant to develop a master plan for water pollution control in the South Quincy and Faxon Park areas.

The grant will cover 75 percent of the total study cost, estimated at $61,800.

The existing sewer system periodically overflows, causing raw wastewater to flood cellars and the overloading of a pump station.

Three other Massachusetts communities, Dartmouth, Stoughton and Gloucester, received grants for water pollution control projects. The grants total $5,505,753.

QUINCY CITIZENS ASSOCIATION'S first annual scholarships were awarded recently to Maryann Malzone, a graduate of North Quincy High School, and Margaret Romig a graduate of Quincy High School. Presenting the $200 awards is City Councillor Paul Harold, chairman of the Scholarship committee, while Joseph Brett, far left, for whom the annual scholarships are named, and QCA president Arthur Chandler, far right, look on.

Sheets Asks MBTA To Restudy Bus Service

Rep. James A. Sheets [D-Quincy] has asked the MBTA to restudy bus service between Quincy Square, East Milton Square and Ashmont Station.

Sheets said the request was the result of several factors that emerged from a recent public meeting at which MBTA officials expressed a desire to try and improve bus service to Quincy.

One rider who was present at the meeting, said Sheets, recommended a different starting time on the Ashmont Station run as a means of increasing ridership.

The coming reconstruction of the Southeast Expressway, he said, along with school openings also will mean an increase in passengers.

"I am hopeful that Ronald J.

Tober, the MBTA's chief operations planning officer, will take into consideration all these factors and at least look at the possibilities of a different service," said Sheets.

The service at one time included a stop at the North Quincy Station which allowed the people of South-West Quincy good access to the MBTA Red Line service, he noted.

Mayor's Commission Program

'Update: Women's Issues'

The Mayor's Commission on the Status of Women has started a new program, "Update: Women's Issues", aimed at providing a quarterly listing of legislation, rulings and studies of major interest to women.

"Many women may not have read or heard about some very important issues that affect them directly," said Mrs. Christine Morrison, chairwoman of the Commission. "Through this program we intend to consolidate this information and provide a summary through the local media."

Included in the first Update is:

DUAL TELEPHONE LISTINGS - The State DPU has ruled that the telephone company must provide dual listings at no charge in directories for persons who share the same name, residence and telephone.

A majority of the DPU Commission also provided for a dual billing option which will allow a married woman to be recognized for both directory listing and billing purposes in order to develop credit with the phone company.

USE OF MAIDEN NAME -

The Massachusetts Supreme Court has ruled married women have the right to use their maiden names on official documents and the right to pass those names on to their children.

CREDIT - The newest revision of the Massachusetts Equal Credit Opportunity Act provides that married women can be included in credit information if both husband and wife are responsible for the credit card.

ABORTION - The Massachusetts House approved a bill banning state Medicaid funds for elective abortions except those necessary to prevent a mother's death. Bill has yet to be voted on by the Senate and considered by the Governor.

EARNINGS DIFFERENTIALS - A recent Survey Research Center study shows that the working man averages $7.00 per hour and the working woman $4.34 per hour. The study also shows that the average employed man spends 11% [52 minutes] of each working day not working and the average woman spends just 8% [33 minutes] of the day in scheduled or unscheduled rest breaks.

SMOKE DETECTORS & RADIATION

We have always believed that early detection is the greatest factor in saving lives during a fire, especially one that occurs during sleeping hours. However, there has been some question about radiation danger in some makes of detectors. Here are the facts:

There are two types of smoke detectors. A photoelectric smoke detector contains a small light source. If smoke enters this enclosure around the unit, the light beam is reflected to the photoelectric cell which trips the alarm. No radioactivity is involved.

The second type, an ionization detector, contains a tiny amount of radioactive material, which ionizes the air and allows a small electric current to flow through the chamber. When the current is disrupted by fine particles of smoke, it sets off the alarm.

The radiation is so weak, according to the National Fire Prevention and Control Administration, the National Bureau of Standards and the Nuclear Regulatory Commission that you would have to stand within ten inches of a detector for eight hours every day for a year to get even a hundredth of the exposure that occurs from normal background radiation.

Teacher Contact Team Lobbies For Collective Bargaining Law

Maureen O'Brien, vice-president of the Quincy Educational Association, recently returned from Washington, D.C., where she conferred with staff members of Congressman James A. Burke, stressing the need for a collective bargaining law.

Miss O'Brien was among a group of 24 members of the Massachusetts Teachers Association [MTA] and the National Education Association [NEA] who made the trip to the nation's capitol to lobby for school-related legislation.

Primary mission of the MTA legislative contact teams was to explain to the Massachusetts Congressional delegation the need for a federal collective bargaining law for teachers and other public employees. The teacher-lobbyists also discussed school finance, impact aid, and legislation to create a Cabinet-level Department of Education with their legislators.

Miss O'Brien joined other members of the MTA legislative contact teams in conferences with Massachusetts Senators Edward Kennedy and Edward Brooke.

"NEA's public employee collective bargaining proposal is not yet in bill form, but we wanted to be certain Rep. Burke understood the concepts that will be introduced," Miss O'Brien said.

"What NEA proposes," she said, "is that public employees would be brought under the National Labor Relations Act [NLRA], but with amendments to the act which recognize the differences between private and public employment."

"For instance each state would have the power to pass legislation limiting or prohibiting public employees from striking, or could provide for a form of binding arbitration in impasse situations that otherwise could lead to strikes."

She also noted that the bill would not take effect until state legislatures had had ample opportunity to pass state laws which would be permitted under the amended NLRA.

15 Residents Appointed To Mass. Maritime Academy

Fifteen Quincy residents have been appointed as cadets to the 255 member class of 1981 at Massachusetts Maritime Academy, Buzzards Bay. They are:

John F. Attridge Jr., of East Squantum St., North Quincy, a graduate of Archbishop Williams High School. He is a Boy Scout and is a member of the Catholic Youth Organization, Sea Scouts, the Squantum Yacht Club, Boston Parks Athletic Program, Boys' Little League and Junior Olympics Golden Gloves, and has participated in boxing exhibitions.

Paul F. Brame, of Virginia Rd., Merrymount, a graduate of Thayer Academy. Brame was on the soccer, tennis and wrestling teams at Thayer and was a member of the Chess Club and of the Ceramics and Pottery Club; has won three trophies and two medals with the Quincy YMCA swim team; and is a member of the Granite City Stamp Club.

John Desmond of Baxter St., Quincy Point, a graduate of Quincy High School. Desmond was class treasurer and assistant editor of the school newspaper. He is a member of the Coast Guard Power Squadron, and assistant harbormaster for Quincy.

Martin Goldman of Landsdowne St., Squantum, a graduate of North Quincy High School. Martin was co-captain of the Senior Gymnastics team, a member of the track and soccer teams, and a member of the Science Fair group. He is also a member of the Bay Area Youth Soccer Team and of the July 4 Committee for Squantum.

Neal Jordan of Samoset Ave., Merrymount, a Quincy High School graduate. Jordan was a member of the Debating Club and the Hockey team, and won his letter in soccer. He is a member of the Appalachian Club and the YMCA.

Robert Kamb Jr., of Bayview Ave., Germantown, a Quincy High School graduate. Kamb was a member of the QHS band and of the Environmental Studies Program, and, out of school, of the Houghs Neck Youth Hockey team.

Michael T. McDonald of Pope St., North Quincy, a graduate of North Quincy High.

Francis X. McGinnis of Barham Ave., North Quincy, a graduate of North Quincy High School. McGinnis was on the football, baseball and hockey teams, and was a member of the Chess Club, Drama Club, Golf Team and Class '77 Activities Club at NQHS. He is also a member of the Sacred Heart Youth Group and the YMCA.

Michael G. McGurl of Bellevue Rd., Squantum, a North Quincy High School graduate. McGurl was on the wrestling team and Ski Club at school, as well as being a member of the Squantum Yacht Club and a Boy Scout.

John G. Minukas of Sherman St., Wollaston, a graduate of North Quincy High School. Minukas, a member of the YMCA and a Boy Scout, was also a member of the NQHS wrestling team and Spanish Club, and treasurer of the National Honor Society.

Arthur P. Morse of Bellevue Rd., Squantum, a graduate of Archbishop Williams High School. He is a Sea Scout and a member of the Wollaston Yacht Club.

Paul Palmer of Mt. Vernon St., West Quincy, a Quincy High School graduate. An Eagle Scout and a member of the Quincy Youth Hockey team, Palmer was on the baseball, swim, soccer, and tennis teams, a member of the Ski Club and of the Language Club at school.

John H. Shea of Middlesex St., Squantum, a Boston College High School graduate. He was co-captain of the track team, and a member of the football and hockey teams.

Robert D. Silva of Berry St., Quincy Point, a graduate of Quincy High School. Silva was captain of the football team and a member of the basketball team, and Glee Club, and of the "Blue Macs" School Committee for Activities.

James C. Watts of South Central Ave., Wollaston, a graduate of North Quincy High School. Watts was a member of the basketball team.

Massachusetts Maritime Academy offers two four-year curricula, leading to a B.S. degree in either marine engineering or in marine transportation.

Graduating cadets are eligible to become licensed officers in the U.S. Merchant Marine, and to obtain commissions as Ensigns in the U.S. Naval Reserve or Coast Guard.

Training includes an annual two-month cruise on the 489-foot "Bay State", and experience on a new former gunboat outfitted with modern sophisticated devices.

Volunteers Needed To Assist Visually Impaired

Volunteers are needed in the Quincy-Hingham area to assist visually impaired persons with tasks requiring vision, the Massachusetts Association for the Blind reports.

The Volunteers are needed to shop, drive, and letter write for, to read to, and to socially visit the blind.

For more information, call Anne Marie Marano or Carolyn Parker at 738-5110, Monday - Friday from 9 a.m. - 5 p.m.

Howdy's Gift Certificates To Hospital Blood Bank Donors

Quincy City Hospital's Blood Bank has appealed to all medically qualified donors to give blood soon at the Hospital Blood Bank.

All donors between the ages of 18 and 65, and 17-year-olds with parental permission, who would like to assist the hospital during the summer blood shortage months are urged to call the Blood Bank at 773-6100, ext. 438, for an appointment.

A spokeswoman for the hospital said that the summer blood shortage occurs when people who normally donate go on vacation or become involved with seasonal activities.

All donors who give at the Hospital Blood Bank before the long Labor Day weekend will receive a free certificate, courtesy of Howdy's, Southern Artery.

Public Notice To The City of Quincy REFERENDUM PETITION

ORDER NO. 274D ORDERED.

To the City Council of Quincy:

Pursuant to General Laws, Chapter 43, Section 42, as amended, We the undersigned registered voters of the City of Quincy respectfully protest against the final passage and against the taking effect of the following appropriation measure or any part thereof enacted on July 26, 1977 and approved by the Mayor on July 29, 1977 and request that the City Council entirely rescind said measure or submit the same to the registered voters of the City for their consideration. ORDER NO. 274D ORDERED: June 20, 1977 Upon the request of various department heads and with the recommendation of His Honor, the Mayor, JOSEPH J. LA RAIA, the sum of $2,697,437.00 be and is hereby appropriated to the following accounts:

APPROVED
July 29, 1977

JOSEPH J. LA RAIA
MAYOR

Passed to be Ordained July 26, 1977

ATTEST

JOHN M. GILLIS
Clerk of Council

An Explanation of the Petition

The reason for the following REFERENDUM PETITION: IS THAT THE TAXPAYERS ARE ATTEMPTING TO CALL: HALT, to this type of legislation, starting now and on all such legislation in the future.

We call to your attention: Upon the request of various department heads and with the recommendation of His Honor, the Mayor, This is all legal and the only way you can try to stop it, now and in the future is to be a registered voter in the CITY OF QUINCY, AND SIGN THE PETITION PROPERLY.

These are your TAX DOLLARS and if this is the way you want them spent. Do not sign the PETITION. IT IS THAT SIMPLE. WE ARE SAYING THAT WE CAN NO LONGER AFFORD THE TAX INCREASES!!

A Reader's Opinion

"It's about time we had some action!" "We can understand the saying, 'Good guys do not win ball games.' The taxpayers of the City of Quincy are fed up with the way our tax money is being spent. It seems that almost every elected official and most City employees are out to get all they can get and then some. If they were not taking this money out of the hides of people, perhaps we would not mind, but they are and we must call a halt. A group of taxpayers and renters throughout the City of Quincy are going to try and stop this now and every time in the future with an action called 'A citizen's right to petition.'"

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
CITY OF QUINCY

REFERENDUM PETITION

To the City Council of Quincy:

Pursuant to General Laws, Chapter 43, Section 42, as amended, we the undersigned registered voters of the City of Quincy respectfully protest against the final passage and against the taking effect of the following appropriation measure or any part thereof enacted on July 26, 1977 and approved by the Mayor on July 29, 1977 and request that the City Council entirely rescind said measure or submit the same to the registered voters of the City for their consideration.

This petition's drive action stems from the $34.90 TAX RATE INCREASE IN 1976, we believe that the tax rate increase could have been $10.90, however, the administration chose the higher rate of $34.90. Now this increase was a $34.90 increase on each thousand dollars of the assessed value on your property. This was the highest Tax increase in the City's history. And it was passed along to all consumers and renters.

Now the City's administrators are going to say "we had no choice, this demand was made through collective binding arbitration, we'll let us see if we can do something about it."

We urge all registered voters of the City of Quincy to sign the petition, or if this is the way you want your Tax Dollars spent, do not sign the petition, it is that simple.

An explanation of the ORDER NUMBER 274D and why we are petitioning against the order. The order #274D ORDERED June 20, 1977.

Upon the request of various department heads and with the recommendation of His Honor, the Mayor, the sum of $2,697,437.00 be and is hereby appropriated to the following accounts: (listed in petition.) All City Councillors voted in favor except Powers who was absent. Time is short and we must have 8,000 registered voters sign THE PETITION, before August 20, 1977 and they must be registered or their signature is not valid.

Full cooperation from every concerned taxpayer and renter in the City of Quincy can reverse this kind of legislation, now and in the future. Remember, the right to Petition is your right!

Circulation Volunteers Needed.

Volunteers Needed For MDA Telethon Pledge Center At Quincy Sun

Jerry Lewis and The Quincy Sun need you if you aren't going away this Labor Day weekend.

The Sun will serve as the Quincy-South Shore area pledge center for the Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Telethon Sunday, Sept. 4 and Monday, Sept. 5.

A special line and 25 telephones are being installed in The Sun office, 1372 Hancock St., Quincy Sq. to take donation pledges during the 24-hour telethon to be telecast over Ch. 5.

Volunteers, 18 years and older, are needed to man the telephones. Others are needed to hold down key posts such as tabulation, volunteers registration, security, first aid, transportation, commissary help, messengers, etc.

Nearly 200 volunteers are needed to be assigned to the various shifts. The shifts are: SUNDAY, Sept. 4, 7:30 p.m. to 1 a.m.

MONDAY, Sept. 5 1 a.m. to 8 a.m., 8 a.m. to 1 p.m., and 1 p.m. to 7 p.m.

Anyone with musical talent can also help by participating in activities outside The Sun office during the telethon.

This is the first time a pledge center has been set up in the Quincy-South Shore area. In addition to receiving telephoned donation pledges, a "fish bowl" will also be set up at The Sun for donations.

Henry Bosworth, publisher of The Quincy Sun and Richard J. Koch, executive secretary of the Quincy Park-Recreation Board and civic leader, are co-chairmen of the Quincy-South Shore Jerry Lewis Telethon Committee.

They have coordinated a number of pre-telethon fund-raising events including a softball doubleheader between Quincy police and firefighters and the City Council and news media; a youth boxing show, a skate-a-thon, dance marathon, beano benefits and social activities.

Those wishing to serve as volunteers during the telethon are asked to register at The Sun office or fill out the form below, designate the shift preferred and mail to or drop it off at: The Quincy Sun, 1372 Hancock St., Quincy Sq., 02169.

Or call 471-3100.

Dance Marathon Raises $2,115 For Muscular Dystrophy

Seven couples out of 15 starters struggled through the recent 24-hour dance marathon at the George F. Bryan VFW Post Hall but all helped ring up $2,115 in cash and pledges to fight muscular dystrophy.

The only casualty of the dance-a-thon, which ran from 12 noon Saturday to 12 Noon Sunday, was Ronnie Monti, whose exertions on behalf of MD opened up an old cut on her foot.

She was taken to City Hospital by Angelo DelGreco of the Quincy Fire Department, patched up and returned gamely to her partner, Chuck Palmer. They were among the seven finishing couples.

Other finishers were Sean O'Sullivan and Kathy Grant, Charlene and Colleen Wentworth, Kathy Mann and David Carboneau, John Conroy and Renee Thomas, David and Audrey Gannon, and Tommy Dunn and Eileen O'Sullivan.

Their feat of endurance will be acknowledged at a party later this month, at which time the couples will turn in the money that was pledged to them.

The dancers were attended by nurse Marilyn Donahue, whose biggest chore was bathing aching feet.

The festivities started to the music of the Horizon Band, which played for the first two hours. A second pickup band played from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. The rest of the time the music for dancing was supplied by records.

Mary Pickering, Miss Quincy Bay of 1976, was chairman of the dance committee, which was made up of Russ Connors, Mike Guizria, Debbie Garland and Lorraine Reardon.

They were assisted by Angelo

DelGreco, Paul McDonough, Brian Donahue, Dave Previte, Phil Hickey, John Keegan, George Kanelos, Donna Tantillo, Kim Pickering, Gail Zakrzewski, Mrs. Dot Gauthier and Fire Lt. Louis Malvesti.

Members of the pickup band included Dave McCue, guitar; Steve Murphy, lead guitar; Dick DiBona, bass; Jack Selerno, drums; Jeffrey Rosen, percussion and Johnny Femasaso, singer.

Money and other materials were donated by Charles T. Main, Inc.; Wollaston Florist, Charley Bean's, Ethel Kiley Catering, Hart Brothers Catering, 1100 Restaurant, Balducci Subs, Remicks, Angelo's, Stop and Shop, Dowd Paper Co., South Shore Catering, Mr. Kelly's, Papa Gino's, Mug and Muffin, Happy Chef, Dick Stanton, Sir Speedy and Montilio's Bakery.

Regional Health Plan To Be Discussed At South Metro

Local residents will discuss a preliminary draft of a regional Health Systems Plan at a meeting of the South Metro Health Council, Tuesday, Aug. 23 at 7:30 p.m. at Milton Hospital, Highland Ave., Milton.

Rosemary Wahlberg, Quincy, chairman of the local unit of the Health Planning Council for Greater Boston, said the public is urged to attend, hear an overview of the draft Plan, and offer comments.

Draft goals relate to nine major areas of health care: ambulatory/primary care; acute inpatient care; post acute care; mental health/mental retardation; health care finance; health manpower; primary prevention; environmental health; and occupational health.

The draft plan is the product of over a year's voluntary effort by consumers and health professionals throughout greater Boston.

Health Planning Council for Greater Boston, parent group of the South Metro, is the non-profit, federally-designated Health Systems Agency for 65 area communities.

South Metro members from Quincy are:

Ruth S. Dobbie, R.N.; Clarence Edwards; Daniel Driscoll; Marilyn Hamel; Bella Krovitz; John Nigro; Theresa M. Phelan; W. P. Ridder, M.D.; Samuel Solomon, M.D., and Miss Wahlberg.

Kathleen Kelly

Teachers Convention Delegate

Kathleen Kelley of West Quincy will attend the American Federation of Teachers convention in Boston Aug. 15-19.

She will be one of 24 delegates to the convention who are representing the Boston Teachers Union, Local 66 of the Massachusetts Federation of Teachers. Miss Kelley is the Union's Elementary Education Representative.

The convention will focus largely on federal involvement in education funding and policy. Featured speakers will be AFT President Albert Shanker, Vice President Walter Mondale, U.S. Commissioner of Education Dr. Ernest Boyer, and Secretary of Labor Ray Marshall.

Panel and workshop topics include teacher-student rights, school budget analysis, education of the handicapped, career education, teacher centers, and urban school aid.

Dancing For Those Who Can't...

FRESH AS A BREEZE -- Renee Thomas discovers the most refreshing way to revive the sagging spirits -- and feet -- of her partner, John Conroy.

WE NEED YOU, TOO! -- Participants in the Dance-a-Thon for Muscular Dystrophy echo their chief, Comedian Jerry Lewis, just before they started their 24 hours of continuous dancing in the George F. Bryan VFW Post Hall that raised $2,115 in cash and pledges to fight muscular dystrophy.

SWING YOUR PARTNER! -- One would never think that Sean O'Sullivan and Kathy Mann had been dancing for 23 straight hours when they executed this maneuver.

FULL O' DANCE -- Dancers are full of vim and vigor and so is the Horizon Band -- but there's still 23 and a half hours to go!

READER SPEAKS OUT

'Amazed' By RSVP Program Articles

Editor, The Quincy Sun:

The write-ups and reporting relative to the RSVP Program continue to amaze me. During the past week, an announcement was made regarding the change of sponsor, and this was followed by a statement from Ms Stenberg to the effect that she thought it was a bad move. If she analyzed the problem, she'd know what a good move it is - that is if she really loves the Seniors as she claims and really wants to help them.

Some five or six months ago, all concerned with the way the RSVP Program was going were advised that a change was imminent. Those notified included the Mayor, the Director of Quincy Council on Aging, and several interested citizens. Meetings were scheduled, discussions were held, individual talks were taking place; in a word, everything that might help the situation was being done...with one exception. The principals involved refused to consider the possibility of a change. Despite all the hints and all the warnings - despite all the meetings, the exchanges of correspondence and phone calls, the senseless bickering continued and the RSVP Program suffered. Senior Volunteers were insulted, staff members were treated like idiots, people in charge of program were not even consulted until finally ACTION decided they had enough. After all, they said, if we invest approximately $40,000 in a program, we have a right to expect results. These are some of the reasons for ACTION making the change and all of these reasons are well-known by Ms Stenberg.

Now we come to the so-called separation of Council on Aging and the RSVP. As I have said so many times before, there is no separation simply because there was no joining. When RSVP was first initiated, Quincy Council was its first sponsor. The then director of COA turned the RSVP program over to its director as per instructions in the ACTION handbook and the program prospered; Senior Citizens were given assignments and enjoyed the program. Two years ago when a new director for Council on Aging was appointed, he decided to run the RSVP Program himself, contrary to ACTION rules and regulations. More and more instances where Seniors were given assignments without consulting RSVP occurred, and more and more Seniors began to wonder what it was all about. As a result of this confusion, ACTION received more than 75 phone calls in one week alone, complaining. Many of these Senior Volunteers refused to set foot in the RSVP office unless something was done about the constant turmoil.

Letters were written, phone calls made, visits back and forth to the ACTION office produced no change until March at a meeting in the Mayor's office, ACTION told him, his Director of Aging, that a new sponsor was being considered. Ms Stenberg was at that meeting.

Even after that, the interference continued; personnel were cursed at and insulted, Seniors were given the brush-off, and people like myself were being blamed for the failure of the RSVP Program. All this was brought out at a special meeting called by the Quincy City Council, and it was at this meeting, by a vote of 9 to 1 that the Council elected to continue the approximate $11,000 yearly grant to RSVP. Only a few days ago, Mayor LaRia in person told the new Sponsor that he decided he would not appropriate that money to the RSVP Program. As a matter of fact, the Norfolk County office was contacted and asked to rescind their donation of $6,000 to the RSVP Program.

ACTION promised to keep the RSVP Program within the City of Quincy, but they told the Mayor that the program must serve other communities along the South Shore as per their original charter. The new sponsor fully intends to do just that.

In a letter to the Mayor, several reasons were put forth for the discontinuation of the federal grant. Among the reasons quoted were "mismanagement". If the Mayor and the Council on Aging (among whom is Ms Stenberg) would accept that fact, then there would be no need of wasting the Quincy taxpayers' money by instituting their own program. Our Senior Citizens would be relieved of a lot of confusion and the RSVP Program could continue helping many South Shore communities as it was designed to do. Instead of that, through vindictive action, a second program is being planned, and the result will be further confusion directed at the Seniors, who will, in all probability, not know which faction is the one to affiliate with and both will fail. Is that the kind of help Ms Stenberg wished for the Seniors?

All the Seniors want is a chance to do a little volunteer work, to enjoy it while they are doing it, and to avoid all the bickering and bickering which has been prevalent for the past many months.

My final question is, "what will the City of Quincy do with the $11,000, which was allocated to RSVP when they failed to properly utilize $50,000?"

Why not let RSVP run its own federally backed program designed to spend every dollar in promoting good things for the Seniors and let that silly, vindictive vendetta go down the drain where it belongs.

She Wants To Set The Record Straight

Editor, The Quincy Sun:

An article appeared in the Quincy Sun recently under the heading of Tom Henshaw's Quincy's Yesterdays "32 Years Ago This Week". The article stated that during the week of Aug. 11-17, 1945, an impromptu parade was formed in Quincy Point to celebrate V.J. Day.

That fact is true. However, to set the record straight, I would like to make one correction. The article stated that the parade was started by former City Councillor Carl Anderson and Guy Faiella. That statement is incorrect. The parade was thought of and organized by one man alone; that man being Americo Faiella of 84 South Walnut St.

Americo went to the home of his sister, the late Gieselda Pettinelli of Edwards St. and it was there that the parade started.

Carl Anderson and Guy Faiella knew nothing of this parade until it was in progress. Hundreds of people joined in and marched to City Hall.

When the parade was over, Carl Anderson commended Americo for the wonderful thing he had done. It was exactly that, a wonderful thing. Why not give credit where credit is due? It is very unfair for city officials or well known persons to take the credit for every good thing that happens in our city.

There are many hard working, up-right citizens in our city who do many wonderful things and Americo Faiella is one of them. Lets give him the praise he deserves.

Frances P. Andronico,
Quincy

Editor's Note: The material for the "Quincy's Yesterdays" column is obtained by researching old newspapers. Apparently when the original story regarding the V.J. Day parade first appeared in August, 1945, Carl Anderson and Guy Faiella were given the credit for starting it. And it remained that way until now.

How Much To Run For Mayor?

How much money do you need to run for mayor of Quincy?

Well, $5 or $10 for a hat if you just want to throw one in just to see what happens.

But what does it really cost to mount an effective shoot-the-works to win campaign? Election year, 1977, the so-called experts will give you a ballpark figure of somewhere between $60,000 and $100,000.

You could really stuff a piggy bank with that.

Seems like a lot considering the job pays only $25,000, and isn't that much fun anymore.

And out of that $25,000 comes tax, social security deductions, etc., etc., and, of course, the price of aspirin.

KEN HODGE feels terrible about missing the Muscular Dystrophy benefit skate-a-thon sponsored by the Quincy Youth Hockey Association. But you can't say he didn't try.

The skate-a-thon - was on a Friday night. Hodge, appeared Saturday night.

The mixup apparently stemmed from the fact the Quincy-South Shore Jerry Lewis Telethon Committee had two events scheduled closely together: the skate-a-thon Friday night, and a dance marathon that started on Saturday.

Somewhere, somehow along the line, someone on the scheduling end got the dance marathon and the skate-a-thon mixed up, resulting in Hodge coming to Quincy Saturday instead of Friday.

Hodge, of course, is Muscular Dystrophy Association chairman for Massachusetts and in that role makes many public [and free] appearances to help raise money to fight the still incurable disease.

One consolation despite the mixup:

The skate-a-thon raised over $2,400 in cash and pledges and the dance marathon over $2,100.

DID YOU KNOW DEPT: Joanne Condon, running for the Ward 6 City Council seat, is a former student of James Sheets, Ward 4 councillor and state representative? Sheets taught Joanne political science and government at Quincy Junior College and she worked in at least one of his campaigns.

MARY COLLINS, candidate for school committee, has discovered a side benefit to running for office. She's already lost nine pounds campaigning.

SABINA STENBERG got her campaign for City Council at-large rolling Wednesday night with a champagne reception at Walsh's Restaurant, North Quincy. The $17.50 per person event was from 5 to 8 p.m.

STEVE McGRATH, Ward 5 City Council candidate, has been awarded a $500 scholarship from Suffolk Law School. He will graduate next June...McGrath, incidentally, reports he turned in nomination papers with more than 1,500 signatures.

A COCKTAIL CRUISE for Ward 1 City Council candidate David Crowley is set for Thursday, Aug. 25 aboard the motor vessel Nantascot. The ship will leave Boston Harbor Marina at 9 p.m., cruise Quincy Bay and return at midnight. Tickets [$7.50 per] available by calling Crowley's wife, Peg, at 773-3260.

WARD 1 INCUMBENT Leo Kelly and Ward 6 contender Mike Kelly are getting double mileage from one another's bumper stickers. In case you are wondering which ones are which, Kelly [Leo's] are green and Kelly [Mike's] are blue.

JAMES SHEETS, city councillor, state representative and longball hitter, will go to bat for the Garden City Cerebral Palsy Center of Newton Aug. 24. Sheets will play at 6:30 p.m. in a softball game between the state police and legislature at the MDC Daley Field, Brighton. The game is being sponsored by CHUMS [Charitable Union of Massachusetts].

SMILE DEPT: With the political season about to move into full swing, this item from the Quincy Rotary Club newsletter seems oute timely:

When Teddy Roosevelt was asked how much preparation he needed before making a speech, he said, "Well, if you want me to talk for five minutes I need a day to prepare. For a 30-minute talk I need an afternoon. But if you want me to talk for two hours, I'm ready now."

Deadlines For Jewish New Year Mail In Israel

The Israeli postal administration has set a number of deadlines for receiving mail to be delivered prior to the Jewish New Year, according to the U.S. Postal Service.

The Jewish New Year will begin Sept. 13.

In order to assure delivery in time for the observance, all surface parcels should be received in Israel by Aug. 25; surface letters and cards by Sept. 1; airmail parcels by Sept. 6; and airmail letters and cards no later than Sept. 6.

Sacco-Vanzetti Execution Night Quiet In Quincy

The hour of execution for Nicolo Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti at Charlestown State Prison passed quietly in Quincy after elaborate preparations were made by Police Chief Ernest H. Bishop to guard vital locations within the city.

Bishop remained at the station long after midnight while Lts. George Cahill and Thomas Malone manned the desk and patrolmen, on duty 24 hours, played cards, shot pool and billiards and listened to the radio.

A special guard was placed on the dynamite magazines of Robert J. Teasdale, 143 Pleasant St., and J. E. Sprague in the Sheep Rock section of West Quincy, where Fire Chief A. L. Mead estimated that 50,000 pounds of explosives were stored.

Guards were also assigned to the Wollaston homes of two members of the jury that convicted Sacco and Vanzetti in 1921. No one was allowed near the houses without ID cards and police were directed to shoot anyone who refused to show identification.

Navy patrols aboard the Aircraft Carrier Lexington, which was being built at the Fore River Shipyard, were reinforced from Charlestown Navy Yard. They paced the deck of the half-built ship, night and day, armed with shotguns.

WEST QUINCY WINS TITLE

Henry Carlson scored the winning run in the fifth inning when Frazier misjudged Ferrazzi's pop fly as West Quincy edged the Tigers of Quincy Point, 9-8, to win the City League baseball championship for the second straight year.

The lineup for the champs included:

MAIL RUN FAILS

An attempt to deliver 100 pounds of mail by air from the Squantum Naval Air Station to the SS Leviathan, 395 miles at sea, failed when the mail fliers couldn't find the ship in the fog.

Navy Lt. Clarence H. Schildhauer and his crew of three took off at 6 a.m. in their twin-engine PN-10 biplane and searched for three hours before giving up on finding the Leviathan, which had a specially built deck to receive the plane.

A REGIONAL ECONOMY

By Eric Swider

The South Shore Tax Base

The 14 communities of the South Shore have a combined assessed valuation of $2.1 billion according to a report recently issued by the Massachusetts Dept. of Corporations and Taxations, and close to three quarters of that is wrapped up in single-family dwellings.

An analysis of Selected Tax Base Information for 1976 shows that approximately $500 million of the area's tax base is commercial and industrial property and $1.52 billion is residential assessment.

Considering the suburban character of the South Shore, it is significant to see such a healthy contribution being made locally to the property tax base by commerce and industry.

Braintree seems to receive the greatest contribution from business and industry, with 37% of its assessments coming from that segment. Milton at about 5%, Scituate at 7% and Cohasset at 8% are the most dependent on residential real estate as their method for governmental finances.

Canton derives 26% of its real estate tax revenue from commerce and industry; Hanover 22%; and Hingham 11%.

Hull at 8.4% is the only South Shore town which derives absolutely no income from industry — their business contribution comes strictly from commercial activities.

Norwell derives 11.3% of its taxes from business; while the city of Quincy gains approximately 35% of its annual property tax revenue from that source.

Sixteen percent of Holbrook and Randolph's property tax income, 15% of Rockland's income, and 14% of Weymouth's income comes from business property taxes.

Norwell, Rockland and Scituate are the only "rural" communities left on the South Shore — all of them having minuscule amounts of property still being taxed at "agricultural" rates.

Hull has the greatest percentage of residential/commercial mixed use, with Randolph a close second. Weymouth evidently does not permit that mixture or at least doesn't tax it that way.

Norwell mustn't have any multi-family dwellings which makes it also unique for the area.

Braintree, Hingham and Norwell lead the race in terms of the value of its vacant land with Milton placing the lowest value on its vacant tracts. In total, $60.7 million is the assessed value of all vacant land on the South Shore as compared to our $2.1 billion total assessment.

Commercial endeavors pay twice the property tax as do industrial concerns suggesting that there are twice as many of them...and that figures to be just about right as it works out to jobs anyway. There are probably 10 times as many commercial establishments here as there are manufacturers.

An interesting base for an interesting area.
[Eric Swider is Executive Vice-President of the South Shore Chamber of Commerce.]

Anderson requested that Quinn and six other councillors who voted approval of a Finance Committee recommendation of the bond issues July 11, get together and call a special meeting of the City Council to authorize the money.

"We estimated," he said, "that it will take approximately three weeks to advertise, receive bids, and award contracts for the street resurfacing work."

"Given the fact that resurfacing cannot occur beyond the end of October due to weather conditions, it is imperative that the Department of Public Works receive this money by Aug. 19 so that the designated work can be performed this year."

"If the Council's final approval is not received by the above date I will recommend to the Mayor that he withdraw the bond issues from consideration due to the fact that it will be impossible to have the resurfacing projects started before adverse weather begins."

"I must stress that the resurfacing program is designed to protect existing streets in poor condition from deteriorating further."

"If this program is not initiated this year, and we experience another severe winter, the damage to these roads will be such that total reconstruction at a significantly greater cost next year will in all probability be necessary."

Meanwhile, Solicitor Williams ruled that the City Council acted illegally in trimming $160,091 from Mayor LaRaia's proposed budgets for the Highway and Sewer branches of the Public Works Department.

Williams said the Council "changed the purposes for which the Mayor requested the money" from Personal Services and Expense to General Operations in violation of a state law which says:

"The City Council may by majority vote make appropriations for the purposes requested and may reduce or reject any amount recommended in the annual budget, but, except on recommendation of the Mayor, shall not increase any amount in or the total of the annual budget, nor add thereto any amount for a purpose not included therein..."

The Solicitor said the Council also violated the law in attempting to appropriate money to specific accounts in the Hospital, such as a administration, dietary, housekeeping, etc., when those categories did not appear in the Mayor's budget.

Mayor LaRaia submitted a copy of Williams' opinion along with the order appropriating the money for the budget to City Clerk John Gillis with the accompanying notation:

"I am sure that in preparing the appropriation portion of the recapitulation sheet that you will follow the city solicitor's ruling concerning the appropriations."

The recapitulation sheet is the financial statement submitted to the state on which the tax rate is based.

Meanwhile, a spokesman for the State Bureau of Corporations and Taxation said it will not permit the setting of the tax rate for Quincy until the Mayor and the City Council have settled their differences over the amount of the budget.

Sheets Would Require Riding Stables Be Licensed

City Councillor James A. Sheets plans to introduce at the next meeting of the Council an order requiring stables or academies for horse riding to be licensed in the city of Quincy.

The order would require that such businesses obtain from the Licensing Board a license that would spell out certain conditions of operations relating to hours and standards.

Sheets said the need for such licensing is demonstrated by problems that have arisen in the past.

Lydon Candidate For Re-election In Ward 3

John J. Lydon Jr., announces his candidacy for re-election to the Ward 3 City Council seat.

Lydon, who is completing his second term said the major emphasis of his work has been an attempt to restore the trust of constituents in the political system. He expressed concern over voters who believe that their votes do not make a difference either in their own lives or in the direction of the city and has worked hard to alleviate this feeling.

He said: "Constituent services have been the major emphasis of my two terms in office and will continue to be so should the voters choose to re-elect me. The ward councillor is in a unique position, as in many cases he is the residents' only personal contact with the political system. If a resident calls with a problem, he expects both concern and results. This is what the citizen deserves and this is what I have attempted to do."

Lydon cited the following as accomplishments of his second term:

- Leading the successful opposition to the proposed arena
- Responding to complaints of noise and vandalism in Bishop Park by having a call box installed to increase the police protection.

- Leading the floor debate to win approval for the new senior citizens complex to be located on Granite St.

- Instituting a ward-wide opinion survey to better represent the Ward 3 constituents.

- Effectively working to change the entrance of the North Quincy MBTA parking lot to make it safe for the Norfolk Downs pedestrians and the Sacred Heart School children.

- Successfully fighting the granting of a liquor license to the Wollaston Golf Course, thus maintaining the family recreation concept.

- Obtaining a new basketball court, tot lot, fencing, benches and repaving for the Wollaston School.

- Providing lights for night skating at Heavenly Hill.

- Successfully proposing and leading the fight for the city Tow Law, which was aimed at parking violations around the MBTA stations.

- Successfully opposing the granting of a bus license to an out of town bus company. The granting of which would have led to an increase of Quincy taxpayer assessments.

- Obtaining approval to round the corner of West Squantum and Evans Streets to create a dangerous intersection.

- Coordinating the local effort, as Public Safety Chairman, which was necessary during the coming of the Tall Ships.

- Opposing the closing and then increasing the programs offered at the Whitwell St. Playground.

- Obtaining funding for the rehabilitation and the construction of two new tennis courts at Bishop Playground.

- Completing Freedom Park with amenities.

- Successfully initiating and supporting many new lighting projects throughout the city.

Lydon has been a resident of Quincy for 19 years. He has attended Northeastern University, the New England Institute and the Gate of Heaven High School in South Boston.

He is a homeowner living at 468 Beale St., with his wife, Diane (Hall) and children, David, Janet, Carol and Michelle. He is the President of the Lydon-Russell Funeral Home, the former Director of the Wollaston Business and Professional Association, past Grand Knight of the North Quincy Knights of Columbus and a member of St. Ann's Holy Name Society and the Wollaston United Commercial Travelers.

Patrick Conroy Ward 6 Candidate

Patrick J. Conroy, 20, of 272 Billings St., Atlantic, student at UMass-Boston, has announced his candidacy for the Ward 6 seat on the City Council because "I see the need for ward councilors to care for the people of the ward rather than try to run the city."

"Every two years the people of Quincy elect someone to administer the city," he said.

"At the same time, the people of Ward 6 select a person to serve their special interests in city government.

"As Ward 6 Councilor, my primary responsibility will be to represent the interests of Squantum-North Quincy area residents, collectively and as individuals."

A lifelong resident of Quincy, Conroy is a graduate of North Quincy High School. His father, Patrick J. Conroy, is a past commander of the Squantum Yacht Club and immediate past president of Quincy Bay Race Week.

Aug. 27 Carnival

Against Muscular Dystrophy

Mrs. Rose Mysiuk and Mrs. Joan McDonagh are sponsoring a Carnival Against Muscular Dystrophy at 102 and 104 Billings Rd, Norfolk Downs, from 12 noon to 4 p.m. Aug. 27.

Kellianne McDonagh will serve as ringmaster, assisted by Teresa Mysiuk, Erin McDonagh and Christine Doherty. The games will be announced at the Carnival. Rain date is Aug. 28.

Local merchants who have donated articles for the White Elephant Table include McLellan's, Bill's Variety, Quincy Savings Bank, Carmy's Deli and the Stop and Shop.

Youngsters are encouraged to bring aluminum foil for recycling to the Carnival.

The Massachusetts legislature overwhelmingly passed the Doyle-Flynn bill [156-69], which will prohibit the state from spending money on Medicaid abortions. The bill was to be heard in the Senate this week. The bill is expected to pass the Senate. The Governor said he will veto the legislation.

The real fight will be in over-riding the Governor's veto. It is felt that the House will easily over-ride the veto and that real fight will be in the Senate. A 2/3 vote is necessary to over-ride the governor's veto.

The Governor also vetoed the item in the budget that dealt with the School Breakfast Program. The legislature, during the budget debate placed an amendment on the budget which allowed for local option with the Breakfast Program. The Breakfast Program often provides meals to those who most need them. The Governor felt that if local option prevailed some cities and towns would not offer this important program. The vote on this issue is expected to be on Wednesday.

If I can ever be of any assistance, I can be reached by calling 727-7035 or 328-0900. I hold office hours Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 8:30 to 10:00 A.M. and Wednesday 6:00 to 8:30 P.M. at my district office, 69 Billings Road.

8-Day Competition

City Annual Tennis Tournament Opens Aug. 20

Quincy's equivalent of the Wimbledon tennis matches, the Quincy Recreation Department's seventh annual tennis tournament, will begin Aug. 20. Recreation Director Robert Beniers announces.

Applications for the tournament, expected to be the biggest so far, are available at the Recreation Office, John F. Kennedy Health Center, 1120 Hancock St., or between 9 a.m. - 4 p.m. at the Vocational Technical School, Welcome Young, Montclair, and Faxon Park tennis courts. Tournament director is John Franceschini.

The tournament will last eight days, and is divided into several classifications. The categories are: Men, 35 years of age and older; Men's singles and doubles; Boys, 16 years of age and under; Women's singles and doubles and Girls 16 and under.

Over 2,000 men's singles matches total, have been played in the tournament's previous six years. The men's singles category alone has grown from 32 draws in 1970 to 115 draws last year, indicative of the entire tournament's growth.

The players to watch this year, according to Beniers and Franceschini, are Jim Wilcox, Chris Cuniff and Joe McLaughlin. Wilcox is the two-time defending champion of the men's 35 and over division, and his ability to return almost every shot has earned him the nickname, "The "Human Ball Machine." Chris Cuniff is, according to Beniers, the most promising young girl player to come out of Quincy since Sally Rickson, and has captured the ladies singles crown the past two years. McLaughlin is the defending singles champion, and possesses a serve which has been estimated as traveling over 90 m.p.h.

Another crowd pleaser is Henry McAllife, the man who, Beniers says, best expresses the tournament's idea of good sportsmanship. McAllife is a "court jester" whose "antics on and off the court are ones that could only bring smiles and laughter to all of his fans."

The 11 champions will be crowned on the final day.

Cugini Wins Ladies' Tourney At Furnace Brook

Pat Cugini won the weekly ladies' tournament, a point event, at Furnace Brook Golf Club with 16.

Ellie Mulroy was second with 18, Dolly Nogler and Rose

LaHive tied for third with 21 and Jennie Lutfy had 22.

Eda Flate and Dolly Nogler were co-chairmen.

In the weekly mixed Scotch foursome Ed O'Neill and Mary

Morrissey shot low gross and there was a three-way tie for low net between Tom Donoghue and Pat Cugini, Matt Smith and Pat Tehan and Tom Tehan and Isabell Morrison.

J's South Suburban Softball Champs

J's of East Milton won the South Suburban Softball League title for the second year in a row Sunday when it defeated Weekend Warriors, 12-11, in a thriller.

J's, which finished second to Roxie's Raiders in regular season play, had eliminated Gutz in two straight playoff games while the Warriors upset Roxie's in three games.

In the championship game J's wasted no time and jumped off to a 4-0 lead in the first inning only to have the Warriors tie it in the second. They then added one in the third, two in the fourth and one in the fifth for an 8-4 lead.

J's catcher Phil Russo started a seven-run rally in the sixth with a single, followed by hits by Rick Palmer, Dan Connors, Jim Raffan and Tim Sorgi and a long homer by Jeff Johnson for an 11-8 lead.

The Warriors added three in the last two innings to tie it at 11 and the game went into the ninth inning.

Clutch hits by Johnson [two homers] and fine outfielding by Vitale and Manning were responsible for J's still being in the game.

In the ninth Palmer, a clutch hitter all year, hit a drive to deep center which was misplayed and the speedy Palmer made it all the way home with the winning run.

Women's Softball Playoffs Underway

The Quincy Women's Softball League began its playoff finals Tuesday night with undefeated Jimmy's [22-0] facing Dee Dee's, the defending champion, with a 19-3 mark.

The second game will be played tonight [Thursday] at 9:30 and the third game, if necessary, is set for Friday, also at 9:30, at Welcome Young Field.

In the semifinals Dee Dee's edged Bocce Club, 7-6, and, following a 9-9 tie, won the finale, 10-3. Jimmy's had little trouble eliminating Wollaston Credit Union in straight games, 16-6 and 16-3.

Morrisette In 'Must Win' Situation

Morrisette Legion's baseball team was still alive in the state finals but faced a 'must win' situation last night [Wednesday] in Chicopee.

Morrisette, winner of the Zone 6 title again and winner of the South Sectional Tournament, had a bad defensive day in its state opener last Saturday as it handed Shrewsbury four unearned runs in a 4-3 loss, but stayed alive Sunday by eliminating Somerville, 3-2.

Wednesday Morrisette faced the loser of Tuesday's Pittsfield-Shrewsbury game and needed a win to stay in the double elimination tournament.

Morrisette topped Somerville [a 5-0 loser to Pittsfield in its opener] behind the clutch pitching of Ron Donovan, who had led the Quincy team to the sectional title with his best performance of the year, a 4-1 win over Walpole.

Donovan scattered eight hits in the eight-inning game [rain halted it] and Morrisette won it with a run in the sixth inning. Capt. Dave Perdios singled, stole second, went to third on a fly to center and scored the clincher on Steve Cook's double.

Cook had three hits, Perdios and Chuck LoPresti two each and Mike McCormack and Dave King one apiece.

In the opener against Shrewsbury John Wilkinson pitched an excellent game but errors handed the winners two runs in the first and single markers in the fourth and eighth. Wilkinson gave up seven hits.

Morrisette scored all three runs in the opening inning but was handcuffed by starter John Jameson and reliever big Brian Ryder, a 6-5, 225-pound southpaw, the rest of the way.

In the first, after Shrewsbury had scored its first two unearned runs, Morrisette's King singled and Perdios walked. Perdios was too far off first when pitcher Jameson threw over but he made second on a rundown but King was thrown out at third.

Cook then walked and LoPresti [five for six in the two games] singled Perdios home with Cook moving to second. Jim Maze's single scored Cook and then Maze was caught off first and, while the Shrewsbury infielders were chasing him, LoPresti scored from third without drawing a throw.

LoPresti had three hits, King and Perdios two each and Maze one.

Coach Ray Cattaneo was confident going into Wednesday's game. "We have shown we can play with the other teams in this tournament and we have as good a chance as any of winning," he said. "Donovan and Wilkinson pitched outstanding games and it was a shame errors cost Wilkinson that first game."

A key to Morrisette's chances hinged on Wilkinson's availability Wednesday. "His arm was stiff after Saturday's game but I'm hoping he can pitch," Cattaneo said.

Oilers Seek 3rd Sunday

By TOM SULLIVAN

The Randolph Oilers of the Eastern Football League, following their first loss after two easy wins, attempt to get back on the win trail Sunday when they journey to Saybrook, Conn., to meet the Old Saybrook Tides in a 2 p.m. game at the high school field.

After breezing past the Rhode Island Kings, 34-6, and the Manchester, Conn., Riflemen, 35-0, the Oilers dropped a 12-10 squeaker to the unbeaten Hyde Park Cowboys last Sunday.

The Cowboys, winners of the Boston Park League title the past two years, won their 21st game in a row, including their last in the Park League.

Bud Queeney's 90-yard runback of the second half kickoff proved to be the winning score for Hyde Park.

One of the key men for the Oilers this year is former North Quincy High kicking sensation Ed McElaney, who two years ago kicked five field goals including three which won games in overtime, as the Raiders captured the Suburban League title. He is also an excellent punter.

So far McElaney hasn't been called upon to do much kicking, but he could win some close games for the Oilers later in the season.

Also one of North Quincy's top defensive players, McElaney has been used mainly on defense and has been brilliant in the secondary for the Randolph club.

His defensive play and that of former Quincy High lineman Ed Sylva have highlighted the first three games.

"Ed is a very valuable man for us," said Coach Al Scibetta. "He is quick and has good reaction in the defensive backfield and he is going to pick off a lot of passes. In addition, he is big enough so that when he comes up to stop the run, the ball carrier will know he has been hit."

"As far as kicking goes, he's got great potential. He kicks the ball as far as anyone and gives us a solid threat to score anytime he is inside the 50-yard line."

"I am enjoying playing in this league," McElaney said. "Many of the players have had tryouts with NFL teams and I'm getting a lot of valuable experience."

One of the Oilers' latest acquisitions, Stan Hillier, stayed with the Patriots until their final cut.

When Quincy's Al Scibetta, coach of the Oilers, was coaching for four years at Bristol Community College in Fall River, he did a lot of recruiting.

However, he missed out on several players because he hadn't been told about them.

So, Scibetta, who lives on Hudson St., Quincy, decided to contact a number of New England college coaches and invited them to watch the Oilers in action.

Among those he called were Joe Yukica of Boston College, Dick MacPherson of UMass, Bo Lyons of Northeastern [a former North Quincy High all-scholastic and an all-time Raider great], Tom Stephens of Curry, Milt Piepul of AIC and Pete Mazzaferro of Bridgewater State.

"I have a lot of young players who right now are not interested in going to college," Scibetta, a former Randolph High all-scholastic, said.

"However, I feel some of these kids after a year of knocking around, will realize the importance of furthering their education and I feel some of these coaches will show an interest in them and the kids may get some scholarships."

"These kids just out of high school have to gain some maturity and playing for teams like the Oilers enables them to get it."

Scibetta heard from all the coaches he contacted and MacPherson even asked him for the Oilers' practice schedule, desiring to take in some of the workouts.

This season Scibetta has some outstanding Quincy and North Quincy players.

They include Ed McElaney, who set all kinds of place kicking records at North Quincy.

Also playing are Ed Silva of Quincy and Billy Fong of North Quincy.

Randolph has been in the EFL playoffs the last three years. Last year, under Paul Crowley, the Oilers were 10-4 and two years ago, with Scibetta at the helm, they were 9-5.

The EFL, incidentally, is rated third in the country among semi-pro leagues according to a national magazine.

Scibetta's assistant coaches are Carl Johnson, clerk of courts in Quincy, and John Murphy.

Quincy May Have Musial Senior League Team Next Year

Quincy hopes to have a team next year in the Stan Musial Senior Baseball League [South Shore Coastal League].

The league has been waiting three years for a Quincy team and next year it may become a reality.

The person responsible would be Bob Dinan, coach of the Quincy VFW Babe Ruth League team. Dinan, who has coached the VFW for the past nine years in addition to being sponsor for Quincy's Senior Babe Ruth League team [Data Services], will sponsor the team. He owns his own business, Data Services of Boston, and has offered to purchase the team uniforms.

Bob Brill of Quincy, a former minor league player and now pitching coach for the Quincy Legion team, approached Dinan about forming a team and announced that, if the team does become a reality, it will be called Quincy Bay Mariners.

"I hope we can get this team off the ground but additional money will be needed to make it happen," Brill said. "Along with the cost of uniforms, there will be equipment, umpires' fees and an entrance fee to join the league."

Brill feels the money can be raised with a little work. He plans to run a baseball advertising scorecard where businessmen and supporters can run an ad in support of the team.

Helping him with the raising of additional funds will be Dave MacMillan, a coach in the Quincy Babe Ruth League for 18 years. Brill and MacMillan feel they can make such a scorecard work. They also plan a canning drive in different locations in the city, using the slogan, "Help Bring Semi-Pro Baseball Back to Quincy".

Brill, who will coach the team, asks that anyone who would like to make a contribution to the team, or anyone who would like additional information on the team, contact him at 471-7264 or MacMillan at 471-2322.

The league has been operating on the South Shore for several years and Weymouth Town Team Monday won the state championship. It will now play in the regional tourney at Long Island, N.Y. Brintre White Sox also played in the state tourney.

Among other teams in the league are Randolph, Hanover, Rockland, Plymouth and Whitman.

2 Track Club Members Win Jesse Owens Medals

Two members of the Quincy Track Club won medals at the Jesse Owens Games at Los Angeles, Calif., and the National Youth Games in New Haven, Conn., last weekend. Ironically, the girls took the same place in the same event, the long jump.

Karen McCarthy, 14, a student at Abp. Williams who took third place the past spring in the Class B high school state meet in the 220, placed third in the long jump in the 14-15 age group in the Youth Games. Her jump of 16-8 1/2 was her best ever and a QTC record.

Sheila Barrett, 11, also took a bronze medal with a third in the 10-11 group in the Jesse Owens Games. Her leap of 12-10 1/2 was also her best ever.

"Both girls really exemplify the kind of attitude and athlete we are trying to develop and encourage on the Quincy Track Club," Coach Jeff Hennessy said. "Both were in way over their heads with outstanding competition, but each came up with a personal record to earn her medal. I'm very pleased with the performances of all the boys and girls we sent to both meets."

Several other QTC youngsters just missed placing at the Owens Games at UCLA. Denise Santo took fourth in the 12-13 long jump. George Mulry placed fourth in the 14-15 long jump, and Jack Leone took fifth in the 12-13 high jump.

Of the 10 QTC members going to California, seven placed eighth or better. There were 14 athletes, one from each of 14 major cities in the U.S., in each event.

Eight-year old Janice Libby highlighted last week's weekly QTC meet at Veterans Memorial Stadium. Janice set club records in the 220 and half mile in the nine and under group and also placed second in the high jump.

Mike Bourikas set a 10-11 record in the high jump with a 4-8 jump, breaking the mark of 4-7 set two years ago by Rich McCarthy.

Last week's field events were curtailed by rain.

The winners:

50-yard dash: 9 and under - Patty Biagini, 8-0.

220: 9 and under - Janice Libby, 37.9 [club record];

10-11 - Bernadette Murphy, 32.6; 12-13 - Jeralyn Czarniak, 31.3; 14-15 - Joanne Foley, 28.7.

Half mile: 9 and under - Janice Libby, 3:22.7 [club record]; 10-11 - Bernadette Murphy, 3:02.8; 12-13 - Linda Kennedy, 3:03.8; 14-15 - Joanne Foley, 3:04.7.

50-yard hurdles: 10-11 - Geraldine Murphy, 9.9; 12-13 - Theresa Biagini, 8.9.

Discus: 12-13 - Michelle Millane, 95-0; 14-15 - Janet Sines, 64-10.

High jump: 9 and under - Clare Murphy, 3-6 [club record]; 12-13 - Martha Donaghue, 4-2.

BOYS

50: 9 and under - Robbie Sheehan, 7.5.

220: 9 and under - Robbie Sheehan 34.5; 10-11 - Mike Bourikas, 31.6; 12-13 - John McCarthy, 32.5; 14-15 - Shawn Burnes, 26.1.

Half mile: 9 and under - Matt Killiea, 3:07.6; 10-11 - Billy Barclay, 3:03.2; 14-15 - Shawn Burnes, 2:14.7.

50-yard hurdles: 10-11 - Billy Hughes, 9.5; 12-13 - Joe Moynihan, 9.7; 14-15 - Shawn Burnes, 7.3.

Discus: 12-13 - John McCarthy, 61-6; 14-15 - Shawn Burnes, 85-8.

High jump: 9 and under - Charles McIntyre, 3-6; 10-11 - Mike Bourikas, 4-8 [club record]; 12-13 - Kevin Wood, 4-8.

Presidents Win 2 Out Of 3 In N.B. Tourney

The Quincy Presidents won two of three games played last week in the Greater New Bedford Invitational Baseball Tournament, giving them a 3-1 tournament record and keeping them in the double elimination competition.

Quincy will continue tournament play over the weekend but at press time its opponent hadn't been announced.

Quincy dropped a 4-0 decision to host team Whaling City last Thursday for its only tourney loss as it was held to one hit, that by Tom Corliss, by Mike Reis. Quincy pitcher Marty McLaughlin pitched good ball but Whaling City put together four hits in a row in the sixth inning to clinch the win. McLaughlin gave up only four hits, struck out four and walked three.

Saturday the Presidents bounced back with a vengeance as they walloped Attleboro, 10-0, behind the one-hit pitching of Jim Austin, who retired the first 15 batters he faced. He struck out nine and didn't give up a walk. He also had three hits, Glenn Oriola, McLaughlin, Frank Levesque and Billy O'Brien had two each and Dwayne Wilcoxen, Kevin Whalen and Mike Marshall one apiece.

Sunday John Balzano pitched his second tournament win over Fairhaven, 4-3. He allowed five hits, struck out six and walked three. Great defensive plays by Marshall and Balzano helped save the game. Levesque had a double and single, Whalen and Balzano each had two hits and Austin and McLaughlin had one each.

In four tournament games Quincy's pitchers have given up only 10 hits, struck out 25 and walked seven.

Executive League

Donovan's Hat Trick Sparks Hofbrau

Bob Donovan scored the hat trick and assisted on another goal to pace Hofbrau to a 7-5 win over Washington Tap in Quincy Executive Hockey League action Monday at the Youth Arena.

Other Hofbrau goals were scored by Ron Fletcher with two, Charlie Watts and Bob Sweeney. Ed Linehan had two assists and Fletcher, Sweeney and Ed Dwyer one apiece. Bob Banaster had two Washington goals and Dave Hussey, Tom Roberts and Charles Behanna one each. Sam Flynn, Banaster, John Crossman, Roberts and Paul Bausmeir had assists.

Al's Cafe nipped Sportlight Tavern, 5-4, sparked by Lee Cushing's hat trick. Bob Kallstrom and Peter Bertrand had the other goals and Cushing, Bertrand, Marty Tolson, Leo McNamara and Steve Regan had assists. For Sportlight Steve Diamond, Al Brown, Ed

McDonough and Tom Malchow. McDonough, Diamond, Brown and Al McKay had the assists.

In opening night games Washington had topped Al's, 5-3, and Hofbrau and Sportlight played to a 5-5 tie.

The league, consisting of Quincy men over 30, plays every Monday night at the Youth Arena. The league is playing an abbreviated summer schedule. Players can sign up for the winter season at the arena.

Jaycees, TV Personalities In Leukemia Benefit Softball Game

The Quincy Jaycees will play a team of television personalities from Channels 5 and 7 in a softball game tonight [Thursday] at 7:30 p.m. at Rotary Field with the receipts going to the Leukemia Society of America.

The game is dedicated to the memory of Bob McIntyre, a worker at Whiteman House, the residential facility of Survival, Inc., who died of leukemia last March at the age of 25.

Models from the Hart Agency also will participate in the benefit game, for which tickets at $1 each may be obtained at the gate or by contacting Ron Rice or Howard Rock of the Quincy Jaycees at 472-3424.

LaRaia Asks For Doors At MBTA Waiting Enclosures

Mayor LaRaia has proposed that doors be added to the waiting enclosures at the Wollaston and North Quincy MBTA stations to protect waiting commuters from inclement weather.

The proposal was made on behalf of the Mayor by his information consultant, Jeanne Umana, at a recent MBTA hearing.

The Mayor added, in a letter to Thomas Dunbar of the MBTA:

"This office has received many requests on this matter from elderly citizens and commuters who work in the Boston area, particularly in view of the severe temperatures last winter."

Badgers Quarry, S. Quincy Parking Meeting Thursday

City Councillor James A. Sheets has called a meeting in City Hall tonight [Thursday] at 7 p.m. to consider the progress and problems involved in the filling of Badger's Quarry in West Quincy.

There will also be a meeting at 8:30 p.m. with residents of Federal Ave., Goddard St., and Presidents Ave. concerning parking problems in these streets. With tow zones, he said, it is now possible to regulate the area's parking problems.

$220,374 Grant To Riverview For Energy Conservation

Riverview, the federally aided low rent housing development in Germantown, is receiving a federal grant of $220,374 for rehabilitation for purposes of energy conservation, it was announced by Cong. James A. Burke [D-Milton].

The grant from the Department of Housing and Urban Development [HUD] will be used to install new roofs, storm windows and storm doors in the 45-building project.

Squantum Debris To Be Removed

The Quincy Conservation Commission has promised to issue an order of conditions that will permit the Department of Public Works to remove rocks and trash from the Squantum waterfront on Dorchester Bay from Heath to Landsdowne Sts. DPW Commissioner Paul Anderson also promised that the rubble would be replaced by sand after several residents complained that the value of their property would decline through the loss of beach privileges.

'Truth In Taxation' Bill Filed

Rep. James A. Sheets [D-Quincy] has filed a "truth in taxation" bill that would require Boards of Assessors to hold two public hearings on municipal budgets, one prior to passage by City Councils, the second before the tax rate is set.

"The people will have no formal way to alter either the tax rate or the budget at the hearings," said Sheets, "but their awareness of what is involved in arriving at these figures will enable them to vote more intelligently."

Raymondi Commends Park Dept. For Cleanup

City Councillor Daniel G. Raymondi, who is in the midst of a campaign to get Ward 2 parks cleaned up, has commended the Park Department for its extensive cleanup and efforts in upgrading the Elm St. Playground.

He said he was particularly impressed by the fact that Park Department employees were assigned to handpick the broken glass from the playground to guarantee removal of those shards that escaped the rake.

Heavy vegetation and undergrowth along the chain link fence was cut back to eliminate a late hour hiding place for loiterers and drinkers who violate the after dark ordinance and create disturbances for the neighbors.

CETA employees have been scheduled to paint the rusted chain link fence to make the area more attractive and enhance neighboring property. The project should be completed this week.

A dead tree and several large branches have been removed to insure maximum safety for all and the section of the playground directly behind the mound has been cleaned following the grass cutting and removal of debris.

Raymondi also announced that "No Parking" signs have been installed along South St. 680 feet from the intersection of Elm St.

In addition, he said, many "Slow" signs have been painted along South St. and a yellow line has been painted in the center of the roadway going up the hill for the safety of pedestrians and motor vehicles traveling the area.

City Councillor James A. Sheets has asked the Mass Electric Co. to make a lighting survey and install new lighting on eight streets in the Bunker Hill Lane section of West Quincy.

The streets are Ellis, Ames, Montilio, Frederick and Helene Sts., Woodcliff and Adele Rds., and Wesson Ave.

Injured

Puppy Found

An eight to 10 month old German Shepherd puppy, hit by a car Monday at the intersection of Southern Artery and Merrymount Rd, has been found by Mary Ritchie of 260 Southern Artery.

The dog, which has a brown collar and no license, is currently at South Shore Animal Hospital.

The owner of the dog should call the Ritchie family at 773-2846.

estate man Leo J. Hannon Jr. and Thomas P. McHugh.

Councillors-at-large John J. Quinn and Paul D. Harold are seeking re-election but the Tobin vacancy has attracted six more candidates including Ward 6 Councillor Dennis E. Harrington, School Committeeman Francis X. McCauley and ex-Rep. Joseph E. Brett.

The others are beautician Sabina Kavanagh Stenberg, retired State Police Capt. Michael E. Faherty and UMass-Boston student Carl A. Awed Jr.

Five candidates who have never held elective office in Quincy are in the fight for the Ward 6 seat being left behind by Harrington.

Walter J. Hickey, who lost to Harrington in a recount in 1975, is back, joined by Harold J. Gallagher, Mrs. Joanne Condon, Michael F. Kelly and Patrick J. Conroy.

An unusual situation prevails in Ward 4 where incumbent James A. Sheets, who had no opposition last time out, is facing Albert Barilaro, the former councillor he defeated for the post originally in 1971.

Also in the Ward 4 race are Atty. Joseph P. McDonough and Mrs. Helen M. McDonnell, who originally took out papers to run for the at-large seat, then changed her mind and filed for Ward 4.

Ward 1 Councillor Leo J. Kelly has opposition from James F. Miller Jr., one of the leaders of the Harborview Tenants Association, and David J. Crowley Jr., son of a former city councillor of the same name.

The last to file Tuesday was Patrick J. Faherty Jr., whose entry meant that there would be a preliminary contest in Ward 2 since Councillor Daniel G. Raymond and Robert Beniers already were in the race.

Apparently, John J. Lydon Jr., the councillor from Ward 3, has a free ride into a third term since he will have no opposition on the ballot in either the preliminary or final elections.

Harold Seeks Increased Bus Service At 1000 Southern Artery

City Councillor Paul D. Harold has called upon the MBTA to increase bus service at 1000 Southern Artery from one bus every hour to one bus every half hour.

Harold, attending an MBTA hearing recently at Elks Hall, noted that buses run between Quincy Square and Weymouth Landing every half hour but that only every other bus goes by the Senior Citizens complex.

He urged that the routes down Quincy Ave. be changed

Raytheon Wins $117,927 Contract

The Quincy Raytheon plant has been awarded a $117,927 government contract and supply order by the Defense Electronics Supply Center, Dayton, Ohio.

One of five Boston-area firms to run between Quincy and Weymouth Landing by way of Southern Artery, Des Moines St. and East Howard St.

"Such a change could be made without any additional expense," he said. "It would provide better service for the 1000 Southern Artery complex, the shipyard and the new Faxon Commons without reducing service along Quincy Ave., since Quincy Ave. between East Howard and Southern Artery contains no residential areas."

to be awarded the contracts, which total $1,044,364, Raytheon will build 356 Linear microcircuits and 5,463 electron tubes for the Defense Electronics Supply Center.

Conway To Sponsor Real Estate Rally

A Homebuyers and Home Sellers Rally sponsored by the 19-office real estate firm of the Jack Conway Company will be held Wednesday evening, Aug. 24 for area residents interested in learning more about the 'ins and outs' of buying and selling real estate.

The seminar to be held from 7-9 p.m. at the Sons of Italy Social Center on Quarry St., Quincy, will address itself to the many questions and sometimes unfounded fears people have before entering into a property transaction.

A panel representing the real estate, banking, insurance and legal professions has been assembled to discuss their areas of expertise as well as answer questions from those in attendance.

The panel will include: Jack Conway, president of the Jack Conway Company; Richard Cahill, manager of Conway's Wollaston Office; Russell Smelett, senior vice president Quincy Savings Bank; Patrick O'Hearn, president Massachusetts Cooperative Bank; Lindsay Tait, president Braintree Savings Bank; Isabel Dole, general manager Northern Mortgage Company; Charles Drea, general manager and vice president Wade Insurance Agency of Scituate; Atty. Douglas Purdy, partner in the Quincy law firm of Serafini, Avitable & Purdy; and real estate attorney Richard Hynes.

Some of the questions to be answered for home sellers will be... "How do I set a price on my home?", "What's an open listing? What's an exclusive listing?", "Who pays the real estate agent's commission?", "What's the best time of the year to sell my house?"

Questions and answers of interest to homebuyers will be... "How much can I afford to spend?", "How much of a cash downpayment do I need?", "Are my VA rights still good?", "What are closing costs?", "Should I save more money or buy now?"

Seating is limited. Reservations should be made by calling 479-1500.

Brian Alosi Elected NAMD Conference Director

Brian Alosi, general manager of the South Shore Chamber of Commerce, recently attended the annual conference of the National Association of Member Directors [N.A.M.D.] in Cleveland.

Alosi was elected one of four directors for the conference; the other three represented

Portland, Ore.; San Jose, Cal., and Washington, D.C.

N.A.M.D. is composed of the largest 200 Chambers of Commerce in the United States, a main requirement for membership being that a minimum of 200 thousand people live within the area that each Chamber covers. Alosi has been a member of the organization for the past five years and was co-host for the national convention held in Massachusetts in 1974.

He lives at 33 Fuller Way in Plymouth with his wife Barbara and two children.

Michael Siukola Promoted To Corporal

Michael B. Siukola, son of Mr. and Mrs. Whelo Siukola of 111 Copeland St., West Quincy, has been promoted to corporal while serving with the Third Marine Division on Okinawa. A 1972 graduate of Quincy Vocational Tech School, he joined the Marine Corps in May, 1976.

BEWARE OF RESTRICTIONS

The courts permit property owners to put in deeds to buyers reasonable restrictions on the use of the real estate being transferred. It might be looked upon as zoning on a very personal basis.

For example, a home in a commercially zoned area may have a restriction against use for any commercial purpose. This may be OK for the first buyer who plans to live in the house, but a lending institution may refuse to loan any money on it because commercial use may be the only reason for a new purchaser to buy it. They prefer to play it safe and give funds for less questionable and risky situations.

From the point of view of the buyer, it is preferable that the agreement enumerate any and all restrictions. The point is this: If there ARE restrictions, bring them out in the open and get the advice of your Realtor or attorney before going any further. It's for your own protection.

Thinking of selling your home? It makes sense to list it with PRESIDENT REAL ESTATE, 356 Hancock St., Phone: 328-8345.

Through our nationwide network of ERA Realtors, we can help you relocate anywhere in the country.

Also, we have available a one year warranty on all plumbing, heating, mechanical, electrical systems and built-in appliances on homes that we sell.

Barron Would Like More Federal Funds For Community Action Centers

Thomas M. Barron, a candidate for Mayor, says he would like to see additional federal funds appropriated for the programs offered by the Community Action Centers so they can better serve the residents of Quincy.

Barron noted that the money used to operate the Community Action Centers comes to the city from federal grants and, as mayor, he would like to see a larger portion of the grants going to the Centers.

"These centers provide a multitude of services that the residents of Quincy have come to rely on," he said. "Unfortunately, they are in need of additional funds in order to operate at peak efficiency."

Barron said that, when elected, he would insure that qualified personnel were assigned the task of securing all available federal funds, and that the community centers would be given their full share of these monies.

He expressed enthusiasm for the Atlantic Self Help House Painting Program, calling it "one of the most important ongoing projects in the North Quincy area. It should be expanded to include as many homes as possible. This can only be accomplished by making sure the city receives its full appropriation of federal funds and the centers their fair share."

Barron said the Atlantic Community Center staff is in need of larger quarters and he promised that he "will actively search for a building in the area of the present Atlantic Community Center, which would be large enough to suit their needs."

"With prices sky-rocketing the way they are," he said, "how can anyone expect the centers to continue to operate as they have in the past. If the funds are not diverted into these centers then they will be forced to cut out some programs."

James F. Miller Jr., candidate or the Ward 1 seat on the City Council, will open his campaign headquarters at 522 Sea St., Adams Shore tonight Thursday with activities from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m.

"I feel that a centrally located headquarters will bring me closer to the people and the problems of Ward 1," said Miller, who lives in the Germantown section of the ward.

"In talking with residents it is becoming apparent that open, responsive representation is becoming increasingly important. I hope people will stop by headquarters to let us know what's on their minds and talk about what we can do to improve our city."

The Miller headquarters will be open Monday through Friday from 4 p.m. to 9 p.m. and all day Saturday.

Kelly Asks Ward 6 Police Visibility

As a result of his discussions with the residents of Ward 6, Michael J. Kelly, candidate for Ward 6 City Councilor, has contacted MDC Commissioner John Snedeker and asked him to increase police visibility and to improve the present traffic signals in the Quincy Shore Drive area.

Snedeker has confirmed the Ward 6 residents belief the area needs to be made safer, Kelly said. Snedeker told Kelly there would be greater police visibility in the area and a stricter enforcement of traffic codes.

Kelly said he was also told a study would be undertaken to determine how to best use the traffic signals in the area, and that as an initial step a new traffic signal will be placed opposite the old "Kimberley's" site at East and West Elm Aves.

Too Many Study Periods For

High School Students, Says Collins

High School students in Quincy have too many study periods, according to Mrs. Mary Collins, candidate for School Committee.

Mrs. Collins says she had found that parents are complaining that too much of their high-school age children's time is being spent in studies.

"I feel that high school students in Quincy should be more fully scheduled into classes to avoid this problem, and the inclusion of mini-courses at the high-school level can help to fill in where scheduling is difficult," she said.

Mrs. Collins said that fuller use should be made of subject resource areas in the two Quincy public high schools.

Hickey Files Ward 6 Papers

Walter J. Hickey of 155 Iuckins Ave., Squantum, has filed nomination papers to run or Ward Six City Council with the City Clerk's office.

This is Hickey's second

Council bid. In the 1975 contest he came within 141 votes of unseating the incumbent, Dennis Harrington, who is vacating the Ward 6 seat to run for councillor at-large.

Chamber Establishes Small Business Information Center

The South Shore Chamber of Commerce, in conjunction with the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston, has established a Small Business Information Center, made possible in part by a grant from the Comprehensive Employment Training Act [CETA].

Donald J. Rielly of Holbrook, who has been named director, said he sees the center as a valuable referral agency for small business owners who need guidance.

"Most small businesses are just not aware of the help available to them, and many fail as a result," he said.

The main objective of the service will be to assist these businesspeople in making their own decisions concerning the direction of their individual companies.

The most valuable asset the Center offers them, said Rielly, is a "plan for the future. That plan is available for them now through the Chamber office."

The Center provides a point of contact between new or existing businesses and the wide range of local and regional resource agencies available to assist their development in this area.

The concept was developed two years ago by Dr. William Osgood, manager of the Urban Affairs Section of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston.

Dr. Osgood claims that 50 percent of all small businesses fail within their first two years and 90 percent within 10 years. These facts, he feels, indicate a strong need for sound business advice.

A Business Planning Guide, prepared by the Federal Reserve Bank, provides a step-by-step method of guiding the small business owner through a workable business plan. The guide has already proven a useful tool for many small companies in this area.

The Center will also provide management consulting and help to develop business plans and financial proposals for South Shore companies. The Center will also maintain an extensive resource library.

There is no charge for the new service and help is available to all area businesses, whether they are Chamber members or not.

Further information may be obtained from Donald J. Rielly at the Chamber of Commerce, 479-1111.

Kelly Asks Implementation Of New Shellfish Ordinance

City Councillor Leo J. Kelly has asked the Mayor and the City Solicitor for immediate implementation of Quincy's new shellfish ordinance in the wake of a Superior Court decision validating a similar ordinance in Hingham.

The ordinance, passed by the City Council May 2 and signed by Mayor LaRaia May 24, specifies that no person shall take shellfish from mildly contaminated areas unless he or she holds a permit from the city licensing board.

In the Hingham suit, the state contended that the director of the Division of Marine Fisheries could revoke the town permits unless there was a violation of law or a threat to public health.

Harold Urges MDC Do Design Work For Town Brook Project

City Councillor Paul D. Harold has urged the MDC to take on the design work for the proposed Town Brook Flood Control Project and possibly save two years in its construction time.

"The project is under the jurisdiction of the Army Corps of Engineers," Harold acknowledged. "However, if the MDC does the design work an estimated two years could be saved in the final construction of the project."

Harold noted the MDC is already involved in the Town Brook Project since it recently completed an environmental impact study for the Corps of Engineers.

"Time is of the essence," Harold warned, "since the flood control work should be done simultaneously with the MBTA extension and the DPW's extension of Upland Rd. and the construction of Expressway ramps."

"Doing all the work at the same time would allow for the minimal amount of disruption for the people of South Quincy and would obviously save costs on the total projects."

The Language of Flowers Flower tips from Andre Moreau

If your windows have standing room only for new plants, don't despair. Good grow lights are available and so easy to install, you can garden in almost any room in your home. And you can create a new decorative look with artificial light and some ingenuity. Try functional aluminum work lights hung in clusters to cast artificial sunlight over the plant you couldn't resist or the greenery gift you didn't expect. Sulky specimens may find a few extra hours under an ordinary grow lamp excellent therapy for depression. Or your flowering plants may force out a gorgeous bloom or two with a sunny spot to go to after the sun goes down. Investigate grow lamps and brighten up your home even if your windowsills are full.

NORFOLK FLOWER SHOP, 49 Beale St., Wollaston, 472-7100 invites you to stop in and visit with us whether or not you plan on becoming a customer as you will surely find our shop displays beautiful and creative. We specialize in turning random selections of flowers into exquisite works of art. If you are planning a wedding be sure and consult with us. We can assist you in French, Italian or Spanish. Master Charge and BankAmericard honored. Hours: Mon. - Sat. 8-6, evenings by appointment.

HELPFUL HINT
If plants grow too fast and tall under lights, pinch out top growth for a fuller look. Exceptions are plants that grow with a single "trunk".

ALBERT R. FRANTELLI

'Sacco and Vanzetti weren't the two men who did the murder because they weren't the two men I saw at the fence.

'Two Other Men Did It!'

Quincy Eye Witness Sure Sacco And Vanzetti Innocent

[Albert R. Frantello, 75, of 23 Water St., South Quincy, was a witness to the holdup-murder in South Braintree on April 15, 1920, for which Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti were executed 50 years ago last Tuesday.

Frantello, who was 19 at the time of the crime and is now a retired mason, doesn't know who shot Alessandro Berardelli and Frederick Parmenter, the guard and paymaster at Slater and Morrill's shoe factory. But of one thing he is certain. Sacco and Vanzetti didn't do it.

He may have been the last person to speak to Berardelli and Parmenter before they were slain and, if he hadn't been delayed in the office, there is a possibility that he, not Parmenter, might have been carrying the payroll to the factory.

Frantello testified for the defense at the Sacco-Vanzetti trial but his testimony was discounted by Dist. Atty. Frederick Katzmann because, he believes, his parents were born in Italy.

This is Albert R. Frantello's story of what happened that day 57 years ago, as he told it to The Quincy Sun.

I was a chaser at Slater and Morrill's at the time of the holdup. Before they rack the shoes, 36 pairs to the rack, the chaser goes down to the finishing room to find the missing pairs and chase them up before that rack can leave.

I made $7.50 a week. The kids today think that $7.50 is ... what the hell, you go to the movies, I need more money. But in that day, $7.50, when you have a father making $24 a week in the stone sheds of Quincy, it helped.

On that particular day, Mr. White, the foreman, said to me, "Albert, you got to go up to the office." I said, "Okay". Anytime Mr. White wanted something done it was just human nature for him to say, "Albert, do this; Albert, do that," and I would do it.

Going up to the office I passed these two young men against the fence at Rice and Hutchins. I walked right in front of them on the sidewalk. Now, the reason you look at men who are standing outside is because you may know them. That was my reason for looking at them, to see if I recognized them.

They were both about the same height, 5-foot-4, maybe 5-foot-5. One was dark complected, black hair. I told them at the time that he could have been an Italian, a Portuguese, a Spaniard; he could have been a Russian. The other young man was Cottage Ave. To Elm-School Sts.

The Master Plan: Raze, Rebuild Half Of Downtown

By TOM HENSHAW

Mayor LaRaia will unveil Friday a comprehensive downtown master plan in six phases that calls for the eventual demolition and reconstruction of virtually half of Quincy Center from Cottage Ave. to Elm and School Sts.

It will include a new highway through the very center of downtown Quincy from Granite St., across from the old Soda Hut, through the site of the present Kincaide's building to join a reconstructed McGrath Highway on the other side of Hancock St.

It will also feature an international merchandise mart over the Hancock Parking Area, a high rise motel topped by a restaurant at the site of the present Napoli Pizza and a high rise office building on the site of the current Colman's parking lot.

The plan, designed by Planning Director L. Norman Lundin and T. Owen Trainor Associates, Inc., architects, is to be officially presented Friday at 3:30 p.m. to businessmen and other invited guests at the Quincy High School Method

Depositions Show Frequent Contact

LaRaia Furnished Info For North End Articles

Depositions on file in Suffolk Superior Court reveal that Mayor LaRaia himself was the primary source of information contained in the first two articles of a heavily pro-LaRaia series on Quincy in the Post Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Boston's North End.

The depositions also show at least 18 contacts between Mayor LaRaia and the publisher of the newspaper since the articles began last January. They include an estimated 12 telephone calls.

While the articles have heavily been strongly pro-LaRaia they have attacked his opponents, critics and the Quincy press: Former Mayors James McIntyre and Walter Hannon, Senator Arthur Tobin, considered LaRaia's biggest threat to a second term, the City Council as a whole, Dist. Atty. William Delahunt, Police Chief Francis Finn, The Patriot Ledger and The Quincy Sun.

The depositions also show that:

● J. J. Smith of Watertown, the veteran reporter who wrote the first two articles under the name Joe Alfano, subsequently bowed out of the series because "I didn't think it was too good an idea for me to pursue it... I did not want to be involved."

● Jeanne Umana, the Mayor's press secretary, also declined to participate further, saying "I had second thoughts about it in terms of the press. I felt that it was counter to what I was trying to accomplish."

● Since that time, Mrs. Phyllis Donnaruma, publisher of the Post Gazette, called LaRaia a dozen times in a period of six months to discuss "city issues," although the Mayor said that many of the issues covered in the Post Gazette's series were not among those discussed.

The depositions were taken from LaRaia, Smith, Miss Umana and Virginia Barry, the Mayor's personal secretary, in connection with a $7.5 slander suit filed by Ethnic Publishers, Inc., owners of the Post Gazette, against City Council President and Sen. Arthur H. Tobin.

The Post Gazette series, in which Mayor LaRaia is depicted as a reform mayor thwarted in his efforts by what it refers to as the Tobin-McIntyre-Hannon Machine, began running in the Jan. 28 issue of the newspaper. Copies of the Post Gazette have been distributed free in Quincy.

LaRaia testified that the first contact was made last January, when someone from the Post Gazette - he believed it to be Mrs. Donnaruma - got in touch with his office for an interview to follow up on a biography of him.

He and Miss Umana, the Mayor said, met with Mrs. Donnaruma and Smith in the office of the Post Gazette in January for about a half hour and discussed "my own background...and maybe some of the issues in the city of Quincy at the time."

He said that he had seen Mrs. Donnaruma socially about a half dozen times since then, four of them on unscheduled visits to the Post Gazette while he happened to be in the North End - "I eat in restaurants in the area. I go there for other purposes."

LaRaia said they spoke of "things that might be happening socially, things that might be happening politically...such as the tax rate in the city of Quincy and some of the things I've been trying to do in

LaRaia Sees Under $5 Tax Hike

Mayor LaRaia says he expects that the assessors will be prepared by the end of August to set the tax rate for 1978 and it probably will be an increase of less than $5 over the $194.80 rate of last year.

He said the state department of corporations and taxation probably will approve the rate a day or two later, if the City Council resolves pending financial matters at its special meeting Thursday.

Earlier, the Mayor has forecast a tax rate increase of less than $7.

"We've got a better grip on the costs now," he said. "We have a better knowledge of what the revenues are. I'd say that revenues are going to increase but the figures won't be ready until a week from now."

Special Council Meeting Thursday

Council President Arthur H. Tobin has called a special meeting of the City Council tonight (Thursday) to take up a 51-item agenda that includes a $1.5 million bond issue for reconstruction of streets and a $1.3 million bond issue for the Water Department for mains, hydrants and meters.

Mrs. Angelo Pinto Receives Commendation For Rescue

Mrs. Angelo Pinto of 601 Quincy Shore Drive, Wollaston, has received a commendation for meritorious service from the city for her rescue of a drowning 52-year-old man Aug. 8.

"Mrs. Pinto serves as an example to all of us," said Mayor LaRaia. "I take great pride in meeting a woman whose quick-wittedness and capability have saved the life of another human being."

LaRaia Urges Dukakis Sign Shellfish Control Legislation

Mayor LaRaia has urged Gov. Dukakis to sign immediately legislation that would permit cities and towns to control the taking of clams from contaminated beds which are now regulated by the state.

"It is my understanding that local control will be allowed in a city or town if that city or town develops a shellfish conservation and management plan which is approved by the state," said the mayor in a letter to the governor.

"Since Quincy employs a full-time clam warden as well as a fully staffed Public Health Department I feel that our city can work in conjunction with the state to insure that any contaminated clams will be purified in a proper manner."

LaRaia noted that the city pays an assessment for the purification of clams at the state plant in Newburyport and "it seems only right and just that Quincy should be able to control the taking of shellfish from our boundaries."

"I also feel that resident clam diggers in our community should be protected and guided by laws created by the city of Quincy."

Bradford St. Playground Being Cleaned Of Debris

Ward 2 Councillor Daniel Raymond, announces a Park Department work force has been assigned to the Bradford St. Playground to clean the entire area of glass and debris.

A new steel support pipe on the swing set was installed to replace the one missing due to vandalism. The new support post guarantees maximum safety to the children utilizing the facility.

Forestry personnel have cut back the lower branches of a tree that had grown over into an adjacent yard.

At Raymond's request, a chain-link net was installed for tennis. Previously a new nylon net had been installed with a racket-type post, but had to be removed because of vandalism.

The height of an existing chain-link fence at property abutting the playground will be extended to preclude easy access to children cutting through the yards.

Quincy police have been requested to make periodic checks in the area, especially during the evening hours, and more frequent cleanups have been scheduled.

September 1978 Deadline

LaRaia Promises NQHS Addition To Open On Time

Mayor LaRaia has assured concerned North Quincy parents that the addition to North Quincy High School "will be completed for occupancy by the scheduled date of September, 1978."

The Mayor urged city officials to "work collectively and in harmony to insure the completion of the addition according to schedules set down by the School Department and the construction management firm."

Last week, City Council President Arthur H. Tobin, who is LaRaia's opponent for Mayor, indicating that work is 65 days behind schedule, asked that weekly progress reports be filed with the City Clerk.

The original completion date, specified in the contract, was June 1, 1978, with students scheduled to be in the addition on Sept. 1. The new completion date is July 20, which is 50 days behind schedule and the contractor claims a more realistic figure is 65 days.

"Problems have arisen in the past," said the Mayor, "when all parties involved worked to overcome these difficulties for the ultimate benefit of the students and the North Quincy constituency."

"Last September, relocating plant equipment posed a problem, but it was resolved successfully. I am confident we will resolve other problems arising in meeting deadline in the course of the construction."

"Through the cooperation of the construction management firm, school officials, the Public Works Department and construction firm, we have managed to meet the September 1977 opening date for the Merrymount School addition."

Mayor LaRaia pointed to what he called "successful accomplishments thus far in the plans to build the addition to North Quincy High School."

"The double dilemma of closing the school down and busing students to Quincy High School was resolved by this office with the cooperation of local and state officials, including the City Council," he said.

"Most importantly, the school remained open and useful during this construction period, avoiding extra cost and inconvenience."

"A consultant management firm was hired upon unanimous agreement of the City Council, school officials and union leaders."

Noting charges of waste in construction costs, the Mayor said:

"As a city councillor, I opposed the construction of an entirely new facility which would replace the existing one, a project which would have cost the taxpayer a conservative $30 million."

"Instead, I proposed and fought for the alternative of an addition which would cost the taxpayer only half that amount, $16.1 million in total."

"Most importantly, I feel we have satisfied both the taxpayers' concerns and those of the parents and school officials involved."

Special Courses For Women Offered At Quincy Junior College

The Women's Center at Quincy Junior College announces that courses of particular interest to women are being offered by the Division of Continuing Education for the fall semester at Quincy Junior College. Among them:

"A Survey of Women Writers: Images of Women in Literature" will be taught by Alicia Coletti, Women's Center Director. The course will include reading and discussion of the female experience as it is reflected in such authors as Virginia Woolf, Dorothy Parker, Carson McCullers, Mary McCarthy, Joyce Carol Oates, Sylvia Plath and Doris Lessing. Through novels, plays and poetry, images of women as they are portrayed in literature will be analyzed for their meaning to women today. This course may be taken for 15 weeks to earn three credits or for 10 weeks for no credit.

"Woman: The Competent Consumer" will be taught by Linda Dixon, a former personnel manager and marketing director who has presented similar programs to professional, educational and financial institutions. This eight-week course is designed for the woman who wants to increase her skill and confidence in managing her own finances. Major areas of financial management which will be explored are: Banking, Credit, Insurance, Housing and Investments.

"Career Planning and Goal Setting for Women" will be co-led by Laurie Handlers and Toby Felton staff members at Quincy Junior College who have given seminars and workshops for the Women's Center. This 12-session course is designed for those persons entering the job market or changing careers. Participants will have the opportunity to explore needs analysis, decision making skills, goal identification and values clarification.

The latter two courses are non-credit and are open to anyone regardless of previous educational background.

Two other off-campus courses of interest to women will be offered in September:

"Roles of Women in Society" at Hingham and "Assertiveness Training" at Norwood.

All courses begin the week of Sept. 12 and registration begins Monday, Aug. 29 at Quincy Junior College. Further information may be obtained by calling Dean Mula at 471-9200 or 471-2470.

The Women's Center was set up by the Quincy School Committee in January of 1977 to serve as a resource center that would offer information guidance and support in the areas of counseling, education, employment, health and legal services, volunteer opportunities and personal needs. The Women's Center offers courses, workshops, testing and scholarships for women and men, students and non-students. It will reopen Monday Sept. 12 and will be open from 10 to 3 Mondays and Wednesdays, from 9 to 12 Tuesdays and Thursdays on Tuesday evenings from 7 to 9. Beginning Sept. 12 more information concerning the Women's Center may be obtained by calling 479-8445.

KEEP BEDROOM DOOR CLOSED
Proper ventilation at night does not mean leaving the bedroom door wide open. According to insurance experts who have seen thousands of insurance claims due to fire, this misapprehension is responsible for hundreds of fire-related fatalities every year.

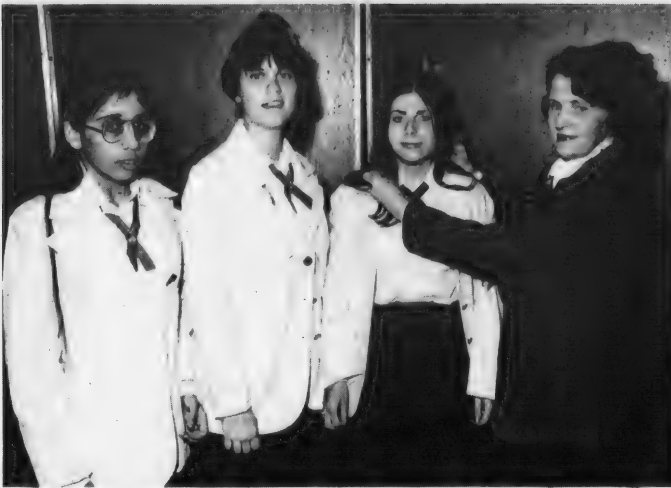

Heat rises and during a fire, superheated air and combustion gases, ranging from 800 degrees to 1,000 degrees, quickly flood the upper half of a house. These lethal gases pour through open bedroom doors and asphyxiate the sleeping occupants.

In 1946, sixty one people died in a fire in the La Salle Hotel in Chicago, one of the country's worst hotel fires. Most of the deaths were due to toxic gases—not burns. When the flames were quenched, officials noted that the fire had gutted only the upper rooms where doors had been left open. Those with closed doors were untouched.

"Go to sleep with the windows open and the bedroom door closed," say the fire experts. "And even if you're traveling abroad where air conditioning may be non-existent, never leave the transom of your hotel door open."

Roland (Pop) Josselyn, 93 'Always Young At Heart'

"To live 93 years is an accomplishment in itself; to live 93 years and at the end call together family and friends in this way is an indication of the worth of this life to others."

With those words of eulogy from the Rev. Alicia Corea, the body of Roland K. [Pop] Josselyn, the grand old man of Houghs Neck, was laid to rest in Knoll Wood Memorial Park in Canton.

A resident of 64 Mears Ave., Houghs Neck, he died Thursday [Aug. 18] in a Scituate nursing home at the age of 93 after a long illness.

"Pop was one of the most ardent and enthusiastic promoters of Houghs Neck as the best place in all the world to live," said the Rev. Mrs. Corea during funeral services Saturday [Aug. 20] in Houghs Neck Congregational Church.

"Even though he was born in Georgia and proud of it, his heart was here, where he shared most of his life and where he and his dear wife raised their family."

"He had a treasure of photographs and remembrances of the early days and he readily shared them with the Quincy Historical Society in its quest for historical artifacts."

"Always young at heart, Pop gave hundreds of hours to the Cub Scouts and the Boy Scouts of Pack 6 and Troop 6, sponsored by the church."

"Even while he was in the hospital, very ill, hardly able to speak, he responded with cheer when the Scout program was mentioned."

"And one of the most lasting and clearest memories for those of us involved in scouting will be the pictures he always took at the annual scout dinners."

"In the early records of the church, his name appears again and again as a builder. He served, too, in many of the offices of the church organization, being elected at last to its highest position, that of deacon emeritus."

"We are grateful for all the goodness and value of this life and we know that if Pop could speak to us today it would be in good cheer. He would, I hope, rejoice that we have come together here and that we represent all that made life meaningful throughout his long years on earth."

Mr. Josselyn's great granddaughter, Laurie MacDonald, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William MacDonald of 64 Mears Ave., sang "In the Garden" at the funeral. It was his favorite hymn.

During his working life, Mr. Josselyn was a carpenter for the Eastern Mass Street Railway, a joiner at the Fore River Shipyard during World War I and a metal worker for the Frank Curry Construction Co. of Boston. He retired to self-employment.

He was active in the Houghs Neck Congregational Church for more than 50 years and was former chaplain and recording secretary of the Mt. Wollaston Lodge of Odd Fellows.

He was a registered Boy Scout for more than three decades and cubmaster of Pack 6 for six years. As a member of the Historical Society, he was historian on Houghs Neck and in 1959 he was presented the Houghs Neck "Good Neighbor" award.

Mr. Josselyn leaves two sons, Roland K. Josselyn Jr. of Quincy and Gilbert C. Josselyn of Hull; two daughters, Myrtle Ermonian of Quincy and Louise Smullen of Cohasset; 11 grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

His wife was the late Mertie E. [Tillson] Josselyn.

John Veliotis, 26, Killed In Shipyard Crane Accident

John Veliotis, 26, cousin of P. Takis Veliotis, general manager of the strike-bound General Dynamics Quincy Shipyard, was killed Monday when the crane he was operating fell 60 feet to the bottom of a shipbuilding basin at the yard.

Young Veliotis, a supervisor, had worked at the Yard for about a year after having worked at offshore drilling rigs in Texas and Scotland and studying naval engineering in London, England.

Supervisory personnel have been carrying on some of the shipbuilding work during the strike of 5,000 members of the Shipbuilding Workers Union that started July 17.

Veliotis, a distant cousin of the general manager, leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Tanayotis Veliotis of Piraeus, Greece, and a sister, Ida.

Services will be held today at St. Catherine's Greek Orthodox Church, W. Easton.

Quincy Cancer Crusade Reaches $20,384 Mark

Richard J. Koch, general chairman of the 1977 Quincy Cancer Crusade Drive, announces that as of Aug. 18, a total of $20,384.75 had been received in all categories of the Quincy Drive with the goal of $25,750 almost 80 percent reached.

The largest amount in Quincy was from Memorial Gifts with $8,500 received through the August date.

The house to house campaign conducted in April has netted $8,000 with the goal $8,500.

Other areas of receipts include business and industry, special gifts, clubs and organizations and special events.

A number of kits from the house-to-house canvas conducted in April have not been returned by volunteers. Those persons who have not been contacted by a volunteer and may wish to donate should make checks payable to the American Cancer Society and mail to the Massachusetts Division, 47 West Elm St., Brockton, Mass. 02401.

Koch noted that 88.7 percent of the cancer society budget is expended in research, education and patient services while only 4.4 is allowed for management, and 6.9 percent spent on fund raising.

Volunteers have distributed more than three million pieces of literature and posters in Massachusetts in an effort to increase public awareness of the health safeguards urged by the American Cancer Society.

Nearly 4.5 million dollars in research funds are currently in effect here in Massachusetts through the American Cancer Society program. Last year, $8,429 was received in the house-to-house canvas in Quincy with this years' goal, $10,000.

The Language of Flowers
Flower tips from
Andre Moreau

If the opportunity presents itself, go down to the sea for sea shells and come up with some nifty planters for mini-bouquets. Or use old pill bottles, salt or pepper shakers, demitasse cups or vanilla bottles beside your salad plates or wine glasses. Think several small arrangements for your dinner party instead of the traditional center piece. A few sprigs from your potted begonias or African violets, some interesting leaves from your coleus or textured foliage plants make charming tiny bouquets. They do not take up any space and add a cheerful touch to any table. Or try one on your hors d'oeuvre tray in a large clam shell. There is no end to the effects you can dream up if you think small and use your houseplants and containers in a creative way.

Our staff at NORFOLK FLOWER SHOP, 49 Beale St., Wollaston, 472-7100 is very creative to rely on us for all your floral and plant needs. We invite you to stop by and visit with us awhile whether or not you plan on buying. We would like to get to know you and have you learn all about us. Daily hospital deliveries. Depositions Show LaRaia, North End Newspaper In Frequent Contact

Quincy...the progress we're making."

After the first article appeared, the Mayor said, Miss Umana told him it was her opinion that she should no longer be involved with the Post Gazette.

Question, by Frederic N. Hallstrom, Tobin's attorney: "Did you have a conversation with Jeanne Umana relating to the first article in the Post Gazette on Jan. 28, 1977 in its attack against the Quincy Sun newspaper, as well as Sen. Tobin?"

Answer, by LaRaia: I don't recall specifically discussing with her the article regarding any one person. I may have discussed the article in general.

Q: What was that conversation?

A: I wouldn't recall. I would just think it would be natural that I would comment on any articles in the paper where my name was included.

Q: Would it be fair to say Jeanne Umana informed you she didn't want anything to do with the articles appearing in the Post Gazette in the future because she thought they would be detrimental to...

A: Yes.

Q: Is it fair to say that after that, you acquiesced to her request? That she had no further contact with the Post Gazette?

A: I don't follow that. I'm sorry.

Q: After the first article appeared in the Post Gazette in Jan. 28, 1977, Jeanne Umana had a conversation with you regarding that article, did she not? You just testified to that.

A: Yes.

Q: During the course of that conversation, she indicated to you that she no longer wanted to be involved with the Post Gazette because she thought that the type of article that was being written was being detrimental to her efforts to help you with your contacts with the local Quincy press, is that correct?

A: Yes. Her attitude was trying to build a relationship with the press in Quincy, and that was just her professional opinion, her attitude towards any news that did not appear objective of matters concerning city business.

Q: So she made a request of you that she no longer be required to have contact with the Post Gazette, is that correct?

A: Not a request. She just gave an opinion.

After a discussion of Miss Umana's involvement with other news outlets, Hallstrom asked:

Q: Is it fair to say that after this conversation with Jeanne Umana, you became the liaison with the Post Gazette?

A: Not on any routine basis.

Q: Did you cause anyone to become a liaison between your office and the Post Gazette after your conversation at the end of January with Jeanne Umana?

A: Other than the press secretary and any other person that had press releases that had to be sent out in their field of activity in the city. I wouldn't have any reason to discuss matters with any news media.

Smith's recollection of the first meeting in the Post Gazette office, which he estimated lasted an hour, went like this:

"It was a review of the situation in Quincy since the Mayor has taken over. We discussed various incidents involving specific coverage of his administration in the Quincy Sun and the Patriot Ledger.

"We discussed various incidents in which the City Council seemingly had wilfully road-blocked progress for his administration. We discussed the needed recount when there was an apparent hanky-panky in counting of the votes in the mayoralty election.

"There were questions by Mrs. Donnaruma. There were questions by myself; and, in general, we discussed his administration to that point."

Question, by Hallstrom: Did you keep notes of that meeting?

Answer, by Smith: I had kept notes of that meeting.

Q: Where are the notes?

A: I very, very rarely retain notes beyond when I write a story. I've been in the news business for better than three decades. I've never been sued. I've never had a question of intent or expressions of twisting the news or anything else in terms of deliberate fabrication or anything like that, so I rarely keep notes.

Q: After the Mayor and his press secretary left, did you then have a conversation with Mrs. Donnaruma?

A: Right.

Q: Tell us, as best you can recall, what you said and what she said.

A: Well, we discussed the thrust of the thing, and I indicated to her - incidentally, I took the notes. She didn't take notes. I indicated to her that I felt obligated to her to do the story because I had been doing quite a few stories for her over the past three or four years, and that I didn't know what the thrust of this particular meeting was about, but that now that I did know what it was about, I didn't think it was too good an idea for me to pursue it - that I would not write stories under my own byline because I had an obligation to her to do it - a moral obligation not a financial one - that I would do the stories resulting from the notes that I took there, but that, henceforth, I did not want to be involved.

Q: Did you ever have any other meetings or contacts with Mayor LaRaia other than the meeting you've already told us about in January of '77?

A: I've never had another meeting. That's not to say I may not have bumped into him in the Post Gazette office, but I've never had another meeting with him.

Smith said his use of the name Joe Alfano on the articles was not unusual since "that byline was in effect long before I had any relationship with the Post Gazette. During the period I wrote stories under Joe Alfano, other stories appeared in the paper under Joe Alfano."

He took umbrage at the implication that there was anything wrong with the use of a pen-name, adding that he resented the fact that his subpoena was sent to his home addressed to J. J. Smith, alias Joe Alfano.

LaRaia said he talked to Mrs. Donnaruma on the telephone for the last time a week before the deposition was taken on July 15.

Question, by Hallstrom:

What did she say and what did you say in that conversation with Phyllis Donnaruma, as best you can recall it today? Seeing as it was only a week ago.

Answer, by LaRaia: I'm sure she asked me some questions on city issues, I can't think right now exactly - what the conversation was about. Give me some time. I'll think about it.

Q: Sir, take all the time you need.

A: I don't know. I don't honestly recall exactly the subject of the conversation.

Q: When did she call you prior to that and get a hold of you?

A: Three weeks ago prior to that.

Q: Tell us as best you can, what she said and what you said in that conversation.

A: She more than likely asked me about issues in the city or current events.

Q: Three weeks ago was approximately June 24 or June 17. During those weeks.

A: Yes.

Q: Would it refresh your memory if I suggested that she asked you about your citizen's committee?

A: Yes. The police; yes. Right.

Q: Did you then shortly thereafter that conversation have occasion to read about that story in the Post Gazette, specifically the June 17, 1977 editions?

A: I don't recall reading that edition you refer to. Regarding citizen's committee?

Q: Yes.

A: I don't know what was in the paper.

Q: In the last six or seven months, have you been receiving or viewing the Post Gazette on a regular basis, weekly basis?

A: I would say on a catch as you can. If I come across a paper, I'll look at it.

Q: Going back to the telephone conversations you had with Phyllis Donnaruma; a dozen or so in the last six or seven months. The latest was approximately a week ago. The one before that was approximately three weeks ago. When was the one before that?

A: Maybe a couple of weeks prior to that.

Q: Is it fair to say that the conversations have been more or less on a two or three-week basis? Every two or three weeks she calls you?

A: Yes.

Q: Is it fair to say, sir, that every two weeks she calls you on the telephone and asks you for information on what's happening in Quincy and in your campaign? Is that true?

A: No. Not in every instance.

Q: Is it fair to say that what happened in the majority of instances that she calls you on the telephone?

A: Yes.

Q: Does Mrs. Donnaruma,

when she calls you on the telephone, ask you what happened at City Council meetings?

A: No.

Q: Has she ever asked you, in the dozen or so times you talked to her over the telephone when she calls you, about City Council meetings, what transpired?

A: She may have. I don't recall specifically.

Q: Have you ever talked to her on any of those 12 occasions that she's called you, about Sen. Tobin or Councilman Tobin and his campaign against you for Mayor?

A: No.

Q: Have you ever talked to her, on these 12 occasions when she called you, about various people who you appointed who are reported to be under indictment?

A: No.

Q: Has she ever talked with you about the graveyard scandal, the alleged graveyard scandal, on any of these 12 conversations she had with you?

A: No.

Q: Has she ever spoken to you on these 12 occasions about the media coverage you've been getting from the Patriot Ledger and the Quincy Sun?

A: No.

Hallstrom also queried LaRaia about the distribution of the Post Gazette in Quincy.

Q: Has Mrs. Donnaruma ever solicited your aid in distributing the Post Gazette in the city of Quincy?

A: No.

Q: Has she ever asked you where you would like the Post Gazette to be distributed in the city of Quincy?

A: No.

Q: Do you know of any of your aides distributing within the city of Quincy the Post Gazette...

A: No.

Q: ...when it contains articles favorable to yourself?

A: I answered no.

Q: Have you ever caused Mr. Anderson [DPW Commissioner Paul Anderson] to distribute Post Gazette which contained articles favorable to yourself?

A: No.

Q: Have you ever ordered reprints from the Post Gazette of articles favorable to yourself?

A: No.

Q: Do you plan on ordering reprints?

A: Very possibly in the future.

Q: And you expect to pay for those reprints, of course?

A: Please explain what you mean by pay for the reprints. Anything that we keep in our scrapbook, it's very possible we reprint it. I'm not saying we will, but it's possible.

The LaRaia scrapbook and his appointment book also were subpoenaed but Miss Umana and Miss Barry failed to bring them, on the particular day.

Pop

Pop tried, but he didn't quite make it.

Everyone who lived in or anywhere near Houghs Neck knew Roland Josselyn as Pop. He was their friend, unofficial mayor of Houghs Neck and ambassador of good will all in one.

Three years ago in June, most of Houghs Neck turned out to honor him at an open house at the home of his granddaughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. William MacDonald of 1109 Sea St.

Pop, who at that time was still climbing ladders, painting and patching roofs, and pedaling a bicycle, was celebrating his 90th birthday. I've seen men 45 who looked or acted older.

Pop, of course, was asked the inevitable question: Do you have a formula for longevity?

"Yep," he replied. "It's simple. Don't drink. Don't smoke. And don't worry. Most of the things you worry about don't happen anyway."

What about diet? Was he careful about what he ate?

"Nope," he said with a devilish twinkle in his eye. "Eat all you want. I eat everything that comes by me. If it's edible, I eat it and enjoy it."

There were a number of signs posted in the MacDonald yard for Pop's birthday party that day. A quite appropriate one proclaimed Pop "Houghs Neck's best friend."

He was, indeed that. He loved Houghs Neck and its people. Especially the youngsters to whom he gave so much of his time and understanding in scouting.

Another sign reminded all attending that on June 29, 1984 Pop would celebrate his 100th birthday.

"But it won't be held here," said MacDonald. "We'll need Boston Garden for that one."

Pop asked everybody to be sure to remember the date: June 29, 1984.

Pop looked like a pretty good bet that day to make it to the century mark.

But he fell seven years short. Last week Pop died at a nursing home. He had been doing well until a year ago when the odds really started running against him.

Houghs Neck -- and Quincy -- will never be quite the same again. His kind can't come along often enough.

But Pop will really live on beyond the century mark as long as there are youngsters and boy scouts. Donations in his memory are being sent to Troop 6, Houghs Neck Congregational Church.

Pop never had much money during his 93 years. But he was the richest man in friends you could ever meet.

MANY DONATIONS in memory of Elvis Presley, whose sudden death has been attributed to heart disease, have been received by the Southeast Massachusetts Division of the American Heart Association. Monies contributed to the Heart Association provide ongoing programs of Research, Public Education and Community Service.

Those wishing to make a contribution in memory of the rock and roll star to aid in the battle against premature death resulting from diseases of the heart and blood vessels, may send contributions to HEART, 375 Westgate Drive, Brockton, MA 02401.

All contributions will be immediately acknowledged to the Presley family in Memphis.

HISTORIC NOTE: You no doubt know that Dr. Nathaniel S. Hunting, long-time member of the Quincy School Committee was the man for whom the Nathaniel S. Hunting School is named. But did you know that he was the physician who operated unsuccessfully at Quincy City Hospital on Frederick Parmenter, the paymaster shot in the Sacco-Vanzetti case?

ELECTION DEPT: This year's preliminary mayoral race marks the second time Joseph LaRaia and George Tull have run against one another. Both were candidates for the City Council from Ward 2 in a 10-man preliminary contest in 1959. LaRaia topped the field with 636 votes. Tull was sixth with 118.

HE'S QUITE A strong political figure today but does anyone remember when James Sheets ran for an at-large seat on the City Council in 1969 and finished last among eight candidates in the preliminary election? Four years later, Sheets upset incumbent Albert Barilaro to win the Ward 4 seat. And, of course, this year Barilaro is trying to win it back.

A RECEPTION FOR Ward 5 Councillor Warren Powers is set for Thursday, Sept. 15 [starting at 5 p.m.] at the Neighborhood Club, Glendale Rd. Tickets [$25 per] may be obtained from Alfred Grazioso.

very thin, blond hair, blond features. To me, I said he looked like a Finn or a Swede.

Going up to the office, I passed Berardelli and Mr. Parmenter coming down the stairs. Berardelli was the guard and Mr. Parmenter was the paymaster. He made up the payroll.

Once in a while, Mr. White used to have me carry down the payroll. It didn't mean nothing. Somebody had to do it. If Mr. Parmenter was busy he'd call Mr. White and he'd say, "Mr. White, send someone up for the payroll."

That particular day, coming down the stairs, Mr. Parmenter said to me, "When you get through talking to Miss Mahoney, you can catch up with me and I'll come back." Berardelli said to me coming down the stairs, "Al, don't forget you're coming down to my house tomorrow night," because his pup had two Boston terriers and I was to get one. I says, "Okay, I'll be down."

I got the message from Miss Mahoney to bring back to Mr. White at the factory. She kept me up in the office for two or three minutes. I could have been the one that was dead that day.

Coming down from the office, I got halfway across the railroad tracks in the open. Levangie was right there. He was the gate tender who let the gates down when the train was coming. He was working for the railroad.

When Mr. Parmenter and Berardelli passed these two boys I had seen against the fence, they turned around. The dark complexioned fellow shot Berardelli two or three times in the neck.

Mr. Parmenter ran across the street because at the time there was 25 or 30 laborers digging a cellar for a restaurant. At that time they didn't have diggers, it was all pick and shovel.

Mr. Parmenter fell on the sidewalk. This fair-haired fellow, which I said was a Finn or a Swede, he was the one that shot Mr. Parmenter. He grabbed the bag.

In the meantime, the car was coming down. Now that car didn't come up by itself. It had a chauffeur. It came up from in back of Slater and Morrill's. I can't understand at this time why Hans Fritz, who was Slater's chauffeur, didn't recognize them. That car must have been right beside him when he was cleaning the owner's car. Maybe he didn't look at them. But there was no testimony from him in regards to that car.

When the car came up, the one that killed Mr. Parmenter, the one that ran across the street, he got in on the right side of the car. The one that killed Berardelli got in the left side of the car.

When they were just beyond the crossing, I heard zing! zing! and I knew they were bullets they were shooting at me. I couldn't duck. I was frozen right there. Levangie, he got into the shed when they were shooting at him. In the meantime, they're throwing tanks out of the car.

In those days, you put down dingaling curtains. When the car went by, he was going at a pretty good clip. I don't know who the driver was. I didn't see the driver because the car was coming too fast.

When the car passed I ran across the street and I was the first one there at the guard, Berardelli. I picked him up and I had my hand under his neck, the way you ordinarily try to pick someone up. I know enough about that even though I was only 19. Kids today at 14 are just about the same as kids were at 19 in those days. Berardelli was spitting up blood. When I took my hand away there was blood all over my arm.

People started coming up. A fellow from the leather room, he was the first one up. He said, "Tell me, what happened? What's wrong? Gee, we thought it was you." They knew that once in a while I took the payroll down. I said, "No, it was the paymaster and the guard. Did you see?" They said, "Yes."

A few nights after, I was taken by the chief of police to the town hall jail. He made me come up to see if I could identify Sacco. Mrs. Sacco was there with their 3-months-old child. She looked at me and she said, "My husband didn't do this." I looked at Sacco and I said, "You're right. He didn't. That isn't the man I saw at the fence."

I didn't know Sacco. I had no reason for saying he didn't do it, except that he wasn't the one that I saw that did it. That was the only reason.

When Sacco opened his mouth, his mouth was filled with gold teeth. Even downstairs in the jail I could see that. When they were talking I would have seen it then because it was prominent.

Maybe a few weeks went by and they picked up Vanzetti on a street car in Bridgewater. They took me over to Dedham. They wanted to know if I recognized him. I said, "No, that wasn't one of the men I saw standing against the fence that did the killing."

I was a defense witness at the trial. In my testimony, I said that I saw those two men when I passed them. I saw them turn around and kill the paymaster and the guard when I was coming back. They were shooting at me when the car went by. I didn't know the two that was against the fence. But they wasn't Sacco and Vanzetti.

Well, Mr. Katzmann, he was the state's attorney, he said to me, "Where were you born?" I says, "Quincy". He says, "Where were your parents born?" My father was born just outside of Rome. My mother was born in Florence. He looked at Judge Thayer. "I have no further questions for this witness, your honor."

In my mind now, he was trying to impress the jury with the fact that I was an Italian and I was trying to help the other two Italians. All he kept doing was bringing up that I was an Italian, even though I was born in Quincy and I was an American.

There was a woman up on the third floor of the factory. This was brought out in court. The car was going by, say 25 miles an hour. The curtains are down. She actually could look out of that window and see Sacco and Vanzetti in the back seat of that car? It's impossible. Her testimony was taken. My testimony, just because my parents came from Italy, I was for the Italians.

I liked Berardelli. I liked Mr. Parmenter. I had dealings with them in my line of work. In fact, the next night Berardelli was going to give me that Boston terrier. If Sacco and Vanzetti were the two that I saw at the fence, I would have said right away quick that those are the murderers because that was cold-blooded murder.

I think the Governor [Dukakis] did what I would have liked to have seen him do. Now, he's not an Italian. He's a Greek. But, all these years, he knows there's something wrong with this case. Give him credit. What he did exonerated the family so that they wouldn't have this over their heads. It makes me feel good.

I sent a letter to the editor of the Herald. I thanked Governor Dukakis for doing what should have been done a good many years ago. But then this guy came out Sunday, the juror [Harry King of Millis], he kind of aggravated me, saying that the jury and Judge Thayer did all right.

They did all right in this sense: They killed two innocent men. If you call that all right, that's all right. But it wasn't the two that did the holdup."

QUINCY'S YESTERDAYS By Tom Henshaw

8 Candidates For Governor Invade Area

It was difficult to get about Quincy without stumbling over a candidate in the September state primary elections.

No less than eight potential Democratic nominees for governor showed up at the annual clambake put on by the Quincy Democratic City Committee and the Democratic Women's Club of Quincy at the Weymouth Fairgrounds.

They included State Secretary Joseph D. Ward, Atty. Gen. Edward J. McCormack Jr., Auditor Thomas J. Buckley, Lt. Gov. Robert Murphy, Gabriel Piemonte, Patrick J. [Sonny] McDonough, Endicott Peabody and Francis E. Kelly.

Rep. James R. McIntyre [D-Quincy] was toastmaster of the affair and Rep. Joseph E. Brett [D-Quincy] represented Gov. Foster Furcolo, who was seeking the nomination to oppose Republican Sen. Leverett Saltonstall.

Sen. Charles W. Hedges [R-Quincy], the GOP candidate for sheriff of Norfolk County, was the guest of honor at a cookout at the home of Mrs. Claire Nelson of 32 Briggs St., Wollaston.

And George G. Burke, a candidate for the state legislature, told a house party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barry, 31 Hunt St., Atlantic, that "a man should not run for public office if he is not qualified."

MORRISSEY WINS OPENER

Don Aikens ran for two touchdowns and Jim Girouard passed for two more as the semi-pro Morrissey Club of Quincy opened its second football season with a 28-12 victory over the Fort Devens Hornets before 5,000 at Veterans Memorial Stadium.

The lineups for Coach Dan Mahoney's team included:

Ends Paul Callahan and Fred Dennen, tackles George Dugas and Charlie Faletra, guards Tom Lyons and Bill Donahue, center Jack MacDougall and backs Jim Girouard, Donnie Aikens, Johnny Player and Mike Antonio on offense.

Ends Alan Lehon and Joe Cassieri, tackles Jan Sikora and Phil Parsons, guard Sid Wolfe, linebackers Paul Gosselin, Terry Dunn and Al Stivaletta, and backs Bill Maxwell and Jack Thrower on defense.

ANCIENT PUMPER CLAIMED

Richard Williams of Pompano Beach, Fla., a former Quincy firefighter, returned to his home town to lay claim to ownership of Granite III, the 116-year-old handtub pumper in storage at the Houghs Neck Fire Station.

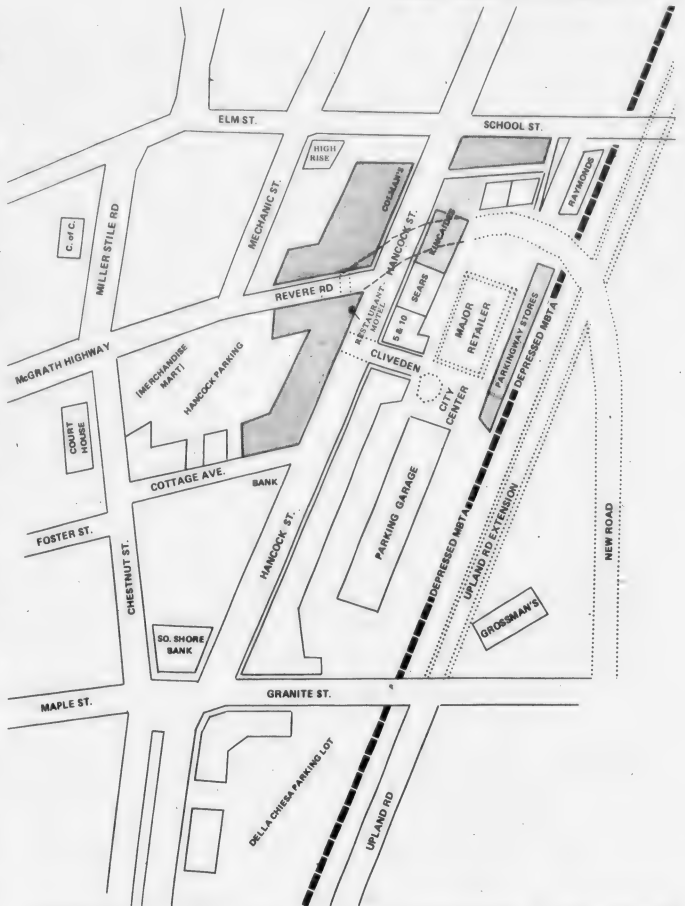

Williams said Granite III was purchased in 1844, not by the city but with money raised by the call firemen of the old Granite Co. Williams' father was the last marshal of the Granite Co.

The Florida man said he wanted to restore the old pumper and place it in a suitable location.

DOWNTOWN PLAN to be announced by Mayor LaRaia Friday will include: A new road from Granite St. through the site of the Kincaide's building to join with McGrath Highway at Revere Rd.; a new major retail store; a high rise motel-restaurant; an international merchandise mart in the Hancock Parking Area; a 'city center' focal point at Cliveden St. Shaded areas indicate buildings and blocks that are scheduled to be torn down.

Center.

It has been kept a deep, dark secret by the LaRaia administration but The Sun has learned that it will include these features:

- Phase one calls for a new road starting at Granite St., crossing the Grossman-Turnstyle area and ending at the rear of Kincaide's. It includes a major intersection with the proposed Upland Rd. Extension.

- The Parking-garage Building will be torn down and the old Gilchrist's Building also will be demolished to be replaced with a new structure to house a major retail store, as yet unnamed, plus additional terraced parking.

- A "city center," or focal point of the development west of Hancock St. will be located on the second level where Cliveden St. enters the Ross Parking Area. The parking garage will remain and new stores will be added to the rear of those facing Hancock St.

- In Phase 2, the Kincaide's building will go and the new road will cut through, crossing Hancock St. to join a widened Revere Rd. and McGrath Highway. The road will turn to avoid taking the Sears Roebuck building.

- Stores and other buildings on the east side of Hancock St., from Bernie's Formal Wear on the corner of Revere Rd. to Colman's at Elm St. will be torn down and replaced either in Phase 2 or 3. A high rise will go in Colman's parking lot at the corner of Elm and Mechanic Sts.

- In a later phase, the stores from Caradonna's at the corner of Cottage Ave. to the Napoli Pizza at Revere Rd. will be demolished. A high rise motel with a restaurant on the roof is planned for the corner of Revere Rd. and Hancock St.

- Still later, the blocks of stores from Kincaide's to a point around the corner on School St. will be torn down.

- An international merchandise mart, designed to take advantage of the free trade zone recently declared for the Port of Boston, would be constructed over the Hancock Parking Area, which would then become a parking garage.

- There would be two walkways over Hancock St. connecting the second floors of buildings on either side of the street.

- The entire project has been estimated to cost a half a billion dollars and would take 15 years to complete all six phases.

READER SPEAKS OUT

Brighter Lighting On Doane St.

Editor, The Quincy Sun:

The people of Doane St., in the Germantown section of Quincy, have been asking everyone they could think of to get brighter lights in their area to prevent vandalism.

Through the persistence of the Quincy Housing Authority Superintendent of Maintenance and the Quincy Housing Authority Office of Tenant Services, both of Bicknell St., the lights are now up and illuminate the area.

The people of Doane St. want to thank the Superintendent of Maintenance and the Director of Tenant Services for their thoughtfulness and excellent work. It is nice to think that there are still people around that think of the real needs of the tenants here in Germantown.

A WEEKLY MESSAGE FROM MICHAEL E. FAHERTY, CANDIDATE COUNCILLOR-AT-LARGE

"The government of Quincy in action reminds me of a series of tennis matches...the issues of the day represented by the tennis ball. One minute its in the Mayor's court, then in the City Council's, then it's played by the Auditor, the Police Chief, the Budget Director, etc...back and forth in a never ending game. I don't view government as a game...but as a serious challenge, requiring the unity of purpose which is the betterment of the governed...not self-serving political ambition. I respect divergent views. I also believe in a united front in achieving an objective. As your councillor-at-large I'll work for that unity of purpose... and maybe together we can watch things move ahead, not back and forth."

Mayor Approves Plans For $75,000 Maintenance Garage At Cemetery

Mayor Joseph J. LaRaia has officially approved plans for the construction of a new $75,000 single-story maintenance garage at Mt. Wollaston Cemetery.

"We expect construction to begin as soon as the bidding process is completed, probably within the next several weeks."

said LaRaia.

To be financed with existing cemetery appropriations, the 40 foot by 60 foot facility was designed by Planning Department Director Norman Lundin. An enlargement upon an older building which was leveled by fire in 1973, the Colonial-designed garage will be constructed upon the foundations of the older facility, thus saving construction costs.

Housing vehicles, the facility will also provide a lunchroom for employees and a toolroom. An optional feature will be a security system to tie in with the Police station.

Morrissey Wants Governor To Give All The Facts On Budget Surplus

Rep. Michael Morrissey (D-Quincy) recently supported a resolution that called upon the Governor "to instruct his administration to be forthright and honest in their dealings with the legislature by giving them all the facts and information on the budget surplus."

The resolution said, "that the Governor willfully withheld information from members of the House, concerning the 1977 fiscal budget surplus, thus depriving members of facts critical to the decision making process."

Morrissey said some members were unwittingly forced to vote against tax cuts and local aid to reduce property taxes and social service programs because the Governor's administration would not give the legislature a true estimate of surplus revenue. This information was critical to the fiscal 1978 budget votes.

Morrissey said he hoped that in the future the Legislature would be given the true facts that they need to effectively represent their constituents.

The state ended fiscal 1977 with almost $100 million surplus.

Quincy, North Grid Squads Start Workouts Monday

By TOM SULLIVAN

It was a short summer, wasn't it?

The Quincy and North Quincy high school football squads will begin workouts next Monday morning.

Quincy Coach Hank Conroy, starting his 14th year as the Presidents' head coach, will follow his schedule of past years.

The Presidents, 4-6 a year ago, will work out daily from 8:30 to 10:30 a.m., rest for lunch and resume drills from 11:30 to 1:30 until the opening of school Sept. 7. The workouts will be at Faxon Field.

Conroy has the same staff of assistants as a year ago, John Bogan, Hank's son, Mark; Peter Chella and Billy Maver, who made his coaching bow last fall.

Conroy announced that players will be given their physicals tomorrow (Friday) at 11:30 at Vo-Tech.

North Coach Dave Burke, who will be starting his third season as skipper at his alma mater, will conduct workouts daily from 9 to 11 a.m., break for lunch and blackboard drills and work out again from 1:30 to 3.

Due to construction at North and double sessions, the Raiders will bus to either Veterans Memorial Stadium or the former Nike site next to Adams Field to dress, and drills will be held at Pageant Field.

Burke has a fine 16-3 record at North, going 9-1 two years ago, winning the Suburban League co-championship and making the Super Bowl. Last fall the Raiders were 7-2.

Dave has his same crew of assistants, Tom Fitzgerald, Ken MacPhee, Jack Raymer and the dean of them all, Ted Sadowski. Raymer bowed in as North aide last year.

Both teams are in the Suburban League for the fourth year and will open the season away from home with non-league games Sept. 17, Quincy going to Dedham and North visiting Milton. The following week both will be at Veterans Memorial Stadium, Milton hosting Taunton at 10:30 and Quincy facing Weymouth South at 1:30. North plays its first league game Oct. 1 at Weymouth North while Quincy will wait until Oct. 8 for its league opener at Waltham.

Incidentally, due to double sessions, North's ninth grade team will play Saturday mornings, the opener Sept. 24 at Faxon Field and the other seven games at the stadium. Atlantic's seventh and eighth grade teams will play as usual Monday, Wednesday and Friday at the stadium.

Janet Sines Shines In Sports Competition

Janet Sines, 15, of Quincy, was one of 36 regional finalists who recently competed in the fourth annual Massachusetts Good Sports Competition at Newton North High School.

The competition was sponsored by the Mass. Jaycees and WBZ-TV/Radio. WBZ-TV provided live coverage of the competition on TV 4.

Janet, a sophomore at Quincy High School, helped the South Shore team to the championship.

She placed fourth in the basketball throw, second in the softball throw, fourth in the soccer kick, fourth in the shot put, third in the 100-yard dash and ran on the winning 3/4 mile relay team.

The 36 contestants competed in each of these six events to accrue team points.

Presidents Rebound In N.B. Tourney

The Quincy Presidents are still in the running in the annual Greater New Bedford Junior Baseball Tournament and Friday night at 8:30 will face the winner of the Lowell-Medford game at Joseph Diaz Sr. Memorial Field, New Bedford.

Last weekend Quincy won two of three games, nipping the Greater New Bedford Americans, 2-1, Saturday. Marty McLaughlin's homer in the sixth inning provided the winning run. John Balzano, pitching his third tournament win, allowed four hits and struck out seven. McLaughlin also drove in the first run with a double in the second inning but New Bedford tied it in the top of the sixth. In addition to McLaughlin's homer and double, Jim Austin, Glenn Oriola and Kevin Whalen had hits.

In the first of two games Sunday, Quincy was blanked by Norwood, 6-0, thanks to six unearned runs, spoiling a fine pitching effort by Austin, who allowed five hits and struck out nine. Quincy also had five hits, two by McLaughlin and one each by Oriola, Austin and Whalen.

Quincy rebounded to wallop

Bristol, R.I., 12-2, in the second game. A loss would have eliminated the Presidents.

McLaughlin hurled fine ball, scattering eight hits, striking out 12 and walking only one. Quincy had 10 hits, three by Dwayne Wilcoxon, two by Bob Mudge and one each by Mark Reghini, Mike Marshall, Bill DiMattio, Frank Levesque and Austin. Levesque and Austin hit home runs.

Papile Head Coach

Quincy Chiefs Entered In Eastern Basketball Assn.

By TOM SULLIVAN

The approaching basketball season will be a big one for Quincy and South Shore fans with the new Quincy Chiefs entered in the long established (31 years old) Eastern Basketball Association.

The EBA is an affiliate of the National Basketball Association and the Quincy team will be connected with the Kansas City Kings.

The Chiefs, who will have a number of outstanding former college players in New England in their lineup, will play their home games at Quincy Vo-Tech, mostly on Saturday and Sunday.

Other EBA teams are from Hartford, Asbury Park, N.J., Allentown, Pa., Scranton, Pa., Brooklyn and Lancaster, Pa., with the possible addition of Washington, D.C. Many of its players and officials will shuttle to and from the NBA.

Quincy's Leo Papile is the team's head coach and director of operations. John Wholey is president and general manager. John Murphy vice president and Kevin Schwede secretary-treasurer.

Papile coached Quincy's strong O'Brien Club for the past several seasons. Two years ago the team was the N.E. semi-pro champion and last winter had a 64-5 record, winning five tournament titles.

The O'Briens also won both the Cranberry League and TARO League crowns.

To get the franchise, Wholey, a Hull resident and former town official, had to do a selling job, convincing the league directors that there are a number of top players in the area and that interest would be high enough to sustain the team through a 24-28 game schedule.

"I first requested a team 10 years ago," said Wholey, who ran the semi-pro Wholey Club in the Cranberry League. "But the money I had to come up with then was a lot higher than it is now, so I decided to forget about it for the time being."

Now Wholey must come up with $8,000 for entry, $3,000 of which will be paid the first season with $1,000 payable each of the next five years. Wholey got together with Papile and reapplied for admission.

Players, who will receive between $40 and $70 a game, plus expenses pose no problem. With so many outstanding college players in the N.E. area plus those cut by NBA teams, there should be plenty of top players available.

A big asset is the quality of the officials. During the recent NBA officials' strike, the EBA officials filled in under pressure and the NBA picks officials from the EBA as needed.

Wholey is seeking stockholders from among South Shore businessmen to fund the team and advertisers in game programs will account for other cash. Gate receipts will not be the key to the team's success, with most teams drawing from 1,000 to 1,200 fans a game. Crowds of 800 are what most owners have been shooting for, and they have been exceeding that figure regularly.

The Chiefs will play at least 12 home games, mainly on Saturday and Sunday nights, although there may be an arrangement for weekday games with Hartford because of its proximity to Quincy.

The league recently conducted its 1977 draft of college seniors, not previously drafted by the NBA, and a dispersal draft of the now defunct Syracuse Centennials.

In the college draft Quincy picked seven players, each of whom played college and or high school ball in New England. They include:

Paul Wholey of Hull and University of Maine and the son of the team's president. The 6-foot 180-pound guard was the N.E. Division One leading scorer in 1976.

Mike Sarsfield of Don Bosco High and Boston State College. A 6-6, 200-pound forward, he was the Most Valuable Player last season in the Mass. State College Conference.

Bill Doran, co-captain of Holy Cross last season, 6-5, 195-pound guard.

Marvin Safford of U. of Southern California and Holy Name High of Worcester. The 6-2, 175-pound guard was USC captain last year and an All-Pacific Eight selection the past two years.

King Gaskins of Catholic Memorial High and U. of Southern Alabama and formerly of Holy Cross, a 6-1 guard.

Doward Tisdol of Virginia State, a 6-4 guard.

Bill Wurm of Assumption College and formerly of Hofstra, a 6-9 forward.

In the Syracuse dispersal, Quincy traded its first pick to Hartford for former Abp. Williams and Boston College forward Bob Carrington, the Atlanta Hawks' second draft choice in 1976. Quincy followed by selecting former Bentley College All-American and Milwaukee Bucks' 1975 third round draft choice Brian Hammel. Brian starred for the O'Brien Club the past two years.

The Chiefs obtained the EBA rights to Tony Hanson of U. of Connecticut, the New Orleans Jazz 1977 second draft choice, from the Jersey Shore Bullets for the EBA rights to Bill Paterno of Notre Dame.

Papile and Wholey represented the Chiefs at the drafts in Hartford.

The league is expected to delay the start of the season to the first of the year to avoid the Christmas holidays, and it will end in May.

Wollaston Recreational Facility In Full Operation

Richard J. Koch, chairman of the Wollaston Recreation Facility Advisory Panel, announces that the recreational site is now in full operation.

The Presidents Golf Course, now has all 18 holes open for play. The redesigned course is a 77 course, 5,520 yards in length with a par 70. The course was named by the Norfolk County Commissioners in memory of the three presidents from Norfolk County.

The 10 lighted outdoor tennis courts now in the second year of operation have proved the most used outdoor tennis court facility in the region. The courts are operated seven days a week until 10 p.m. in the evening.

A new clubhouse has been constructed and the building features a Pro Shop, offering golf and tennis equipment, locker rooms and a dining area accommodating up to 100 people.

Shuffleboard courts and picnic areas are free and open to the public and there are special "tot lots" in which younger children may play.

The total operation of the Wollaston location is a culmination of efforts since 1969 to acquire the 93-acre site [60, Milton - 33, Quincy] as open space and a public recreation facility.

The Wollaston Golf Club decided to sell the golf course in 1969 seeking a location in Milton where the course is presently located. The Quincy Park-Recreation Board and Milton Park Board realized the impossibility of a dual community approach and sought a regional purchase through the MDC. The Norfolk County Commissioners approved purchase of the area in 1972 as a county public facility.

The Bureau of Outdoor Recreation provided 50 per cent of the reimbursement for the acquisition and development, with the county providing the remaining funding.

Retention of the 93-acre site will guarantee open space and public recreation use for future generations. The site continues to have terrain for winter sledding, tobogganing, skiing and ice skating for the residents of all ages in Norfolk County.

'Season To Remember' Ends Sadly For Morrisette Team

The Morrisette Legion baseball team's "season to remember" ended sadly with a game it would rather forget.

Morrisette, after winning its 21st Zone 6 title to the surprise of many, went on to win the South Sectional Tournament and move into the state finals at Chicopee.

The Quincy team, with its youngest roster, broke even in its first two games and met Pittsfield last Thursday night in a game it had to win to stay in the double elimination event.

However, it wasn't Morrisette's night, putting it mildly, as Pittsfield started with a nine-run barrage in the first inning and went on to hand Morrisette its most humiliating defeat, 23-8.

"That's never happened to a Morrisette team in the eight years I've been coach," said a disappointed Ray Cattaneo. "I hate to see the season end with a game like this.

"This was such a great season it is too bad we couldn't have bowed out in better fashion. No one expected us to even win the zone this year and we went much further than anyone could have wished. We had only three veterans when the season started and we had many 16-year olds. But it will be different next year as we lose only three players, Dave Perdios, our captain, Chuck LoPresti and Billy Maze."

It was a surprise to see Morrisette win the zone and go so far this year but it probably won't be any surprise if it repeats next summer.

Cattaneo credited Perdios and LoPresti for leading the team into the state finals. LoPresti had eight hits in the three tournament games and played flawlessly in center field.

"They kept the team together," Cattaneo said. "They both were extremely valuable to me and to the team. They did everything I asked of them."

Morrisette's big worry at the start of the season was the pitching, as none of the pitchers had any high school experience to speak of.

However, they came along extremely well and turned in some outstanding performances. With all of them, John Wilkinson, Ron Donovan, Gary Earle, Mark Giordani, Dave Austin and Ray Coscia, back next year, the pitching should be one of the strong points.

-TOM SULLIVAN

WINS LETTER - Mike Kelly of North Quincy has received his varsity baseball letter at Northeastern University. Mike played in six games, pitched 15 innings, had a 0-1 record, struck out 11 and had an ERA of 3.60. He is expected back next spring in the regular starting rotation. Three of his brothers are Northeastern graduates and letter winners in football. Tom and Jack were running backs in the early 1960's and Dennis played in the early 1970's.

At Veterans Stadium

Frank Kelly Track Club Memorial Meet Saturday

The Quincy Track Club will host the second annual Frank Kelly Memorial Age Group Track and Field Meet Saturday beginning at 10 a.m. at Veterans Memorial Stadium.

The meet is held annually on the final Saturday of August in memory of Kelly, who founded and coached the track club from 1974 to July 13, 1976, when he died suddenly of a heart attack.

In last year's meet, which featured the finest athletes from all over New England, QTC dominated.

This year's meet will feature two new age groups, 8-9 and 6-7. The other age groups are 16-17, 14-15, 12-13 and 10-11.

There will be a full schedule of events in every age group and a trophy will be presented to the outstanding athlete in each group. A plaque will go to the winning team in each group.

Last year more than 200 participated and this year's crowd is expected to be bigger. Entry fee is $1 and admission is 50 cents. All members of the QTC are urged to participate or help out at the meet. More information can be obtained by calling Mrs. Irene Kelly at 479-7032.

The following were selected outstanding performers in their respective age groups and received trophies: 9 and under boys, Robbie Sheehan; 9 and under girls, Ann Marie Hughes; 10-11 boys, Mike Williams; 10-11 girls, Sheila Barrett; 12-13 boys, Dave Church; 12-13 girls, Denise Santo; 14-15 boys, Carroll Colletti; 14-15 girls, Karen McCarthy.

The winners of the Frank Kelly Memorial Awards given to the boy and girl who are the most dedicated and exemplify the attitude, spirit and drive which were the goals of Kelly, are Michelle Millane and Richard Panarelli. Michelle has the best discus toss in the country for 12 year olds and is ranked sixth for 13 year olds, although turning 13 only in late July. Rich, 15, has shown outstanding dedication both in his own behalf and working with the younger athletes in his events, the shot put and discus.

The winners in last week's weekly meet at Veterans Memorial Stadium:

Muscular Dystrophy Skate-a-thon 'Thank You' Party Friday

A muscular Dystrophy Skate-A-Thon thank you party will be held Friday night from 7 to 9 at the Quincy Youth Arena at which time all those who took part in the skate-a-thon and who haven't turned in their pledges will do so.

More than $2,400 in pledges was raised by the recent five-hour skate-a-thon sponsored by the Quincy Youth Hockey Association at the Youth Arena.

Participants may bring their entire families to skate at Friday's thank-you party and free tonic will be served.

In addition to free skating, the boy and girl who raised the most money will be announced and will appear on Channel 5 broadcast of the Jerry Lewis Telethon on Labor day weekend, the three boys and girls who raised the most will be announced and will receive a year of free public skating at the Youth Arena and all participants who turn in their proceeds will receive a citation of merit from the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Jesse Owens At Braintree Hospital Road Race

Jesse Owens, chosen as "Champion of the Century" by American sportswriters in 1960, will be the guest of honor at Braintree Hospital's first 10-kilometer road race Saturday, Sept. 17, because of his athletic achievements and because it is his birthday.

The race, open for a fee of $2 to anyone registered by the NEAAU, will start at Braintree High School. Provisions have been made for runners who are not NEAAU-registered to do so for a fee of $2 prior to the race. Runners' reporting time is 8:30 a.m. and the race will start at 9:30.

Following the race an awards banquet will be held at 11:30 for a cost of $5 at the high school. Trophies and prizes will be given to classes of open-masters and female under 18 years. Owens will be the speaker.

At 1:30 p.m. a runners' clinic will be held free of charge. James S. Liljestrand, M.D., MPH, and medical director at Braintree Hospital, will be moderator.

How To Secure Your Boat Against Thieves

Boatowners should take great care in the summer to secure their boats and equipment against thieves when they leave their vessels, the Quincy Police Department has warned.

In a boat-marine security program scheduled for Wednesday night at 7 p.m. in the Quincy Police headquarters, the Department suggested that boatowners take the following steps to prevent theft of a boat or its equipment:

- Join Operation Identification - engrave all equipment with the boatowner's social security number, and register the number with the Police Department. This will aid police in identifying stolen property.

- Burn identifying marks that cannot be obliterated into the main hull or timber.

- Keep a record of descriptions and serial numbers on all portable gear.

- Photograph the boat from every angle, including from above.

- Retain Registration and Title, and do not leave any official documents on the boat when not in use.

- Secure hatches with solid bronze hasps or case hardened metal latches. Anchor them securely to the combing way around the hatch.

- Replace spring latch assembly with a deadbolt type lock.

- If cabin door hinges can be removed when the door is closed, replace them with hinges which cannot be taken off, or install hinge pins.

- Lock all doors, windows, portholes, and hatches with a dead bolt lock and draw curtains and blinds when leaving the craft unattended.

- Lay wooden dowels in the tracks of sliding doors and windows.

- Install a commercial or home-made alarm system.

- Outboard motors should be secured to the boat, and all equipment should be secured to the deck.

- Avoid leaving loose gear visible in open boats or on the decks of enclosed boats.

- Remove gas cans from smaller boats and remove valuables from sight.

- Remove the rotor cap from the distributor of the engine when the boat is not used.

- Secure cleats or eye bolts with aluminum or plywood plates, using one way bolts and lock nuts.

- Get to know the people at the marina. Let them know who they can expect to see on your boat. Encourage watchfulness and attentiveness, and challenge strangers if they don't look like they belong there. Carefully observe strangers - note their hair color, features, and clothes, try to get their names, and mark mentally the description of their car and their license number. Notify the Police of any suspicious behavior.

- When the boat is at home or in dry dock: Remove or lock the motor and prop; strip the boat - remove all loose gear, instruments, and fittings; remove a wheel from the trailer and lock the trailer securely and lock or dismantle the trailer tongue.

- Keep the boat in the garage or behind the house, out of sight of the road.

- If the boat is in dry dock, make sure the area is well lighted, and maintain a regular visitation program.

Oilers Drill Saybrook

Ed McElaney, former North Quincy High kicking sensation, booted a 33-yard field goal and turned in another outstanding defensive job in the secondary as he helped the Randolph Oilers to a 17-0 Eastern Football League win over the Saybrook Tides Sunday at Saybrook, Conn.

Friday night the Oilers, 3-1, travel to Plymouth for an 8:30 game against perennial EFL powerhouse, the Plymouth Rocks, at Plymouth-Carver High School Field. Plymouth also is 3-1.

Randolph's defense, which has allowed only 18 points in four games, was outstanding at Saybrook and came up with five pass interceptions. McElaney was brilliant as was former Quincy High lineman Ed Silva.

A 16-yard run by Bob Goodrich gave Randolph an early lead and Mike Smith kicked the point. McElaney kicked his field goal in the second period and the final score in the final period came on a 20-yard pass from Bill Korske to Jack Marshall. Smith again added the point.

How To Get The Most Out Of Your Energy Dollar

How to get the most out of your energy dollar was the topic of an energy workshop held recently at the Lantana, Randolph.

Representatives of 40 area firms turned out to learn how they can conserve energy and cut costs. The event, sponsored by the South Shore Chamber of Commerce and its Energy Resources Committee, featured authorities in the energy field:

Measures for conservation ranged from simple housekeeping chores such as turning out lights and turning down the thermostat, to complex analyses to determine areas of waste and inefficiency.

The warm glow of high pressure sodium lamps will become a familiar sight, the audience was told, as more people come to realize the savings to be gained from a light source with five times the efficiency and six times the life of the outdated incandescent. Uninsulated piping is another common thief of your energy dollar, with the first inch of insulation producing the most dramatic savings. Additional tips involving only moderate expense include plastic coating windows and installing energy meters to keep a close watch on energy consumption in critical areas.

The audience was urged to consult energy engineers, but was warned to deal only with established reputable consulting firms when seeking professional help. Many new firms, it was noted, may not have the experience to make sound suggestions.

Conservation pays off, but where do you draw the line? A good rule of thumb, the experts said, is a five year payback, taking into consideration escalating energy costs. Members of the audience were reminded, however, that any savings at the expense of health, safety, security, or productivity, is no bargain. Lighting, for example, can be reduced to a point where all of these areas will be adversely affected.

The need for a sound national energy policy, expressed by the panel in the morning session, was reiterated by the New England Council's Ed King, the after luncheon speaker. He cited government as the major obstacle to growth and a healthy economy. Expressing the need for alternatives to costly imported oil, King offered nuclear power as "the most plausible alternative."

TAX TIPS WHEN YOU BUY REAL ESTATE

When you buy real estate, your tax benefits start immediately. For example, property taxes paid at the settlement are deductible. Usually, these taxes are pro-rated between the buyer and seller so that each pays his respective share. In some localities where the property taxes are paid during the following calendar year, the buyer's deduction is taken during the year the taxes are actually paid.

The other settlement expenses generally are not deductible, however, most of them can be added to the cost of the real estate when you sell it. The effect will be to reduce the profit subject to income tax. Among these are: lawyers' fees, property surveys, title search and title insurance, transfer taxes and "points".

It should be noted that, what the IRS calls "basis" is quite important to establish. It is the purchase price of the real estate which includes your down payment, mortgages, and those non-deductible settlement costs. The basis determines what your profit or loss will be when you sell.

Thinking of selling your home? It makes sense to list it with PRESIDENT REAL ESTATE, 356 Hancock St., Phone: 328-8345.

Condon Stresses Housing, Service Needs For Seniors

"Meeting the housing and service needs of the Ward 6 senior citizens is one of my major concerns," Mrs. Joanne Condon, candidate for Ward 6 Councillor, told North Quincy residents at a coffee hour held by Mrs. Susan MacInnis, 50 Webster St.

In response to residents' questions regarding housing for seniors, Mrs. Condon said, "Although there is not a senior citizen housing development in North Quincy, there are programs to help the elderly meet their housing needs." She noted that the Atlantic Self-Help Paint Program had assisted many seniors and that this was a good way to help seniors maintain their homes and remain in their neighborhood.

She also cited the program of youths helping seniors which she initiated this summer. "Utilizing CETA funds, youth have been helping seniors improve their yards and do household chores difficult for seniors." She noted that this program is available at no charge to the seniors of the North Quincy area.

She also explained the Section 8 Housing Assistance Program which is a program administered by the Quincy Housing Authority to provide rent subsidies for income-eligible persons. "This is another good way to help seniors stay in a neighborhood which they are familiar with," she said.

Residents were also interested in learning about the services which are available to North Quincy seniors. Mrs. Condon explained a special hot lunch program which she noted she started at the Atlantic Neighborhood Center. "Every Wednesday afternoon, neighborhood people cook a special lunch for the seniors and the Center has received an excellent response to this program," she said.

She said the Center offered other programs especially for seniors, including blood pressure clinics, recreational activities, trips, and a special library. She urged residents to visit the Center and learn more about these programs.

Mrs. Condon commended the Conservation Commission for its decision to issue an order of conditions to correct shoreline safety problems along the Dorchester Bay waterfront. "This is a serious condition and I urge prompt action," she said.

Let Voters Know Tax Rate Before Election, Urges Barron

Atty. Thomas M. Barron, candidate for Mayor, has called upon the City Council and the Mayor's office to make a final determination on the forthcoming fiscal year's budget so that this year's property tax rate can be given to the voters.

Barron noted that according to a recent newspaper article, the Bureau of Corporations and Taxation will not allow the setting of a new tax rate until this matter has been resolved.

"It would seem residents will not know what their property taxes will be until early fall," Barron said. "I think its only fair to the voters to set a new rate for taxes before the preliminary election."

Barron said that since the election was only slightly more than a month away, there was little time left for the city budget, and the tax rate to be appropriated.

"Property taxes are a major issue in this election," he said. "The voters have a right to know which candidate can best serve their interests in this area."

Sabina Stenberg Discusses Issues At Coffee Hour

Sabina Stenberg, candidate for City Councillor-at-large spoke at a recent coffee hour at the home of Claire Schlichte of Germantown.

Among matters discussed was the need for more women to get involved in politics and to be concerned with community affairs, and for women to go into business to become independent so that if the need should arise they will be able to provide for themselves and their family.

Parental Involvement In School Matters Important, Says Collins

Mrs. Mary Collins, candidate for School Committee believes that parental involvement in school matters is important and necessary to the educational process.

"I have talked to many, many parents," she says, "and their feelings about their children's education are as relevant and as knowledgeable as the feelings of educational 'experts', but they feel inadequate and afraid to make their views known. Much can be accomplished if interested people come together in PTO's, Advisory Councils, and other organizations."

The importance of residents voting in the preliminary election Sept. 20 was stressed. Matters pertaining to senior citizens were discussed.

As chairwoman of The Council on Aging, Mrs. Stenberg has been involved with the senior citizens, their problems and recreation.

On July 11 and August 1, she provided free bus transportation hiring four buses and accompanying them for a day at the Cape.

Schools should reflect the communities they serve, she maintains, and this requires community involvement of all types, both critical and supportive, so that the overall picture in education will reflect growth and improvement.

WHEN YOU VOTE FOR MAYOR, THERE ARE SOME THINGS YOU SHOULD REMEMBER AND SOME THINGS YOU SHOULDN'T FORGET.

In 12 years of public service, Arthur Tobin has done a lot of things worth remembering.

He's been leading the fight against 100% reevaluation.

He stopped the MDC from filling in Quincy Bay.

He's fighting plans to build a prison in the Squantum area.

He cleaned up the rubbish mess.

He slashed millions from the City budget.

He sponsored housing and reduced fare transportation for our elderly.

He improved our schools.

And he expanded development and job opportunities for the people of Quincy.

In the past two years, the present mayor has done a lot of things we'd rather forget.

The present mayor has handcuffed the police with political infighting; he raised taxes $35; let downtown Quincy go downhill; made a mess of rubbish collection; grossly misrepresented the cost for North Quincy High School; and appointed four people to his administration who were either indicted or were under investigation by local police or the FBI.

Clearly mismanagement, scandals and bungling have brought Quincy shame. And these are things that should not be forgotten!

This year we have a choice. We can elect a mayor we'll be proud to remember.

Arthur Tobin will put Quincy back on its feet and make us all proud of our City again.

He'll set up screening panels for all City appointees to eliminate the corruption we've seen in the past two years.

He'll take politics out of law enforcement so the police can fight crime in the streets without political interference.

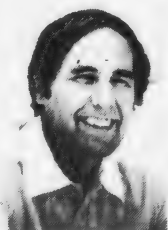

He'll avoid duplication of services, a move which can save Quincy $250,000 a year; and set up a Zero Based Budgeting system that will require each City Department to justify every dollar it spends.

He'll improve City playgrounds and recreation programs; attract new business downtown; and bring good fiscal management to our City.

This September 20th, elect Arthur Tobin mayor, so we can have a leader we'll be proud to remember, rather than one we'd like to forget.

Dispute In 39th Day

Shipyard Strike Already Costs $83,482 For Police

Four members of the Massachusetts congressional delegation have called on the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service in Washington to redouble its efforts to bring the 39-day-old General Dynamics Quincy Shipyard strike to an end.

Meanwhile, Police Chief Francis X. Finn disclosed that the strike cost the Quincy Police Department $83,482.43 for its uniformed presence at the shipyard gates from July 17 through Aug. 20.

Some 5,000 members of the Shipbuilding Workers Local 5 have been on strike since July 17 seeking wage increases.

Congressman James A. Burke [D-Milton] and Gerry Studds [D-Cohasset] and Sens. Edward M. Kennedy [D-Hyannis] and Edward W. Brooke [R-Newton] expressed their increasing concern in a wire to Mediation Chief Wayne Horvitz.

"The local economy cannot tolerate a strike of long duration," the telegram said. "Already the economic impact is being felt severely. We are asking that the service redouble its mediation efforts at the yard."

Downtown Plan Reaction Mixed

The Big Question: Who Will Come Up With $300 Million?

By TOM HENSHAW

General reaction to the LaRaia Administration's $300 million downtown revitalization plan on the part of Quincy's business and political community can be summed up in three statements and a question.

- It's good to see that someone in power recognizes the urgent need for such a plan.
- Phase One is a good idea.
- Later phases may be much too ambitious.
- Where is the money coming from?

The most enthusiastic endorsement came from Peter F. O'Connell of the O'Connell Brothers Construction Co. and president of the Quincy Taxpayers Association, who said in a statement of endorsement:

"The association feels that the plan, if implemented, would significantly broaden the commercial tax base in the city and therefore help offset increases in municipal costs, especially unavoidable inflationary costs.

"Such a development will necessitate a considerable taxpayer investment for roads and utilities but the association feels this is necessary to attract real estate developers to Quincy.

"The taxpayer investment will be returned many times by the millions of tax dollars that would be paid annually."

On the other hand, the most critical comment, one approaching condemnation of the plan, came from an attorney with offices in the affected area who asked that his name not be used.

He labelled "stupid" that part of the plan which called for razing of the buildings between Sears Roebuck and School St.

"To say that there is nothing else worth saving in this end of Quincy but Sears is stupid," he said. "My office is in an older building but I've spent about $30-40,000 fixing it up. It's as nice as any office in the Prudential Building.

"There are no vacant buildings in the area of Sears. A lot of people work there. Why eliminate hundreds of jobs? Many of those people are not from Quincy. Will they be back after all the work is done?"

"I've seen other cities and towns flattened and they've been growing weeds ever since. Salem rebuilt on what it had. Lawrence flattened whole areas of the city 15 years ago and they are still vacant."

Tobin Proposes Meeting To Set Election Rules, Guidelines

Mayoral candidate Arthur H. Tobin has proposed a meeting among the city clerk, Republican City Committee chairman and Democratic City Committee chairman, to formulate "strict rules and guidelines" for use in the upcoming city preliminary and final elections.

In a letter to City Clerk John Gillis, Tobin proposed the meeting with the party chairmen, who are the appointing authorities of poll workers for the elections.

"This suggestion is made in the aftermath of the unpleasant experience after the last city election, which resulted in inequities, investigations, and allegations against some poll and election workers," Tobin said.

"I believe such a meeting, set forth rules, regulations, and guidelines for use both within polling places and outside polling places, would avoid such consequences in the upcoming elections, and would go far to protect the reputations and integrity of poll workers against unjustified accusations."

Tobin also suggested that Gillis might want to ask the Secretary of State Paul Guzzi to help implement the regulations and request that the secretary monitor the elections "so that the citizens of Quincy will have confidence in our election process, and so that no question will be raised as to the conduct of the election."

Quincy Sun Telethon Pledge Center

Call 471-9600 To Fight Muscular Dystrophy

The telephone number to remember this Labor Day weekend is: 471-9600.

It is the special number for the Quincy-South Shore Jerry Lewis Telethon pledge center headquartered at The Quincy Sun, 1372 Hancock St., Quincy Sq.

Residents of the Quincy-South Shore area who want to help fight muscular dystrophy are asked to call that number to make their donation pledges during the telethon from 8 p.m. Sunday night to 7 p.m. Monday night.

Millions will view this year's Jerry Lewis Telethon. But did you know the first Lewis muscular dystrophy telecast was for an audience of just one—a lonely little boy who thought no one loved him. See Sunbeams column, on Page 14.

The telethon is being carried locally over WCVB-TV, Ch. 5.

Twenty-five telephones have been installed in The Sun office to handle pledges from the Quincy-South Shore area.

Some 200 volunteers will man the phones on various shifts over the Labor Day weekend.

Pledges made to Quincy Sun will be relayed to New England headquarters at New England Life Hall and sent on from there to the national center at Del Webb's Hotel Sahara in Las Vegas where Jerry Lewis and a star-studded cast will perform.

A "fish bowl" will also be set up at The Sun into which passersby may drop donations.

Rex Trailer of TV "Boombtown" fame who is past national vice-president of the MDA and presently New England special events chairman for the association, will be at The Quincy Sun with TV cameras Sunday night at 7 p.m. to tape early proceedings here.

Among stars joining Lewis in Las Vegas will be Frank Sinatra, David Hartman, Mary Tyler Moore, Chad Everett, Barry Manilow, Lola Falana

Police Dept. Receives $154,000 For Training

The Quincy Police Department has been awarded more than $154,000 in federal funds to help train personnel in basic and innovative techniques for conducting criminal investigations, it was announced by Cong. James A. Burke [D-Milton].

The money from the U.S.

Department of Justice's Law Enforcement Assistance Administration [LEAA] will be channeled to Quincy through the Massachusetts Committee on Criminal Justice in Boston.

The grant will cover a one-year project period and will help Quincy police to set up an integrated Criminal Apprehension Program.

The LEAA is exploring ways to encourage maximum utilization of a police department's investigative resources, particularly to avoid duplication of effort by different sections of the department.

LaRaia Supports Housing Aid of $1.5 million.

The Mayor said that more than 100 applications for such housing have been received in the last two years.

"I feel there is a great need for this type of housing," he said. "It will be of great benefit to the entire community."

QHA Director Clement O'Brien said the Department of Housing and Urban Development is currently processing the application and notification is expected in two months.

May Become State Referendum Question

Tobin Anti-Revaluation Amendment To Be Heard Sept. 7

Sen. Arthur H. Tobin [D-Quincy] has been notified his anti-revaluation amendment to the state constitution will be debated before a joint session of the legislature Sept. 7.

Tobin said Senate President Kevin Harrington has asked him to lead off debate on the Tobin amendment because of Tobin's sponsorship and leadership of the proposal over the past two years.

The Tobin amendment, which is opposed by large landowners, would eliminate the need for court-ordered 100 percent revaluation in Massachusetts cities and towns.

Under the plan, local assessors would be authorized to assess and tax real estate according to its use, so that income-producing property could be taxed differently than single-family homes.

The anti-revaluation plan, already approved once by the constitutional convention, is scheduled for its second and final approval by the joint legislative session Sept. 7.

If approved, the Tobin amendment would appear on the next statewide election ballot as a referendum question, in order to change the state constitution.

The need for the amendment became apparent, said Tobin, after the Supreme Judicial Court ruled all real estate in the commonwealth must be assessed at 100 percent cash value, under current constitutional provisions.

According to a study prepared for the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston, such revaluation would not only drive homeowners' taxes up, but would at the same time depress their property values, Tobin noted.

According to the study, revaluation would cause large tax bill increases in single-family homes, and the large tax burden would, in turn, cause property values to sharply decline, he said.

The study focused on Boston, but the report said large increases in tax bills, compounded by drastic reductions in property values, would be true of revaluated communities in general.

The study found that the "economic dislocations" caused by revaluation would last until the year 2000, and that residential properties would never recover their pre-revaluation values.

"The upshot of this report is that revaluation will cause the homeowner to pay far more for a home that is worth far less," Tobin said. "At the same time, the city will supposedly be worth more, so that state school, highway, and other aid will be reduced, and assessments for the MBTA, MDC, and similar authorities, will increase.

"It is insane to impose such burdens on taxpayers, who will be forced to watch their property values plunge while their taxes skyrocket."

Tobin noted that a study completed by his staff shows

Flower tips from

Andre Moreau

There are many different ground covers which can be substituted for grass in shady areas. Bunchberry belongs to the dogwood family. It bears red berries in the fall, and white flowers in the spring. It grows well in acidic soil and light shade. English ivy, one of the best ground covers, has striking dark-green leaves. It is a vine, so it grows away considerably from its original site. Periwinkle is a handsome plant, with its shiny, dark leaves. In the spring it blooms lovely blue flowers. Periwinkle grows equally well in the sun and the shade.

At NORFOLK FLOWER SHOP, 49 Beale St., Wollaston, 472-7100 you will find a breathtaking array of all types of plants and flowers that would make suitable gifts for almost any occasion. Keep in mind that many times the most appreciated time for giving flowers is no special occasion at all. We invite you to stop by and visit with us awhile in our shop. If you are a business man let us tell you how we can dress up the interior of your shop or office with living plants from NORFOLK FLOWER SHOP. Master Charge and BankAmericard honored. Hours: Mon. - Sat. 8-6, evenings by appointment.

Stay Alive!

By Jack Silverstein

Rubber Gloves & High Voltage

Do you think you know how to stay alive? Don't bet your life on it. According to safety experts, what you THINK you know may kill you. During the next 12 months, several thousand Americans will kill themselves. Their deaths will be completely unnecessary. The common denominator in all cases: false knowledge. Here's a case in point:

When a New Jersey boy's kite got tangled with a high-tension wire, his father tried in vain to shake it loose. Donning a pair of rubber gloves, the man reached for the wire - and was electrocuted instantly.

"Dozens of people execute themselves every year because of the naive belief that they can use ordinary household rubber gloves to argue with a high tension wire," says the safety director of

New York's Consolidated Edison Company. "Rubber gloves may be safe enough around 100-volt wires around the house, but they offer scant insulation against the thousands of volts surging through high-tension wires. When you have a high voltage problem, wait for the utility maintenance men."

Abp. Williams Announces Faculty Appointments

Brother Thomas Mulloy, C.F.X., principal of Archbishop Williams High School, Braintree, announces the appointment of Brother John Burns, C.F.X. as vice principal of Student Affairs.

He will succeed Sister Maria Jude, S.C.N., who will be Science Co-ordinator at St. Bridget's School, South Boston. Brother Burns was formerly vice principal at Malden Catholic High School, Malden.

Other appointments for the 1977-1978 school year include 10 full time teachers and two intern teachers.

Cheryl Cushing of Milton, who previously taught at Cardinal Spellman High School, Brockton, will teach chemistry. Sally Dunn of Watertown, formerly at Monsignor Ryan High School, Dorchester, will teach Spanish. Sister Margaret Klotz, O.S.F., previously with schools in Ohio, will teach mathematics. Maureen Maher of Woburn, formerly with Orange School System in Orange, will teach accounting, economics, and typewriting.

The following appointees are first year teachers:

Frank Caccavale of Weymouth, physics; Mrs. Lorraine Butler Grant of Quincy, English; Kevin MacDonald of Wellesley, history and English; Sharon MacLaughlin of Winthrop, Spanish; John Mullen of Jamaica Plain, religion; Steven Pinkus of Hingham, physical education.

Two intern teachers, Virginia Quesada of Badonia, N.Y., will teach Introduction to Chemistry & Physics and Debra Rosenberg of Quincy, who will teach English, are in the Master of Arts in Teaching program at Boston College. They will carry one half the regular teaching load, since they will be taking graduate courses at Boston College in the evening.

A number of new courses have been added to the curriculum for the coming school year: Computing Systems Fundamentals, Accounting I Consumer Economics, Marine Biology, and Constitutional Liberties and Introduction to the Law are new elective courses being offered to seniors. Introduction to Sociology and Psychology has been added to the course offerings for juniors. Sophomores will be offered a semester course in Typewriting I followed by a semester course in Notehand. The Art Program has been expanded from two years to three years. Art may now be elected in the sophomore year and continued through the senior year.

Archbishop Williams is staffed by 26 religious teachers and 31 lay teachers. There is one full time chaplain, who is a Boston Archdiocesan priest. Four religious communities are represented on the staff: the Xaverian Brothers; the Sisters of Charity of Nazareth, Kentucky; the Sister of Charity of Halifax, Nova Scotia; and the Sisters of the Order of Saint Francis, who also staff Saint Coletta's Day School in Braintree.

St. John's Offering Course In Prayer

The Adult Education Commission, in cooperation with the Seton House of Prayer, is planning to offer a course entitled "Pray: An Introduction to the Spiritual Life for Busy People".

Since enrollment in each section is limited to 15 adults, several sections will be offered. Under the direction of Sister Frances Fay of Seton House, each section will meet for one hour twice a month for a total of fifteen sessions. Courses will be offered both in the morning and in the evening.

Text for the course will be Pray by Richard J. Huelman, S.J. [Paulist Oress, 1976]. Father Huelman, a Jesuit psychologist, has written this book for people who may not feel they want to join a prayer group, but who wish guidance in developing their personal prayer life.

For further information, contact Mrs. Patricia Hughes, 7 Wilson Ave., Braintree, [843-0419].

Greater City Communication Needed, Says Condon

Joanne Condon, candidate for the Ward 6 City Council seat discussed the accessibility to and accountability of government with her workers at a recent gathering at her home.

Noting that in going door-to-door she has learned many people do not know whom to talk to in government about a particular problem, she said, "There is definitely a need for greater communication between the residents and the city departments. As Ward 6 City Councillor, I would act as a liaison between the residents and the city departments to solve neighborhood problems."

She said she has already started a number of programs to make government more accessible to the residents and that this will be a top priority as Ward 6 Councillor.

"When I was president of the Atlantic Neighborhood Association, we started a speakers' bureau and invited officials from city departments to explain their functions and to discuss specific neighborhood problems. We also began an information and referral service at the Atlantic Neighborhood Center."

She said residents are most concerned about taxes, credibility and performance in government, police protection, and preservation of the neighborhood. She said that as Ward Councillor she would work to make the budget process more understandable to the residents, as well as work towards more efficient spending.

"Through my job as administrative assistant with the Community Action Program, I have wide experience with budgets, management, and federal funds," she said.

Mrs. Condon said she has found residents want more involvement in the decisions which affect their neighborhood and their taxes. "As Ward 6 Councillor, I would meet often with residents to obtain their views and continue my efforts to make government more accessible to the Ward 6 residents," she said.

Harold Requests Outside Lighting Around Parker School

City Councillor Paul D. Harold has requested the School Department to install outside lighting around the Parker School in North Quincy to reduce vandalism.

Harold said his request was made on behalf of residents in the area around the school. "For these residents," he said, "the increased vandalism at the Parker School after hours is of great concern."

'Down To Earth' Approach Stressed By Hickey

Walter J. Hickey, candidate for the Ward 6 City Council seat, continues to hammer the theme that the City Council would benefit from his experience as an engineer.

He addressed a group of supporters at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Danile J. Lyons, 232 Billings Rd, North Quincy.

Hickey said his 28 years of experience as a consulting engineer qualified him to bring a "down-to-earth, Lets-Get-The-Facts" approach to the problems the city will be facing in years to come.

"You're about to hire someone to represent you in City Hall for the next two years," Hickey told the group,

"They are concerned with the destruction of school property and the nuisance created by gangs of youths who congregate at the school property during late hours."

"It is believed that the lighting of the school yard would help reduce some of the problems that are disruptive to the neighborhood surrounding the school."

"so you want to make certain you pick the best available talent."

Carl A. Awed Jr.

Candidate for Councillor at Large

Before introducing you to my newsletter I would like to give some background on myself. I'm a lifetime resident of Quincy and my formal education was received in Quincy Public Schools, ending in 1974 as Senior Class President at Quincy High. At present I am enrolled in the University at Massachusetts, Boston, while majoring in Political Science and Philosophy. In being a new name and face in the political arena I believe that I can provide a fresh outlook towards city government that is more responsive to the needs and views of the general public. It would be my honor to serve the people of Quincy full time as one of your three Councillors at-Large.

The future of our city depends on your awareness and involvement. The troubles that face Quincy do not have to be everlasting. Our city's problems are rooted in the distrust and disillusionment of many people towards politics. It is my desire to rekindle an atmosphere of honesty and trust. By appealing to you, the people of Quincy, our situation will change. Only through mass participation and involvement can we hope to better ourselves and our community. I know that together we can bring this about.

Our present city government is tangled in disagreement. You, the people of Quincy are paying the price. Leaping tax rates. Feelings of alienation. The neglect of young and old and all of us in between. If I am elected Councillor At-Large, we will have open and Harmonious city government that is responsive to the people. I seek now and will continue to seek your support and input.

The people of Quincy are hardworking, industrious and energetic. They are competent, sincere, honest and reliable. They deserve the best for their children their families, and senior citizens. Because of this, there has been and is a great future for all of us. The people of Quincy are entitled to a city government that is responsive and sympathetic to these needs.

With your full cooperation, we can do this for the city of Quincy and for the well being of all its people. I need your help and support. Together we can and will provide better government for the city of Quincy.

Sincerely,

Carl A. Awed, Jr.

Badger's Quarry Draining To Start Soon Reports Sheets

Draining of Badger's Quarry in West Quincy preparatory to filling it in may begin shortly after Labor Day, according to City Councillor James A. Sheets.

The City Council, at its last meeting, authorized City Clerk John Gillis to call a public hearing for the purpose of taking Badger's Quarry as soon as an appraiser is available.

Sheets has been holding weekly meetings with Fire Chief Edward Barry and City Engineer Edward Leone to work out details for the draining and blasting of the quarry.

"There is approximately four million gallons of water in the quarry which would have to be pumped out over a period of weeks into the storm drains on Willard St.," said Sheets.

"That pumping will continue around the clock as long as there are no heavy rains. If that should occur, then all pumping would stop. We will be careful not to overtax the drains."

Sheets added that it may be necessary to "tap into the power lines so that electric rather than diesel pumps will be used since diesel pumps make a tremendous amount of noise and would probably be disruptive to the community."

RSVP Begins

Operations Under QCAO

The South Shore Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) has begun operations under a new sponsor, the Quincy Community Action Organization, Inc., and at a new address, 372 Granite St.

RSVP was formerly under the sponsorship of the Quincy Council on Aging.

The program, which offers Senior Citizens an opportunity to serve their communities in a wide variety of meaningful assignments, is federally funded under ACTION, an umbrella agency of the U.S. government.

It covers the 12 South Shore communities of Quincy, Weymouth, Braintree, Canton, Holbrook, Hingham, Hull, Avon, Scituate, Milton, Stoughton and Randolph. There are 14 such programs in the state and more than 600 across the country.

South Shore RSVP offers the following to all volunteers.

Free accident and liability insurance in effect from the time they leave home until they return; reimbursement of out-of-pocket expense for the cost of public transportation; reimbursement of use of private vehicles; reimbursement for meals and an annual recognition affair.

Retired seniors, 60 years of age or more, as well as public and private non-profit agencies and others interested in the RSVP program should visit 372 Granite St., or call Director Win Pulsifer or Coordinator of Volunteers Diane Mackie at 471-3600.

Census Takers In Ward 1, Precinct 4

Six census takers are working door-to-door taking a Senior Citizens survey this week in Ward One, Precinct Four, at Curlew Rd., to Shellton Rd. and Post Island Rd. to Sea St.

The census takers carry positive identification which may be verified by calling the Quincy Police Department at 479-1212.

First 'Telethon' Was For Lonely Little Boy

Some readers have wondered why The Quincy Sun is so deeply involved in this year's Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon.

The answer to that is in another question: Do you know the first Muscular Dystrophy TV extravaganza was telecast across the country for an audience of just one—a lonely little boy?

Because of him, it just seems appropriate that The Sun is serving as the first Quincy-South Shore area pledge center where local volunteers will man 25 telephones for 24 hours over the Labor Day holiday to help raise the money needed to fight muscular dystrophy. The story, a quite touching one, goes back 20 years ago next month and involves the little boy, Jerry Lewis and this writer.

It goes back to October, 1957 when I was a staff reporter at The Boston Traveler. We received a letter from Mrs. Doris Reynolds, a nurse at Lakeville Hospital asking us if we could help a little boy. He was lonely because no one came to visit him.

He was going to be nine on Oct. 8. Would The Traveler please help him to receive a few cards?

The late Frank Kelly of Wollaston, then a staff photographer, and I were sent to the hospital. We met a handsome youngster with one of the biggest smiles in the world. But not quite big enough to hide the heartache of thinking he was unwanted.

Dr. Kurt Jellinek, a real life Dr. Christian, filled us in on the tragic background. The boy's mother was dead and his father imprisoned, charged with her death.

Because of the circumstances, we agreed not to use his full name. We referred to him as "Francis X." [Francis was his real first name] and as Little Boy Blue.

What did he want for his birthday?

"Four or six cards," he replied. "Funny cards."

Time takes its toll on muscular dystrophy victims. But all little boys want to grow up. "When I grow up," said Francis, "I wanna be an airplane pilot. I wanna fly up to the sky."

Kelly took a photo of Francis seated in his wheel chair—back to camera—looking out the window for the visitors that never came.

The story and photo appeared on Page 1 of The Traveler Oct. 3—five days before his birthday. By weekend the Middleboro post office was snowed under with letters, cards, packages. Thirty extra people had to be hired to keep up with the avalanche.

The Traveler story had been picked up by the Associated Press and United Press and carried around the nation. Ham radio operators were reading it to one another around the world.

Before it was over, there would be 500,000 pieces of mail, $12,000 in coins and dollar bills and three rooms full of toys and other presents.

The toys, for months and months, were shared with other youngsters at a number of hospitals. The money was set up in a trust fund for Francis.

But the most touching part of all happened the night of Francis' ninth birthday. Jerry Lewis, who even then was national chairman for the Muscular Dystrophy Association, had read the story and quickly swung into action.

He wanted to give Francis something special. And he did.

Lewis asked Gen. David Sarnoff, head of NBC, for a closed TV circuit from Burbank, Calif. to the little Massachusetts town of Lakeville, 3000 miles away. He got the go-ahead.

At the time, it was estimated it took some $350,000 and the services of some 9,000 persons—technicians, engineers and others to complete the hookup.

This was all for one little lonely boy.

The telethon last year raised a record $21 million-plus and was seen by more than 85 million viewers in 34 million homes.

But the sole purpose of the production 20 years ago was to make a lonely little boy happy on his birthday. And the only thing it raised was hope in a little boy's heart.

By telecast time the audience had grown, however. Joining Francis in front of TV receivers in the recreation hall of the hospital were other youngsters in wheel chairs, beds and on crutches. Nurses, doctors, parents and newsmen were there, too.

Suddenly the announcer was saying:

"This program is an NBC closed circuit broadcast for Francis in Lakeville Sanatorium—direct from Hollywood—a special command performance!"

Francis smiled, giggled and slapped the side of his wheel chair as Jerry Lewis mugged, HAPPY BIRTHDAY — Francis "X" with the aid of nurse Doris Reynolds cuts ninth birthday cake in 1957 as Dr. Kurt Jellinek and Henry Bosworth, publisher of The Quincy Sun who was then a Boston Traveler reporter look on. Mask was to shield Francis' identity because of tragic background.

[Frank Kelly Photo]

A SERIOUS Jerry Lewis re-reads Bosworth's story of Francis X, when the pair met in January of this year—nearly 20 years later—as Lewis dedicated a Muscular Dystrophy Clinic at Children's Hospital, Boston. As result of the story, Lewis staged a star-studded closed circuit TV show for the lonely boy in 1957. It was the forerunner of today's Muscular Dystrophy Telethon. [John Gilhooly Photo] clowned, sang and spoke directly to him.

And for the next 75 minutes or so on camera stepped Eddie Cantor, Dinah Shore, Eddie Fisher, Hugh O'Brien, George Gobel, Pinky Lee, Jimmy Dodd and the Mouseketeers, the Skylarks, Mary Costa and others.

Each with a special personal message for Francis—and all doing their thing free to make a little boy happy.

The adults in the audience managed to hold back the tears when Lewis and the Skylarks sang a parody to "There's No Business Like Show Business" entitled "There's No Francis Like Our Francis."

But the tears won out when Dinah Shore serenaded Francis with "You Made Me Love You" and he happily waved back.

Unfortunately there is no cure for muscular dystrophy. Francis died in November, 1966, a few weeks after his 18th birthday. Ironically that was the year of the first public Jerry Lewis Telethon that raised over $1 million to fight the cruel disease.

The mail never really stopped until sometime after Francis' death. He was remembered for 10 years with cards every birthday and Christmas.

And the night that Jerry Lewis put on his first Muscular Dystrophy telecast was for us, who were there, a night to remember.

Jerry was at his best. It was an Emmy performance—from the heart.

To me, it was also TV's finest hour.

QUINCY'S YESTERDAYS By Tom Henshaw

80-Year-Olds Walking Race Called Off

A walking race between octogenarians Dr. Walter G. Kendall of Atlantic and John Ramsdell of Quincy to prove or disprove the value of strong drink - was called off by Mayor Charles A. Ross on grounds the event was becoming too commercialized.

It started when Dr. Kendall declared on his 80th birthday that he owed his long life to the fact that he rarely went to bed without a drink and Ramsdell, also passing his 80th year, attributed his good health to never having a drink in his life.

The ensuing challenge was billed as "Battling Wet vs. Dynamite Dry".

The elderly contestants were in heavy training for the walk from North Quincy to Quincy Square when it was discovered that a radio station was seeking broadcasting rights to the event and a photographer was trying to tie up exclusive picture rights.

"The situation has reached such a point that it has been removed from a dignified plane and in fairness to the contestants it seems advisable to postpone it indefinitely," said Mayor Ross as he stepped in.

"Both men are in excellent condition," he added.

WOLLASTON BOWS OUT

The Labor Day weekend proved so shattering to the Wollaston AA baseball team that it dropped out of the Quincy City League after losing to the Squantum AC, 30-4; to St. Ann's of Wollaston, 22-7; and to Copelands of West Quincy, 10-0.

The holiday defeat by Squantum was the crusher as the peninsula club pounded out 32 hits, including home runs by Courtney and Nelson, and scored seven runs in the third inning and 11 runs in the fourth. Martin and Fisher each went five for seven.

The Wollaston lineup included K. Cahoon ss, R. Douglass 3b, Ogle cf, C. Douglass c, MacLachlan rf, Shearer lf, Kroesser lb, L. Cahoon 2b, F. Douglass p, Jackson p, Mussani 2b, Ricky rf.

Meanwhile, the city's baseballers were outraged when the league-leading Quincy Civics challenged the Weymouth Pals to a game for the South Shore title and Pals Manager George Lane replied that the City League was only a "sandlot league".

INSURANCE RATES DROP

State Insurance Commissioner Merton L. Brown set the compulsory auto insurance rates for 1935 and owners of small and medium sized cars in Quincy were pleasantly surprised to find that their rates had gone up by only $1.

Under the new schedule, owners of Fords and Chevrolets paid $36, owners of medium-sized cars like Dodges and Hupmobiles also paid $36, and those who drove Cadillacs and Pierce Arrows paid $40, down $2 from 1934.

There was a dispute in the Legislature over whether the state should retain the present insurance law or adopted the so-called Connecticut plan under which motorists were not required to have insurance until they had an accident.

DOWNTOWN REVITALIZATION PLAN will change the face of Quincy Center, as shown on this drawing which has School St. running across the bottom, Hancock St. threading its way to the top at right and proposed Upland Rd. Extension at left.

Phase 1 - A new cross town road cuts through from the proposed Upland Rd. Extension to Hancock St., taking down the Kincaide building, preserving Sears Roebuck, adding a major new retail facility on the site of the vacant Gilchrist's and providing parking for an additional 900 cars.

Phase 2 - Hancock St. stores from Cottage Ave. to Colman's will go to make way for a connection between the new road and McGrath Highway via Revere Rd. and an international merchandise mart, hotel and food fair complex.

Phase 3 - Shops and offices behind Sears Roebuck and in place of the current Woolworths building form the basis for a pedestrian link between the two redeveloped sides of Hancock St.

Phase 4 - Colman's Sporting Goods store and parking lot goes to be replaced by a professional center, including an office-banking complex with 120-car garage linked to the merchandise mart-hotel by a bridge across the new cross-town road.

Phase 5 - A multi-use development on the southern edge of Quincy Center bordering on School St., preserving the apartment complex currently occupying part of the site.

Phase 6 - Completion of the cross-town road to the west of the Upland Rd. Extension and the MBTA tracks along with creation of a Farmers' Market along the lines of Boston's Haymarket Square. Price tag - $300 million. Target date - 1992.

Downtown Development Plan Gets Mixed Reaction

Bernie's Modern Formal, a building that will go in an early phase: "I view it with mixed emotions. Needless to say, I'm for progress. But I'm not too happy about being relocated. They promised to pay for relocation but there is no guarantee on rentals. It could be three or four times what I'm paying now. The plan is most impressive. The first phase is a necessity. But I'd like to see what continuity we're going to have with various administrations."

JOHN J. QUINN, dean of the City Council: "It looks very good. The concept has merit but there are a number of questions. Who are the prime interested parties? How much will it cost the taxpayer? What will happen to the displaced merchants? We need something like the new street but is that the best route for it? What traffic surveys have been made? I believe the overall plan has good points. I like the look of it."

JASON FELDMAN of Jason's Luggage and Music Shop, which would go in a later phase: "The first part of it is easy to accomplish once we have a developer and a retailer. Quincy can use the first phase. It will bring more stores into Quincy, more specialty shops. A lot of it takes a long time to accomplish. I don't mind relocating. I don't think it would happen too fast."

LEO J. KELLY, city councillor: "We have to do something with the downtown area but the scale remains to be seen. I would like to see Phase One happen. If it jells; if we get the money, the developer and the retailer, then I'd like to see what develops. The rest of the plan, particularly the merchandise mart, is a little too much. I don't see anything wrong with being prepared but I wish there had been more input from a lot more people, elected officials, merchants and citizens. And I'd like to know where the finances are going to come from."

OVE STRANDSKOV of Sears Roebuck, which will be a key store in the new downtown Quincy: "On the surface, it's ambitious and looks good but it will take a lot of work. It will bring more people into Quincy Center and that's good for everybody."

DANIEL G. RAYMONDI, city councillor: "I share the concern of every elected official that something has to be done. It's good to have a plan and to be cognizant of the fact the government of Quincy recognizes the problem. But it's awfully expensive and we have no hard and fast figures on how much it will cost. Can the taxpayers afford this plan? It shows a lot of imagination but to what extent can it be transformed into reality? Also we should take care that the outlying areas like Quincy Point, Wollaston and North Quincy are not neglected. Perhaps we should have a master plan for the whole city."

CHARLES RYDER of Ryder's, president of the Quincy Center Business and Professional Association: "We need something but we should go one step at a time. We need a major retailer but if we have one in the Parkingway, do we have to raze all those buildings? Are they going to build new buildings prior to tearing down the old? Phase One is good up to the point at which the buildings are razed. Downtown Quincy is not dead or dying. It is still a viable shopping area."

The Squantum Community Association is sponsoring a Candidates Night Tuesday, Sept. 13, at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of the Squantum School, Huckins Ave.

Candidates for School Comm'tee, Mayor, Ward 6 and Councilor at-Large have been invited to attend. Nineteen of the 25 candidates have accepted the association's invitation.

The format for the evening includes a brief presentation by each candidate, followed by a question and answer period. Residents of Squantum and all of Ward 6 are urged to attend. Refreshments will be served.

3 Residents In National Honor Society

Three North Quincy residents were inducted into the National Honor Society at an Honors Breakfast earlier this month.

Edward Kane, Steven Fluks and Pasquale Soricelli, all juniors at Christopher Columbus High School in Boston, were honored at the breakfast. Pasquale is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ciriaco Soricelli of 44 Cushing Ave.; Steven is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fluks of 2 Bellevue Rd.; and Edward is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kane, of 50 Warwick St.

Robert Crowell Marine Sergeant

Robert G. Crowell, son of Mrs. Patricia J. Crowell of 169 Everett St., Wollaston, has been promoted to the rank of sergeant while serving at the Marine Corps base in Camp Lejeune, N.C. He is a 1973 graduate of North Quincy High School.

Martin Levenson To Attend Bates College

Martin E. Levenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Levenson of Quincy, will enter Bates College as a member of the freshman class in September. A June graduate of North Quincy High School, he participated in cross country and winter and spring track.

Citizens Association Candidates Night

The Quincy Citizens Association will hold a Meet-the-Candidates Night Wednesday [Sept. 7] at the Montclair Men's Club to hear late filing candidates who were not heard during the July meeting.

Scheduled to appear at 7:30 p.m. are Leo J. Hannon and Thomas P. McHugh, candidates for Mayor; Joseph E. Brett and Francis X. McCauley, candidate for an at-large seat on the City Council.

David J. Crowley Jr. and James F. Miller Jr., Ward 1; Robert Beniers and Patrick J. Faherty Jr., Ward 2; and Albert R. Barilaro, Joseph P. McDonough and Helen M. McDonnell, Ward 4.

The slate of candidates for the Ward 6 seat appeared in July.

Another candidates night, during which all those seeking office in the final election, is scheduled to be held in October, just prior to the Nov. 8 balloting.

Following the Meet-the-Candidates Night next Wednesday, Planning Director L. Norman Lundin will discuss the latest plans for the City Hall Annex and the Downtown Quincy Development Plan.

Gildea Named LaRaia Campaign Committee Chairman

Joseph N. Gildea of 45 Division St., Montclair, a retired sales representative who is vice-president of the Quincy Citizens Association, has been named co-chairman of the Committee to Re-elect Joseph LaRaia for Mayor.

"I strongly support the various programs implemented by the LaRaia Administration in the past two years," said Gildea, who has been a member of the Park and Recreation Board since 1959.

"The Mayor previously campaigned on a platform of citizen participation. Having fulfilled that commitment during his present administration, I am confident that he will continue in this direction.

"I have supported his stands on North Quincy High School, on fiscal responsibility, on downtown revitalization, and his refusal of the proposal to build a $35 million arena on State Street Bank property."

Gildea, who retired three years ago as a sales representative for the Coca Cola Bottling Co., is a charter member and past president of the Montclair Men's Club and founder and president of the Quincy Bowling Little Loop.

He was recently named Citizen of the Year by the Quincy Citizens Association.

Need For Neighborhood Identity Discussed By Miller

The need for neighborhood identity within the growing community was discussed at a coffee hour for James Miller, candidate for Ward 1 City Councillor, held recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peters, 7 Allerton Rd, Houghs Neck.

"Neighborhood groups and organizations should have a great influence on the direction of our community's development," said Miller.

He looks forward to working closely with the many neighborhood groups in Ward 1 in determining priority issues and effective solutions. The subject of neighborhood identity was brought up through discussion concerning the closing of Great Hill Elementary School in Houghs Neck. Miller said he strongly opposes the possibility of busing children out of their neighborhoods to attend school.

Miller said he believes that this and other issues facing Ward 1 residents can be handled effectively "only through open honest representation rather than relying on political maneuvering."

Quinn Testimonial Sept. 14

A testimonial to City Councillor John J. Quinn and his wife will be held on Sept. 14 from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. at the Quincy Sons of Italy Social Center, 120 Quarry St., West Quincy.

Quinn is seeking his 11th term on the City Council where he has served since 1958.

Jewels & Gems

by Stan Manin

The definition of "crystal" is simply clear, uncolored glass. Most people, however, use the word to refer to fine glassware, especially to the type made with lead. There are legal standards of composition, by which glass must have a certain amount of lead oxide in order to be called "lead crystal". This added lead gives glass extra weight, resilience, and sparkle. A slight tinge of blue can help identify leaded glass; it also rings when tapped with a pencil. But much fine glassware is produced from plain lime glass, so the lead content should never determine the choice of a stemware pattern.

Fine crystal and china, as well as jewelry, are available from us at GRONO & CHRISTIE, INC., 536 Adams St., 696-1490. There is always a selection of Waterford crystal, Bielek, Reed & Barton and Royal Holland pewter and other gift items. Gift certificates are available in any amount and we welcome prospective brides to register their preferences with us. Hours: 9 a.m. - 5 p.m. Mon. thru Sat.

A WEEKLY MESSAGE FROM MICHAEL E. FAHERTY, CANDIDATE COUNCILLOR-AT-LARGE

"Last week a most important plan for the revitalization of the downtown area of our city was unveiled. Like any major undertaking this plan will require refinement, re-working and revision before it becomes reality. But for that to happen is going to require a spirit of co-operation, teamwork. Together we could start that team, so that in future years no one can say - A city's future was lost because of... THE TEAM THAT NEVER WAS."

with Ed McMahon as anchorman.

Locally, appearing on Ch. 5 will be such personalities as John Willis, Natalie Jacobson, Chet Curtis, Bill O'Connell, Frank Avruich, Rex Trailer, Ken Hodge, of the New York Rangers, Muscular Dystrophy Association state chairman, Don Marcotte and Terry O'Reilly of the Boston Bruins. This is the first time a Quincy-South Shore pledge center has been set up since the telethon originated 11 years ago.

The network coverage of this year's telethon from Las Vegas starts at 9 p.m. Sunday night. But Ch. 5 will get off to an earlier start with an hour-long special "What We Do For Love," at 8 p.m. Since 1966, the telethons have raised a total $97,107,009 to fight muscular dystrophy. The first, in 1966, raised $1,002,114 and was the first telethon of any kind to go over $1 million. Last year's telethon hit the $21,723,813 mark and was watched by 85 million viewers in 34 million homes.

Henry Bosworth, publisher of The Quincy Sun and a member of the Massachusetts Telethon Executive Committee, and Richard J. Koch, executive secretary of the Quincy Park-Recreation Board and civic leader, are co-chairmen of the Quincy-South Shore Telethon Committee.

Since June, they have coordinated a number of special events to raise pre-telethon funds for

Muscular Dystrophy. Among them:

A softball double-header featuring Quincy police and firefighters, and the City Council and news media, a skate-a-thon at the Quincy Youth Arena, a dance marathon at Bryan VFW Post, a South Shore Youth Boxing Club exhibition, beano games at the Quincy Elks, Bryan VFW Post, North Quincy Knights of Columbus, Quincy Lodge Sons of Italy, a poolside party at the home of former Mayor and Mrs. James R. McIntyre, a cut-a-thon at the Clip Joint Hairstyling Salon, Wollaston establishment of the Lucky 5 Associates of which each member is donating $5 and a Sacred Heart Youth Organization cake sale.

Local Residents To Appear On Telethon

Local residents who have headed up pre-telethon fund-raising activities will make check presentations on Monday during the Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Telethon.

Tentative schedule of appearances:

8:15 a.m. Weymouth Lodge of Elks: John Horrigan, James Roche.

9:15 a.m. Quincy Lodge

Sons of Italy benefit bingo: Venerable Mario Salvatore, Assistant Venerable Rocco Buonicino, Edmund Pellegrini, bingo chairman, John Fantucchio, charity committee chairman.

10:15 a.m. George Bryan VFW Post benefit beano: Commander Gordon Bergstrom, Frank Roberts, beano chairman, Clifford Olson, Tom McDonald, state junior vice commander and Florence Van Meter, president Bryan Auxiliary.

5:15 p.m. South Shore Youth Boxing Club: Richard [Dee Dee] Morrissey, William Halpin, Paul O'Leary.

Cystic Fibrosis Seeks Volunteers

The Massachusetts Cystic Fibrosis Foundation is seeking neighborhood volunteers and captains to serve in the door-to-door campaign for research funds that will be conducted during the week of Sept. 22-29.

The money collected will go to research programs being conducted in the leading medical centers of Boston and elsewhere in an effort to discover a cure for the genetic disease that afflicts some five million Americans.

Interested volunteers are asked to contact the Quincy coordinator, Marge Schwendenman at 479-2627.

Cheryl Malvesti

Pageant Participant

The Recreation Department inadvertently omitted the name of Cheryl Malvesti, Miss Heron Road, from the list of participants in the Miss Junior Quincy Pageant which appeared in last week's Quincy Sun.

Quincy Babe Ruth Team Splits With Brooklyn

A team of Quincy Babe Ruth League players last weekend broke even in two games against a team of 15-17 year old players from the Boringuen Stars Pony League of the Williamsburg section of Brooklyn.

In the first game Saturday at Adams Field Quincy romped, 15-3, but in the second game Sunday the Boringuen Stars prevailed, 10-3.

Arrangements for the Quincy participation were made by Babe Ruth League President Hugh Salvatore.

Saturday afternoon the visitors attended the Red Sox-Twins game at Fenway Park and enjoyed a trip to Paragon Park in the evening.

Attending the Saturday game were Mayor Joseph LaRaia, James Eddy, Quincy's downtown coordinator; WEEL's Howard Nelson and his daughter, Mrs. Miguel Megias of Quincy.

After Sunday morning's game some of the visitors enjoyed activity with their host families while others had a welcome dip in the pool of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vallier of Glendale Road.

A farewell cookout Sunday evening was enjoyed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Koch, 241 Newbury Avenue, sponsored by the Quincy City Club.

Several Quincy organizations and individuals combined their efforts to provide housing and entertainment for the visiting group.

Host families were Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Buckley, Mrs. Vicki Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard McNamara, Mr. and Mrs. John Kane, Mrs. Alice Solari, Mr. and Mrs. Carmen D'Olimpio and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Yeomans.

Arrangements for the trip were made by Miss Ann Yeomans, director of the New York team's recreation program, and Mrs. Clara Yeomans, executive secretary of the Quincy Conservation Commission.

The New York youths were officially greeted upon their arrival Friday evening at the Faith Lutheran Church Youth Hostel on Roberts Street by Councilor-at-large Paul D. Harold and their host families. Supper was prepared and served by members of the Star of the Sea Prayer Group of Squantum and the Sacred Heart Prayer Group of North Quincy.

Presidents Eliminated In New Bedford Tourney

The Quincy Presidents bowed out of the Greater New Bedford Junior Baseball Tournament in the semifinals last week after compiling a 7-3 record.

Quincy was eliminated by Whaling City, 7-1, after winning two more games.

In their first game last Friday the Presidents defeated Medford, 3-2, in 12 innings in one of the finest games ever played in the annual tournament.

John Balzano was the starting pitcher in the three hour, 15 minute game and gave up two runs in the first inning. He then pitched outstanding ball until the seventh, giving up three hits, striking out 10 and walking only one.

Quincy tied it in the third when, with two outs, Jim Austin doubled. Frank Levesque singled him home, stole second and scored on Bob Mudge's single.

Marty McLaughlin pitched in the eighth and in five brilliant innings allowed two hits, struck out 10 and walked just one. In the bottom of the 12th, Balzano, Mark Reghini and Mike Marshall singled to fill the bases and Kevin Whelan walked to force in the winning run.

Balzano had three hits. McLaughlin, Austin and Marshall two each and Mudge, Dwayne Wilcoxon and Reghini one apiece.

Quincy then defeated Westport, R.I., 6-4, Saturday after the losers had taken a 2-0 lead in the first inning. The Presidents tied it up in the second when Levesque walked, Balzano doubled and Reghini singled.

Westport again took the lead, 4-2, but Marshall, coming in to pitch for the first time in the tournament, stopped the Rhode Island team cold while Quincy exploded for four runs in the sixth inning.

McLaughlin doubled, Austin doubled him home and Levesque's single scored Austin with the tying run. Levesque took second on the throw in and scored the winner on a single by Balzano, who also took second on the throw in and scored on Mudge's single.

Whaling City, which lost to Colombo in the championship game, took a 3-0 lead in the first against the Presidents and that was all it needed as Quincy was held to three hits.

Levesque singled and Balzano doubled for the only Presidents' run and Reghini had the only other hit.

McLaughlin led the team in batting in the tournament with a .438 average, followed by Whelan, .417; Austin, .345; Levesque, .333, and Reghini, .315. Balzano paced the pitchers with a 3-0 record.

President Pete Cappola of Quincy's Junior Baseball League congratulated Manager Bob Foley and his coaches, Al Lowell, Joe Conti, Kevin McDonough and Tom McLaughlin and all the parents and other fans who attended the games every weekend in August.

"As the tournament director told the players, 'the Quincy team has class,'" Cappola said.

Softball Game Raises $500 For Leukemia

An estimated $500 was raised for the Leukemia Society of America when a softball team of television personalities recently defeated the Quincy Jaycees, 11-7, before more than 150 fans at Rotary Field.

The game was played as a memorial to Robert McIntyre, a Quincy resident who last month died of leukemia. McIntyre had been a past director of the Joseph Whiteman House, the residential facility owned by Survival, Inc.

Among the TV personalities playing were Sheila Banks, Gloria Gibson, Ted O'Brien, Bob Ryan, Gary Armstrong, Jim Boyd, Ron Gollobin and John Dennis. Comedian Tommy Maher and Dave Kodman of Channel 7 were the announcers and Public Works Commissioner Paul Anderson was umpire.

Models from the Hart Agency played for both teams.

Mayor Joseph LaRaia pitched for the Jaycees and among their members who played were President Howard Rock, Internal Vice President John Fagerlund, External Vice President Joe DeRosa, Treasurer Chris Bunnell, Secretary Ray Crombie, State Legal Counsel Ron Rice, Nick DeRosa, Brian Carter and Joe Hajjar.

Anyone between 18 and 35 wishing to join the Jaycees are asked to contact Rock at 472-3424 or Crombie at 471-1650.

Takes 6 Age Group Titles

Track Club Dominates Frank Kelly Memorial Meet

The Quincy Track Club dominated the second annual Frank Kelly Memorial Track Meet Saturday at Veterans Memorial Stadium, capturing six of 10 age group titles, taking three trophies for outstanding athletes and winning the Frank Kelly Award for the most points in the meet.

Outclassed by the QTC were the Cooper Striders of Boston, Roxbury Track Club, Liberty A.C. of Lexington, Denny A.C. of Boston, Westerly Track Club, Westerly, R.I., Mattapoisett Club, Central Mass. Striders, and Worcester.

The success of the Quincy team is a tribute to the hard work of Coach Jeff Hennessey, who directs weekly development meets throughout the summer and takes members of the QTC to meets throughout the state. Jeff organized the Kelly meet, kept track of how his team was doing and compiled and tabulated all the results.

Many performances were the finest ever turned in by New England and competition was keen among the more than 250 boys and girls who competed.

In the new seven and under age group Kathy Shea and Clare Murphy took second and third in the 100 and Danny McCarthy and Danny Biagini were one-two in the boys 100.

In the Bantam boys division Alfred Martell won the 440 and long jump, anchored the winning relay team and took second in the 100. He received the MVP trophy in his age group. Matt Killilea placed third in the 440 and Dave Fahey and Robbie Sheehan were two-three in the long jump. Other members of the winning relay team were Chuck McIntyre, Jimmy Milano and Killilea.

In the Bantam girls division Geraldine Murphy won gold medals in the 100, 440, long jump and relay. Janice Libby took the silver in the 100 and 440. Beth Veneto took the bronze in the 440 and Ann Marie Hughes the bronze in the long jump. The relay team of Geraldine Murphy, Libby, Hughes and Clare Murphy won, while the team of Kathy Shea, Beth Veneto, Terry McLoughlin and Donna McLoughlin took third. Geraldine Murphy won the MVP trophy.

In Midget boys Mike Williams showed the crowd why he is the finest runner in his age group in New England by winning the 100, LETTING LOOSE - Twelve-year old Michelle Millane, one of the Quincy Track Club's top young athletes, seems to be urging the discus on as she wins the event with a throw of 92 feet, 5 inches, in the annual Frank Kelly Memorial meet.

220 and 400 by wide margins. Tom Schofield took the bronze medals in the 220 and 440, Mike Bourikas took the silver in the hurdles and the bronze in the long jump. John McCarthy won the long jump and the "A" relay team anchored by Williams won and the "B" relay team took third. Williams won the MVP trophy.

In Midget girls, Sheila Barrett won silver medals in the 220 and 440 and a bronze in the long jump. Chris Francis took a bronze in the 220 and Linda Welby and Julie Greene placed second and third in the hurdles. The relay team of Barrett, Francis, Mary Shea and Bernadette Murphy won. The "B" relay team took third.

In the Youth division boys, Jack Leone, Rich McCarthy and Kevin Wood swept the high jump. Wood also took third in the hurdles. Cliff Burgess and Dave Church were second and third in the half mile and the relay team also won.

In Youth girls, Sue McLoughlin tied for first in the high jump and she won the long jump. Denise Santo took second in the long jump and thirds in the 100 and 220. Michelle Millane took third in the half mile and the relay team of Liz Wiot, Joanne Foley, Sue McLoughlin and Denise Santo placed second.

In the Intermediate Boys Carroll Coletti won the high jump and 220, placed second in the 100 and anchored the winning relay team. John Burgess won the mile and half mile. George Martell took second in the high jump and third in the discus. Rich Panarelli won the discus and Shawn Barnes won the shot and took second in the discus.

In Intermediate girls Karen McCarthy won the long jump with an outstanding 17-3/4 effort and took second in the 100 and 220. Janet Sines won the shot put and took second in the 440. Linda Kelleher won the mile with Donna Reardon third, Michelle Millane took the discus with Sines third, Linda Morash placed third in the 440, Paula Church placed second in the half mile and the relay team of Morash, Church, Sines and McCarthy finished a close third.

In Senior boys Matt King took third in the 220 and Mike Larson won the shot.

In Senior girls Linda Cellini won the half mile and took third in the long jump.

Quincy placed first in team scoring in the Bantam boys and girls, Midget boys, Youth boys and Intermediate girls and boys.

The QTC last week held its final summer meet at the stadium with several records broken.

Downtown Plan Phase One Gets Favorable Reaction

councillor: "It's a very progressive and ambitious plan but there are still a lot of unanswered questions. What will be the role of the city government in financing it? How will construction be overseen; by an authority or by the planning department? Phase One is probably the most practical aspect. It should be given the most consideration. At this time the other phases are too ambitious to be the focus of immediate attention. A retail center is fine but it must be remembered that downtown Quincy is a service and commercial center, too."

ROBERT COLMAN of Colman's Sporting Goods, whose store will go in a later phase: "There is no way that we could be relocated in Quincy because we don't fit. They might eventually shut down the street and we would be out of business. I'd like to see them identify the major developer and the major retailer. I don't see any commitment for federal money."

WARREN A. POWERS, city councillor: "I'm interested in any type of progress that will bring in additional revenue. But we don't want an added burden on the taxpayer. If it is to be done with predominantly private capital then I welcome it. We have to have an overall plan even if it will have to be amended to make it more realistic. I wonder if maybe it wasn't made too broad so that it can be tailored down. Anyway, the idea of upgrading downtown Quincy and infusing it with life is exciting."

HARRY TUCKER of Woolworth's: "It's really terrific - if it comes to pass. I wonder if it's possible."

DENNIS E. HARRINGTON, city councillor: "If it's considered as a proposal rather than a definitive plan then it has a great deal of merit. As a city councillor I'm happy that the administration, the City Council, the business leaders and the citizens are showing a strong interest in downtown rejuvenation. But we should understand that without backup data to support the plan it would be premature to comment on its feasibility. The key to it is private financing as the primary support. Any other way would not be in the best interests of the city."

One major retailer, whose store is not in the area of redevelopment and who asked that his name not be used, said: "I'm glad to see that everyone agrees that downtown Quincy needs something. Is this the answer? I don't know. We've been shown the frosting but we haven't yet tasted the cake. But I'm encouraged by the mood of the people who attended the unveiling."

SUMNER COHEN, of Kincaide's Furniture which would be demolished in Phase One, indicated general approval of the overall plan if it will improve business for Quincy, but questioned the wisdom of knocking down his store and several others before development of the Hancock parking area is firm. "What has been a big problem, is that in some areas they have gone through half a program and are left with a big hole. To knock down all the stores that have to be knocked down there would be a big mistake because they don't know how long it will be until that [Hancock parking] area is developed." He suggested that it might be possible to provide access to the area through Cliveden St. instead.

Downtown Advisory Committees

Following are lists of the members of four committees set up by Mayor LaRaia to advise on various aspects of the downtown development plan.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS COMMITTEE

Paul Anderson, public works commissioner; Francis X. Finn, police chief; Edward Barry, fire chief; Allan MacDonald, building inspector; James Erwin, plumbing inspector; Dr. Samuel Solomon, health commissioner; Robert Pitts, wire inspector; William Foy, treasurer; Mike Fagerlund, assessor; James Eddy, downtown development coordinator; and representatives of the Conservation Commission and the Relocation Agency.

FINANCIAL ADVISORY COMMITTEE

BUSINESS ADVISORY COMMITTEE

Ernest Montilio of Montilio's Bakery; Dick Barker of Barker's Stationery; Mark Dickinson of Grossman's; Robert Faxon of Faxon Realty Trust; Harold Slate, realtor; Bernie Reisberg of Bernie's Modern Formal; Ove Strandskov of Sears, Roebuck; and Roy Lawson of Hunneman and Co.

CITIZEN ADVISORY COMMITTEE

Revaluation

that revaluation would adversely affect no fewer than 13 categories of property owners who are entitled to partial tax exemptions on their property tax bills.

These categories include veterans, disabled veterans, elderly people, orphans, and blind people.

Tobin said the partial exemptions these property owners receive is based on the valuations of their homes, so that a greatly-increased assessment will make the statutory benefit worthless, or greatly reduce its value.

Bruce McLeod Completes Navy Recruit Training

Navy Construction Recruit Bruce P. McLeod, son of Mr. and Mrs. Murdock A. McLeod of Willard St., West Quincy, has completed an eight-week recruit training cycle at the Naval Training Center in Orlando, Fla.

A 1976 graduate of Quincy Vocational Technical School, McLeod studied general military subjects such as seamanship, close order drill, Naval history, and first aid. These courses are designed to prepare trainees for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic occupational fields.

Newlyweds Advised To Make Home Purchase Early

The sooner a newly married couple makes their first home purchase, the better, advises John R. Reardon, Vice President, Jack Conway Company.

"Buying a small, modestly priced home during the first year of marriage is an excellent way for newlyweds to begin building their financial position," he said.

Traditionally, many young couples have postponed home buying decisions for the first few years of marriage, renting apartments until they could accumulate the down-payment necessary for just the right house.

"Today's economic climate has forced just about everyone to rethink ways to plan their personal finances and investments, and the early purchase of a first home makes a lot of sense," Reardon said.

Many "starter" homes are on the market for $30,000 to $35,000, he notes. "Located in well-established neighborhoods, these houses may have only two bedrooms and old-fashioned kitchens and baths, but they offer top investment opportunities for young couples."

The house that sells in the $30,000 to $35,000 range today should appreciate to $42,000 to $49,000 over the next five years, Reardon predicts. This projection assumes that inflation will continue at between six and eight percent annually and that home values will continue to increase at least as much as inflation over this period. If home improvements are made that add value to the house, the owners' potential resale price will increase even more.

"Appreciation is only part of the picture," Reardon points out. "Home owners build equity through mortgage payments and reduce their taxes through their payments of interest on home mortgages. Planned savings programs often don't work out, but mortgage payments in lieu of rent are almost always at the top of any family's budget. In a way, this is 'forced savings' that benefit many people."

By postponing the first home purchase, today's newlyweds will collect rent receipts rather than build equity, pay taxes without deductions for mortgage interest, and fail to participate in profits from rising home prices.

"After five years, their down payment needs will increase about 25 percent," Reardon said. "Just about any way you look at it, the young couple who puts off buying their first home now is very likely to be well behind financially later on."

Based on service by over 900 members of RELO, the nation's largest not-for-profit relocation service, Jack Conway Company offers the following tips for young married couples:

- Consider your first home as an investment — not necessarily as a house in which you will raise a family and grow old.

- Ask the broker to give you his or her best estimate of the market value of the house in five years. Add extra dollars to the projected sales price for any home improvements you plan to make that will add real value to the house. This first home, on resale, should provide the down payment on a home of greater value.

- If necessary, arrange your financing with a 5 or 10 percent down payment, rather than the traditional 20 percent. The critical point is to get that first house so that you can begin to build your family's financial assets.

- Look for modestly priced homes in good neighborhoods that can be improved with up-dated kitchens, baths and/or the addition of a family room or bedroom.

- Keep records and receipts for all your home's costs. Many of these expenses can be deducted from your profits on resale to reduce taxes.

"The first home is an important decision for newlyweds and one that can be the cornerstone of their financial position," Reardon said.

LOOKING? KEEP A RECORD

Buying a home is a big investment and involves major decisions. So, it's understandable why so much time and care is taken when looking for a home that's right for you. No one knows this better than your local Realtor.

Once the Realtor takes on the assignment of finding you a home, he'll probably show you several. Therefore, it's important to take notes on what you have seen or you may forget which home is where, how big it is, what shape it's in, and how much it costs.

Your Realtor can provide you with a checklist to make this important task easier. This way, you can rate each home as you see it and instantly recall the location, price, construction, number of rooms, heat, fuel, taxes, and financial requirements. If you have a Polaroid picture of the house to go with the notes — so much the better when describing it to your other half.

Thinking of selling your home? It makes sense to list it with PRESIDENT REAL ESTATE, 356 Hancock St., Phone: 328-8345.

Through our nationwide network of ERA Realtors, we can help you relocate anywhere in the country.

Also, we have available a one year warranty on all plumbing, heating, mechanical, electrical systems and built-in appliances on homes that we sell.

Phone or drop in. We are here to help.

Morrisette Post To Present

Hal McIntyre Orchestra Sept. 24

Vice-Commander Larry Visco of Morrisette Legion Post announces the post will sponsor "A Nostalgia Night" Saturday, Sept. 24 featuring dancing to the music of the famed Hal McIntyre Orchestra under the direction of Hal McIntyre Jr.

The event will be held at the post home, Miller St., West Quincy.

The 14-piece McIntyre orchestra will play arrangements made famous by McIntyre himself at a time when he, Glenn Miller, Benny Goodman and Tommy and Jimmy Dorsey were stars of the big band era.

Reservations should be made soon advises Visco.

For tickets or more information contact Visco or any officer of Morrisette Post.

'Heart Day' Sept. 10 At Edaville Railroad

The American Heart Association, Southeast Massachusetts Division, will hold "Heart Day" Sept. 10, at Edaville Railroad, South Carver.

Proceeds will go to the Heart Association to help continue the many local programs in Southeast Massachusetts, and to the national research effort to combat Heart Disease, the number one killer in America.

Edaville Railroad will be open from 11 a.m. - 5 p.m. Sept. 10. Discount tickets can be obtained locally at Quincy Savings Bank, 1200 Hancock St., Quincy Center, from Donald Johnson.

Admission to the Railroad includes a 5 1/2 mile ride on the Edaville Steam train during the peak of cranberry harvest, and admission to the Edaville museum. McDonald's Hamburger, and clowns and dancers will entertain children all day, and free balloons will be distributed.

The museum has on display the largest collection of toy trains in the country, rare touring and sport antique cars, fire engines, and a 19th century shopping village.

An antique carousel and petting zoo are also featured on the Edaville grounds, and horse-drawn fire engine rides and Model T car rides will be available.

For more information, call the local American Heart Association office.

The Campaign Trail. . .

Tobin Would Adopt Zero-Based Budgeting

City Council President Arthur H. Tobin, a candidate for Mayor, has pledged that, if elected, he would adopt zero-based budgeting for the city in an effort to hold the line on unnecessary expenditure.

Tobin spoke before some 100 people at a candidates' night of the Atlantic Neighborhood Association, urging "the people of Quincy to avoid being sweet-talked at the 11th hour of the campaign with political rhetoric."

"The present administration," he said, "has been talking about many last minute programs and 'pie in the sky' projects while nothing has been done in the past 21 months, hoping the people will forget the present administration's turmoil and fiscal mismanagement of Quincy's city government."

Tobin urged his listeners not to forget "the exorbitant consultant costs of North Quincy High School while it is still behind schedule, the political meddling in the police department, the outrageous $35 tax rate of last year and the rubbish collection fiasco."

He termed himself "the one candidate to unite Quincy for positive progress."

If elected, he said, he would appoint a blue-ribbon screening committee to insure the best possible nominees for appointments, "avoiding the embarrassment of the past two years."

Faherty Promises To Remove Signs From Residential Area

Michael E. Faherty, a candidate for an at-large seat on the City Council, has promised to remove his political signs from residential areas, including his own property.

Faherty, a first-time candidate, was cited in a newspaper report as one of those office-seekers who were in violation of a city ordinance prohibiting the placement of such signs.

"It's important," he said, "for the voters to know that those signs were erected at my request, knowing of the ordinance in question but never having witnessed it enforced in all the years I've lived in Quincy."

"On many, many occasions I've supported political candidates with signs on my lawn and have never heard the word violation mentioned."

"I can only hope that this is not a politically motivated move during a period when we have seen altogether too much political infighting and petty bickering."

"I would like to add that there are not too many ways a first-time candidate for public office can get his name before the people. Such is not the case with incumbents who as public officials have unlimited access to the press."

"I believe that political signs tastefully designed and placed on the properties of taxpayers with their permission are not an offensive way of gaining public awareness of one's political aspirations."

"The signs, including the one on my own property, will be taken down and will remain down for the duration of the campaign."

McCauley Says Downtown Plan Depends On Private Business

School Committeeman Francis X. McCauley, a candidate for an at-large seat on the City Council says he feels the "key to success" of the $300 million downtown plan "will depend on the degree of acceptance and participation by the private sector."

"The planning and cooperation of federal, state and local officials, while necessary, will not assure implementation of the plan unless business feels it will be profitable to relocate in Quincy," he said in a statement.

McCauley said he was unable to attend the unveiling of the plan but that he plans to sit down shortly with Planning Director L. Norman Lundin and "go over all phases of the proposal in depth."

Awed Praises Downtown Development Plan

Carl A. Awed Jr., a candidate for an at-large seat on the City Council, has praise for the $300 million downtown development plan as "a good attempt at reviving our city's economy."

But, he added in a statement, "it raises many questions in my mind which demand serious debate."

"One aspect which is unclear to me," he said, "is the destruction of useable buildings to construct bigger and more expensive buildings."

"I believe the existing facilities could be put to a more practical use by rejuvenating the inside, such as Boston has done recently with the new Quincy Market district on the waterfront."

"Such action would keep Quincy's historical landmarks intact and save the taxpayers some unnecessary spending by utilizing what we already have."

"While it is apparent that positive action must be taken to stem the current flow of business away from our metropolis, not enough facts on this particular program are known to form a valid opinion."

Michael Kelly Says City Needs Business-Like Approach To Problems

At a recent coffee hour at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Sherman, 57 Ashworth Road, Squantum, Ward 6 City Council candidate, Michael J. Kelly said, "The city needs to take a more business-like approach to the problems and issues facing the city."

Kelly, a marketing representative, also said, "the city must begin to use more cost effective techniques in city management."

Kelly also reported the results of his poll of Ward 6 in regard to both the proposed Messina and Marina projects. The results, he said, showed that more than 72 per cent of the residents of the ward are against the two projects.

Kelly pledged to fight the projects because, he said, neither is the proper use of valuable wet lands and the residents of the ward are against them."

"As Ward 6 Councillor, he said he intends to be both available and responsive."

Malvesti Family Reception For Tobin Sept. 8

The Malvesti family of Quincy is sponsoring a coffee social for mayoral candidate and Mrs. Arthur Tobin Thursday, Sept. 8.

The event will be from 8 p.m. to 11 p.m. at Morrisette Legion Post, 54 Miller St., West Quincy.

Sponsors are Anthony, John, Joseph, Louis and Nicholas Malvesti.

Tull Lauds Downtown Plan

Atty. George M. Tull, a candidate for Mayor, has called the LaRaia Administration's $300 million plan to revitalize downtown Quincy "the finest, most complete plan I have ever viewed."

He told a meeting at the United Methodist Church in North Quincy that Mayor LaRaia and those who worked on the plan should be commended.

"There are questions of concern to all of us," he said, "but the Mayor and his planners should be given every chance to answer these questions and go forward without this becoming a political football."

He listed the problems as selection of a prime tenant for the new retail center, selection of a developer and financing of the project.

"The amount of city involvement must be solved and the answers must be given to the citizens to lull the minds of the doubters or all of us," he said.

Tull also assailed what he called the "excessive traffic lights in our city."

"Our citizens in Quincy Point face up to 10 sets of lights from the Fore River Bridge to the shopping area on Granite St., which encompasses an area of less than two miles," he said.

"Our pockets are being picked daily from the gas guzzling caused by these lights plus continued electricity used. The side effects of these lights are poisonous fumes which pollute the air especially during the times in which the children are going to school.

"While our politicians are fuming over the cost of North Quincy High School and the $300 million plan, I would like to get down to basic everyday problems in our city."

"I would like to have a committee with the proper expertise who can and want to formulate plans for economy to control taxes, expedite long range plans of City Hospital, and, if possible, our intervention in behalf of the strikers at General Dynamics."

ARTHUR TOBIN'S ALREADY DONE A LOT FOR QUINCY. AS MAYOR, HE'LL DO A LOT MORE.

As a City Councilor, State Representative, State Senator, and President of the City Council, Arthur Tobin has spent the last 12 years working and fighting to make Quincy a better place.

And his record tells you a lot about the man. It tells you he cares for Quincy. It tells you how to get things done. Most of all, it tells you he's worked long and hard to earn your vote for Mayor.

- He's led the statewide fight to block 100% reevaluation.

- Stopped the filling-in of Quincy Bay.
- He was responsible for depressing of the MBTA tracks in Quincy Center, a move which makes downtown development more feasible.
- Opposed the outrageous $35 tax hike.
- He's championed the cause of Senior Citizens, both in Quincy and statewide. He sponsored the Oceanview and Clay Street elderly housing.
- He supported Martensen Street and Pagnano Towers housing.
- He helped in working out details for Fenno House, 1000 Southern Artery, and Wollaston Manor.
- He sponsored Senior Citizen meal and recreation program.
- He got MBTA 1/2 fares for the elderly.

- He was instrumental in the development of Squantum, Merrymount and the Lincoln-Hancock Schools.
- Cleaned up Mayor LaRaia's rubbish mess.
- Helped bring in State Street South, Kemper Insurance, Jordan Marsh and other revenue producing businesses.
- Brought in jobs through housing development and school facilities.

If you believe a man should be judged by what he's done and not what he promises, if you believe Quincy needs a Mayor who'll work long and hard for the City, vote for Arthur Tobin.

From the day he's elected, he'll start working to make Quincy better. As Mayor, he'll:

- Set up screening panels for all City appointments to avoid the mistakes we've seen in the past two years.
- Avoid duplication of services, a move that can save Quincy up to $250,000 a year.
- Institute zero base budgeting, and require every City department to justify every cent it spends.
- Hold the line on taxes, and bring sound fiscal management to City Hall.

- Fight for the revitalization of the downtown business area and work to bring new business to the City.
- Keep the police department free from political interference to restore dignity and morale to our public safety officers.
- Improve City playgrounds and recreation programs.
- End corruption in City government.

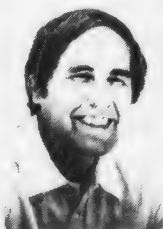

The present Mayor has promised nothing but pie-in-the-sky and given Quincy nothing but problems. Arthur Tobin has down-to-earth plans and has proven he can deliver on what he promises.

"I want to make Quincy a better place for our families."

So what do you do with a hard working public servant who wants to get Quincy moving again? Elect him Mayor.

Penn St. Land To Be Taken For So. Quincy MBTA Garage

Directors of the MBTA have voted to take by eminent domain 49,595 square feet of land and two cold storage warehouses on Penn St., South Quincy, to make way for a parking garage adjacent to the proposed South Quincy MBTA Station.

An award of $790,000 was made to the owner, L and N Realty Trust, of which Lawrence F. Cianciolo is trustee.

One of the buildings to be taken houses the Granite City Cold Storage Plant in two stories with a floor area of 9,841 square feet.

The other building houses the A and P Cold Storage Warehouse in a one-story steel frame structure with concrete block walls and corrugated asbestos panels and 20,736 square feet of floor space.

Funds for the award will be placed in escrow in an account bearing 6 percent interest from the date of the order of taking pending resolution of a current law suit between members of the seller's family.

When we hear the word 'gold' we tend to think of the specific, deep yellow color. But did you know that the precious metal comes in other varieties as well? All gold used in jewelry is actually mixed with parts of copper, zinc, or silver into stronger alloys. However, when pure gold is alloyed with copper, zinc and nickel, it becomes white gold. This style came into vogue for diamond settings around the time of World War I, and many people still prefer white gold. A pink gold is produced when small quantity of copper is added to the pure metal. In the 1920's, pink gold frequently provided the setting for rubies.

All types of gold jewelry can be seen by coming to us at GRONO & CHRISTIE, INC., 536 Adams St., 696-1490. We handle estate and antique jewelry and encourage people to trade an old piece towards a new one, or, if you prefer, to design a new piece of jewelry from old stones, out of date or unwanted jewelry. Open: 9 a.m. - 5 p.m. Mon. thru Sat.

Enrollment Down For 6th Straight Year

Quincy public schools opened Wednesday with some innovative programs, 17 new teachers and a student enrollment that is expected to decline sharply for the sixth consecutive year.

"We won't have an estimate of enrollment until after school opens," said School Supt. Dr. Lawrence P. Creedon, "but we assume that it will continue to go down. That was the indication last spring."

Student enrollment last year was fixed at 14,772 in kindergarten through Grade 14 [at the Vo Tech School], down from a high of 17,080 in 1971 and the lowest in 20 years.

The big decline is expected in kindergarten.

"We had 977 in kindergarten last year," said Creedon. "This year we expect to have about 900."

He attributed the falling kindergarten enrollment to the declining birth rate.

An unknown factor in determining the school population for this coming year is the migration of school age children in and out of Quincy during the summer. Losses are expected in that category, too. "Over a two year period," said Creedon, "we have had 936 kids enter from other school systems and 1,205 leave to go to other school systems. We expect that trend will continue, too."

"Apparently, families are not finding Quincy as attractive as they used to. And those that move farther away from Boston are not being replaced."

Nevertheless, in spite of declining enrollment, new teachers are being added as new courses are introduced and old ones are expanded.

The 17 new teachers for the 1977-78 year are distributed as follows:

- Five special needs teachers at the elementary and secondary levels.
- Four math teachers on the secondary level.
- Two home economics teachers on the secondary level.
- One reading specialist at Quincy High School and the Vo Tech School.

- One law enforcement teacher for Quincy Junior College. This is a fulltime teacher for a course that was offered before on a parttime basis.

- One distributive education [work-study] teacher for the business education department.

- One teacher for the business education department.

- One operating room nurse technician instructor.

- One business education teacher at the Junior College.

Among the innovative programs being started in the schools this year is the Alternative Learning Experience [ALE], school which is being operated with a full complement of 125 Quincy High School students in the old Courthouse on Coddington St.

The student of ALE will study a curriculum similar to that at Quincy High, except that they will not have to move around to classes.

Dr. Creedon describes it as a step toward both ends, conservative and liberal, of the educational scale.

"It's highly structured in that there will be the same six teachers all the time," he says. "They make up a team structure like we have on the junior high school level."

"It is liberal in that they get to know the teachers and share in the planning. The demands on the students are tighter and there is a closer relationship with the teacher."

The new school has proven so popular, said Dr. Creedon, that there is already a waiting list.

The school system is also moving into two new areas of instruction - cardio pulmonary resuscitation [CPR] and metrics.

"We are arranging courses to train biology teachers in methods of saving people's lives," says William L. Phinney, assistant superintendent for instruction. "They should begin teaching students in the 11th grade by next spring."

"These are the survival skills that every person ought to

Foster Children Seeking Quincy Homes

Families for Foster Children, a unit of the Massachusetts Office for Children, has started a new recruitment program to enlist foster parents for teenagers and institutionalized children.

Quincy families are needed for emergency, short term and long term placement of foster children.

Carol Trust, director of Families for Foster Children, reports that there is a critical shortage of foster homes for teenagers and institutionalized children. The teenagers may be parentless, their families may be in a temporary crisis, or they may be ready to leave an institution but can't return home. Some have had trouble with the authorities. Other institutionalized children may have varying degrees of physical or mental handicaps.

Foster parents receive a subsidy for the food and clothing of children in their care. Single persons or couples interested in becoming foster parents should call Families for Foster Children at 727-7277.

OFF HIGHWAY-OFF LIGHTS

Vacationers who insist upon driving long distances in one stretch may unwittingly make themselves targets for tragedy. For instance - it's late at night, and you're suddenly engulfed in fog on an unfamiliar road. Concerned about the hazards of covering unknown roads, you decide to pull over to the side of the highway. As a safety precaution, you leave the car lights on.

According to the American Automobile Association, this procedure may be tantamount to signing your death warrant. In fact, it was responsible for a fatal accident on Connecticut's Merritt Parkway not long ago. When a motorist's tire blew, he pulled off the road onto the grass. It was dark and he did not turn off his tail lights. When another car came speeding along, its driver followed the red tail lights, roared up onto the grass and crashed into the parked car killing its occupants.

The moral: When your car is stationary on or near the highway, light a flare or wave a flashlight, but keep your tail lights off!

St. Joseph's Guild To Sponsor Natural Family Planning Lecture

The Natural Family Planning Staff of Laboure Center and St. Margaret's Hospital for Women, will present an introductory lecture on Natural Family Planning Wednesday, Sept. 14 at 8 p.m. at St. Joseph's School Hall, 22 Pray St., Quincy Point.

The introductory presentation will discuss the Natural Methods which are a solution to those wishing to avoid or achieve pregnancy. The method is not the rhythm or calendar method. It is a new technique which offers an effective means of pinpointing the infertile and fertile days of each cycle.

The NFP method is available to all women - with regular or irregular menstrual cycles; after stopping the Pill or other contraceptives; premenopausal women; postpartum or nursing mothers.

There are no side effects and the method is as effective as the pill if learned and used properly.

The lecture is recommended for all women interested in hearing more about Natural Family Planning. This lecture is being sponsored by St. Joseph's Guild. A short business meeting will be held after the lecture.

have."

CPR training is believed to be new to any school in the South Shore area, although Randolph and Braintree are reported to be considering it. Eventually, it will be extended to the evening program in Quincy schools.

The metric system [feet, miles, quarts, etc.] in the United States, will receive a stronger emphasis in Quincy schools this year.

"We'll be teaching metric terms and instruments in the junior and senior high schools this year," says Phinney. "And we're offering a course in metrics in the evening school so that the parents can keep up with the kids."

Also set for introduction in the schools is an "energy detective" program by which the youngsters seek out and report examples of energy waste, first in the school and then at home.

Such energy waste in the schools [poor insulation, ill-fitting doors, etc.] will be corrected by student workers from the Vo Tech School.

Although it has nothing to do with curriculum, emergency medical trained [EMT] personnel from the Fire Department will be available at all extra-curricular athletic events, varsity and junior varsity, at the schools.

"It's very difficult to get doctors to come to athletic events," says Dr. Creedon. "It's not the cost but the availability. It used to be only for varsity football games. For a while we leased commercial ambulances. Now EMT is more readily available."

Dr. Creedon also reported:

• The Merrymount School will open on time after $1 million worth of addition and renovation.

• Work on North Quincy High School, said to be at least 50 days behind schedule, is expected to pick up speed in a couple of months.

"The building will be bricked in in November so that work can continue during the winter months," he said. "Then we can make up for some lost time. The contractor hasn't had an opportunity before because of the nature of the work."

• Report on a proposed consolidation of schools under which some buildings with low enrollments will be closed should be ready for submission to the School Committee by early October.

Deaths

Services Held For Joseph H. Tobin, 64

A Funeral Mass was celebrated yesterday [Wednesday] in St. Mary's Church, Gloversville, N.Y., for Joseph H. Tobin, formerly of Weymouth, one of the founders of Quincy radio station WJDA almost 30 years ago.

He died Sunday in a Cooperstown, N.Y., hospital, at the age of 64.

Tobin and the late James D. Asher Sr. founded WJDA in September, 1947 and later acquired Salem Radio WESX.

He moved to Gloversville, N.Y., in 1955, purchasing Radio WENT which he operated for 20 years. He was a Republican candidate for mayor of Gloversville, a city of about 20,000, at the time of his death.

Tobin started his broadcasting career with Radio WNAC in Boston, moving on to become chief announcer of Radio WINS in New York. He once served as personal announcer of singer Kate Smith.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Eileen J. [Bell] Tobin; of Weymouth; two sons, Charles M. Tobin of Rockville, Md., and Joseph H. Tobin Jr. of New York City; a daughter, Mrs. Wendy Stahlka of Williamsville, N.Y.; a sister, Mrs. Mary Wilder of Meredith, N.H.; and four grandchildren.

Burial is in St. Francis Xavier Cemetery, Weymouth.

The Yom Kippur service will start with the chanting of the Kol Nidrai. Wednesday, Sept. 21, at 6:30 p.m. All day Yom Kippur service will start Thursday, Sept. 22, at 8 a.m. and close at sundown with the sounding of the Shofar. Rabbi Jacob Mann will conduct all the services. Jack M. Klaver is president of the congregation.

TEMPLE BETH EL, 1001 Hancock Street - Rabbi David Jacobs will officiate, assisted by Cantor Morris Semigan. Services will start Monday, Sept. 12, at 8 p.m., and will also be held Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 13 and 14 at 8:30 a.m. The shofar will be sounded on both days. Evening services, Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 13 and 14 at 6:15 p.m. Yom Kippur services will be ushered in with the chanting of Kol Nidre. Wednesday, Sept. 21 at 6:15 p.m. All day Yom Kippur services will start at 8:30 a.m. on Thursday, Sept. 22, with Yizkor service at 10:45 a.m.; concluding with the sounding of Shofar at 7:15 p.m.

CONGREGATION ADAS SHALOM, 435 Adams Street -

Rosh Hashanah services will be conducted by Rabbi Samuel Kenner and Cantor Tevella Ring, with services Monday, Sept. 12 at 8 p.m.; Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 13 and 14 at 9 a.m.; Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 13 and 14 at 6:15 p.m. Yom Kippur services will be Wednesday, Sept. 21, with the chanting of Kol Nidre at 6:15 p.m. All day Yom Kippur services, Thursday, Sept. 22, will start at 9 a.m.; Yizkor (Memorial Prayers at 10:45 a.m.) Services will conclude at sundown. Harry Hershenson is president of the Congregation.

Rosh Hashanah (Lit. "Head of the year") is observed in the beginning of the seventh month (Tishri) as the Jewish New Year. It inaugurates the season of the Days of Awe. Nisan, the month in which Passover occurs, is regarded as the first month of the Jewish calendar, and all the festivals are arranged according to this reckoning. Hence, Jewish chronology begins the year with this day.

The name "Rosh Hashanah" does not occur in the Bible. Instead, it is referred to as the Day of the Blowing of the Shofar, the Day of Remembrance and the Remembrance of the Blowing of the Shofar. It is also considered the Day of Judgement when all mankind is judged by the Creator, the fate of each individual being inscribed in the Book of Life.

Congregations the world over, except many of those affiliated with Reform Judaism, observe Rosh Hashanah for two days. Apples dipped in honey and served in the home, expressing the hope that the New Year will be sweet and happy.

The days between Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, are called the Ten Days of Penitence. These are very holy days, for the rabbis taught that these were 10 days of grace, during which time by penitence, prayer and charity, an unfavorable judgement in the Book of Life might be changed for the better.

The final day of this judgement period is Yom Kippur, the 10th day of the new year. At the end of this day the Book of Life is definitely sealed.

Yom Kippur is a solemn day of fasting from sunset to sunset. Many who do not attend synagogue regularly go to services on Yom Kippur. They confess all wrongdoing for the year and ask forgiveness for themselves and for all their people.

The final service takes place toward sundown. There is a brief but a very impressive ceremony and one long loud blast of the shofar is blown to mark the sealing of the Book of Life, the end of the fast and the holy period, and the real beginning of the new year.

The members of the congregation hope God has heard their prayers of repentance and that they have been inscribed for life and happiness in the year to come.

Bethany To Mark 50th Anniversary Of Sanctuary Cornerstone Laying

Members of Bethany Congregational Church, Quincy Center, will mark the 50th anniversary of the laying of the cornerstone of the sanctuary as they gather around that stone Sunday morning prior to a 10 a.m. service of thanksgiving.

Dr. Stanley P. Oliver, only surviving member of the committee that planned the ceremony 50 years ago, will be present at the outdoor remembrance of the event.

The day's program will begin at 8 a.m. when Bethany Churchmen, assisted by the Youth Fellowship, serve breakfast in the social hall. Photographs of the ground-breaking and cornerstone laying of a half century ago will be shown.

Choral and instrumental music in the morning worship hour will be on the theme of celebration, the Rev. John D. Banks will preach on "Going Back Home."

A recital of organ music by Peter E. Krasinski will take place at 4 p.m. in Bethany Church, with the public invited. Krasinski will be assisted by George Englemann and George Vallatini, violinists, and Mrs. Helen R. Krasinski, cellist. Works by Bach, Brahms and Handel as well as modern composers will be heard.

SUNBEAMS

By Henry Bosworth

Still A Lot Of Nice People

It may sound a little corny, but you know, there are still an awful lot of nice people around.

And if it's corn, well, the world could use more of it. It would be a helluva better world.

Some 300 of these nice people gave up a good slice of their Labor Day holiday weekend to spend it at The Quincy Sun manning telephones and doing other jobs for the Quincy-South Shore Jerry Lewis Telethon Pledge Center headquartered here.

Some 3,577 others made phone calls to their pledging some $34,651. And a couple hundred others-kids and adults-came here to drop some $3,732 into the fishbowl.

That $38,383 plus another $25,000 or so from a special pre-telethon events -- means at least $63,000 -- and possibly more -- was raised through the Quincy-South Shore area to fight muscular dystrophy. Not bad for the first telethon center ever in this area.

And even now, there are people who couldn't get here over the weekend still coming by to make donations.

Well, it kind of renews your faith in mankind. It kind of gets you right down there where it's supposed to get you.

Some of those nice people:

Ken Runge, Grand Knight of the North Quincy Knights of Columbus, Peter and Norma Gacia, Agnes Costello and Norman Forde -- all of whom spent 26 consecutive hours here in key posts. It was like having five extra right arms. We tried to get Agnes to go home for a nap but it would have taken dynamite to get her out of here to do it.

Ken, incidentally, gave away two tickets to the Patriots-Redskins game to spend the weekend with us.

There were some big pledges. Like the $1,000 from William Clark of Sea Ave., Houghs Neck, which sent cheers up all over the place. The $400 from the McLaughlin family of Bridge St., Quincy. And $250 from Victor Ferrini of Hingham. And some $100 ones including among them, Mike Barry, Joseph Grossman, William O'Leary, Joseph and Evelyn Moriarty, Theresa Forrest, Frank Birtell, Robert Tarantino, Arthur and Shirley Tobin, Charles Furlong, Herb Reppucci, etc., etc. And $50s, $25s, $10s.

And all the other ones of various sizes that all added up. Like:

Joseph Contrino, a General Dynamics shipyard worker, who pledged $5 and challenged all other shipyard workers on strike to do the same. Patty Hogan, who pledged $1 and challenged fellow employees at Woolworth's in Quincy to match it. George Teneaglia who challenged every 13-year-old in North Quincy to meet his $5 pledge. Edward Dania who challenged all North Quincy Knights of Columbus to pledge $5.

Councillor Paul Harold who celebrated his 29th birthday here manning the phones and sharing a birthday cake with other workers-Charlie Moshella who spent the whole night on the phone.

Paul Watts who challenged all Weymouth Town meeting members to a $10 Pledge. Patrick Youngie and family of Houghs Neck who pledged $40 and asked other Quincy families to do the same. The William MacDonald family who gave $10 in memory of everybody's friend, Roland [Pop] Josselyn. Quincy Elk George Alcott, just home from the hospital after open heart surgery who called in a nice pledge. Casey's Lounge in Nantasket with a $262 pledge.

And who will ever forget Ronnie Pace of Bent Terrace, a 13-year-old shoe shine boy who came by early Sunday night, saw the fish bowl, said he only had a nickel on him, dropped it in and said he would be back. Well he came back a dozen times before the weekend was up leaving more than $60.

Peter Gacia and Norman Forde, after working free 26 hours straight, each donating $25. Mario Salvatore, Quincy Sons of Italy venerable working the phones, pledged $10 and challenged his brother lodge members. Quickly accepting the challenge were Assistant Venerable Rocco Buonovino, Jack Browne, Albert Zero, John Fantuccio, Sebastian Papagno and James Mastriantonio--all of them manning telephones at the pledge center.

Then there were Tom McDonald, Joseph Sullivan of the Bryan VFW Post, Rita Kelleher of the Bryan auxiliary, John MacPherson and Ross Clark of the Quincy Elks processing the mailing of 3,577 pledge envelopes.

And people had to eat. And they did. Thanks to the generosity of Ken Runge and Steve Richmond at Happy Chef in Braintree and Quincy, Dorothy and Al Zero of Gina's Submarine Shop, Dick Newcomb of Mug 'n Muffin, Peter Prasinos of Peter's Landing and Jack Kerrigan of Baskin Robbins. They supplied gallons and gallons of coffee, mountains of sandwiches, tonic and ice cream.

Jay Asher, Wm Bettinson and the gang at WJDA. Thanks to them we were able to give telethon progress reports over WJDA every half hour all day long Monday, spreading the word to come on down and fill the fish bowl or phone a pledge in.

The Quincy Park-Recreation Board for the tables and chairs to set the pledge center up.

And the Sir Thomas More Drum & Bugle Corps under Quincy letter carrier Joe Pena who entertained in front of The Sun Monday.

And good old friend Baron Hugo and his orchestra who played up a storm outside The Sun office to attract passersby.

None of us who were here will forget the moment when we passed the $30,000 goal mark and Baron and his boys led a victory march through The Sun office to the tune of "When The Saints Go Marching In".

None of us, for that matter, will forget the entire weekend. None of us ever want to. It was just too nice to ever forget.

READER SPEAKS OUT

Takes Issue With Sacco-Vanzetti Article

Editor, The Quincy Sun:

On reading your edition of August 25, 1977, my attention was taken away from the lead story about "The Quincy Master Plan" to the prominent display of a large photo on the front page and two columns there, plus three more columns on the editorial page inside, concerning the Sacco-Vanzetti trial fifty-seven years ago.

The picture was said to be one of Albert Frantello, a witness at the trial and the story beneath was the testimony he wasn't allowed to give, and his version was, because his parents had been born in Italy and therefore the Prosecution wouldn't hear him.

All this may be true, but who is to say concerning the prosecution if this was the reason.

However, the last paragraph in this story quoted Mr. Frantello as saying that he disagreed with Mr. King the last living juror, in saying that Mr. King thought that the jury did "all right in his opinion" but Mr. Frantello said that this remark aggravated him and he said that "the jury killed two innocent men".

Now, of course, I disagree with Mr. Frantello in praising Gov. Dukakis for his proclamation of a Sacco-Vanzetti Day, and in forgetting the two men who were murdered who should have a memorial day too, Mr. Parmenter and Mr. Berardelli. After all they are part of the Sacco-Vanzetti trial too.

And also, why doesn't your paper give equal time to the juror, Mr. Harry King of Mills. This man was also a great part of this case and I think he has handled himself with great dignity and also that he could answer, especially that last paragraph of Mr. Frantello's story.

I know there is such a thing as "beating a dead horse", but your paper and Gov. Dukakis want to keep it alive - so why not be fair and let us hear about the juror's side of the case.

[Editor's note: The Sun would welcome any comment from Mr. King. Mr. Frantello's statements and thoughts expressed in The Sun article were his own and not this newspaper's.]

Downtown Plan Gets Public Unveiling

Mayor LaRia's plan for the revitalization of downtown Quincy was to be presented to the general public last night [Wednesday] at 8:30 p.m. at an open meeting sponsored by the Quincy Citizen's Association at the Montclair Men's Club.

The Mayor said that the plan, which was first unveiled to business leaders Aug. 26, will be given further exposure during the next few weeks at other locations throughout the city. Models and architect's renderings will be placed on display today [Thursday] and remain through Sept. 15 at the main headquarters of the South Shore Bank.

Austin, Ash Clash Over City Dump

City Councilwoman Edna B. Austin and Health Commissioner Dr. Richard M. Ash clashed over the city dump, or more specifically what Dr. Ash felt was the lack of attention the facility received from the city.

"The trouble is," said Dr. Ash, "that no one cares about the dump problem unless they live near one -- or unless there is an emergency. Then they want to know why we haven't done anything."

Retorted Mrs. Austin:

"As a matter of fact, the City Council has spent more time in studying and investigating the dump problem during the past six years than it has on any other municipal problem except the hospital addition."

"It would be far more to the point if Dr. Ash would spend more time trying to educate the people not to mix garbage and other organic matter with their rubbish than uttering such implied criticism of the Council."

LOW TURNOUT EXPECTED

City Clerk Donald P. Crane forecast a 30 percent turnout among Quincy's 45,000 registered voters for the Sept. 18 state primary election as candidates for various nominations warmed over Quincy.

Edward J. McCormack Jr., nephew of Rep. John McCormack [D-Boston] and president of the Boston City Council, attended a coffee hour at the home of Mrs. David J. Crowley in Houghs Neck on the trail of the Democratic nomination for attorney general.

A rally and reception was held at the Quincy Elks Home for Governor's Councillor George A. Wells of Worcester, who was seeking the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor.

Meanwhile, the polling place in Ward 2, Precinct 1 was moved from the Washington School to the Fore River Clubhouse after School Supt. Paul Gossard complained that the voters were interfering with classes.

MANETS WIN OPENER

Fullback Sam Pino, ex-BU star, scored two touchdowns as the Quincy Manets, playing their first football game in four years, erupted in the second half for a 31-0 victory over the Providence Steamroller before 5,000 at Memorial Stadium.

LARGEST TANKER FOR SHIPYARD

Bethlehem Fore River Shipyard was awarded a contract to build a 65,000 deadweight ton tanker for Greek shipping magnate Stavros Niarchos, the largest tanker ever contracted by an American shipyard.

Fore River was also reported to be in contention for a contract to build a 100,000 deadweight ton for Aristotele Onassis, the brother-in-law of Niarchos and his chief rival as a ship owner.

Dispute In 53rd Day

Shipyard Strike Affecting Economy

The strike of some 5,000 workers at the General Dynamics Quincy Shipyard entered its 53rd day today [Thursday] with other areas of the Quincy and South Shore economy hurting as much as the striking workers and the strike-bound yard.

Eric Swider, executive vice president of the South Shore Chamber of Commerce, reported what others have suspected:

People aren't buying as much as they did. They're not putting money in the bank. In fact, they're taking it out.

And that's not a healthy thing for the economy in an area where some 15,000 people depend upon the shipyard for their livelihood and many more are being affected as the strike goes on.

Meanwhile, representatives of the Shipbuilders Local 5 and General Dynamics were scheduled to meet today at 1 p.m. with Federal Mediator John Martin in the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Services office in Boston.

It will be the third meeting with the mediator. Previous meetings brought no progress toward settlement of the strike which began at midnight, July 17 and threatens to surpass the 17-week strike by the same union three years ago.

Community Theatre Plans Auditions

The Quincy Recreational Community Theatre will hold auditions Sept. 13 and 15 for "Middle of the Night."

Auditions will be held at Broad Meadows Junior High School Sept. 13 and 15. Rehearsals for the production are scheduled for Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. All members of the community who are interested in either acting on stage or working in the many various production jobs are invited to attend the auditions.

Dates for the opening production are Nov. 11, 12, 18 and 19. The play will be directed by Frank Moffett. Assistant director is Kathy Bertrand, production manager, Linda Viegas; technical director, Steven Keefe; producer, Jean Ryan; scene designer, Edie Coasta; production staff, Bernie Reisberg, Betty Houston, Betty Walsh and Dawna Andronico.

Those interested in acting, lighting, set design or technical work are asked to contact the Recreation Department, Kennedy Health Center, 1120 Hancock St. (773-1380).

Lincoln-Hancock School Kickoff Celebration Sunday

The Lincoln-Hancock Community School Council will start the year with a kick-off celebration Sunday [Sept. 11] starting at 2 p.m. on the school grounds at Water and Granite Sts.

The kick off is designed as a family event, including tours of the facilities and a splash party in the pool, to introduce the entire city to the concept of community education.

"We want the community to know what is offered at the school," said Council Chairman Ron Iacobucci. "The kick off is a perfect opportunity for all to meet the council, the community school coordinator and the people of the community."

The splash party is scheduled for 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. in the school's Charles Djerf Memorial Wing. Other events include a story book corner, games for children and music.

Families attending are asked to bring snacks to share with others. Soft drinks, coffee and other refreshments will be available.

Rain date is Sept. 18.

Public Meeting Sept. 29 On Harbor Debris Problem

The Army Corps of Engineers will hold a public meeting Sept. 29 at 7:30 p.m. in the Gardner Auditorium of the State House on the problem of debris in Boston Harbor, including sections of the Neponset, Town and Fore Rivers in Quincy.

Col. John P. Chandler, head of the Engineers in New England, said the 47 square miles of water area includes dilapidated waterfront structures, derelict vessels, loose onshore debris, drift and shorefront dumps.

He estimated that there is about 3.2 million cubic feet of debris in the study area, with more than 68 percent of it on the Boston shoreline and the rest on the shores of other communities from Winthrop to Hull.

Options for disposal, he said, include burning at sea, the use of land-based incinerators, the use of debris sources by industry and others, or the use of an authorized landfill.

He estimated the cost of collection, removal and disposal of the material at from $15.8 to $18.4 million. The federal government was authorized to participate in the program by the U.S. Congress in 1974.

The Corps of Engineers lists the following sources of debris in Quincy:

Eighteen waterfront structures contributing 59,800 cubic feet of debris, 10 timber vessels with 23,200 cubic feet, seven items of loose on-shore debris with 6,000 cubic feet for the total volume of 89,000 cubic feet.

It would cost $429,600 to take care of Quincy's share of the debris with $272,900 going for removal, $136,500 for disposal and $20,200 for repairs. Federal funds would pay for two-thirds removal, one-third disposal, and all the repairs.

"The clean up will provide a number of benefits for local people," noted Rep. Michael W.

Morrissey (D-Quincy).

"The first major benefit will be an improvement to navigation, particularly for recreational boats, enhancement of shorefront properties. Improvements to waterfront properties will increase their values and thus generate more property taxes.

"The clean up project is in the preliminary stages with the project slated to begin in the early 1980s and completed by 1984. Public involvement and support of the project in the early stages is crucial."

For those who cannot attend and testify at the public meeting, written testimony may be sent to: Division Engineer, U.S. Army Engineering Division, New England, 424 Trapelo Rd., Waltham, Mass. 02154.

Sir Thomas More Corps Performs At Quincy Sun Telethon Pledge Center

The Sir Thomas More Drum and Bugle Corps of Braintree said it with music for the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

The talented group performed in front of The Quincy Sun Monday to help attract donors to the Quincy-South Shore Jerry Lewis Telethon pledge center headquarters in The Sun office.

Quincy residents in the corps include drum major Tricia Davenport and horn players Cynthia Manupilli, Brenda Bersani and Carolann MacLellen.

The corps is starting its 1977-78 season with openings for new members ages 8 to 21. No experience is needed.

The group practices at East Junior High School, River St., Braintree, Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Those interested in joining are asked to see Manager Joseph Pena at the school.

All uniforms and equipment are furnished by the corps and instructors.

QUINCY PUBLIC SCHOOLS NOTICE

The Quincy Public Schools today announced a free milk and free meal and reduced price meal policy for school children unable to pay the full price of milk and meals served in schools under the National School Lunch, School Breakfast Program and Special Milk Program. Local school officials have adopted the following family size-income criteria for use in determining eligibility.

INCOME ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA FAMILY SIZE AND GROSS INCOME SCALES

Family Size [All members of household]	Maximum Gross Income For Free Milk and Free Meals	Maximum Gross Income For Reduced Price Meals
One	$0 to $ 3,930	$ 3,931 to $ 6,120
Two	0 to 5,160	5,161 to 8,050
Three	0 to 6,390	6,391 to 9,970
Four	0 to 7,610	7,611 to 11,880
Five	0 to 8,740	8,741 to 13,630
Six	0 to 9,860	9,861 to 15,380
Seven	0 to 10,890	10,891 to 16,980
Eight	0 to 11,910	11,911 to 18,580
Nine	0 to 12,840	12,841 to 20,030
Ten	0 to 13,760	13,761 to 21,470
Eleven	0 to 14,680	14,681 to 22,890
Twelve	0 to 15,590	15,591 to 24,310
Each Additional Family Member	910	1,420

Children from families whose income is at or below those shown are eligible for milk and meals free or at reduced prices. In addition, families not meeting this criteria but with other special hardship conditions due to unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply. Further, children having parents or guardians who become unemployed are eligible for free or reduced price meals or for free milk during the period of unemployment, provided that the loss of income causes the family income during the period of unemployment to be within the eligibility criteria. Should your income or family size change, contact the approving official's.

To discourage the possibility of misrepresentation, the following statement is placed just above the parents' or guardians' signature on the application: "I certify that the above information I have given is true and correct, that the application is being made in connection with the receipt of State and Federal Funds, that school officials may for cause: [1] request an informal conference with the parents to substantiate the information on the application [or if requested by either party the Fair Hearing Procedure may be used]; [2] verify the information on the application, and that deliberate misrepresentation of the information may subject the applicant to prosecution under applicable State and Federal criminal statutes."

Parents should clearly understand that every meal served in schools is subsidized to a greater or lesser degree by State-Federal reimbursements. Those lunches served at full price are subsidized as well as those served free or reduced. Therefore, there should be no reluctance to apply for either a free or reduced price meal. If your family size, and gross income is within the "Income Eligibility Criteria" for free or reduced price meals, we urge you and all eligible parents to fill out the application. The intent of these programs is to improve the nutrition of all children.

They may do so by filling in the application forms sent home with a letter to parents. The information provided on the application will be confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted any time during the school year. In certain cases foster children are eligible for free milk and free meals or reduced price meals regardless of your family income. If you have such children living with you and wish to apply for such milk and meals for them, please file a separate application for each child, and indicate amount of State support only as income.

Under the provision of the policy the Principal in each school will review all applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, he may wish to discuss the decision with the approving official on an informal basis or make a request either orally or in writing for a hearing to appeal the decision to Dr. Lawrence P. Creedon, Superintendent, Quincy Public Schools, Quincy, MA 02169, 471-0100.

Hearing procedures are outlined in the policy and a complete copy of the policy is on file in the office of the superintendent of schools where it may be reviewed by any interested party.

The policy also provides that there will be no overt identification and/or discrimination against any child because of his race, sex, color, national origin, in the operation of the child feeding programs.

Application forms for the Free or Reduced Price Meals have been sent home to all the parents of children in the city or they may be obtained from the following agencies:

Monkey's Darts Do Best In Choosing Stocks

By Philip J. Lawrence, President
Colonial Federal Savings
and Loan Association of Quincy, Holbrook & Wareham
8-6 Weekdays 8-7:30 Thursdays

With the stock market's latest binge, some otherwise conservative persons with capital to invest are getting the itch. The rapid rise of the Dow-Jones Industrials average from the low 800s to over 1,000 since last December has prompted some to catch the fever.

The trouble for the average person is that he lacks the confidence in the market and national conditions when the Dow-Jones is wallowing at 580 [at which time, if ever, he should get in] and becomes a Johnny-come-lately when the market has peaked and is headed for another of its inevitable slides.

We called attention in late 1973 to two professors, Burton Malkiel of Princeton and James H. Lurie of the University of Chicago, who were asked by Forbes, the national business and financial magazine, whether anyone could intelligently forecast the stock market. Both described it as an exercise in futility, Malkiel commenting, "No scientific evidence has yet been assembled to indicate that the investment performance of professionally managed portfolios as a group has been any better than that of randomly selected portfolios."

Forbes has demonstrated the proof of that comment by reviewing periodically a "randomly selected profile" which its editors developed by throwing darts at a market page of the New York Times. This was done in 1967. In its April 1, 1976 issue, Forbes compared its 1967 portfolio with the performance of the Dow-Jones Industrials and the Standard and Poor 500 over this nine-year period.

The results show that Forbes' dart-board stocks had appreciated by 70 percent, while over the same period the Dow-Jones were up just 15 percent and the S&Ps only 3 percent. It concludes: "Monkeys throwing darts can do as well as Harvard MBAs using computers."

The Forbes approach was even more profitable in that its stocks, left by themselves over the entire period, avoided commissions and transaction costs.

Note that the Dow-Jones stocks climbed less than 2 percent per year, the S&Ps only one-third of one percent. Compare those results with what you would have received if the same investment was left for nine years in a savings account [principal insured, remember] in our association.

Tobin Seeks Ramps For Handicapped

Council President Arthur H. Tobin has called for the construction of ramps and accessible entry ways for handicapped persons in public buildings in Quincy.

"Our commitment to the handicapped must be absolute," said Tobin, who is a candidate for Mayor in the coming election.

"The handicapped and disabled must no longer be our forgotten people. It is our moral and civic responsibility to ensure that they have easy access to city departments and services.

"Our Quincy Police Department has hired handicapped persons under the CETA Program, and will construct ramps for their convenience. Other city departments should at least make the effort to provide ramps for the handicapped."

"The State Architectural Barriers Board in the Department of Public Safety can assist the city in facilitating this construction," Tobin said. "At the very least, our City Hall and other city buildings should be open to all of Quincy's citizens."

"We have pending before the State Legislature a constitutional amendment prohibiting discrimination against the handicapped. Our city should provide the moral leadership in extinguishing this discrimination in its most basic form - access to public services."

Blood Pressure Clinic Saturday

A free blood pressure clinic will be held Saturday, Sept. 10, at the Medi Mart Drugstore, 141 Newport Ave., from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Licensed nurses will be on hand to take readings. Any individual with an elevated reading will be advised to consult a physician.

The clinic is one of a series of hypertension clinics held in Massachusetts Medi Mart Drugstores.

SUPPLEMENTAL

These courses are designed to improve the skill and knowledge of persons already employed in an industry or a trade. They provide an opportunity for persons to gain experience, and in many cases, open the door to positions of greater responsibility.

501 AIR CONDITIONING & REFRIGERATION (INTERMEDIATE)

M & W Q.V.T.S. Room 418 Mr. William Moran

This course provides students with sufficient educational knowledge to pursue a career in the Refrigeration/Air Conditioning field. A great deal of emphasis is placed on the theory of the physical, thermal, mechanical and pneumatic aspects of the trade.

502 AIR CONDITIONING & REFRIGERATION (ADVANCED)

M & W Q.V.T.S. Room 418 Mr. George Sullivan

This course provides students with sufficient educational knowledge to pursue a career in the Refrigeration/Air Conditioning field. A great deal of emphasis is placed on the theory of the physical, thermal, mechanical and pneumatic aspects of the trade.

503 DIGITAL COMPUTER TECHNOLOGY

M & W Q.V.T.S. Room 354 Mr. Neil Sheer

An intensive course on the fundamentals of digital logic, developed for the student who wishes to begin a career in the expanding computer technology field. Classroom work is supplemented with laboratory experiments and provides the basic concepts underlying the theory and operation of all digital computers. Designed by a company in the computer industry, this program will enable the student to advance into any of the computer-related disciplines, such as computer technology and programmer. The course requires only a limited knowledge of basic electronics.

504 ELECTRONICS (PREPARATORY)

T & Th Q.V.T.S. Room 348 Mr. Anthony Scheps

The basic electronics course must be considered the introduction to a better understanding of function and phenomena taking place in the wide range of electronic units that are part of today's society. Society's dependence on the many conveniences that are electrically oriented necessitates that there be sufficient numbers of people well trained to service them. This course hopefully will inspire the participants to follow such careers.

505 ELECTRONICS (ADVANCED)

M & W Q.V.T.S. Room 355 Mr. Deane Taylor

Highlights of electronic circuits will be covered by working with the end product of electronic components as accomplished by not covering the physics or the manufacturing of components. AC/DC theory, impedance, resonance, transformers, along with resistance capability and impedance in parallel and series circuits is covered. Circuit analysis is performed using Ohm's and Kirchhoff's Laws, Thevenin and Norton Theorems. Semiconductor devices such as the diode, transistor, triode, pentode, and the vacuum tube are covered. Laboratory experiments will be performed with the explanation of the different types of test equipment used in electronics.

506 ELECTRICAL CODE & THEORY (BASIC)

M & W Q.V.T.S. Room 373 Mr. Earl Butler

Basic Electrical Code. The rules of electrical wiring for light, heat and applied to practical applications. Basic Electrical Theory. The practical application of electrical resistance, current, voltage, power and magnetism.

507 ELECTRICAL CODE & THEORY (INTERMEDIATE)

M & W Q.V.T.S. Room 373 Mr. Earl Butler

This course consists of a theory program, starting with the basic electrical theory, covering the rules of electrical wiring for light, heat and applied to practical applications. Basic Electrical Theory. The practical application of electrical resistance, current, voltage, power and magnetism.

This course consists of a theory program, starting with the basic electrical theory, covering the rules of electrical wiring for light, heat and applied to practical applications. Basic Electrical Theory. The practical application of electrical resistance, current, voltage, power and magnetism.

509 MACHINE SHOP PRACTICE

M & W Q.V.T.S. Room 122 Mr. Leo McCowan

General course designed to provide basic fundamental training for employers in the metal trades. Both theory and practice are covered. Blueprint reading, technical mathematics, use of supplies and materials, operation of equipment, together with a general understanding of the industry are parts of curriculum instruction.

510 OFFSET PRINTING

M & W Q.V.T.S. Room 432 Mr. Fred Gibbs

The offset printing course is a combination of the practical, related, and social traits which are essential to the successful worker. In addition to the practical work, students will be required to read and interpret a series of plans in the student's future endeavors. We seek to give each student an overview of the job duties related to offset printing, along with developing proper safety habits. The knowledge gained, coupled with a sense of pride and achievement, should provide a solid foundation for future development of the participants.

511 STEAM PLANT MAINTENANCE

M & W Q.V.T.S. Room 332 Mr. Gregory Privy

This course will prepare students to take the 2nd and 3rd Class Fireman test, also the 2nd Class Engineer. Topics that will be covered in this class are as follows: Home types and valves, both For and Water Tubes; BTU requirement; Unit of Water system, Steam Traps, Automatic Controls, Boiler selection and maintenance, Insulation, Fire Maintenance, Water treatment, Engines and turbines, running and operation costs, and safety procedures.

512 PLUMBING CODE & THEORY (BASIC)

M & W Q.V.T.S. Room 211 Mr. Frank Boggs

This course will acquaint students with the basic facts and fundamentals of the Plumbing Trade. Emphasis will be placed on the safety aspect of materials and equipment will be explained.

513 PLUMBING CODE & THEORY (INTERMEDIATE)

M & W Q.V.T.S. Room 212 Mr. John Lydon

Students will review the basic principle of plumbing. Emphasis will be placed on the study of domestic plumbing and sewage waste supplies. ENTERTAINMENT

Now Through Sept. 14

Weymouth Fair At Raynham Park

RAYNHAM - Weymouth Fair, once one of the top expositions of the Massachusetts Fair circuit, is being restored at Raynham Park now, Sept. 14.

"We have made arrangements and great preparations to bring back the Weymouth Fair to its honorable position among the Commonwealth's fairs," said Richard E. Reagan, president and treasurer.

"We have booked some great entertainment for Saturday, Sept. 10 and Sunday, Sept. 11th and will conduct a greyhound racing meeting that brings some of the top greyhounds back to Raynham Park.

The Weymouth Fair is a fall display of exhibits, including dairy cattle, sheep, beef cattle, swine, horse pulling contests, grange exhibits, honey, vegetables, fruits, home economics, arts and crafts and numerous other showings that will pack the Raynham area adjacent to the track.

Greyhound racing will run nightly, including Sundays with post time at 8 p.m. Senior citizens will be admitted free.

There will be the usual daily double, perfects, trifecta and a superfecta on the 12-race programs.

Ron Ericson, singing guitarist and Miss Suzy Linn and a comedy puppet and Moppet show will feature the entertainment program Saturday with show time at 2 p.m. On Sunday, The Lewis and O'Reilly Trio, musical group, and Bob Fellow, magician and illusionist, will headline the show which starts at 2 p.m.

Tryouts Thursday For SHYO's

'Cabaret' Production

The Sacred Heart Youth Organization, under the direction of Fr. Thomas Garrett, will hold tryouts for its ninth annual musical tonight (Thursday) at 7:30 p.m. in the school auditorium.

This year's production, "Everything's Coming Up Broadway," will provide members of the youth organization with an opportunity to take part in a mini-revue and cabaret. Director is Jack Morris, who also directs the New Neponset Players.

Jack Kelly, president of the youth organization asks that any SHYO member interested in trying out for a part in the Cabaret meet in the Sacred Heart School Auditorium tonight. Those trying out are also asked to bring along their favorite music for an audition number. Stage hands, lighting and makeup people are also needed.

The youth organization will also hold a car wash Saturday, Sept. 10, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the schoolyard. All members are asked to assist.

Jack Connors Sings With Masterworks Choral

Jack Connors of Quincy sings bass with the Masterworks Choral of Lexington which is seeking experienced singers to audition for the 1977-78 concert season, the highlight of which will be the fifth annual Masterworks Festival of Music.

Those interested should contact Julie Kennaugh of Acton at 263-2791 and plan to attend open rehearsals on Sept. 6 at 7:45 p.m. in Temple Isaiah, Lexington, and Sept. 13 at 7:45 p.m. at Bowman School, Lexington.

2 Selected For GBSO

Two students from the Quincy area, Nancy Currier and George Engelmann, have been selected as members of the Greater Boston Youth Symphony Orchestras:

The talented young people were auditioned recently and were among those from over 600 hopeful youths.

Free Bicycle Racing Instructions At Atlantic

The Atlantic Neighborhood Center has arranged to have John Ireland, an international bicycle racer, give free racing instructions to those interested.

There are many races around the area and the Atlantic Center would like to see boys and girls become competitive with their 10-speed bikes instead of just riding around for amusement.

Ireland is a British subject and has raced extensively throughout England and Europe. He took first places in the 50-mile Lee-on Solent Road Race, the 30-mile Lee-on-Road Race, the Cranmore Common Hill climb, the 65-mile Southgate Road Race, the France Southern Velo Hill Climb [setting a course record], and the same climb a second time, again breaking the record. He also took second in the 80-mile Gran Prix Ename Belgium race and third in the 80-mile Denmark Leipskape Grand Prix.

Applicants must have a 10-speed bike and be able to spend one weeknight in class and one Saturday outside. For further information call Ron Tierney at 328-1708.

Atlantic Association To Hold Candidates Night Sunday

The Atlantic Neighborhood Association will sponsor a "Candidates Night" Sunday, Sept. 11 at 8 p.m. at the Atlantic Methodist Church, 50 East Squantum St.

Mayoral, Ward 6 and School Committee candidates have been invited to participate.

All Quincy residents are invited. Refreshments will be served.

Kelly Says People Want Available, Responsive Councillor

Michael J. Kelly, a candidate for the Ward 6 seat on the City Council, says he detects a desire among the people of his ward for a city councillor who will be both available and responsive to them.

Kelly, a first time candidate, promised to be both.

"If the councillor is not both available and responsive to all the residents of the ward he really is not doing the job properly," he said in a statement.

He said he would do the job by holding periodic meetings with the residents to discuss the issues and their needs.

"A councillor must be available so if a resident has a problem with the delivery of city services, whether it be the fixing of a pothole, repairing a fence or replacing a street light, he can correct the problem," Kelly said.

He said he has already begun working on these problems and will continue working for all the residents of the ward.

Paul Harold has been the man-in-the middle in Quincy politics for the past two years - urging reason in a storm of infighting.

Time and again, he has tried to raise the level of political action - working to remove issues from the personality conflicts that seem to intrude on reasoned consideration of problems.

It's not an easy job, but one thing it does do is allow him to say "No" when he feels it's the right thing to do.

He's said "No" to wasteful spending. He's said "No" to police layoffs. He's said "No" to attempts to circumvent civil service laws.

Paul Harold has said "No" to his colleagues on the city council, and he said "No" to the mayor.

He said "No" to both sides when they were wrong - and he's said "Yes" to both sides when they were right.

And he did it because that's his job - to be fair and independent in his judgement, and to do what is best for Quincy - regardless of political considerations.

Paul Harold - "your independent voice on the city council."

McCauley Seeks More Bus Runs To Martenson St.

Francis X. McCauley, candidate for City Councillor-at-large, has asked Arthur Kobs, manager of the Quincy MBTA to increase the number of bus runs to the Sawyer Towers senior residents complex on Martenson St., Quincy Point.

McCauley, in a letter to Kobs, pointed out that while many scheduled buses to Quincy Square pass over South St. during the course of a day, only four stop on Martenson St. itself.

Several Years ago, McCauley, as chairman of the Quincy Housing Authority, was able to secure better service to the Oceanview senior citizens building in Germantown, he noted.

St. Joseph's School Reopens On 50th Anniversary

St. Joseph's Parochial School, Quincy Point opened Wednesday, exactly 50 years to the day when the school was first opened.

On Sept. 7, 1927, this school was dedicated and blessed. On that day, 92 children enrolled in the first and second grades. According to the plan, each succeeding year saw the addition of one grade and in 1934, the first 32 graduating students received their diplomas. At that time there were eight nuns teaching the grades. Today, the school has an enrollment of 220 with 28 students in the first grade.

Presently, there are five nuns and three lay teachers. Sister M. Falisa, C.S.J. is the principal.

ON SEPTEMBER 20TH YOU HAVE A CHOICE!

VOTE Tom BARRON for Mayor Of Quincy

After months of constant turmoil between the present administration and the city council, why do we suddenly appear to have a truce?

Will the bickering, fighting and disruption of city government resume on September 21st?

What will happen to the important issues; taxes, corruption, competency in government, crime and inadequate city services?

Will there be an intelligent discussion of these issues?

On September 20th,
the CHOICE IS YOURS.

You have an opportunity to provide new leadership for our city.

VOTE FOR AN ADMINISTRATOR! TOM BARRON FOR MAYOR

- A concern for the the citizens of Quincy.
- A leader dedicated to working for the interests of the people.
- An end to political bickering.
- A constructive approach to city government.
- A pledge to restore fiscal sanity and integrity to Quincy.

The Language of Flowers Flower tips from Andre Moreau

Draw a desert scene in shifting sand with long knitting needles and a clear container. Creating a landscape for cacti and succulents is easier than you think. Buy several bags of colored sand of the finer grain. The finer the grain, the less chance it will run together. Start with gravel in a dune in the center, add charcoal and potting soil. Pour the colored sand along the sides and twist to level layers. (Keep soil in center). Insert needle vertically at sides to draw your design and then experiment horizontally for mountains and valleys. A top layer of soil over the sand and around the plants, a drink of water and your landscape is ready for viewing.

NORFOLK FLOWER SHOP, 49 Beale St., Wollaston, 472-7100 is well known for our unique and original floral arrangements so stop by soon and browse around at your leisure. We are multi-lingual and can assist you in French, Italian or Spanish. If you are planning a fall or winter wedding keep in mind that we have a bridal consulting service to assure you of flowers of perfection. "For the Creative and Unusual in Floral Designing" Master Charles and BankAmericard honored. Hours: Mon. - Sat. 8-6, evenings by appt.

HELPFUL HINT

Conroy Plans No Political Signs In Residential Areas

Patrick J. Conroy, a candidate for the Ward 6 seat on the City Council, says he does not plan to place any political signs in residential areas.

"It shows a lack of respect for nature and for the people of Ward 6," he told a group of workers gathered at his home.

He noted that there is a city zoning ordinance that prohibits the placement of such signs in residential areas.

"I will place signs only in the legally designated places," he said. "The people have had it up to here with politicians who violate the law for their own convenience. The law is the law and I intend to obey it."

Reception To Be Held Sept. 15 For Powers

The Committee to Re-elect Warren Powers City Councillor will hold a fund-raising reception Thursday, Sept. 15, starting at 5 p.m. at the Neighborhood Club, 27 Glendale Rd., Quincy Center.

Alfred Grazioso of the committee said it will be the first time that Powers, who is seeking a third term on the Council, has ever held such an event to raise money for a campaign.

Bake Sale Saturday At Miller Headquarters

The Committee to Elect James Miller Ward 1 City Councillor is sponsoring a bake sale Saturday, Sept. 10, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Miller Campaign headquarters, 522 Sea St.

A large nautical painting and a homemade "Winnie the Pooh" cake are prizes to be awarded. Coffee will also be served free.

Reception For Stenberg Thursday

Albert [Dapper] O'Neill, Boston city councilman, will be one of the guests tonight [Thursday] at 7:30 p.m. at a party for Sabina Kavanagh Stenberg, candidate for an at large seat on the City Council, at the George F. Bryan VFW Post.

Among the entertainers at the party will be Edith Perry of Israel and Danny Ventolla and his band.

Senior citizens will be admitted free with buses picking them up at 7 p.m. at the Martensen, Clay St., Pagnano Towers and Oceanview apartment complexes.

Hickey Stresses Balance In City Council

Walter J. Hickey, candidate for the Ward 6 City Council seat spoke to a group of supporters at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall LeGrice, 36 Landsdowne St., Squantum, recently, stressing what he termed "the need for balance" in the City Council.

- Yet - some politicians seem to think it's alright to hold 2 or 3 jobs!
- Look at the Quincy Mayors race.

3 Candidates are practicing lawyers
1 Candidate is not only a lawyer but a State Senator and a City Council President as well

- No man can properly execute the business of Mayor full time while serving the people of Braintree, Holbrook and Quincy as a full time State Senator and continue to practice law in his own firm

Don't Be Fooled By Slick Talk - Read The Facts

FACT In 1972 the Quincy City Council passed an order increasing the mayors salary from $10,000 to $25,000 as well as their own salaries from $1,500 to $3,000. [Council Order Number 380, July 24, 1972, Senator-Council President Tobin presiding, because the job of mayor was considered full time

FACT The Quincy Sun endorsed the mayoral pay increase as well as the concept of a full time mayor in an editorial on July 6, 1972

FACT The Quincy Citizens Association publicly applauded Mayor Hannon when he gave up his State Rep. seat because Quincy required a full time mayor

FACT But ... the same Senator-Council President-Lawyer who voted for a full time mayors salary in 1972, now wants to be a part time mayor, a part time senator and a lawyer.

Foley, Bradley Win Cade Cup

Bob Foley of the host club and Bob Bradley of Ponkapoag won the annual Cade Cup Tournament at Furnace Brook Golf Club, defeating Art Clifford of FB and his brother, Frank of Falmouth in the finals of the championship flight.

In the semi-finals the Cliffords had to go two extra holes to oust Bob Donahue of FB and Pete Cook of Braintree.

The first flight was won by Fred Luffy of FB and Ted Columbi of South Shore, who defeated Frank Foster of FB and Bill Dwyer of Framingham.

Bud Sullivan of FB and Dick Blomstrom of Thorny Lea won the second flight with a win over Jerry Buchanan of FB and Jack Kennedy of Bass Rock.

In the consolation matches, Paul Mahoney of FB and Joe Burns of Hatherly defeated Skip King of FB and Walter Brown of Ferncroft in the championship flight, Tom Gleason of FB and Brendon Davis of Wollaston defeated Hal McCarthy of FB and Hank Berry Jr. of Wollaston in the first flight and Lou Rizzo of FB and Tony Fusco, unattached, defeated Phil Cleaves of FB and Miggy Menizian of Ponkapoag.

Tryouts For S.S. Hockey League

The South Shore Hockey League opened registration for the 1977-78 season recently and tryouts for teams from the South Shore will continue through this month.

The program, developed over the past six years, is organized basically for the player over 17 years of age who is out of a junior or high school program with virtually no or few organized programs to enter.

The South Shore Division will have a new Quincy entry this year, the Panthers. Last year Quincy's entry made it to the semifinals before being eliminated by Weymouth.

The Greater Boston Division, with some of the toughest teams in the league, is expected to be solid contenders for the South Shore Senior Hockey Cup.

The first game will find the defending champion Weymouth Raiders facing the Greater Boston Division leading Amvets from Jamaica Plain Sunday at 6 p.m. at Pilgrim Arena, Hingham.

League Director Scott McCleary announces that entry information can be obtained by contacting John O'Brien at 471-0865.

Montclair Koch Club Girls

The Montclair District Koch Club Girls Bowling League will open its season Saturday, Sept. 17, at 9:30 a.m. at the East Milton Bowling Lanes.

Juniors, Grades 4 through 6, and seniors, Grades 7 through 12, will compete. For more information contact Mrs. Harold Crowley.

● Cross Country

Track Club Registration Saturday

The Quincy Track Club will hold registration for its fall cross country program Saturday from 10 a.m. to noon at Pageant Field.

The club will hold five development meets in October. The club will also transport 44 members to New York in November for the national age group meet.

The girls will have an extensive schedule throughout the fall. The club will also participate in the junior Olympics. Registration fee is $2.

Age groups are 7 and under, born 1969 or later; Bantams, 1967-68; Midgets, 1965-66; Youths, 1963-64; and Intermediate, 1961-62. Senior members will be invited by the coaching staff.

For more information call Joe Santo, 698-2959; Harry Williams, 472-7462; Mrs. Irene Kelly, 479-7032, or Coach Jeff Hennessy, 472-5537.

Several QTC members had good performances at Monday's Labor Day Classic in Worcester.

Mike Williams won the 50, 100 and 220 and anchored the winning relay team in the 10-11 division. He also took third in the 12-13 440.

Sheila Barrett picked up a first and two thirds in the 50, 100 and 220 and new member Penny Sawyer won the 12-13 long jump at 13-2.

In the 14-15 division, Karen McCarthy won the long jump and was second in the 100 and 220 and the relay team of Denise Santo, Linda Morash, Sue McLoughlin and Karen McCarthy placed second.

In the senior and open events, Karen McCarthy and Sue McLoughlin placed 2-3 in the 16-17 long jump with Sue having her personal best distance, 15-7. Michelle Milane, who just recently turned 13, took seconds in the 16-17 shot put and discus. She finished the season as one of the best 12-year olds in the country and in the top five in the 13-year olds.

Track Club officials thank all parents and supporters, especially Joe Santo and Pat Murphy, for making the summer program a great success.

By TOM SULLIVAN
Quincy's football team finished with a disappointing 4-6 record a year ago and Coach Hank Conroy feels the Presidents will improve on this mark this fall if they can avoid injuries to key personnel.
"I think we should do much better," Conroy said. "We had an excellent turnout (115 candidates) and we have many players who either played regularly with the varsity or saw regular action with the jayvees, giving us more experience than we had last year."
"And I am delighted with the fine condition in which the players reported. Everyone is in excellent shape."
Conroy doesn't have any 220 and 230-pounders as he has in recent years, and the biggest players average 190 or 195 pounds. He feels the Presidents will have good speed as they did last year.

The veteran coach should be all set at quarterback with John Houten, the number two man last fall, battling Jim Maze, a defensive starter last year; Tim Calezas, a transfer from South Boston, and Dean Prescott, up from the sophomore team.
And if he loses any of these, Conroy can call upon Mark Giordani, who would have seen considerable action at quarterback last year except for an injury which kept him sidelined much of the year. He will be a running back this year but can fill in capably at quarterback if needed.
Among other running backs are Len Picot, who is one of the top punters in the Suburban League;

John Sullivan, a transfer from Southeastern Regional; Ralph Pickering, Dennis Campbell, Vin Harte, Giordani, Tom Dedian, who played a lot last year; Peter Griffin and Rick Gilbody.
Conroy has several top defensive backs including Charles D'Arcy, Steve Venturelli, Tony Marinelli, John Cahill and Steve Cacciatore, also an offensive end.
Experienced linemen include Dave Eastwick, Tom Conine, Pete Cassidy, Rich Coose, Ron Donovan, Fred McNally, Mike Duggan, Kevin Boudreau, Ron Ricciarelli, Lou Rizzo and Kevin Zambruno.
Among other promising candidates are Joe Cacciatore, defensive line; Dick Burns, two-way tackle; Bob Flibotte, defensive end; Rich Riley, defensive end; Pat Bamberg, offensive center; Ron Tiberi, offensive tackle; John Rizzi, offensive guard, and Russ DiPietro, linebacker and offensive guard.
Others are: Fred Vignali, defensive line; Pete Campbell, end; Russ Stenbeck, defensive tackle; Don Heath, two-way line; Jack Donovan, defensive tackle; Paul DiGrassi, defensive tackle; Todd Caffisch, a transfer from New Mexico, offensive guard and defensive end; Jerry Grassi, linebacker; Bob Ciardi, offensive center; Ron Cross, defensive tackle; Mark Assad, center; George McCarron, defensive tackle and offensive guard; Fran Barry, end; Dave Remillard, end; Jack McManus, defensive line; Mike Mannai, defensive back; Tim Ricciardi, defensive back; John Nichols, end; Bob Malloy, end; Russ Neitlich, defensive

"We should be strong defensively and I think we will move the ball," Conroy added.

"We certainly have the potential and if the boys who played jayvee and sophomore ball come through, we should be all right."
Quincy opens its season Sept. 17 at Dedham and the following week will host Weymouth South at Veterans Memorial Stadium.
Conroy has all of last year's assistants back. They are John Bogan, Mark Conroy, Bill Maver and Pete Chella.

The North Spirit Is There But -- Raiders Have A Lot Of Big Holes To Fill

North Quincy Football Coach Dave Burke has a lot of big holes to fill this fall, but he says, "we will have the same old North spirit and we should be able to hold our own."

Starting his third season as head coach of his alma mater, Burke has a fine 16-3 two-year record and, if many junior varsity and sophomore graduates come through, the Raiders should have another good year.

Burke lost most of his starters, both offensively and defensively, including such stalwarts from the offensive unit as Keith Lindberg, Tom Nee, Dan Butts, Harry Knudsen, Jim Frye, both quarterbacks, Brian Donaghy and Dennis Doherty, Mike Adams, George Wallace and Bill McIntyre and such defensive standouts Steve Bonoli, Mark Wentzell, Mark Nagle, John Ryan, Paul Corliss, Rich Kennedy, Mike Nolan, Frank McGuinness, Art Bertoni, Ed McElaney, Steve Bell and Kevin Doyle.

Dave will be depending heavily on members of last year's sophomore and jayvee teams, some of whom saw varying degrees of varsity service.

Burke had a fine turnout of 91 candidates and for ends he has Tom Quinn, John O'Leary, Dan McIntyre, Mike Gallagher, John Hernon, and Jim Mackiewicz.

The tackle hopefuls are Brian McGilvray, Paul White, Paul Ahearn, Ted Kuberski and Tom Molloy.

At guard are Dave Cramond, Ed Evanson, Joe Venezia, Tri-Capt. Russ Chisholm and Mike Spinale.

Pat McKenna, John White and Ed Boudreau will take care of the center chores.

Big Kurt O'Sullivan and Kevin Cobban will handle the quarterback chores, Colin McEachern, Jim Holleran, Tri-Capt. John Wilkinson and Brian Hewitt will be the halfbacks and Greg Zoia and John Connolly will be at fullback.

Defensively Fran McLaughlin, Jimmy Carroll and Evanson will be at end and defensive linemen include Bob Schaezel, Don McNamara, Jim Marinelli, Mike Larson and Kevin Kirby.

Linebackers are Tri-Capt. Jim Hanrahan, Mark Robinson, Kevin O'Connell and Larry Chretien. Among the secondary are Bruce Wilson, Tom McElaney, Harry Donahue, Tom Burke, Tim O'Neill, Pat Ennis, Pete Doherty, John Lothrop and Dan Cronin.

Among those who played regularly or saw a lot of action last year are Marinelli, Chisholm, Gallagher, Wilkinson, Hanrahan, Evanson, Burke and Donahue.

"We don't have an awful lot of varsity experience, but a lot of the boys who played jayvee ball saw some varsity action and I think they are ready to do the job," Burke said.

"I think O'Sullivan and Cobban can do the job at quarterback and we have some capable running backs. I think we will have another strong defensive unit, Ken McPhee and Jack Raymer are doing a fine job coaching that group."

Dave has the same coaching staff as last year, McPhee, Raymer, Tom Fitzgerald and the "dean" Ted Sadowski.

Raymer, incidentally, who worked for Burke for many years with the Quincy sophomores before being appointed at North last fall, recently graduated from Bridgewater State and has been named special education instructor at Atlantic Junior High. A Quincy High graduate, playing football there, he attended Quincy Junior College.

North opens its season at Milton Sept. 17, and will be home to Taunton Sept. 24 at 10:30 a.m.

S.S. Juniors Registration Saturday

The South Shore Juniors, a ten-pin league for children and young adults through the age of 21, will begin its 15th season with registration at Quincy Wonderbowl, Southern Artery, Saturday from 9 to noon.

Stonehill, Providence In St. Coletta Charity Game Sept. 15

Stonehill and Providence College football teams will meet in the second annual St. Coletta Charity Game Thursday, Sept. 15, at 8 p.m. at Hollis Field, Baintree.

Both are members of the New England Colonial Football Conference.

A parade will precede the game. Half-time festivities will include a Pop Warner "A" exhibition football game between Baintree and Winthrop followed by several marching bands and drill units from the Army, Navy, Marines and National Guard.

Both Stonehill and Providence have several players who performed for South Shore area high schools and a number of Baintree boys are included, Jackie Burke, Pat Barnes, John Tourkantonis, Mike Brady and Tom MacDonald for Stonehill and Steve Marshall for Providence.

Providence was 7-1-1 a year ago and played in the Boardwalk Bowl, while Stonehill was 5-4. Last year's game was a sellout and this year's is expected to be one too.

Proceeds will provide scholarships for Baintree students at St. Coletta School under the new and expanding work training program.

Tickets are on sale at Baintree St. Coletta Day School, Baintree Town Clerk's office and the Park Dept. For further information call 848-6250.

Morton, Doherty Key Crusaders

Two former North Quincy High standouts will play key roles for the Holy Cross football team this fall as second-year coach Neil Wheelwright attempts to keep the Crusaders on the way back up the ladder.

Although he has high hopes of improving upon last season's 3-8 record, he knows it will be tough as he will be playing a large number of freshmen and sophomores.

One of the few seniors starting will be North Quincy's Bob Morton, the number one quarterback. Last fall Morton, after dropping out of school for a year, passed for 797 yards and was the team's third leading rusher with 459 yards.

One of the many sophomores is North Quincy's Brian Doherty, last year's ECAC co-rookie of the year. Brian, who does the 40-yard dash in 4.5 seconds, averaged 6.2 yards for 106 carries, leading the Holy Cross running backs.

A WEEKLY MESSAGE FROM MICHAEL E. FAHERTY, CANDIDATE
COUNCILLOR-AT-LARGE

As the September 20th preliminary election approaches, it's incumbent on me to re-state the issues which, as one of your three councillors at-large, I'd have the responsibility for doing something about. They are,

... The necessity for far more interaction between the three councillors at-large and the six ward councillors...in an effort to control EXPENSE DOLLARS, WHICH ULTIMATELY BECOME TAX DOLLARS

... The need for filling the gap which exists between the city council and the mayor's office. A gap which exists because a UNITY OF PURPOSE plays second fiddle to politics.

... The lack of ALTERNATIVES to good ideas, packaged in unattractive proposals, which for lack of a little rewrapping, are thrown out the window.

... The opportunity for restoring confidence in a publically elected council that acts like a PRIVATE CLUB.

... The requirement to preserve the character of our city, while at the same time ensuring the PROGRESS necessary for survival.

Oilers Face Marlboro Saturday

The Randolph Oilers, following the comeback of the year last Sunday, will battle it out for second place in the Eastern Football League Saturday night at 8 when they face the Marlboro Shamrocks at Kelleher Field in Marlboro.

Both teams are 5-1 and trail only the Hyde Park Cowboys [6-0].

Randolph made its poorest defensive showing of the year in the first half last Sunday and trailed the defending champion Middleboro Cobras, 20-0, at halftime. The pass defense was especially porous as Greg Sabine picked it apart and threw two touchdown passes among his many completions.

The second half was a far different story as the Oilers regrouped and came from behind for a dramatic 21-20 victory.

Bill Korse threw two touchdown passes to Jack Marshall, one for 20 yards and one for six, while Terry Moore ran back a punt 60 yards for a TD. Mike Smith kicked the three extra points for the winning margin.

The defense was again outplayed in the second half with the pass defense in particular straightening out and keeping Sabine under control.

"I still feel we have one of the league's best defenses, despite our poor showing in the first half last week," Oiler Coach Al Scibetta, a Quincy resident, said. "Ed Sylva of Quincy is one of the top defensive linemen and Ed McElaney of North Quincy is one of the best in the secondary. They both have been brilliant all season long."

Also starring for the Oilers, who seem a cinch to make the league playoffs for the third year in a row, are North Quincy's Billy Fong and Chuck Matherson of Quincy.

South Shore Wholesale Retail Tire Expands Lakin Square Facilities

The South Shore Wholesale and Retail Tire Co. has expanded its facility at 706 Adams St., Lakin Square, by adding 3,000 square feet to make a new total of 7,500 square feet of service area. Established in 1967, the store deals in Mohawk, Dunlop and Michelin tires, as well as shock absorbers and batteries. South Shore Tire recently added Jim Orwig, an alignment specialist, to its staff. It is also a full service center, including front end and exhaust system work. It is also a Massachusetts inspection station.

Chamber To Sponsor Supervisory Workshop

"Increasing Productivity of People," a workshop aimed at helping supervisors help themselves, will again be offered by the South Shore Chamber of Commerce beginning Tuesday, Sept. 27.

The course, which will run from 6:30 to 9 p.m. in the Chamber's conference room, is conducted by the Management Growth Institute and will run for eight consecutive Tuesday evenings.

Topics in the program include: "What Is a Supervisor?"; "Communicating Effectively"; "Developing Leadership Skills"; and "The Value of Time." Each teacher has had extensive on-the-job experience, and former students have reported the sessions to be of real value back in the plant or office. Non-chamber members are invited, but only a small number of spaces still remain.

Registrations are being accepted on a first-come, first-served basis at the Chamber of Commerce offices (479-1111).

A MASS OF DETAILS

So it won't come as a complete surprise to you, as it does to a lot of homeowners who try to sell their own homes, here's something you should know about. Selling a home involves a mass of petty details. There's paper work to do, attorneys to be dealt with, a title search to be made, and vital arrangements to be made concerning down payment, escrow accounts and mortgage financing. Unless you're an expert on these subjects, you'll be working at a disadvantage. Erring on any one of these details could ruin your sleeping habits and your financial position.

Honestly, it pays to sell your home through a local Realtor. It's his full-time business to keep on top of these details. He's alert to every step of the transaction, knows how to make the necessary arrangements, and follow through on details. He knows how important it is to protect all parties against misunderstandings and the importance of all agreements being in writing.

Thinking of selling your home? It makes sense to list it with PRESIDENT REAL ESTATE, 356 Hancock St., Phone: 328-8345.

Through our nationwide network of ERA Realtors, we can help you relocate anywhere in the country.

Also, we have available a one year warranty on all plumbing, heating, mechanical, electrical systems and built-in appliances on homes that we sell.

Phone or drop in. We are here to help.

DON'T FORGET LAST YEAR'S TAX RAISE WHEN YOU VOTE FOR NEXT YEAR'S MAYOR.

Right now, take $35 out of your wallet and think about last year's tax raise. Multiply that $35 by the valuation of your house and think about how that money was spent.

Think about how things were so poorly managed that even though you paid higher taxes, many city services—like rubbish collection—got worse.

Think about how the present mayor appointed out-of-town political friends to high paid City jobs.

And think about his $2.6 million misrepresentation of the cost of North Quincy High.

Now put your money back in your pocket and think about Arthur Tobin—the man who opposed the big $35 tax hike from the very beginning.

Think about how he's broadened Quincy's tax base by helping bring in new businesses like Jordan Marsh, State Street South, and Kemper Insurance.

Think about how he brought in jobs and improved programs for our youth and our elderly.

Think about how his plans to eliminate the duplication of services and institute Zero Base Budgeting can save Quincy hundreds of thousands of dollars every year.

And when you go to vote, think about your wallet and that outrageous $35 tax raise. Then vote Arthur Tobin for mayor.

So you don't forget, cut this out and take it with you when you vote.

Free Flu Clinic

Sept. 24 At Health Center

A free flu clinic for Quincy residents only will be held Saturday, Sept. 24, from 1 to 4 p.m., at the John F. Kennedy Health Center, 1120 Hancock Street, Quincy Center.

Anyone 18 years of age or older may be immunized.

Quincy Health Commissioner, Dr. Samuel Solomon, strongly urges immunization for anyone suffering from chronic conditions such as emphysema, asthma and bronchial or heart disease.

The new 1977-78 flu vaccine used will be Type A Victoria, and Type B Hong Kong - Fluogen.

This will be the only mass clinic to be held and everyone eligible to be immunized should make every effort to attend, Dr. Solomon said.

30-35% Turnout Seen

LaRaia, Tobin Clash Primary Election Highlight Tuesday

By TOM HENSHAW

The first ballot confrontation between Mayor Joseph LaRaia and Council President Arthur Tobin is eagerly awaited by many, but apparently some aren't getting too excited over it.

City Clerk John Gillis, who has been watching such things for more than 20 years, predicts a voter turnout of between 30 and 35 per cent for the preliminary municipal election next Tuesday in which voters set the stage for the final balloting Nov. 8.

"It looks like an average preliminary election vote," said

Gillis. "The Mayor's race seems to be the only real contest on the ballot. There are no preliminary races for City Council in Wards 3 and 5 and none at all for School Committee. That should help to keep the turnout down."

He does not expect the Council at-Large race to generate too much interest as far as the preliminary elections is concerned.

Polls in Quincy's 39 precincts will be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

The race to narrow the number of mayoral candidates down to two for the Nov. 8 ballot not only pits LaRaia and

'Election Year Tax Rate'

Tobin Says $2.40 Tax Hike May Force Hospital Rates Up

The Quincy tax rate for 1978 has been set at $197.20, an increase of only $2.40, but even that has drawn the fire of City Council President Arthur H. Tobin, who opposes Mayor LaRaia in next week's preliminary city election.

Last year's tax rate hike was $34.90.

"The method used to set this year's tax rate may require substantial increases in hospital rates and personal property taxes and cause a deficit next year," Tobin warned.

He called it "an election year tax rate."

The State Department of Corporations and Taxation approved the $197.20 rate last Friday afternoon and Mayor LaRaia attributed the increase primarily to a $200,000 boost in the county assessment on the city.

The fact that the city budget than in 1977 apparently was balanced out by an increase in the city's total valuation from $271.4 million to $277.7 million.

Tobin noted what he called "several serious questions about the fiscal responsibility of this year's rate."

The Mayor estimated an increase of 22.5 per cent in hospital receipts, he said, "despite the fact that the City Hospital failed even to meet last year's estimate."

"Last year," he said, "the administration estimated hospital receipts at $20.6 million but collected only $19.1 million. Yet this year they are estimating receipts of over $23.5 million."

The only way to make it up, he said, "is to increase the hospital rates. At a time when government is trying to control the high costs of medical care, I for 1978 is $5.8 million higher

Gillis, Harold Ask Payment Held Up On Voting List Printing

City Clerk John Gillis and Councilor Paul D. Harold have asked that the city withhold payment to the contractor who printed the voting lists because of numerous errors that have kept the Election Department busy making corrections.

"This is the worst printing job on the voting lists we have had in the 20 years that I have been city clerk," said Gillis. "I have asked Mrs. Agatha Deschenes [purchasing agent] to hold up on payment of the job. We are going to demand some kind of an adjustment."

Gillis said the Election Department has found more than 80 errors in the voting list booklets and is still checking.

The errors, he said, include names, wrong names, misspelled names, omitted names and duplicated names. "You can imagine what would

Koch Reports

Bacteriological Quality Of City's Beaches 'Good'

Richard J. Koch, executive secretary to the Quincy Park-Recreation Board, has reported that the bacteriological quality of city beaches during the 1977 swimming season was very good.

Health Commissioner Dr. Samuel Solomon provides a weekly report to the Park and Recreation Departments as to the water quality at the 13 swim stations where summer recreation programs are conducted.

During 16 weeks of testing, from May 24 through Sept. 6, the 1,000 allowable bacteria counts were exceeded only 11 times in 212 samples and a recheck indicated a normal count. The remaining 201 samples proved from excellent to good in water quality.

The high bathing density, with the extreme heat during the summer, possibly caused a higher bacteria count in the 11 samples exceeding 1,000, but the overall survey proved excellent, considering the extensive use of the beaches by so many.

Records indicated that in 1969, counts of over 1,000 allowable bacteria on city beaches were recorded on 35 occasions out of a total of 133 samples. In each succeeding year, the water quality has proved very good.

The Massachusetts Department of Public Health says a high bacteriological quality of bathing beach waters indicates that sewage or other hazardous substances are being discharged into the swimming areas or that high bathing density has created a condition which is or may be dangerous to the public health.

Chlorination of street drains emptying into the beach area, limited and reduced the use of the Moon Island sewerage treatment plant and chlorination of this general area may all have contributed to the reduction of water pollution during the bathing period since the 1969 season.

The Mass. DPH reduced the coliform count from 1,500 that was allowable in 1968 to 1,000 allowable in 1969. This action resulted in greater protection to the swimmers.

Burke Seeks Facts On Proposed Mail Facility

Congressman James A. Burke (D-Milton) has asked Postmaster General Bailor for specific facts surrounding the proposed Southeast Incoming Mail Facility. Construction of the bulk mail center in Braintree is scheduled to start January 1978.

Intended as a highly mechanized, mail sorting center, the Southeast Incoming Mail Facility will alter postal operations in Quincy, Milton and Braintree, all within the 11th Congressional District. Weymouth will also be affected.

Burke said:

"Due to the independent nature of the U.S. Postal Service, I was neither officially advised nor consulted prior to site selection or during the planning stages of this project. I want detailed facts from the Postal Service as to the manner and extent to which this central facility will disrupt postal personnel and services in Quincy, Milton and Braintree. I want documented evidence to prove that construction of a Braintree bulk mail center will result in the significant improvement of mail services to South Shore residents."

Aquinas Junior College Opens

Aquinas Junior College, Newton, opened Monday with the largest student body in its history.

The welcoming address will be given in a school assembly by Aquinas President, Sister Philomene Walsh.

Highlighting this year's programs at the college are new programs in the Continuing Education Division to address the needs of those returning to the workforce or updating their education with current courses.

In addition to the one and two year degree and certificate programs already in progress, an additional program has been designed at Aquinas for Liberal Arts graduates who need marketable skills for employment. This compact certificate component has limited registration available now.

Among this year's students at Aquinas are residents of more than 50 surrounding communities including Kathleen McEachern, a senior from Quincy.

The Language of Flowers Flower tips from Andre Moreau

Plants need a healthy mix of minerals to look their best. It is recognized that there are about fifteen elements necessary to provide optimum growth. Nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium, carbon, oxygen and hydrogen are of primary importance. Secondary elements are calcium, magnesium and sulfur. In addition, there is increasing data that certain plants use chloride, cobalt, boron and other minerals. So look what you feed your plants. Calcium deficiency is easy to spot - it appears in your leaves and growing tips which bend and then die. Lack of magnesium, iron and zinc can manifest itself in stunted or distorted leaf growth. If trouble appears it may be a signal because of a poor diet.

For the "Perfect gift for those who have everything and for those who have nothing...for the young and the old" consider a plant or flowers from NORFOLK FLOWER SHOP, 49 Beale St., Wollaston, 472-7100. As members of FTD and Teleflora we can arrange to deliver your gift almost anywhere in the world. Of course, as real professionals we have to meet the high quality standards of both organizations. Daily deliveries to local hospitals. Master Charge and BankAmericard honored. Hours: Mon. - Sat. 8-6, evenings by appointment.

Stay Alive!
By Jack Silverstein

TOURNIQUETS ARE OUT

What would you do if, as a result of an accident, an arm or leg began to bleed profusely? Apply a tourniquet, right? Wrong! "Too many people do not realize that a tourniquet shuts off the blood supply. If it's left on too long, gangrene may set in and amputation may be necessary," says the director of health and safety for Scouting/USA. Safety authorities discourage the use of tourniquets except as a last resort or when supervised by first-aid experts. According to the experts, "More people have been lost from a tourniquet applied poorly or left on too long than from not having one at all."

By applying pressure at the injured spot you can stop almost any bleeding. Even the most severe bleeding can usually be arrested with a large compress - a handkerchief or a piece of shirt held firmly on the artery until the blood clots and the wound can be bandaged.

However, such measures should never be taken with head wounds, because pressure may force pieces of a fractured skull into the brain. Instead, have the victim lie comfortable with the head slightly raised until medical help arrives.

Koch Club Collecting Toys, Dolls For Needy Children At Christmas

Richard J. Koch, executive director of the Koch Club of Quincy, announces the organization will again collect toys, dolls and games for distribution to needy families at Christmas.

Persons who plan to discard such items in good condition that may provide boys and girls with Christmas happiness are requested to contact Koch at 241 Newbury Ave., North Quincy or deliver the same to that address.

In 1971, the Koch Club began the project by providing 200 gifts to families burned out in a pre-Christmas fire. Since then, approximately 5,000 gifts have been donated, refurbished and distributed to boys and girls.

In a special project, a program of dress-a-doll for a child at Christmas was initiated whereby discarded dolls were refurbished, washed, cleaned and dressed by volunteer women and girls, and delivered to needy girls on the South Shore and Quincy area. Koch said the items donated should be in usable condition requiring only minor repairs and cleaning to allow club members sufficient time to refurbish the toys for delivery at Christmas.

Mrs. Simone Koch of Quincy and Mrs. Ginny Derringer of South Weymouth are chairpersons of the dress-a-doll program.

A group of South Weymouth and Quincy residents have already provided some 100 items for Christmas delivery.

Gerard Barry A.F. Training Graduate

Airman Gerard P. Barry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Barry of 30 Dysart St., Quincy, has graduated at Chanute AFB, Ill., from the U.S. Air Force technical training course for aircraft fuel systems equipment repairmen.

Barry, now trained to inspect and repair the intricate fuel systems of current Air Force aircraft, is being assigned to Plattsburgh AFB, N.Y., for duty with a unit of the Strategic Air Command. Completion of the course earned the individual credits towards an associate in applied science degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

He is a 1974 graduate of Quincy High School. His wife, Regina, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick Langa of Cotuit, Mass.

Judicial Reform

The legislature is now back in full formal session. The end of the session will bring forth a number of important and major pieces of legislation.

The Governor has called judicial reform his number one priority this year. The Cox Commission, chaired by Professor Archibald Cox, cited a number of areas where the court system in the Commonwealth could be improved. Members of the Commission placed a major emphasis on trial delays and dollars wasted.

The Cox Commission made a series of recommendations which they felt would help reduce delays and waste. The recommendations called for 1.) strong centralized administrator of the court system, 2.) strengthening of the district courts, 3.) merging courts at the Superior level and 4.) instituting unified budgetary and finance methods to reduce waste.

The future of these recommendations lies with the Joint Committee on the Judiciary who are currently holding hearings on the Commission's recommendations. So far, the Committee has voted to have the state take over court costs which could help lessen the local property tax burden. They also voted in favor of unified budget and financing.

The Joint Committee has rejected 3 important recommendations 1.) against centralized administrator, 2.) unifying the district courts, and 3.) merger of courts at the Superior level.

Many legislators are blaming the Governor for lack of leadership with the Court Reform Package. A fight on the recommendations is expected.

If I can be of any assistance, I can be reached by calling 328-0900, or 727-7035. I hold office hours, at my district office, 69 Billings Road on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday 8:30 - 10:00 a.m. and Wednesday 6:30 - 8:30 p.m.

$2.44 Million Approved For City Hall Annex

The federal government has approved a $2.44 million grant to Quincy to build the proposed City Hall Annex over the MBTA tracks behind the current 133-year-old City Hall.

With plans already drawn up by Architect Owen Trainor, work on the annex can begin well within the 90-day deadline set by Washington, said Planning Director L. Norman Lundin.

He said he plans to sit down with department heads later this week to discuss the plans.

The proposed annex got the green light from the Historic District Commission Monday night.

Lundin said word of the approval of the grant came from Washington Tuesday morning but the 90-day starting period would not begin until written authorization is received.

Arthritis 'Operation Health' Topic On WJDA Friday

WJDA will discuss arthritis - a disease afflicting some 580,000 Massachusetts residents - on the Friday, Sept. 16 program "Operation Health," a new feature of the station's Community Spotlight program, aired at 3:10 p.m. "Operation Health," featuring a different health topic every Friday, was conceived by WJDA personality Win Bettinson and is produced in cooperation with the Community Action Program and the South Metro Health Council, the local unit of the Health Planning Council for Greater Boston.

Friday's guests will be Mrs. Katherine Plimpton, Sherborn, President of the Massachusetts Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation, and Norma Nadeau who have been active in a number of programs concerned with arthritis.

Mrs. Plimpton will explain the multiple activities of the Arthritis Foundation, including support for research programs, community services, and health education.

Miss Nadeau will explain the different forms of arthritis, including juvenile rheumatoid arthritis afflicting approximately 7,000 Massachusetts children, adult rheumatoid arthritis afflicting 120,000 state residents, and scleroderma, a rare form of arthritis.

In the coming weeks "Operation Health" guests will explore a wide range of health topics: nutrition, preventive health tips, mental health, alcoholism, arthritis, dental health, hypertension, lung diseases, dental health, diabetes, health education for teenagers, environmental health, and regional health planning.

Members of the planning committee for "Operation Health" include: Win Bettinson, WJDA Radio; Bella Krovitz, Quincy; Anne Lee Johnston, Norfolk County Nutrition Association; Rick Conant, South Shore Mental Health Center; Rosemary Wahlberg, executive director of Quincy Community Action Program and chairman of South Metro Health Council; and Madeline Hill, Health Planning Council for Greater Boston.

A complete listing of guests for "Operation Health" is available by writing Madeline Hill, HPCGB, 46 Birmingham Parkway, Brighton, or calling 787-5800.

There is no reason to worry that clear colored glass will lose its dye. Indeed, the glass is clear because the color is introduced into the molten glass, rather than after the glass is blown. It is, therefore, impossible for any of the color to fade, rub off, or dissolve into the liquid the glass is holding. Small quantities of specific metal oxides are used to obtain particular colors. Iron produces an amber color, cobalt a blue one, and copper green hues. Ruby is the most difficult color to create as a result of the chemicals needed. A colored piece of glassware is more expensive than an equivalent colorless piece. Jewelry, in all price ranges, is handled by us at GRONO & CHRISTIE, INC., 536 Adams St., 696-1490. We have been serving the community for over 35 years and our staff is always happy to serve your needs. School Department Metric System Course For Adults

The Quincy School Department will honor Sen. Arthur H. Tobin's request for adult education classes in the metric system.

Vincent P. Sullivan, coordinator of science for the Quincy Schools, advised Tobin that as a result of the senator's request, Quincy schools will present a 10-week course in the metric system for adults starting in October.

Sullivan also conducts one-night explanations of the metric system for adult civic groups who request them.

The scheduled adult course came in response to a request by Tobin that the school department consider a study program in the metric system for adults, so that they can be as knowledgeable as their children about it and help their children with their homework, as well as being prepared to use the metric system when the U.S. converts to metric measurement.

Tobin noted many radio stations are giving the temperature in metric measurements, and grocery weights or volume are often listed by metric figures.

Robert Sabatini Meritoriously Promoted

Marine Pfc. Robert E. Sabatini, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred L. Sabatini of 18 High School Ave., Quincy, has been meritoriously promoted to his present rank upon graduation from recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S.C.

He received the early promotion for his superior performance during all phases of the 11-week training cycle, which emphasized physical conditioning, self-discipline and teamwork.

A 1975 graduate of Quincy Vocational Technical School, he joined the Marine Corps in February, 1977.

Paul Harold has been the man-in-the-middle in Quincy politics for the past two years - urging reason in a storm of infighting.

Time and again, he has tried to raise the level of political action - working to remove issues from the personality conflicts that seem to intrude on reasoned consideration of problems.

It's not an easy job, but one thing it does do is allow him to say "No" when he feels it's the right thing to do.

He's said "No" to wasteful spending. He's said "No" to police layoffs. He's said "No" to attempts to circumvent civil service laws.

Paul Harold has said "No" to his colleagues on the city council, and he said "No" to the mayor.

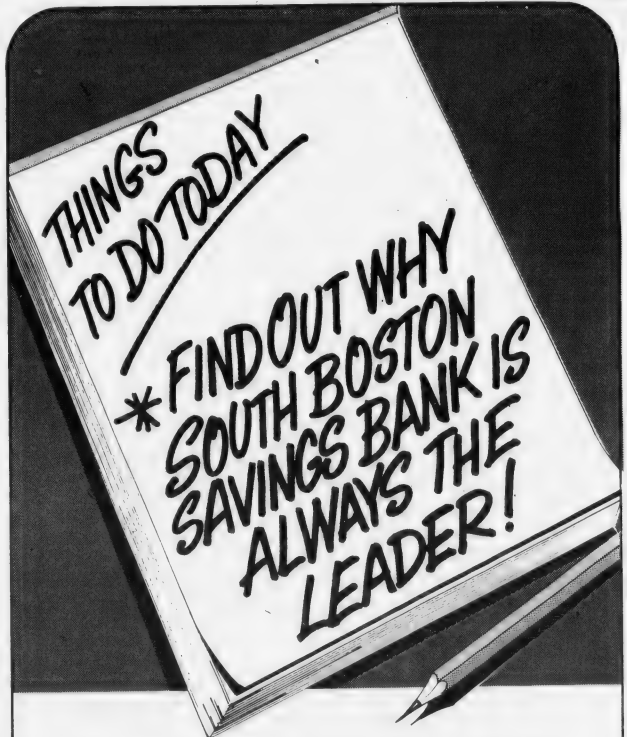

He said "No" to both sides when they were wrong - and he's said "Yes" to both sides when they were right.

And he did it because that's his job - to be fair and independent in his judgement, and to do what is best for Quincy - regardless of political considerations.

Paul Harold - "your independent voice on the city council."

Meeting On Plans For Expressway 'Diamond Lane'

State Public Works Commissioner John J. Carroll was scheduled to meet with state legislators yesterday (Wednesday) to present the DPW's plans for use of the so-called diamond lane of the Southeast Expressway.

"The use of the diamond lane directly affects the people of Quincy," said Rep. James A. Sheets (D-Quincy). "especially since the extension of the lane is making it impossible for most of those who live in Quincy to use it."

Sheets asked anyone who has an idea on the future of the diamond lane to call him at his State House office.

MBTA Task Force To Meet

The Mayor's Task Force on the MBTA will meet at 7:30 p.m. tonight [Thursday] in the lower conference room at 55 Sea St. to hear status reports on the depression of the MBTA tracks, design of the South Quincy MBTA station, the Army Corps of Engineers flood project and the Downtown Development Plan.

LaRaia Seeks Bus Stop

Mayor LaRaia has requested the MBTA to establish a bus stop at the corner of Newport Ave. and Holbrook Rd. Wollaston, "to allow passengers, especially senior citizens, to stop and use the recently completed facilities of a shopping center."

The Mayor said in a letter to MBTA chairman Robert Kiley that his office has received many requests for such a service and

"we have committed ourselves to make every effort to see to its implementation."

Brillo Appointed Recreation Director

Frank Brillo of 15 Main St., Quincy Point, has been named director of recreation for Quincy, succeeding Robert Beniers, who succeeded to run for the Ward 2 seat on the City Council.

Brillo, 32, who has been working in the recreation field since 1968, was assistant director of recreation at the time of his appointment by Mayor Joseph J. LaRaia.

Trained in recreation at Northeastern, Brillo has worked with the Youth Football League, CYO Basketball and the Quincy Softball League. He is married and has one child.

Brillo will be succeeded as assistant director by David MacMillan of 17 Bell St., Houghs Neck, who is currently employed by the Quincy Park Department.

He is a graduate of Quincy Junior College.

Macmillan, 39, has worked with the Quincy Babe Ruth League and boys and girls basketball in Houghs Neck. He was a founder of the St. Grenhan Youth Center and the Houghs Neck Hockey League. He is married and has one child.

McCauley Asks Foreign Language Program In Grade 7

School Committeeman Francis X. McCauley introduced two resolutions at Wednesday night's School Committee meeting.

McCauley asked the school department administration to study the feasibility of starting the foreign language program in Grade 7 instead of Grade 9.

The second resolution requests

School Supt. Dr. Lawrence Creedon to recommend on the advisability of requiring minimum standards for advancement and graduation in the Quincy Public Schools.

Tobin Leads Successful Debate On Anti-Revaluation

Senator Arthur H. Tobin (D-Quincy) last week took the floor in the Massachusetts Constitutional Convention and led the debate for passage of the anti-revaluation constitutional amendment which will appear on the ballot for ratification in 1978.

"The vote today in the Constitutional Convention was a great victory for homeowners," Tobin said.

Tobin quoted a recent study commissioned by the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston, which showed that city residential property values would plunge under a revaluation, because of the enormous increase in tax bills.

"This new proposal," Tobin said, "would prevent a drastic increase in tax bills by allowing the classification of real property according to its use."

Tobin also cited a study done under the auspices of Boston University which indicated that a great shift of tax burden would result from revaluation and would fall on the residential homeowner.

"We must protect our taxpayers and homeowners and work to insure ratification of this amendment in 1978," Tobin said. "The fact that this amendment passed the legislature by a wide margin -- 220 to 53 in 1975, and 242 to 20 today -- indicated that the public is ready for tax relief."

Extend Vietnam Veterans State College Benefits

A bill that would extend the state college benefits for Vietnam veterans from 10 to 15 years has passed the State House and has been sent to the State Senate, according to Rep. James A. Sheets (D-Quincy).

Sheets, working with Sen. Arthur H. Tobin (D-Quincy) and Graham Taylor, vice chancellor for student affairs of the Board of Higher Education, said the bill would allow Vietnam veterans to finish their education at a nominal cost to the state.

He said Sen. Tobin is hoping to amend the bill in the Senate so that it will go into effect upon passage to allow those enrolled in state colleges and universities this semester to receive benefits.

Beverly Conte To Receive

Northeastern Degree

Beverly Conte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guido Conte of 137 Sumner St., Quincy Point, will receive a master's degree in speech pathology and audiology from Northeastern in ceremonies at 7:30 p.m. tonight [Thursday] in Boston.

Miss Conte, a graduate of Quincy High School, holds degrees in both speech pathology and audiology and speech and communication studies from Emerson College, where she is a part-time member of the faculty.

She has also done clinical work with aphasia patients at Long Island Hospital and has taught at Hellenic College, Graham Junior College and the Amico School in Quincy.

A WEEKLY MESSAGE FROM MICHAEL E. FAHERTY, CANDIDATE COUNCILLOR-AT-LARGE

"In the preliminary election next Tuesday, September 20th, I'm asking for One of your Three votes for Councillor at-Large. During the course of my campaign people have said to me, 'I don't vote, what's the use?' My friends therein lies the problem... 'cause if you don't vote you really can't complain about the quality of representation you have. Only by taking the initiative to vote can you do something about the three P's of politics... Promises, Patronage and Procrastination."

Without a large voter turnout in this election, it's going to be business as usual... the electorate be damned. Don't take your right to vote lightly, men and women have died for it. Millions of oppressed people still struggle for it.

Maybe your candidate won't get elected, but if you vote at least you can say... I had the chance and I took it."

Station WJDA Celebrates 30th Birthday

By TOM HENSHAW

One of the treasured items in the memory book at Radio Station WJDA is the pictorial cover of a New York Sunday Times Magazine for May, 1954.

It shows the Chinese Communist delegation arriving for one of those larger than life international conferences in Geneva, Switzerland.

And there, in the midst of all the dignitaries, is James Dudley Asher Sr., then the owner of WJDA, busily grinding away with a home movie camera.

In a way, the picture typifies the 1,000-watt station on Brackett St., Quincy, which is just now entering its 31st year on the air.

It's always professional — but it's not too sophisticated to be a little awed by it all, just like the folks listening back home.

WJDA is something of an anomaly in an industry noted for swift and massive turnovers in personnel and frantic programming changes in pursuit of an elusive thing called ratings.

It has changed very little since 6 a.m., Sept. 13, 1947, when the late James D. Asher Sr. and the late Joseph H. Tobin pushed the button that put the station on the air for the first time.

The most popular programs are "Party Line", when listeners call in to air their gripes and opinions, and "Breakfast with JDA", a low-keyed talk and music show. The rest is mostly music, news and community service programs.

"It's basically a contemporary middle of the road music format," says James D. [Jay] Asher Jr., the current proprietor and son of the founder, who is only seven months older than the station itself.

"We try to be not too raucous, not too sleepy. It's not rock, not classical, just what we feel has the greatest appeal to the greatest number of young adults."

Whatever it is, it is successful. WJDA appears regularly on the Boston rating charts, a not inconsiderable feat when you consider that its listeners are confined mostly to the South Shore corner of the vast and highly competitive Boston market.

JAMES D. ASHER, JR.

The turnover in personnel is low, too.

No one has been there since the start but Win Bettinson, the program director, arrived in September, 1952, just in time to take part in a circus parade with the seals and tigers down Hancock St. in observance of the station's fifth birthday.

Ken Fallon came in December, 1954, mostly to handle the play-by-play for high school football games. He is now commercial manager. News director Herb Fontaine signed on in August, 1955. Account Executive Earl Hannafin is another 20-year man.

It's hard to figure how long Jay Asher has been with WJDA since he started emptying waste baskets at the station when he was 12 and before that had some vague relationship with the "candy-covered candies" that were offered as prizes in the "Stump the Staff" quiz program.

He went to Harvard, joined the Army, returned to become general manager of WJDA's sister station, WESX in Salem, then took over as president and treasurer of the parent Television and Radio Broadcasting Corp. when his father died in 1973.

A number of well-known radio personalities have gotten their starts on Brackett St. and have gone on to bigger things.

Ken Coleman began broadcasting Quincy and North Quincy High School football games for the Duggan Brothers of the North Quincy Garage, moved on to the Cleveland Browns and the Boston Red Sox, now does play-by-play for the Cincinnati Reds.

Don Kent, the Channel 4 weatherman, used to perform the same forecasting chore for WJDA under the name Don Dixon. When he left, the name remained as property of the station.

Bill Lord came as a broadcast student from Boston University, now heads television news for the American Broadcasting Co. [ABC] in New York. Bill Edwards, now with the National Broadcasting Co. [NBC] in New York, preceded Fontaine as news director of WJDA.

Through it all, WJDA has operated on a dawn-to-dusk license, which means that it has to shut down its transmitter on or about the time the sun goes down. It's on the air in the summer until 7:30 p.m., in the winter until 4:15 p.m.

"It upsets the schedule," says Asher. "Our longest broadcasting days come when we have a lot of the staff on vacation."

The dawn-to-dusk limitation is necessary because WJDA's frequency, 1300 on the dial, is one of the busiest in the nation. There are no less than 64 American radio stations broadcasting on 1300, two of them as near as New Haven, Conn., and Plymouth, N.H.

"It's no problem during the day," says Asher, "but at night the signal travels farther. Two stations within 10 kilohertz of each other would cancel each other out. So a lot of little stations go off the air at dusk and selected stations stay on at night."

Since WPLM in Plymouth, Mass., is on 1290 and WORC, a powerful 5,000-watter in Worcester, is on 1310, nighttime broadcasting from WJDA would draw a blank after the sun goes down.

Nevertheless, the Quincy station has been heard as far away as Pennsylvania and, says Asher, "we get a lot of cards and letters from people who have heard us in Nova Scotia where the signal travels over water."

"We looked into a 24-hour license a few years ago," said Asher, "but we decided it was not feasible. We would have had to move the tower and go directional toward the east. We have a good signal now and we'd hate to jeopardize it."

The WJDA transmitter tower is in a marsh off Sea St., an ideal location because the wet earth gives the signal an extra kick.

Asher likes to tell the story of the little radio station in Salem, N.H., that first went on the air in the spring when the ground around the transmitter was damp, then watched [or listened] helplessly as the signal began to shrink when the ground dried.

Right now, the most exciting development at WJDA is the possibility that the station might go to stereo, a form of broadcast that in the past has existed only for FM [frequency modulation] stations. WJDA is AM [audio modulation].

"The industry is on the verge of having AM stereo," says Asher, "if the FCC will take action on it and the manufacturers can gear up to making the equipment. We could go with stereo with only minor modifications to the transmitter and some new equipment."

WJDA came on the air 30 years ago at about the same time that television hit the home screen and, since then, the gaudy medium has pretty much pushed radio into the background. But not as far as WJDA is concerned.

"Radio is stronger than ever," asserts Asher. "How many people have portable radios? How many families have sets in every room in the house? Radio will always survive as long as people like company."

JAMES D. ASHER SR., one of the founders who gave his initials to WJDA's call letters, designed the station's new home, which appears to be on stilts because of possible flooding from Town Brook.

ENGINEER BILL MALCOLM flips the switch that starts Radio Station WJDA on the way to its 31st year of broadcasting to Quincy and the South Shore.

Political Footsteps

David Crowley's candidacy for the Ward 1 City Council seat raises a question if you are a Quincy history buff: how many sons of councillors have followed in their fathers' political footsteps?

Crowley's father, David [Jim] Crowley served during the 1940s-1950s and was a forceful figure in the council chamber.

Young Crowley hopes to follow him to City Hall. How many sons actually have?

Well, in recent years, one comes to mind: George B. McDonald who served through the 1960s to 1972. His father, George P. McDonald, was a councillor in the 1940s. And his uncle, Thomas F. McDonald, served in the 1930s. All three represented Ward 4.

George B., now a county commissioner, sat at the same council desk his father did before him. Their initials are carved side by side in the desk drawer. And George has the chair all three sat in, as a memento of their service to Quincy.

And, he proudly notes that all three retired from the council undefeated.

Two brothers have served in the council: Aldo and Amelio Della Chiesa, both out of Ward 3.

But the best family act ever in the City Council were the Federhens: Herbert M. Sr. and Jr. They served TOGETHER from Ward 2 in 1892.

Tom Henshaw, who authors the "Quincy's Yesterdays" column on the adjoining page came across that fact while researching the "good old days".

In 1892, Quincy had a 23-member city council-five at-large and three from each ward. And in those days, the elections were strictly partisan.

Federhen Sr., a jeweler, was a Republican and Federhen Jr., a lawyer, a Democrat. They both lived at 240 Washington St., Quincy Point when elected in 1891.

Federhen Sr. was earlier elected to the city's first council in 1888, when Quincy became a city. And, taking office in 1889 became the council's very first president.

He also served in the state legislature 1885-86 and on the committee that framed the Quincy city charter.

INCIDENTALLY, the third man elected from Ward 2 on the 1892 council was Isaac M. Holt, a Republican who caused quite a stir when he moved to Ward 1 before he took his seat on the council.

ELECTION SIDELIGHT: If Councillor John Quinn is re-elected this fall, he will be the all-time "dean" of the City Council. Quinn is seeking his 11th consecutive term-all at-large. Former Councillor Carl Anderson who won 10 terms as Ward 2 and councillor at-large, is now tied with Quinn for council longevity honors at 20 years.

PAT MCCARTHY who ran for the 11th District Democratic Congressional nomination out of Randolph last year, appears to be still running. McCarthy recently produced the second issue of a four-page newsletter entitled "Impact", touching on various matters of interest to voters.

The current issue also notes his $27,000 1976 campaign debt has been wiped out.

After losing to incumbent James A. Burke last year, McCarthy was indicating he would not make a second bid. But from the looks of it, he's already off and running.

PAT KELLY, pretty wife of Ward 6 City Council candidate Mike Kelly, has found the campaign trail has a couple of side benefits: She's met a lot of nice people while campaigning for her husband. And she's lost 10 pounds. Only problem with the latter, however, she smiles is "my clothes don't fit me anymore."

QUINCY residents have an extra reason for rooting for the Red Sox this season: Slugger Jim Rice is living in a Quincy Point apartment complex.

FRIENDS AND SUPPORTERS of School Committeeman Francis McCauley, candidate for councillor at-large, are planning a fund-raising reception for him in early October at the Neighborhood Club. It depends, of course, on winning a nomination in next week's preliminary election.

NICE TO HEAR the voice of old friend Ken Coleman back on the local airwaves. The long-time North Quincy resident and former Red Sox telecaster, has returned to WHDH to handle sports mornings.

Ken was recently heard doing the national telecast [Ch. 4] of the Saturday Cincinnati-Philadelphia game. He will continue his weekend TV chores-the Cincinnati homegames-as well as the Ohio State football games on radio.

Incidentally, Ken's son, Casey, has been named sports director for station WSAR in Fall River. In addition to having his own show [6 to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday] Casey will handle the play-by-play of area high school football and basketball games. Seems like only yesterday that his dad was doing the same for WJDA.

The first clock, built around 1360, had only one hand and erred about two hours a day.

Tobin against each other but against four other candidates as well.

They are Thomas M. Barron, Leo J. Hannon, Thomas P. McHugh and George M. Tull. They are not conceded much of a chance against the Big Two—unless, as some suspect, voters are so sick of the Mayor-Council bickering during the past two years that they are ready for a third candidate.

A poll taken by City Councillor Paul D. Harold in May is said to have shown Tobin ahead but with an enormous 40 per cent undecided. A later poll, taken for one of the candidates, reportedly showed the same 40 per cent on the fence. That's an unnerving statistic for a politician seeking comfort in numbers.

Political observers make these observations without attempting to pick a winner:

- A large turnout of voters will benefit Tobin since the hardcore of LaRaia support is more likely to get out and vote.

- The senior citizen vote could be the key to the election. Tobin has always had the lion's share of it. But LaRaia has pitched his campaign strongly toward the elderly. The vote in Ward 2, Precinct 2, which includes Martensen St. and 1000 Southern Artery, may prove a good barometer.

- If, as expected, Tobin runs strong in Wards 1 and 5 and LaRaia gets a good vote in Wards 2 and 4 then look for the election to be decided in Ward 6, where the bitter residue of the North Quincy High School controversy may linger enough to upset the plans of either candidate. But how long does an issue last?

- "Concede Tobin Ward 1," says one pundit, "then he has to do better in Wards 5 and 6 than Joe does in Wards 2 and 4."

- LaRaia won the 1975 election in Ward 4 but the lineup of support is a little different this time around. For a Ward 4 barometer, check returns in Precinct 7, which should go to LaRaia by a good margin or he has trouble.

Elsewhere, the most excitement should be stirred up in the Council races in Wards 2 and 6.

In Ward 2, Councillor Daniel G. Raymond, a caustic LaRaia critic for the past two years, faces a challenge from former Recreation Director Robert K. Beniers, regarded as a LaRaia supporter. Will the passions loosed in the fight for Mayor extend to the Council level?

Patrick J. Faherty Jr., a frequent seeker of public office for the past 30 years, is the third man in the Ward 2 race.

Ward 6 is a free for all among five candidates with the incumbent, Councillor Dennis E. Harrington, stepping out of the ward and into the battle for an at-large seat.

Contesting for the vacancy are Joanne Condon, Patrick J. Conroy, Harold J. Gallagher, Walter J. Hickey and Michael F. Kelly. Hickey barely lost to Harrington after a recount in 1975.

Councillor Leo J. Kelly is challenged in Ward 1 by James F. Miller Jr., a leader of the Harborview Tenants Association, and David J. Crowley Jr., son of a former city councillor.

Councillor James A. Sheets is opposed in Ward 4 by Albert R. Barilaro, the incumbent he beat in 1973, as well as Joseph P. McDonough and Helen M. McDonnell.

There are no preliminary contests in Ward 5, where Councillor Warren A. Powers draws Stephen J. McGrath in the final, and in Ward 3 where Councillor John J. Lydon Jr. gets a free ride through both preliminary and final.

Eight candidates for the Council's at-large seats will be narrowed to six by voters in the preliminary. Tobin's run for Mayor opens up a vacancy among the at-large seats.

Councillors Paul D. Harold and John J. Quinn are seeking re-election. Dennis E. Harrington, now a councillor from Ward 6, is trying to broaden his field by winning at large.

Two former councillors, Joseph E. Brett and School Committeeman Francis X. McCauley, also are in the race. For Brett, a victory would be the first step in a political comeback. He lost his seat in the state legislature last year after holding it for 20 years.

Others in the at-large race are Sabina Kavanagh Stenberg, Carl A. Awed Jr., and Michael E. Flaherty.

There is no preliminary contest for the three School Committee posts since there are only six candidates in the race.

Frank Anselmo, John J. Sullivan and Charles T. Sweeney will be seeking re-election in November, challenged by Mary Collins, J. Thomas Mullaney and Joan C. Picard.

Hancock Cemetery Proposal Opposed

Opposition was almost unanimous at a City Council hearing to a proposal by Councillor David J. Crowley to move the city-owned Hancock Cemetery to make way for a new City Hall.

"I am bitterly opposed to the desecration of this historical spot," said former Mayor Joseph L. Whiton. "Does he want to dig them up with a steam shovel and put them down in back of the city stables and have a bone pile like they have down in Havana?"

"It will cost $200,000 to move the cemetery. I am opposed to a new City Hall. We don't need a new City Hall any more than the sea needs water."

Crowley said the removal of the cemetery was but one part of a two-part plan to open up Quincy Square to progress and development. The other part involved taking land between Depot and Saville Sts. for a bus terminal.

"It is not reasonable for this part of the city to be choked up by men who refuse to sell at a reasonable price and who refuse to build themselves," he said.

Restaurant owner George J. Anderson suggested that the city acquire the Granite Trust Building for use as a City Hall.

"Put the Mayor up on the top floor for eight hours," he said, "and lock the department heads in cages downstairs for eight hours and then maybe we could find them when we want them."

NORTH WINS OPENER

Bob Richards passed to Lou DiBona for a touchdown in the fourth period and Leo Luchini booted the extra point to give North Quincy a 13-12 upset victory over Watertown in the opener of the football season.

HOUSING PLAN OPPOSED

Carl R. Sheppard, president of the Quincy Chamber of Commerce, said his group will oppose Mayor Charles A. Ross' plan to establish a Mayor's Emergency Housing Committee to expedite the post-war construction of homes.

But, said Sheppard, he would have no objection if the Mayor were to name members of the Chamber-sponsored Quincy-South Shore Housing Committee, including chairman Harold E. Waldron of Wollaston, as a nucleus of the committee.

The Mayor said he would make no changes in his plan.

Park Service To Study Adams Birthplaces Takeover

Cong. James A. Burke (D-Milton) has been notified that the National Park Service intends to conduct a study of the feasibility of taking the Adams Birthplaces on Franklin St., South Quincy, into its system.

Burke has asked William J. Whalen, director of the Park Service, to explore the possibility of such a study and Whalen indicated that it will be programmed for funding after September, 1979, when money will be available.

"If the local officials decide that we should push to have the Park Service take over the birthplaces then I'll try to have some funds allocated for the study before then," said Burke. "We can't afford to let the houses sit in limbo for an indefinite period of time."

City Tax Rate $197.20

would hope that this city is not planning such enormous rate increases."

Tobin also noted that the recapitulation sheet also shows "tremendous increases in personal property tax valuations." He questioned where the money is coming from.

"The administration is projecting a $5.5 million increase in personal property valuations," Tobin said. "Does this mean the mayor is planning to start revaluation with peoples' household goods, or does it mean the administration has suddenly discovered $5.5 million in untaxed personal property? If so, it seems the tax rate needlessly rose $35 last year.

"The specter of assessors snooping around homes and trying to tax the household goods is both deplorable and absurd."

He also called the overlay deficit listed in the recapitulation sheet the largest in the city's history, adding, "with nearly $2 million in this deficit, on top of $2 million used in computing last year's tax rate, it logically follows that there will be a substantial deficit next year which the taxpayers will have to satisfy."

Tobin said he regretted his analysis of the tax rate had to wait until shortly before the preliminary election. He said it was not an 11th hour attack.

"It was not my decision to wait until a week before the election to announce the tax rate without consulting the city council," he said. "It was the mayor's."

Mayor LaRaia attributed last year's $3490 tax rate increase to a $4 million deficit he inherited from the previous administration of Mayor Walter J. Hannon, who had a zero tax rate hike in his last year in office, also an election year.

LaRaia said he had not only reduced the Hannon deficit during his nearly two years in office but also had paid more than $400,000 in old bills at Quincy City Hospital.

The Campaign Trail. . .

Barron Urges Voters To Turn Out Sept. 20

Mayoral candidate Thomas M. Barron, speaking at a reception held in his honor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Clark of Hollis Ave., North Quincy, called upon all registered voters to participate in next week's preliminary election.

He said the election, to be held Sept. 20, was an opportunity for residents to let government officials, and candidates know if they are serving the city's best interests.

Barron said that throughout his campaign, he has met many people who have expressed their dissatisfaction with the bickering and chaos in City Hall. He said he believes there would be a large voter turnout in Ward 6, and that he hoped the rest of the city would express their opinions on the candidates by voting.

Michael Kelly Calls For 'Business-Like Approach'

Michael J. Kelly, a candidate for the Ward 6 seat on the City Council, has called for "a more business-like approach to the management of the city" and the "only way to prevent another large tax increase."

Kelly, speaking before a candidates' night sponsored by the Atlantic Civic Association, advocated stricter fiscal and budgetary controls as a way to hold the line on spending.

"These controls would begin to reduce the waste in the city's spending," he said. "Each department's budget would be analyzed line by line and expenditure by expenditure. This would guarantee that each item in the budget would be justified."

"To do this a councillor needs to have both experience and training in this type of budgetary analysis. My background includes this type of experience and training since I have a master's degree in business administration."

Kelly said residents of Ward 6 have expressed to him their concern for the need for a councillor "who will be both available and responsive to all the residents of the ward."

"I personally feel," he said, "the job of the city councillor is to work for all the residents of the ward. To do this he must keep in touch with the people so that he will know how the residents feel about the issues and what they feel should be done."

"It is also his job to work to make sure that city services are delivered properly. I have already helped residents of the ward to get pot holes filled and fences repaired and will continue to do so."

"I also plan to hold periodic meetings in different areas of the ward to discuss with residents the issues and problems facing us such as the proposed mall and marina projects which I am fighting against."

Hickey Calls Attention To

'Johnny-Come-Lately-Candidates'

Ward 6 City Council candidate Walter J. Hickey held a series of meetings with the volunteer group calling itself "The Hickey Helpers" in the past week during which he struck back at "Johnny-come-lately" candidates who are now opposing the proposed Messina Shopping Mall on Quincy Shore Drive.

Speaking to one group at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Oneto of 198 Billings St., Hickey said, "I didn't hear these candidates speak out at any of the meetings with city and state officials on the Messina project last summer, and I haven't seen them at any of the meetings I held with the State Environmental Officials this fall, either."

Hickey pointed out that he alone spearheaded the fight to block the proposed "mini-mall" after talking with neighbors in the area and with other residents of North Quincy and Squantum.

In the final days before the preliminary election Hickey continued to stress the "Uniqueness" of his candidacy -- the only registered professional engineer on the ballot, "saying his experience gathered in more than a quarter century as a consulting engineer qualifies him ideally to serve Ward 6 and the city."

Gallagher Cites Qualifications

Harold Gallagher, candidate for the Ward 6 City Council seat, spoke at a meeting of the Atlantic Neighborhood Association stating his qualifications for the office.

A long time resident of Quincy, he cited the fact he has managed his own business for the past 30 years. This, he said, has trained him for leadership and given him understanding and financial experience and responsibility.

He has been a homeowner and taxpayer for the past 23 years in this city and now his three married sons also are homeowners and taxpayers in Quincy.

He said he has been a leader through elections in many organizations.

Over 80 Errors Cited In Voting Lists Printing

happen if a registered voter came in to vote and his or her name was not in the printed book and his or her name was misspelled," said Gillis.

The Election Department made corrections when the proofs were submitted by the contractor, Gillis said, but there were still more than 80 errors when the sets of 39 precinct books were delivered by the printer on Aug. 27 and 28. Election Department workers have been making further corrections by hand since.

"We normally have the lists around July 1," said the City Clerk. "This is the latest we have ever received them. This has caused a problem for the candidates who have been trying to get an up-to-date listing to be used in their campaigns."

One irate candidate is Paul D.

Harold, who is seeking re-election to an at-large seat on the City Council. Harold also asked that payment be withheld.

"The books came out so late that it is impossible to do a voter registration drive," he said. "How do you know who is registered without the list? And our only protection against fraud is the voters' list."

Gillis said the problem with the voting lists "has put a serious burden on the Election Department. We are still going through the master list making corrections to eliminate a possible serious problem and a tremendous inconvenience to voters on Election Day."

"There appear to be several different kinds of type and different weights of paper. The contractor did not adhere to the bid specifications."

The contract to print 200 copies of each of the 39 voting lists was put up for bid twice last spring, the first time on May 3 and the second time on June 15.

The low bidder the first time was The Quincy Sun Publishing Co. with a bid of $4,274, nearly $600 below that of the next lowest bidder. The bid was not accepted by Mayor LaRaia and the contract was put out for bid again.

The second time, the low bidder was CCP Associates, which listed addresses at 10 Commercial Wharf, South Boston, and Post Office Box 457, Reading. CCP did not submit a bid the first time.

Its successful second bid was $3,650, some $300 less than the next low bidder. The contract was signed June 27, only four days before the voting lists usually are finished. The contractor then had 60 days in which to complete the job.

Herb Fontaine QJWV's Citizen Of The Year

Herb Fontaine, news editor of radio station WJDA in Quincy for the past 22 years, has been selected as the 27th "Citizen of the Year" by the Quincy Jewish War Veterans.

He will receive the award Sunday, Nov. 6, at 9:30 a.m. during a breakfast program at Beth Israel Synagogue, 33 Grafton St., Quincy Point.

Fontaine has been active in such community affairs as Survival, the Cancer Crusade, United Fund and has assisted youth of the South Shore via the Quincy District Courthouse.

He is a veteran of World War II in which he served with the Eighth Armored Division at Camp Polk, La., and the First Cavalry Division in the Pacific Theater of War.

He also serves as a fence viewer for the City of Quincy.

Master of ceremonies at the awards breakfast will be Irving Isaacson. Members of the committee include Harvey Solomon, commander; Jason Stone, senior vice commander; Frances Davis, junior vice commander; David Minkosky, Ralph Paul, Ben Rudner and Nat Goldberg.

Harold Publishes Guide To Quincy Governments

City Councillor Paul D. Harold has taken a new approach to constituent service by compiling and publishing, at his own expense, a guide to Quincy government.

The booklet provides information on city officials, boards and commissions and outlines the operation of city government. It also provides excerpts from the state's new open meeting law.

"Open government is just a catch phrase unless the people participate," Harold said. "I hope this booklet is useful to them and that they will use it as an aid to participation in their city government."

More than 2,000 copies of the booklet, "Introduction to City Government," will be distributed to newly-registered or re-registered voters in the city. Harold said, while thousands of others will be distributed to civic groups, senior citizens and church organizations.

Over 300 Attend Conway 'Homebuyers, Homesellers Rally'

More than 300 people turned out for a recent "Homebuyers and Homesellers Rally" sponsored by the Jack Conway real estate company in Quincy Sons of Italy Hall as an educational forum in buying and selling real estate.

Panel members included Jack Conway, president of the 19-office company; Dick Cahill, manager of its Wollaston office; Doug Purdy of Serafini, Avitable and Purdy; Phil Greenspan, assistant treasurer of the Quincy Savings Bank; Patrick O'Hearn, president of the Massachusetts Cooperative Bank of Dorchester.

Rita Sweeney, manager of Conway's Mortgage Central Division; Lindsay Tate, president of the Braintree Savings Bank;

Isobel Dole, general manager of Northern Mortgage Co. and Charles Drea, general manager and vice president of Conway's Insurance Agency in Hanover and Wade Insurance Agency of Scituate.

The panel fielded such questions from the audience as: "What are the penalties for prepayment of loans?" "How much should I put down for a downpayment?" "What are points?" "Are my VA rights good?"

"I think that seminars such as this one are educational and beneficial for all involved and remind us to look at things from our customer's point of view," said Conway.

"Since real estate is our business we are attuned to these so-called 'ins and outs' that your average homebuyer or homeseller finds so confusing."

He indicated that the rally was so successful that he intends to make them a regular event so that as many people as possible can benefit from the expertise of the panelists in the real estate field.

Conway is celebrating its 20th year of real estate service to Quincy, the South Shore and Cape Cod.

BUY OR SELL FIRST

Should you buy your new home or sell your present one first?

This situation arises consistently when families move up into a larger home in the same general area. In this case, it makes sense to sell the present home first.

The secret, however, is to sell the house under the conditions that the papers will pass and title will be conveyed in, say, 90 or 120 days. This way, you avoid the possibility of owning two homes at the same time.

True, it puts you in a position of being forced to buy another home, but this was your original intention anyway. With a concerted effort, one should be able to buy the right property in the 90 or 120 days allotted.

Also, you avoid the possibility of panic-selling your original home [a good way to lose money], plus you'll know exactly how much money will be available for a down payment on the new house.

Thinking of selling your home? It makes sense to list it with PRESIDENT REAL ESTATE, 356 Hancock St., Phone: 328-8345.

Through our nationwide network of ERA Realtors, we can help you relocate anywhere in the country.

Also, we have available a one year warranty on all plumbing, heating, mechanical, electrical systems and built-in appliances on homes that we sell.

Quincy City Club To Begin 4th Season Sept. 25

The Quincy City Club will begin its fourth season of activity Sunday, Sept. 25, in the Quincy Room of Walsh's Restaurant, 9 Billings Rd., Norfolk Downs, with a breakfast at 10 a.m.

President Richard J. Koch will announce the fall and holiday program.

Koch said the City Club will again conduct a series of charitable endeavors during the Christmas season, providing gifts and enjoyment to those confined to hospitals year 'round.

Last year, the City Club provided three colored TV sets to Long Island Hospital and gifts, clothing and bedding to several other hospitals and homes. The total project was valued at $2,000 with all funds provided by the personal donations of City Club members.

Donald E. Conboy and Paul

Lee will again be co-chairmen of the club fund-raising endeavor with Dr. Allan Yacubian as chairman of the gifts presentation committee.

The third annual dinner dance of the City Club will be held Saturday, Oct. 15 at the George F. Bryan VFW Post Hall on Broad Street. The social hour will begin at 6:30 p.m. with dinner served at 7:30 p.m. Reservations may be made by contacting club secretary Joseph M. Lydon or Richard M. Morrissey, co-chairmen.

Michael C. Regan, chairman of the annual three-mile road race said the event has been postponed until the spring and the New England Amateur Athletic Union has agreed to sponsor the event on May 14 with all proceeds going to the Greater Boston Chapter of the Leukemia Society of America.

James B. Moody and Thomas R. Burke are co-chairmen of the Sept. 25 breakfast program.

Michael Donovan Now Senior Airman

Airman Michael P. Donovan, son of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Donovan of 26 Winthrop St., Houghs Neck, is a carpentry specialist at Altus AFB, Okla., and serves with a unit of the Military Airlift Command.

A 1974 graduate of Quincy High School, he has achieved the rank of Senior Airman. His wife, Karen, is the daughter of Mrs. Barbara Naughton of 55 Holmes Ave., Weymouth.

Neil Johnson Completes Naval Training

Navy Seaman Neil F. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Neil Johnson of 12 Winthrop Park, Quincy Point, has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

Included in his studies were seamanship, close-order drill,

Naval history and first aid.

He is a 1972 graduate of Quincy High School.

MDC Plans Rest Area At Old Kimberly's Site

The MDC has amended its plans and approved a public rest and first aid facility on the site of the former Kimberly's Restaurant on Quincy Shore Drive.

The vote ended a four-year effort by Sen. Arthur H. Tobin (D-Quincy) to convince the MDC to change its plans which called for restroom facilities on Wollaston Beach.

Joining Tobin in opposition to such a move were Reps. Michael Morrissey and Thomas Brownell (D-Quincy).

The new plan substitutes a facility on the Kimberly's site, including restrooms, a "police presence" room, where beat officers will have access to office facilities, and first aid equipment.

A turnaround area is expected to be built for use by emergency vehicles, and landscaping is scheduled.

"I am delighted that the MDC has considered the best service to the citizens of Quincy and bathers in the beach area in undertaking this approach," Sen. Tobin said.

"We have had a long series of discussions and proposals with regard to this facility, and I believe this is the best alternative."

The new facility will replace the temporary trailer now at the Kimberly's site.

Morrissey Praises MDC For Work At QSD-E. Squantum St.

Rep. Michael W. Morrissey (D-Quincy) has praised the MDC for the work it performed at the intersection of Quincy Shore Drive and East Squantum St.

Morrissey said his office has been working with MDC planners and traffic engineers to up-grade the southbound section of Quincy Shore Drive. Quincy Shore Drive narrows from three lanes to two lanes when it crosses East Squantum St.

Morrissey said the intersection presented a serious traffic hazard which often resulted in a motorist being cut off by a car traveling in the out side lane.

"The MDC traffic engineers re-lined the entire approach to the intersection," said Morrissey.

The intersection now has four lanes clearly marked with painted arrows. The left hand lane is for left turn only, the right hand lane is just for vehicles turning right and the two middle lanes are for through traffic.

"The MDC will post signs and then start to strictly enforce the traffic flow at the intersection," said Morrissey. "The MDC should be commended for the corrections and work they have performed at the intersection."

Morrissey, in a letter to MDC Commissioner Snedeker, also praised the recent repairs to the playground equipment at Caddy Park.

"The maintenance people put a new wooden railing in the tower and replaced the split rung on the stair of the slide at the Park," he said. "Now area residents can safely use the equipment."

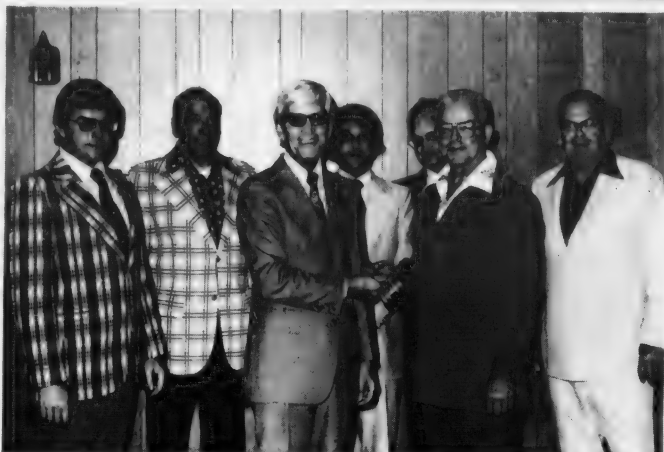

William Hoey On Mediterranean Deployment

Navy Intelligence Specialist Third Class William P. Hoey, son of Alice J. Hoey of 9 Woodbine St., Wollaston, is on an extended deployment in the Mediterranean Sea.

He is serving as a crewmember aboard the aircraft carrier USS Independence, homeported in Norfolk, Va. His ship is operating as a unit of the U.S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

He and his shipmates visited Naples, Italy during a recent port call and toured the Italian cities of Rome, Florence and Pisa. During the remainder of the cruise, his ship is scheduled to participate in training exercises with other Sixth Fleet units and visit several other Mediterranean coastal cities.

Registration This Week At YMCA For All Courses, Classes

Registration Week for all courses and classes will continue at the Quincy YMCA through Friday, Sept. 16, from 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Saturday, Sept. 17, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Purpose of registration is to give members the opportunity to register for the Fall-Winter programs. Prospective members will have an opportunity to tour the facility and inquire about what the YMCA offers. Professional staff members will show women the year-old Women's Fitness Salon with exercise room sauna and whirlpool.

Trained consultants who program members in the areas of body toning and conditioning will also be on hand.

Tours for men will include lockerroom facilities just recently renovated. The Business Men's area includes: sauna, steam, exercise room with universal and private kit lockers.

All full privileged memberships for men and women are entitled to regularly scheduled gym classes. They include: For women - tennis, slimmastics, coed volleyball, and racketball instruction. For men there is basketball, handball, racketball, coed volleyball, tennis, physical fitness, and weightlifting. There are also weekly swimming lessons, recreational swims, lifesaving and scuba classes.

Special Interest Instructional courses all requiring pre-registration are: Tennis, scuba, lifesaving, judo, dance classes, which include - ballroom dancing, belly, disco, ballet, tap and jazz, yoga, golf, guitar, aerobic dancing and painting.

Additional programs and facilities will be offered upon completion of the Y's new physical wing which will include: Three four-wall handballracketball courts, a banked, wooden indoor running track, a fully equipped weightlifting room, and exercise area. Facility is scheduled to be completed before January.

A full range of Youth Programs are also offered for those ages seven to seventeen. Programs include: Weekly gym and recreational swim classes, swim instructions, tumbling, gymnastics, judo, karate, arts & crafts, guitar, painting, archery, diving, lifesaving, water polo (boys), woodworking, dramatics, and youth room activities. A few of the youth room activities include: Pool, bumper pool, ping-pong, air hockey and games. A competitive swim team for those who try out is also available.

Pre-registration is required for all swim instruction classes and special interest courses. Testing for new members and those who have not been placed in a swim instruction class will be held today (Thursday) from 4 to 5:30 p.m., and Saturday, Sept. 17, from 10 to 11 a.m. Fifty classes are scheduled throughout the week of various swim levels to serve our youth members.

The Quincy Y also offers a full program for youngsters ages three to six in the Young Tots Program. Children are given instruction in water adjustment, water safety, kicking, swim strokes and water games. Instructor-child ratio is five instructors to 1 child. Gym classes include instruction in tumbling and movement education to develop coordination. Classes offered require pre-registration and enrollment is limited.

Co-ed adult courses - Aerobic dancing, Y's Way to a Healthy Back, tennis, judo, racketball, scuba, yoga, ballroom dancing,

ENC's Choral Union Begins New Season

The Choral Union of Eastern Nazarene College under the direction of Robert Howard, chairman of the Music Department, has started its new season.

The Choral Union meets each Monday from 7-8:30 p.m. and performs such musical works as Handel's Messiah, Brahms' Requiem, Mendelssohn's Elijah and similar large choral compositions.

Handel's Messiah will be presented Dec. 4-5 with assistance from members of the Quincy Symphony Orchestra. Interested persons may call Robert Howard at 773-6350, ext. 201 or 471-7970.

Howard and the music faculty at ENC are hopeful Quincy and South Shore residents will take advantage of the opportunity to sing some of the world's finest choral masterpieces.

Pet Portrait Photography Exhibit At Main Library

An exhibition of pet portrait photography by Paul Stankus of Randolph is being shown at the Main Hall Gallery of the Thomas Crane Public Library.

The show includes dogs, cats, and other pets, and work done for the South Shore Humane Society.

Stankus studied photography at the Franklin Institute in Boston, and was an avid amateur photographer for 10 years before establishing a studio specializing in pets and nature photography. He has photographed pets throughout the Northeast, with subjects ranging from International Grand Champion dogs and cats to the common mongrel.

Stankus is at present researching and compiling material for a book on rare breed dogs of the world. Nature photography is an integral part of his family life which includes mountain climbing, hiking, camping, sailing and skiing.

The exhibition will run through Sept. 30.

Lucky 5 Associates Reach $325 Mark For Muscular Dystrophy

Richard J. Koch, organizer of the Lucky Five Associates, a group seeking to raise $500 for Muscular Dystrophy by individual donations of $5 each, has announced that $325 has been received to date.

Those wishing to participate may contact Koch and a wallet size membership card will be issued to each donor.

Members of the Associates include Joseph E. Burke, Joseph F. Brophy, Gerard A. Coletta Jr., George A. McCall, Joseph N. Gilda, James W. Gillespie, William M. Hancock, Daniel C. O'Leary, John P. Cormican Jr.,

Joseph M. Lydon, Bernice C. Lydon, Kenneth Baldassari, Thomas P. Koch, James P. Mulroy, Anna C. Keaney, Debra A. Koch and David J. Donaghue.

The original deadline for gifts was Sept. 5 on the Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon. However, the date has been extended to Oct. 5 in an attempt to achieve the goal of $500.

Those persons who planned to donate to muscular dystrophy but were unable to do so can still make a personal donation through Koch or Henry Bosworth of The Quincy Sun, 1372 Hancock St., Quincy.

In-Home Service For Seniors To Start Sept. 26

The Council on Aging is instituting a service to seniors in their own homes at the request of Mayor LaRaia.

The service will answer many needs for older residents. The house-to-house survey now underway is bringing to light many needs. The greatest demand comes in the house worker or chore service department.

The CETA program is offering help to provide the services and the Council on Aging Outreach Program will handle the detail work.

The program is scheduled to start Sept. 26. Transportation and supervision will be supplied by the Council on Aging. Calls may be made to 773-1380.

Robert Tweedy, director of Council on Aging said he believes the service will be most helpful in keeping the infirm and partially disabled from becoming a nursing home patient, and will let the elderly live in cleanliness.

Blood Pressure Clinic To Resume

The Health Department's blood pressure screening clinics, which have been held at the JFK Health Center each Tuesday since May 31, will be omitted for the next two months to make way for the upcoming flu clinics.

Health Commissioner Dr. Samuel Solomon said they will be resumed on Tuesday, Nov. 8.

A total of 947 patients were screened between May 31 and Aug. 22, said Dr. Solomon, and 244 were referred to a physician for evaluation, some for immediate referral.

"We have been able to detect hidden hypertensives as young as 18 years old," he said, "and many in the 40 to 50 age group who were unaware that they suffered from high blood pressure.

"We have also been carrying on an educational program regarding the risk factors leading to heart attack and stroke and encouraging patients to return to their physicians for proper advice to control hypertension and earn a longer life."

Collins Says Public Wants 'Strong' Office Holders

At a Candidates' Night sponsored by the Atlantic Neighborhood Association, School Committee candidate Mary Collins said residents in Quincy are expressing frustration with city government.

They are, she said, calling on elected officials, including School Committee members, to be stronger in the exercise of their office.

"In today's world, concern for budgets and costs is paramount," she said, "and while I believe in fiscal autonomy for School Committees, I feel that its members need to be strong to handle this responsibility wisely."

"When voters tell me that they feel as if nothing can really be done to change things, I feel that they are telling me to be a strong School Committee member, and to be visible and vocal."

Mrs. Collins said she believes things can be changed for the better when elected officials conduct themselves according to the mandate given them by the voters.

your

FULL TIME MAYOR

- Today in Quincy a person is lucky to have one steady job!
- Yet - some politicians seem to think it's alright to hold 2 or 3 jobs!
- Look at the Quincy Mayors race.

3 Candidates are practicing lawyers

1 Candidate is not only a lawyer but a State Senator and a City Council President as well

- No man can properly execute the business of Mayor full time while serving the people of Braintree, Holbrook and Quincy as a full time State Senator and continue to practice law in his own firm

Don't Be Fooled By Slick Talk - Read The Facts

FACT In 1972 the Quincy City Council passed an order increasing the mayors salary from $10,000 to $25,000 as well as their own salaries from $1,500 to $3,000. [Council Order Number 380, July 24, 1972, Senator-Council President Tobin presiding, because the job of mayor was considered full time

FACT The Quincy Sun endorsed the mayoral pay increase as well as the concept of a full time mayor in an editorial on July 6, 1972

FACT The Quincy Citizens Association publicly applauded Mayor Hannon when he gave up his State Rep. seat because Quincy required a full time mayor

FACT But ... the same Senator-Council President-Lawyer who voted for a full time mayors salary in 1972, now wants to be a part time mayor, a part time senator and a lawyer.

LOOK AT WHAT HE WANTS

The Campaign Trail. . .

High Cost Of Government Most Important Issue, Says McCauley

Francis X. McCauley, candidate for City Councillor-at-large, says the most important issue in this year's city election is the high cost of government which is mainly borne by the average taxpayer and rent payer.

McCauley, speaking at a candidates' night sponsored by the Atlantic Neighborhood Association, noted that during his 15 years service as a city councillor, housing authority member and school committee member, he has consistently opposed spending programs not in the best interest of the public at large.

McCauley cited his opposition, while a member of the city council, to the granting of long-term tax concessions to out-of-town high-rise developers, and his lone vote in opposition to a refuse disposal plan which gave the contractor valuable land in Quincy on Quarry St. for $1. This land was later sold to high-rise developers for one and one-half million dollars.

Conroy Stresses Opposition To Apartment Complex

Patrick J. Conroy, a candidate for the Ward 6 seat on the City Council, has reiterated his opposition to the proposed 3,000-unit Marina Landing apartment complex in Squantum.

"The additional traffic created would have a tremendous impact on the entire area, not just Squantum," he told a gathering at the home of Alice and Fran Warner, 94 Sharon Rd, Atlantic.

"The complex is sure to create a great demand on city services, such as schools, fire, police, water and sewerage."

"Fortunately," he added, "the complex must be approved by the City Council before it can become a reality."

Conroy also outlined his plans to combat vandalism and pledged that he would fight to garage an ambulance in the Squantum-North Quincy area.

Later, at a candidate's night at the Atlantic Methodist Church, Conroy urged residents to question the at-large candidates on their positions regarding the proposed Marina Landing complex since four votes are needed on the Council to defeat it.

He also suggested amending a city ordinance forbidding political signs in residential areas to permit them to be erected nine days before election.

"If the law is not in the best interest of the citizens then it can be changed but it should not be ignored," he said.

Lydon Proposes Rezoning Near State Street South

The arena that the Boston Celtics proposed to build in Montclair apparently has been dead for months -- but City Councillor John J. Lydon Jr. wants to make sure.

A public hearing was held Tuesday night on Lydon's proposal to rezone the area near State Street South as a Planned Unit Development (PUD), which would require a majority vote of the City Council before it could be developed.

"The arena complex was defeated," said Lydon, "but future development of this area will be proposed. We have to maintain control of any development within this site."

'New Look' North At Old Rival Milton

By TOM SULLIVAN

North Quincy's "new look" football team opens its season Saturday against old non-league rival Milton at Milton High Field at 1:30 p.m.

Coach Dave Burke lost most of his offensive and defensive starters from last year's 7-2 team and a lot of new faces will be appearing for the Raiders.

"We have an awful lot of holes to fill but many of our players, although lacking varsity experience, played a lot of junior varsity ball and they have been coming along well," Burke said.

"We scrimmaged a good Catholic Memorial team and I was satisfied with our performance. We moved the ball fairly well and the defense was strong."

Burke will open with an offensive line of Tom Quinn (170), or Dan McIntyre (160), and Mike Gallagher (185), ends; Paul Ahern (195), and Brian McGilvray (180), tackles; Dave Cramond (170), and Russ Chisholm (175), guards and Pat McKenna (195) or Ed Boudreau (195), center.

In the backfield will be Kurt O'Sullivan (185) at quarterback; Colin McEachern (170), and John Wilkinson (170), halfbacks, and Greg Zoia (175), fullback, who probably will do the punting, and Kevin Cobban should be able to do the job at quarterback. Wilkinson was a regular back over the last half of last season and did some excellent running and McEachern and Zoia saw some varsity service and displayed great ball carrying potential.

Also certain to see action on offense are Cobban at quarterback, Jim Holleran and John Connolly at halfback, Ed Evanson at guard and Jim Mackiewicz at end.

Defensive ends will be Evanson (175); Jim Carrol (175) and Fred McLaughlin (180); Jim Marinelli (220), and Mike Larson (220), will play at defensive tackle; Jim Hanrahan (195) expected to have an outstanding season; Mark Robinson (190), and Kevin O'Connell (175) will back up the line; Brian Balzarini (160), Bruce Wilson (150), and McIntyre will be the secondary; Tom McAleney (170) and Harry Donoghue will be at defensive halfback and Kevin Greene (200) will be the safety.

Also due to see action on defense are Bob Schaezel, Brian Hewitt and McGilvray.

Greene is being groomed to fill the shoes of Ed McElaney, the Raiders' brilliant place kicker who graduated.

North easily defeated Milton, coached by former North assistant coach Jack Bowes, 29-6, a year ago but the Whiz Kids have a number of veterans and Saturday's game could be much closer.

North is in the Suburban League, Milton in the Bay State League.

New Sport

Quincy, North Girls Soccer Teams Open Sept. 23

A new sport, girls' soccer, will be introduced at Quincy and North Quincy High this fall with the opening games scheduled for Friday, Sept. 23.

Quincy will be host to Brookline and North will visit Newton for Suburban League games.

Firls' soccer replaced field hockey in the two schools and there appears to be a lot of interest among the girls.

Field hockey was dropped after three years due to a decline in interest. The coaches, Brian Tilley of North and Gretha Ruark of Quincy, put much of the blame on the absence of a field hockey program in the junior high schools.

It will be interesting to see how girls' soccer fares, as there also is no junior high program for this sport.

Ron Martin, who coached the Quincy boys to several successful seasons before resigning two years ago, will coach the First Ladies, while Jim Piccini will be the first coach at North Quincy.

"I am looking forward to coaching the girls," Martin said. "I think soccer is a good sport for the girls and I had a lot of them come to me and ask about the possibility of having the sport."

The Quincy Junior High School girls' basketball teams are preparing for the opening of their season on Oct. 4.

The Broad Meadows girls, who had won the junior varsity title the previous two years, won the varsity crown last fall, ending Central's two-year championship reign.

BM has a new coach this year. Peter Swanson, who succeeded Corrine Mitchell, who had coached since the sport was inaugurated four years ago.

The other coaches are Janet Kirby, Atlantic-North; Barbara Donekin, Central; Kathy Bertrand, Point, and Dave Meehan, Sterling.

In the opening games on Oct. 4, Atlantic-North will be at Sterling and Broad Meadows at Point.

Harvey's To Install New Officers

Harvey's Salt Water Fishing Club will install new officers at its annual dinner-dance Saturday, Sept. 24, at the Quincy Yacht Club. Cocktails from 6:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. will be followed by dinner.

The new officers include: John Allsen, president; Kenneth Ryan, vice president; Joseph McCarthy, secretary; and Herbert Morgan, treasurer. Past President Frank Locke will be master of ceremonies.

Players On Columbus Team

Third-year coach Bob Hennessy likes the "darkhorse" tag pinned on his 1977 Christopher Columbus High football team, which again includes several players from Quincy and North Quincy.

The Friars open their season Sunday at 1:30 against St. Mary's of Cambridge in a Catholic Suburban League game at Russell Field in Cambridge.

Inexperience in spots plus lack of depth could hurt the team which finished 8-1-1 a year ago. Columbus graduated 19 seniors including All-Catholic quarterback John McCauley.

Anthony Gambale, Bob O'Brien, Harry Ohmsted and Ken Gerbick are the Columbus captains.

Strong Nucleus Of Veterans

Presidents Take Experience To Dedham

The Quincy football team, with a fine nucleus of veterans both offensively and defensively and with high hopes of improving upon last year's 4-6 record, opens its season Saturday with a 1:30 p.m. non-league game at Dedham.

"We have good experience both ways and we have come along well in practice," Coach Hank Conroy said. "The boys reported in excellent condition which helped tremendously. We scrimmaged Everett, Boston Tech and Arlington and I was pleased with our performances. "We should be strong on defense and we have moved the ball well in practice."

When the Presidents take the field Saturday the starting offensive line will have Rich Coose (175) and Ron Donovan (160), ends; Dave Eastwick (195) and Mike Duggan (195), tackles; Kevin Zambruno (180) and Pete Cassidy (195), guards; and Kevin Boudreau (180), center.

In the backfield will be John Houten (160), quarterback; Mark Giordani (180) and Ralph Pickering (190), halfbacks; and Len Picot (195), fullback.

Others playing on offense will be Don Heath and Glen Lydon, ends; Jack Donovan and Paul DiGrassi, tackles; Todd Caffisch and Ron Ricciarelli, guards; Mark Assad, center; Jim Maze, quarterback; Tom Dedian and Rick Gilbody, halfbacks; and Vin Harte, fullback. Giordani and Dedian have been sidelined with injuries but are expected to be ready.

Starting on defense will be Picot and Tom Conine (190), ends; Eastwick and DiGrassi, tackles; Harte (210), nose guard; Pickering and Coose, linebackers; Gilbody (150) and Heath (165), halfbacks; and Maze (150) and Ron Donovan, safeties.

Rich Burns, Caffisch and Steve Venturilli are others who will see action on defense.

Last season Quincy dropped a 7-6 squeaker to Dedham's Bay State League entry, despite one of its best defensive efforts of the year and Conroy is hopeful that result will be turned around Saturday.

"In addition to the good number of varsity returnees, several of the players were starters with the junior varsity and sophomore teams a year ago and I think they are ready for the varsity. I hope our experience will pay off," Conroy said.

The Presidents will play their first home game on the 24th against Weymouth South in another non-leaguer at 1:30 at Veterans Memorial Stadium.

Opens Sports Season

Olympic Day Sept. 24

Carl Leone, coordinator of athletics for the Quincy Schools, announces that the third annual Olympic Day to inaugurate the fall sports season will be held Saturday, Sept. 24.

All youngsters participating in fall sports in the Quincy Public Schools will take part in ceremonies commencing at 9 a.m. at Veterans Memorial Stadium.

Mayor Joseph J. LaRaia, School Committee vice chairman John J. Sullivan, and School Supt. Dr. Lawrence P. Creedon, will officially open the fall sports season.

On that day, North Quincy's football team will face Taunton at 10:30 and Quincy will host Weymouth South at 1:30, both games at the stadium.

Admission to all to the stadium will be free. Also, the Quincy Public Schools will provide transportation to all desiring it. Buses will be stationed at each junior and senior high school prior to each game. Anyone needing transportation is asked to appear at one of the schools and he will be transported to and from the games.

The Randolph Oilers, with several Quincy and North Quincy players in their lineup, moved into a first place tie with the Hyde Park Cowboys in the Eastern Football League after defeating the strong Marlboro Shamrocks, 27-6, last Saturday in Marlboro.

The Shamrocks had been tied with Randolph with 5-1 records going into the game.

Randolph moved into the top tie when the defending champion Middleboro Cobras handed the Cowboys their first loss, 18-6. Hyde Park had won 26 games in a row including their last 20 in the Boston Park League, of which they were champions the past two years.

Randolph and Hyde Park are 6-1 in the league and Marlboro dropped to 5-2 as the teams completed the first half of the schedule.

The Oilers will journey to Rhode Island Friday night for an 8 o'clock game with the Rhode Island Kings. The game will be played at McCoy Stadium, home of the Red Sox Pawtucket farm team.

While Randolph's offense, tops in the league, was clicking against the league's best defense, the Oilers' defense was at its best. With Quincy's Ed Sylva excellent again in the defensive line and North Quincy's Ed McElaney sparking the secondary, Randolph bottled up Tom Fair, the EFL's number one quarterback, Fair was sacked several times, with Sylva leading the rush.

Lindy Hess, the top running back in the league, scored twice for Randolph, going over from the five and the four, Fran Duggan passed to Larry Dunn for a 35-yard scoring play and Bill Korske passed to Jay Mahoney for a 33-yard TD pass for Randolph's scoring. Mike Smith Kicked three extra points. Marlboro's only score came on a 40-yard pass from Fair to Jay Tortura.

St. John's Basketball

Registration Starts Saturday

Boys and girls basketball registration will take place in St. John's Rectory Hall Sundays, Sept. 18 and 25, from 10 to 12 noon.

Boys and girls, ages 8 to 13 must register, accompanied by a parent. Registration fee is $3. The players will represent St. John's Parish in the South Shore Church Sunday School League conducted by the Quincy YMCA.

On the same dates boys and girls 14 and under 19 years of age as of Jan. 1, 1978 may register for the CYO Leagues. Registration fee is $5.

Coaches, assistant coaches, referees, score keepers, time keepers, etc., are needed for both boys and girls leagues at the Y and CYO. Anyone who can help, is asked to contact Fr. Joseph Connolly (773-1021) or Joe Shea (471-2343).

Bowling Little Loop Opens Season Oct. 8

The Quincy Bowling Little Loop will open its 24th season Saturday, Oct. 8, at 8:30 a.m. at the Wollaston Boulevard Bowladrome.

All boys, 11 years of age through 15, are asked to register by mail with League President Joseph N. Gildea, 45 Division St., North Quincy 02171. Applications must include full name, address, telephone number, age and date of birth.

Youngsters who have religious classes on Saturday mornings and other important activities are asked not to register.

League Officers are President Gildea, Treasurer Stanley Kovalski and Directors James Vey, John Mullaney, Stanley Kovalski Jr., David Brodie, Webster Ellis, Richard Post and Richard Morrissey.

Gildea announced that Treasurer Kovalski is recovering from a serious heart condition at Quincy City Hospital and would appreciate hearing from boys in the league.

Jesse Owens Guest At Saturday Road Race

Former Olympic great Jesse Owens will be the guest of honor Saturday when the Braintree Hospital holds its first 10 kilometer road race Saturday.

Reporting time for the NEAAU-sanctioned race is 8:30 a.m. and runners will answer a 9:30 starting gun and will cross the finish line at Braintree High School. Showers are available to all runners.

Following the race Owens will award prizes and trophies to classes of Open Masters and Females under 19, while spectators and participants enjoy coffee and refreshments.

A runners' clinic will be held at 1:30 at the high school with medical and sports professionals speaking and showing slides on various aspects of running, injury prevention and staying in shape.

Entry fee is $2 and the race is open to all age groups.

Further information can be obtained by calling Alexander MacLeod at 848-5353, extension 102.

HN Hockey Registration Deadline Friday

Houghs Neck Hockey League registration for boys 11 through 17 years of age is being held through Friday.

Those registering are asked to contact Hank Dondero, 29 Macey St., 479-7507, or Dave MacMillan, 17 Bell St., 471-2322. Registration fee is $1.

Tryouts will be held Sunday from 4 to 6 p.m. at Boston Harbor Marina Skating Club in Squantum.

Condon Would Keep Residents Informed On New Development

Speaking at a coffee hour at the home of Mary Travers, 90 Colby Rd, North Quincy, Mrs. Joanne Condon, candidate for the Ward 6 council seat, was asked why she had decided to run for public office.

"I have seen a lot of positive things happen in this part of the city," she replied. "Much has been accomplished, especially in the area of neighborhood services. As a private citizen, I have been able to bring together city officials and residents to solve local problems.

"I feel that, as a city councillor, I would have access to more information and have a better opportunity to work for all the residents of Ward 6."

When questioned on plans for development in the area, Mrs. Condon said that it was crucial that concerned residents get in on the planning stages of any new development.

"As your Ward 6 Councillor, I will work hard to see that any plans for new developments be brought to you, the residents, at the very beginning of the planning stages," she said. "Thus, we can work positively to see our community remain the kind of place in which we choose to live."

Faherty Puts Accent On 'Will To Serve'

His "will to serve" was stressed Sunday night by Michael E. Faherty, candidate for Councillor at-Large at a Candidates' Night sponsored by the Atlantic Neighborhood Association.

Faherty described his administrative experience, including his present position as Corporate Security Director for the multi-billion dollar State Street Boston Holding Company, and his past experiences as Chief of Security for Jordan Marsh's Squantum warehouse, and as State Police Captain in command of the uniformed contingent of the Massachusetts Turnpike.

But said Faherty: "My single most important qualification is my will to serve. The will to serve the city where I was born and raised and where my wife and I raised our family. The will to serve this city which is faced with so many tremendous possibilities and on the other hand...great potential problems. The will to serve a cross-section of people with the same aspirations as my own."

"Not a desire for another title or a weekly line or two in the local newspaper. Not the opportunity for putting a relative on the city payroll or attracting a client. Not the chance to hear the applause or feel the importance of public office....but the opportunity to serve a community that cries out for a unifying force.

"The will to serve a community at odds with itself, because the petty bickering of its leaders has so clouded and distorted the issues that we've lost sight of our sameness of purpose. The will to serve the weakest voice looking for snow removal as well as the loudest looking for a tax abatement."

"I guess those four words aren't what you'd call heavy qualifications. But then they're not meant to be. They merely represent the truth. And in any age....and especially today....I think that's important."

Miller Critizes Delay In Seniors Hot Lunch Funding

Seniors at Oceanview recently participated in an evening of music sponsored by the Committee to Elect James Miller Ward 1 City Councillor.

"The Friendly Band from Dorchester", a group of travelling seniors provided the entertainment.

In speaking to the seniors, Miller expressed his concern about politicians in the city saying, "How can I raise my children in this city, and yet sit back and watch political ambition create deterioration of the peoples' trust?"

Miller remarked that last year the city had a chance to participate in a federally funded hot lunch program for seniors which would have provided Quincy with two lunch sites at a city cost of $7,700. He said needlessly delaying the decision on whether or not to join, the city spent $16,000 operating one lunch site. This is twice as much money for only half as many services, he said.

Beniers Calls For Halt To Raw Sewage Dumping

Robert K. Beniers, a candidate for the Ward 2 seat on the City Council, has called for a halt to the dumping of raw sewage from boats near swimming areas "before serious health damage occurs."

"It makes no sense for us in Quincy to have beautiful swimming areas, like Avalon and Mound Street Beaches, and allow raw pollution to stop people from using them," he told a gathering at the Morris home, 47 Washington St.

He said that if he is elected, one of his first priorities would be to work with the appropriate city officials to have "this dangerous practice by careless boat owners stopped."

At another gathering he scored the lack of a regular evening police patrol at Bradford Park and the Elm St. Playground.

"We must reinstitute regular nightly patrols in these parks to curtail youths drinking, and stop vandalism," he said at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Jell, 94 South St., "so we can return these areas to the residents as safe and clean playgrounds."

Beniers promised a coffee hour at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Crespi, 73 Ruggles St., that if elected he would be available at all times during his term in office.

He cited fencing at the Pollard School Tennis Court as an example of what can happen if the ward councillor is not available to constituents.

"Most of the residents in the area did not want that fencing," he said. "It was put up without any input from the local residents. This should never happen."

Beniers also has promised to look into the possibility of establishing a branch of the Thomas Crane Public Library in the Quincy Point area.

He spoke at a coffee hour in the home of Mary Ferris, 33 Lebanon St.

"In the past," he said, "the residents of Quincy Point always had a library and its services available to them and I think that the number of school age children in the ward necessitate more of a facility than the bookmobile that is now available."

SCORE THE MAYOR'S GAME.

When a ball player makes a mistake on the field, he can't hide it.

And when a mayor has been making one mistake after another he shouldn't be allowed to cover them up. Right now Mayor LaRaia is trying to make us forget what he's done in the last two years by giving us a lot of sugar coated programs and last minute promises. He thinks he can win this way.

But we think he's wrong. You won't be fooled by the ball-games of City Hall.

We think people will remember that while the City has been opened up to corruption, Arthur Tobin has been completely free of scandal during 12 years of public service.

We think people will remember that Arthur Tobin has actually brought new housing, new jobs and new business to Quincy, while Mayor LaRaia has just made extravagant promises.

We think people will remember that Arthur Tobin has done a good solid job for the young, the elderly and the taxpayers of Quincy, while Mayor LaRaia has mismanaged and squandered their money.

We think people will see through Mayor LaRaia's smoke-screen of promises and vote for Arthur Tobin for mayor.

And we think the game is just about over for Mayor LaRaia.

Presidential Co-Op Part of 100 Year Tradition in Banking

Co-operative Banks were founded in 1877 with the express goal of "accumulating the savings of its members... and the lending of funds so accumulated, to its members." Currently, Co-operative Banks invest over 90% of their deposits in home financing; more than any other banking group in the Commonwealth.

The reason for this record is the fact that the Co-operative Banks have pioneered the direct-reduction mortgage—a mortgage that permits the borrower to make monthly payments to principal and interest, monthly payments that remain the same over the term of the mortgage.

Your Co-operative Bank offers a wide range of savings plans to meet your needs. Savings accounts with no notice required to withdraw—to provide funds for current needs and emergencies; other accounts are available requiring a short withdrawal notice; and longer term plans with a guaranteed return—all earning top rates. Over one million people already save the Co-operative Way.

Each Co-operative Bank is operated by a highly qualified professional staff and is governed by a Board of Directors who are chosen by the depositors. They are invariably men of unimpeachable integrity and established business competence who devote long hours to the welfare of their banks—serving on committees and shouldering the responsibility for major decisions which control the bank's function as community financial intermediary.

Protects Deposits in Full Share Insurance Fund Model For Foreign Banks

1. What does it do?

It insures the deposits in every Massachusetts co-operative bank IN FULL, regardless of the size of any account. Every Massachusetts co-operative bank is and must be a member.

2. How and when was it created?

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts in March, 1934 enacted legislation to further protect the savings on deposit in all of its co-operative banks by creating the Share Insurance Fund of The Co-operative Central Bank.

3. What has it done?

From its inception it has preserved the enviable record of our co-operative banks that "no one has ever lost a dollar of savings in any Massachusetts co-operative bank." This was accomplished by receiving into the Share Insurance Fund those few banks then in difficulty, and either liquidating them (paying all deposits in full), or helping them to regain a sound condition.

No such such bank has needed assistance in recent years.

4. Who manages and directs it?

The law provides it shall be managed by a board of directors, elected by the co-operative banks from the officers and directors of the member banks. Each bank is entitled to one vote. Of the present board consisting of fifteen members, five are elected annually for three-year terms. The board appoints a managing officer who has the responsibility of operating the Share Insurance Fund in accordance with the laws, the by-laws, and the policies and direction of the board.

5. Does the Commonwealth of Massachusetts assume a continuing interest?

Yes. The statutes provide that the Commissioner of Banks shall have the same duties and powers in respect to The Co-operative Central Bank as he has in respect to Co-operative Banks and shall make an examination and audit at least once a year.

6. Does The Banking Department publish its statement annually?

Yes. In the annual printed report of the Commissioner of Banks, covering Co-operative Banks and Savings and Loan Associations, there are also included statistics of the Share Insurance Fund provided by him.

7. How does it compare with other existing state and federal funds, relating its dollars of assets to the dollars of deposits insured?

According to figures available as of August 31, 1974, the assets of the Share Insurance Fund in relation to its insured deposits exceeded all other existing funds of similar purpose which also had a compulsory membership requirement.

8. Is it increasing in size each year?

Yes. By payment of an annual premium, the assets of the Fund plus net earnings, have increased from approximately $2.5 million in 1942 to more than $66 million at the close of February 28, 1977. In addition to the Share Insurance Fund, there is also a liquidity, or reserve fund of over $38 million; lines of credit with commercial banks of $48 million; as well as reserves for losses in the banking system itself of well over $257 million.

9. How are these assets invested?

Primarily in relatively short-term obligations of the United States Government, federal agencies and cash.

Francis X. McCauley, President and Treasurer

McCauley Speaks of "People's Bank"

This is a co-operative bank...one of a system of independent and unique mutual thrift institutions which have been native to Massachusetts since 1877. Our function is personal service—service to people rather than commerce and industry. As a "people's bank" we provide safe profitable investment for their funds through regular savings, Paid-up share accounts, term deposits and N.O.W. accounts. We also finance the buying, building, repair or improvement of their homes and other real estate.

This simple, uncomplicated function provides high earnings for our savers and low cost financing for homeowners. Every dollar of our savers' deposits is insured in full under Massachusetts law.

On succeeding pages you will learn something of how we operate and co-operate, the services we perform and the unique advantages which accrue to both saver and borrower in "Your Most Co-Operative Bank."

Tobin Tops LaRaia By 4,805 Votes

By TOM HENSHAW

City Council President Arthur H. Tobin scored a stunning nearly 5,000-vote victory over Mayor Joseph J. LaRaia Tuesday in a face-to-face confrontation between the city's two bitter political rivals.

Tobin, the challenger for the Mayor's office, collected 56 per cent of the total vote in the six-man preliminary race to face LaRaia in the two-man final Nov. 8.

Tobin's vote was 12,216 and LaRaia's was 7,411 - about a 3-2 margin.

No candidate for mayor of Quincy has ever come from behind such a deficit in the preliminary election to win final victory.

"The vote shows that two jobs is no issue," said a happy Tobin, who was attacked in the LaRaia campaign for the prospect of being both Mayor of Quincy and a state senator at the same time.

"The real issue is corruption, credibility and accountability. I feel that the people have expressed confidence and trust in me and I will not let them down."

None of the other four candidates in the mayoral race figured in the final tally.

Attorney Thomas M. Barron, in his first attempt at public office, had 2,552 votes.

Leo J. Hannon had 525, George M. Tull 292 and Thomas P. McHugh, the mystery candidate who refused to campaign, had 123.

An unexpectedly high 46.6 per cent of the registered voters turned out at the polls in the midst of a northeast storm. City Clerk John Gillis had predicted a 30-35 per cent turnout.

In other races:

Councillor Paul D. Harold topped the field for re-election to an at-large seat on the City

Election Charts

Council with 12,681 votes. He was the top vote getter on the ballot.

Joseph E. Brett, 70, attempting a comeback after losing his longtime post in the state legislature in 1976, came in second with 8,234.

School Committeeman Francis X. McCauley was third with 7,591.

The three other qualifiers for spots on the Nov. 8 ballot were Councillor John J. Quinn, 7,242; Dennis E. Harrington, now Ward 6 councillor, 5,480; and retired State Police Capt. Michael E. Faherty, 5,156.

Eliminated were Carl A. Awed Jr., with 4,308, and Sabina Kavanagh Stenberg with 3,624.

Joanne Condon and Walter J. Hickey were runaway winners in the preliminary scramble to succeed Harrington in the Ward 6 Council seat.

Condon led with 1,376 and Hickey, who barely lost to Harrington in 1975 in a recount, had 1,066. They meet in the final.

Eliminated were Michael J. Kelly, 699; Patrick J. Conroy, 443; and Harold J. Gallagher, 148.

Councillor Leo J. Kelly swept to an easy victory in the Ward 1 race but a recount looms to see who will face him in the final.

Kelly had 2,298 votes.

David J. Crowley Jr., son of a former city councillor, had 887 and James F. Miller Jr., a leader of the Harborview Tenants Association, had 831, a difference of only 56 votes.

Councillor Daniel G. Raymondi almost doubled the vote of his chief challenger, Robert K. Beniers, in the contest for the Ward 2 seat.

Raymondi, a leading critic of the Mayor, had 2,537 votes to 1,390 for Beniers, who was director of recreation in the LaRaia administration.

Patrick J. Faherty Jr., a perennial candidate, was a distant third with 378.

Councillor James A. Sheets rolled over four challengers in the race for Ward 4 councillor, enmassing 2,567 votes.

Albert R. Barilaro, whom Sheets ousted for the post in the 1973 election, had 688 to earn the second spot on the November ballot. Helen M. McDonnell had 233 and Joseph P. McDonough 116.

There were no preliminary contests for School Committee or for the City Council seats in Wards 3 and 5.

Tobin captured every ward en route to his victory over LaRaia.

He took Ward 2, a LaRaia stronghold, by a 2,022 to 1,918 margin. He squeezed by, 1,674 to 1,635, in Ward 4, LaRaia's home ward which was also expected to go to him.

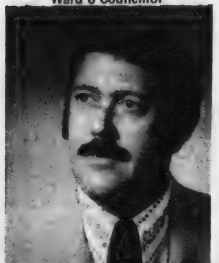

Tobin's margins in Wards 1, 5 and 6 were better than 2 to 1.

Taxpayers Association Encouraged By ENC Re-location Postponement

The Quincy Taxpayers Association says it is encouraged by the decision of Eastern Nazarene College to postpone plans to relocate the Wollaston campus to a new site in Pennsylvania.

QTA President Peter F. O'Connell said in a statement that "the city should move diligently to satisfy Eastern Nazarene College's needs to assure their staying in Quincy."

"In addition to providing cultural and moral benefits to the city of Quincy, it is a significant contributor to the economy of the area," he said. "Relocation would leave a void in the Wollaston area."

CETA To Receive $565,000 For Youth Employment, Training Programs

Quincy CETA will receive $565,000 for youth employment and training programs over the next year, according to planning estimates announced by Mayor LaRaia.

The federal funds will be coming under the Youth Employment and Training Program [YETP], one of four new programs created under an act signed by President Carter Aug. 5.

The Quincy CETA area includes Quincy and 10 South Shore towns.

The program will provide young people, ages 14-21, especially, low income youths with employment handicaps, with a variety of work and training opportunities designed to enhance their career prospects.

Quincy CETA will solicit later this month, proposals from local agencies, including government and non-profit organizations, capable of sponsoring youth training or work experience projects.

The young people are expected to be able to apply for the new programs in December with the projects starting in the winter and continuing through next fall.

Special consideration will be given to out-of-school and low income youth, particularly those with severe difficulties in obtaining jobs.

Quincy CETA also is eligible to submit proposals in competition with 16 other CETA groups for some $1.6 million under the Youth Community Conservation and Improvement Projects [YCCIP].

This will provide unemployed youth, ages 16-19, with constructive work experience and on-the-job training in public service jobs created by funding projects which produce community impact.

Quincy CETA will solicit later this month proposals from local agencies capable of sponsoring community improvement work projects.

NQHS Construction Progress Reports Accent Detail

A month ago, City Council President Arthur H. Tobin asked for a weekly report of progress in construction of the addition and renovation of North Quincy High School.

He has been getting it in excruciating detail.

Each Thursday morning at 10 a.m., all those involved in the construction hold a project meeting in the on-site trailer headquarters of Kent Corp., the construction management firm. It's open to the public.

Minutes of the meeting are sent to the Mayor, the city clerk, all members of the City Council, the School Department, the media and, says Public Works

Commissioner Paul Anderson, "anyone else who wants them."

Subscribers can learn from the minutes of the Sept. 8 meeting that:

"Sheathing substantially complete on level 02, 03, 04. Lathing in progress on level 02, 03, 04. Scratch coat to begin tomorrow, 9/8/77. Activity is proceeding on time per revised schedule. Sample applications of the scratch and brown coats are on sample panel."

"We intend to set up tours of the site for anyone who is interested in looking it over," said Anderson, who was stung by some of Tobin's past assertions of delays. "We want to put tours on a regular schedule so they won't interrupt the work."

Meanwhile, Anderson gave this general assessment of the work, which is scheduled by contract to be completed so that students at North can be in the new section of the building in September, 1978.

"The work is still behind, but not as far as people think. The addition will be enclosed by mid-November to permit inside work to proceed during the cold weather. The contractor (Blount Brothers) wants a contract extension and perhaps it is a legitimate request but we are holding to the contract."

City Council Opposes Moving Post Offices To Braintree Facility

If the U.S. Postal Service thinks it's going to move the Quincy, North Quincy and Wollaston Post Offices to Braintree, it has the Quincy City Council to contend with.

The Council, at the urging of the National Association of Letter Carriers, resolved Monday night to oppose the move and to notify the Quincy Congressional delegation of its opposition.

Councillors also took umbrage at the fact that local elected officials, including Cong. James A. Burke (D-Milton), were not consulted about the move.

Earlier, Burke pointed out that for the past few years the U.S. Postal Service has been a public corporation outside the purview of the Congress.

The Council also passed a resolution asking Burke to look into "the rationale or the reason for not including the representatives of the local people in the planning and policy-making decisions of the U.S. Postal System."

The Postal System has purchased land in the Five Corners area of Braintree for the projected incoming mail center.

Councillor Leo J. Kelly called the proposal "absolutely incredible for Quincy to lose its most direct contact with the federal government at a time when it is trying to rejuvenate its downtown area."

"I think the service provided here in Quincy is excellent," said Councillor John J. Quinn. "To further centralize the Postal Service outside of Quincy would diminish that service."

Councillor Dennis E. Harrington urged passage of the resolution to "protect the integrity of the postal service in the community."

The Council agreed with him unanimously.

MDC Approves Contract For QSD Substation Plans

The MDC has approved a contract with Elm Park Associates, architects, to prepare design plans and contract documents for its Quincy Shore Drive substation on the Kimberly's site.

The approval was announced by Rep. Michael W. Morrissey (D-Quincy), who also noted removal of the trailer that housed comfort station, first aid room and lifeguard facility last summer.

"The MDC has been trying its best to provide area residents with essential services on Wollaston Beach, which has always been a tough spot," said Morrissey.

"I am happy to report that the number of traffic citations issued on Quincy Shore Drive was 1,930 in June, July and August of this year. Last year during the same period there were only 799 violations issued.

"This substantial increase is evidence of the MDC cooperating with the Quincy Legislative delegation to provide better protection on Quincy Shore Drive. "There were over 30 arrests this summer for a variety of charges."

Aerobic Dance Program Starts Sept. 26 At YMCA

The Quincy YMCA will begin a 12-week program in Aerobic Dance Sept. 26.

Registrations are now open at the "Y" main desk for two courses: Tuesday, Thursday and Friday mornings from 10 to 11 a.m. and Monday, Wednesday and Thursday from 6 to 7 p.m. Aerobic Dancing is an effective way for women to become fit and stay fit. The 12-week program is a series of dance routines set to music. The routines are flexible to accommodate both the beginner and the advanced individual. Each routine can be performed on either a walking, jogging, or running level.

Instructors are Linda Rendle and Brenda Kelly.

Each participant must have a medical clearance signed by the family physician. Forms may be obtained at the front desk. Course fee, advanced registration and a full membership is required. Call 479-8500 for further information.

Jean Wilkins Named To LaBoure Program Staff

Jean Wilkins, 264 Furnace Brook Parkway, Quincy, has been appointed adjunct instructor and program coordinator for the Electroencephalographic Technology Program, a collaborative effort of LaBoure Junior College and Boston University, School of Medicine.

Educated in EEG Technology at Children's Hospital, Boston, she has worked at the Lahey Clinic and Hospital Ship Hope. She is past president of the New England Society of EEG Technologists.

Miss Wilkins was selected as a recipient of the Charles Stevenson Memorial Award for professional contributions to the EEG field. The award, given by the Eastern Association of Electroencephalographers, entitled her to attend the 1977 Annual Meeting of The American Society of EEG Technologists in Miami.

VIA In 6th Year Helping Parents Of Children With Special Needs

The Volunteer Information Agency [VIA] is starting its sixth year of supplying information and assistance to parents of children with special needs.

Every weekday, South Shore volunteers have been in the Salvation Army building, 6 Baxter St., Quincy Point, answering the phone to offer support to parents.

Parents who are concerned about the effect of the special needs child on the normal children in their family are sent VIA's pamphlet, "There is Something Special About You".

The pamphlet is addressed to children in the family to help them better understand their situation and, by understanding, grow and profit from the experience.

It is the human touch of the VIA volunteer, all South Shore women, that makes the organization special.

In the beginning, they attended workshops conducted by the South Shore Mental Health Center to train them as paraprofessionals. Since almost none of the volunteers have children of special needs, they had a great deal to learn.

Since no office can be run without money, volunteers approached this task with creativity.

Coffee hours priced at $2, with mental health speakers on provocative subjects was the first fund-raising device used.

VIA wanted to finance the S.W.A.S.C. [Swim With a Special Child] program in Weymouth, so the annual VIA Slims Tennis Tournament was created. For the past four years, more than 100 South Shore women have taken part in the two-day doubles tournament while raising funds for VIA's projects.

Hundreds of women have been responsible for the success of the agency: the 10 founders and members of the board of directors; the 40 volunteers who work a morning a month; the fund raisers; the people who run the coffee hours, the tournaments and the parties that have been held for VIA's benefit.

The first September birthday event was the Big Five VIA yesterday [Wednesday] at the new South Shore Rehabilitation Center. It included tours of the sheltered workshop; a swim program movie narrated by June Doherty, leader of S.W.A.S.C.; a paraprofessional update by Dr. Luleen Anderson, a Quincy psychologist; operation updating by Barbara Greenglass, associate director of the South Shore Mental Health Center and Betty Hounihan, director of VIA.

Other events include a volunteers' birthday party at the Hounihan's and a coffee hour for the founders at the Marr's Beacon Hill home.

South Shore Secretaries

Membership Reception Sept. 28

The South Shore Chapter of the National Secretaries Association (International) co-sponsored by the South Shore Chamber of Commerce will hold a membership reception at the Chamber's office, Miller Stile Rd., Quincy, Wednesday, Sept. 28, from 4:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m.

Mary Jo Kilmain, chapter president, secretary to Dr. Francis L. Colpoys, said that today's secretary must be ready to meet the challenges of a rapidly changing business world. Over 38,000 secretaries are members of the National Secretaries Association and are increasing their career potential by belonging to a professional organization.

Through membership in the association, a secretary has an opportunity to participate in educational, professional and personal development programs which will assist her in achieving greater on-the-job effectiveness.

Invitations have been extended to area secretaries and their employers to meet with South Shore members of NSA and to learn more of the organization. Those unable to attend the reception, but who are interested in information, may contact Eleanor Fusoni CPS, membership chairman, at 696-4115.

Stay Alive!

By Jack Silverstein

DON'T PANIC

The rule in any emergency is DON'T PANIC. A case in point: In Los Angeles, a man was bitten on the leg by a mad dog. He darted into his car and raced frantically to the nearest hospital to obtain immediate treatment for rabies. He was so terrified that he lost control of his car on the way and was killed in a crash with an oncoming car. He would be alive today if he had not had the mistaken belief that all animal bites must be treated at once.

Rabies develop in dogs within ten days, but it requires a longer incubation period in humans, leaving adequate time to seek medical help. Although bites about the neck or head do require immediate medical attention, those on the legs or arms do not.

One of the most important things to remember if bitten by a dog is to somehow make sure that the dog is kept alive and in a controlled place for at least ten days to two weeks so it can be checked for rabies. Remember that not all dog bites are from rabid dogs. In fact, the opposite is true. Only three cases of rabies from dog bites were recorded in this country last year.

'Illegally Used By 3 Of 4 Cars'

Morrissey Criticizes Money Spent On X-way 'Diamond Lane'

Rep. Michael W. Morrissey (D-Quincy) has criticized State DPW Commissioner John Carroll for the money spent on the diamond lane of the Southeast Expressway, which, he says, is used illegally by three out of every four cars.

Morrissey recently attended a meeting with Carroll and the Legislative Committee on Transportation at which the future of the commuter lane was discussed.

The meeting was told that the lane, instituted on May 4, has resulted in a 37 percent increase in car-pooling and has removed 622 vehicles from the Expressway between 6:30 a.m. and 9:30 a.m., providing less congestion and a saving in travel time for commuters.

"There are definite problems with the express lane," said Morrissey. "At its peak, compliance never exceeded more than 24 percent at Southampton St. That means that more than 75 percent of the people using the express lane are using it illegally."

Morrissey expressed concern that residents of Quincy who commute to Boston are not able to take advantage of the diamond lane, which starts near the Braintree line, since it is illegal to cross the cones that are placed through Quincy.

Commissioner Carroll said provisions are not under consideration that would allow Quincy residents access to the lane.

"Quincy motorists will be informed of any rule and regulation changes," said Morrissey.

Free Respiratory Clinic At South-West Center

A free respiratory clinic will be held Wednesday, Sept. 28, from 12 noon to 2 p.m. and from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the South-West Community Center, 372 Granite St.

It will be conducted by the City Hospital Respiratory Therapists and Dietary Department.

Tests at the clinic will determine the amount of air each individual can hold and the speed in which he can exhale. They also will indicate whether the person has a potential for bronchitis or emphysema.

Blood pressure also will be checked and information will be available from the Hospital's Dietary Department on weight control, cholesterol and salt intake diets.

A second clinic will be held Oct. 5, at the same times in the Germantown Service Center.

The programs for next week at the South-West Community Center include:

Monday - The Credit Union will be open from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Rosemarie Hanley of Greater Boston Legal Services will be available from 9 a.m. to 12 noon to assist with problems in welfare, SSI or veterans' services. Knitting classes for women will be held from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. under the direction of Marjorie Pitcher.

Tuesday - Paula Williams and Edith Eaton of the 766 Committee of the South Shore Council for Children will address the staff at 10 a.m. The public is invited. Marjorie Pitcher will hold knitting classes for girls from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

Wednesday - Respiratory clinic from 12 noon to 3 p.m. and from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Thursday - Mrs. Cora Zimmerman will hold a Koffee Klatch from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. The Credit Union will be open from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Friday - The mini-library will be open from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The Center is open daily Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. for social service and housing advocacy. The Quincy Food Coop is open the same hours, with delivery service available to senior citizens, the disabled and shut-ins.

Additional Registration For Lincoln-Hancock School Courses

Additional registration will be held Monday and Wednesday, Sept. 26 and 28, from 3 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. and from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. for courses at the Lincoln-Hancock Community School.

Eight courses, including social disco dancing and sign language, will start during the week of Oct. 3, most of them continuing for 10 weeks.

The courses include:

Basic ceramics, Thursday from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. in the Art Room.

Frank, Kenney Speakers

'Quincy/Boston: Uneasy Neighbors' Topic For LWV Meeting Sept. 27

Barney Frank, state representative from Boston [Back Bay], and Robert T. Kenney, president, Urban Consulting Associates of Boston, former Director of the Boston Redevelopment Authority, will be the speakers at a Quincy meeting, Tuesday, Sept. 27.

They will discuss "Quincy/Boston: Uneasy Neighbors" at the Quincy District Court at 8 p.m. Miss Mary Flavin, Quincy League President, will open the meeting. The public is invited.

"Cities/Urban Crisis" was adopted as an item for National LWV study at the last National Convention, held in New York City. Local Leagues across the country are making themselves and their communities more aware of the relationships between jobs, housing, transportation, taxes, commercial development, and Federal programs and policies. Local Leagues are also beginning to examine the condition of their own communities, as well as the connections between them and their neighbors.

Serving on the Quincy LWV Committee are: Ruth Paven, chairwoman, Marian Marsh, Jane Sullivan, Charlotte Shaw, Mary Gossard, Constance Burns, Agnes Cooney, Maude Webster, Anne Brandt, Arlene Constant and Janet Poole.

CYNTHIA COHEN, left, of Quincy, was a member of the panel reviewing entries to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's Elementary Education Ecology Poem and Poster Program. Ms. Cohen, who represented the American Lung Association of Boston on the Panel, and EPA Regional Administrator John McClennon hold one of the more than 7,000 entries to the program. Mass Audubon Society representative Debbie Howard looks on.

MDC Plans Bicycle Path At Merrymount Park

The MDC will begin planning a comprehensive bicycle path system in and around Merrymount Park around the first of the year, says Sen. Arthur H. Tobin (D-Quincy).

Tobin, who proposed the path, said he received a letter from MDC Commissioner John Snedeker assuring him that the path will be considered along with an extension of bike trails to the Blue Hills.

Tobin had urged the MDC to complete the present path from Furnace Brook Parkway to Fenno

St. along Quincy Shore Drive by extending it from Furnace Brook Parkway to Southern Artery.

He also suggested extending the path to the Blue Hills along Furnace Brook Parkway.

Tobin asked Park Director Richard J. Koch to work with the MDC to install a path along Fenno St. on filled city-owned land to complete the perimeter path.

Snedeker said in his letter that planning for the path system has been slowed by other priorities, but promised it will get underway after the first of the year.

Robert Aldrich Awarded Scholarship

Robert Aldrich Jr. of the Old Colony Chapter DeMolay in Quincy has been awarded an Evelyn Hitchcock Rue Memorial

Funeral Mass For

Mrs. Maude Johnson, 82,

Quincy Junior College Co-founder

A funeral Mass was celebrated Saturday [Sept. 17] in St. Ann's Church, Wollaston, for Mrs. Maude J. [Taylor] Johnson, one of the founders of Quincy Junior College.

Mrs. Johnson, who lived in Wollaston and Harwich, died Sept. 12 at the age of 82 in New England Deaconess Hospital, Boston, after a long illness.

She joined College Courses, Inc., in 1956 and became one of the founders of Quincy Junior College. She served as treasurer of College Courses Inc. from 1957 until her death.

Mrs. Johnson was the first and only chairman of the Scholarship Committee of the Community College Association, founding for permanent scholarships for QJC students.

She was owner of M. J. Taylor and Co., of Boston, social stationers and engravers.

Pope John XXIII invested her as a dame of the Equestrian Order of the Holy Sepulchre of Jerusalem in 1963 and she was raised to the rank of Lady Grand Cross by Pope Paul VI a year later.

She leaves two sisters, Mrs. Mary E. Mahoney of Worcester and Mrs. Hannah C. King of Miami, Fla.

Donations to her memory may be made to the Maude J. Taylor Scholarship Fund of Quincy Junior College, 34 Coddington St., Quincy, 02169.

Quincy Red Cross Chapter Reaches

20% Of Goal For Flood Victims

Red Cross assistance to flood victims in Johnston and surrounding areas of Western Pennsylvania affected by the July 20 disaster is approaching the $1.6 million mark.

The Greater Quincy Chapter has achieved 20 percent of its $1,200 goal to date, from volunteer contributions. The New England Division has reached 25 percent of its goal of $72,000, or $17,882, to date.

Of the 7,794 families who have suffered losses, 6,754 have applied for and received emergency help from the Red Cross.

Some $1,324,580 has been spent or committed for individual family assistance with clothing, bedding, other household furnishings, temporary repairs, medical care and occupational equipment and supplies. In addition Red Cross disaster teams provided emergency mass care - food, shelter, and first aid - to at least 3,000 flood victims and emergency workers at a cost of more than $300,000.

Since Red Cross assistance is made possible entirely through volunteer contributions to Red Cross, either through the United Way or directly.

Thomas R. Lyons, Disaster Chairman for the Greater Quincy Chapter, urges those who have not contributed, to consider making a tax deductible donation. Checks made out to the American National Red Cross with the designation, Western Pennsylvania Flood Relief, can be sent to the Greater Quincy Chapter, American Red Cross, 57 Revere Road, Quincy.

Without volunteer financial support, there are not enough dollars to meet the ever present disaster need. The final estimate of overall Red Cross expenditures for the eight county disaster relief operation now stands at $2,368,227.

Other Deaths

'We Must All Work Together'

Encourage Children To Follow Safety Rules To And From School

By JOHN BARTHOLOMEW
 Quincy School Safety Officer

The end of summer and the early days of fall can be hazardous times on the city streets.

Youngsters of all ages are back in school, crossing the streets in droves, possibly on collision courses with motorists.

It is up to the citizens of Quincy - the school department, police, parents, youngsters and drivers - to work together in order to have a safe and happy school year.

Quincy has almost 20,000 students from pre-kindergartners to college men and women.

The main streets and intersections will be monitored by 51 women traffic supervisors and regular police officers, assisted by an estimated 1,000 pupils serving on the school safety patrol.

You can help to make the many travelled miles to and from schools a pleasure and not a hazardous chore by encouraging your children to follow these rules:

- Always walk on the sidewalk.
- Cross only at corners, looking both ways before crossing.
- Use crosswalk whenever possible.
- Don't cross from behind parked cars.
- When crossing at a traffic light, wait for the light to change and for traffic to stop before crossing.
- Obey your school traffic supervisor and patrol.

- Watch for turning cars.
- Never dart out into the street.

• Walk defensively; be especially alert for careless drivers.

Additional safety rules for school bus riders are:

- Wait for the bus in an orderly line.
 - When boarding or leaving the bus, do not run.
 - Place books or bundles where they cannot slide or fall.
 - Keep arms and legs out of aisles.
 - Your head, arms and bundles are safest inside the bus.
 - Don't talk to the bus driver except in emergency.
 - Don't open windows without permission.
- Remember that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

Be Sure To Stop For School Buses

School buses are back on the streets again after a summer vacation in the garage.

It's easy to forget that the Commonwealth of Massachusetts has woven a protective web of laws around the yellow buses.

It is imperative that drivers re-acquaint themselves with the school bus law so that we can continue to protect the youngsters who use these buses. The Massachusetts law provides:

"When approaching a vehicle which displays a sign bearing the words 'SCHOOL BUS' and is equipped with front and rear alternating flashing signal lamps which are flashing, as provided in section 7B, and which has been stopped to allow passengers to alight from or board same, a person operating a motor vehicle shall, except when approaching from the opposite direction on a divided highway, bring his vehicle to a full stop before reaching said school bus and shall not thereafter proceed until such school bus resumes motion or until such person is signaled by the driver of the school bus to proceed or the said signal lamps are no longer flashing."

Who'll Be New Council President?

It's a long way, politically, to next January and anything can happen between now and then.

But while most people were wondering who would be nominated in Tuesday's preliminary election and who will be elected in November's final, some of the so-called politically astute are looking even further to January.

Regardless of the outcome of the preliminary and final elections, January will bring a new City Council president—the first in nine years.

Arthur Tobin, elected to nine consecutive one-year terms as president by his council colleagues will not be wielding the gavel come the new year. He, of course, is giving up his seat to run for mayor.

Who will the new council president be?

That depends on who is elected or re-elected in November. But, say that they survive the election, strong possibilities for the council presidency would seem to be [not necessarily in order]: James Sheets, Paul Harold, Daniel Raymond and John Quinn.

It takes five votes to tango. Whoever puts together four with his own gets to bang the gavel during 1978. Putting five together may require a good behind-the-scenes campaign of its own, though this year.

The winners of the two open council seats this year [Tobin's council at-large and Dennis Harrington's Ward 6] may actually be the deciding votes.

No doubt there is a little wooing going on right now.

THE ADDITION OF student associate members to the School Committee has worked out so well that Mary Collins would like to see the idea extended to the City Council.

Mrs. Collins, a candidate for the School Committee, suggested in a letter to Council President Arthur H. Tobin that the Council give serious consideration to the proposal.

For the past few years, students at the city's three high schools and the Quincy Junior College have elected non-voting associate members to the School Committee.

"In the four years I have been attending School Committee meetings," said Mrs. Collins, "I have been gratified to observe the fine lessons in municipal government which these students have learned."

Membership on the Committee, she said, "can be a great stimulus for those students so designated and their constituents to become interested in government and politics at a young age."

Since the voting age is 18, she added, the students should be given the same opportunity for associate status on the City Council.

We second the motion.

MAYOR LaRAIA has found an old political axiom to be true: he who puts picture on his political signs will soon grow a beard.

A number of LaRaia's big signs around the city—are being "doctored" up. Someone has been either spraying paint or hand-coloring his picture giving him that 5 o'clock shadow look. This is nothing new, of course. Any candidate using his picture on political signs, is running the risk of looking like someone else before they are taken down.

WHAT KIND OF a guy is Rex Trailer? We've been asked that question a few times since Rex came to The Sun Office to do interviews for Ch. 5 at the Jerry Lewis Telethon Quincy-South Shore Pledge Center based at The Sun.

Well, Rex was a smash hit. Everyone found him personable and down-to-earth. Rex has been quite active for Muscular Dystrophy. He was chairman of the backyard carnival promotions, is a past national vice-president of MDA and presently New England special events chairman.

And, incidentally, Rex is a genuine cowboy.

Deck Sullivan, Braintree publicist who is also active in MDA, recalls first meeting Rex in the 1950's when the latter was foreman of a western ranch for children owned by Gabby Hayes. You'll remember Gabby as Hopalong Cassidy's sidekick in the movies. Sullivan used to perform with Hayes and was known as-get this—the Beacon Hill Bronc Buster.

Quincy Sun 9 Years Old

The Quincy Sun is nine years old with today's issue. The Sun was established in September, 1968 — as "Quincy's Own Weekly Newspaper" — a community oriented publication concentrating on Quincy news and Quincy people.

We have expanded our news coverage these past nine years and will continue to do so in the future. We want to bring to you the best weekly newspaper we possibly can.

This past year has been the best in our history from a business standpoint — advertising, circulation and commercial printing.

But there is more to a newspaper than business. It has a responsibility to its community and to its readers to report the goings on fairly and accurately.

We have tried to do that—giving those on both sides of an issue the opportunity in The Sun's news columns to present their side of that issue.

Editorially we have taken strong stands on issues. Perhaps too strong some political partisans might feel. But we have tried to tell it "like it is". In good conscience we cannot sit back and let things go unsaid that need to be said.

We will continue to offer both sides the opportunity to air their side of any issue affecting Quincy and its people. And we will continue to speak out editorially — loud and clear.

The past year has been one of continued progress.

The Sun has greatly expanded its commercial printing division, producing high school, college and other newspapers, newsletters, brochures, ad-books, flyers, stationery, etc.

We installed new camera and photo typesetting equipment to enable us to mechanically produce a better newspaper and to continue expansion of our commercial printing division.

As we start our 10th year we want to again sincerely thank you — our readers and advertisers — for your continued support and encouragement these past nine years. And special thanks to our growing army of faithful newscarrers who bring The Sun to your home.

You, all of you, as we have said before, are as much a part of The Quincy Sun as we, the staff.

Without you, we couldn't do it. Thank you, most sincerely.

Henry Bosworth, Publisher.

Senior Citizens Survey Starts In Ward 1

Mayor LaRaia announces that six census takers this week begin work door-to-door taking a Senior Citizen Survey in the Ward 1 area.

The following streets are the outer perimeter - Whitwell and Adams Sts. and Upland Rd. and Hancock St.

Positive identification of the census takers may be verified by calling 479-1212, the Quincy Police Department.

QCAO Board To Meet

The board of directors of the Quincy Community Action Organization will meet tonight (Thursday) at 7:30 p.m. at the Germantown Service Center, 9 Bicknell St.

The meeting was postponed from Sept. 15.

QUINCY'S YESTERDAYS

By Tom Henshaw

Prohibition 'Profound Success'

Dr. Gifford Gordon of Melbourne, Australia, told a Quincy Kiwanis Club luncheon that an 18-month investigation, during which he covered 35,000 miles, convinced him that Prohibition in the United States is a "profound success".

He entitled his talk: "Hold Fast, America!"

"When you believe that Prohibition is responsible for crime waves, you simply play right into the hands of the 'wets', for they started this lying propaganda," he said.

Meanwhile, Police Chief Goodhue warned that if the city didn't stop storing confiscated liquor and other contraband at Police Headquarters pretty soon there would be no room for prisoners.

MISS QUINCY CHOSEN

Miriam Nickerson of 244 Farrington St., Wollaston, was selected Miss Quincy in a beauty contest held during the Quincy American Legion Post Fair at the Fore River Grounds.

First reports were that Miss Quincy was a brunette "and her hair is not bobbed."

Later, however, "a conversation with her mother disclosed that after all her hair is bobbed but she combs it close to the head so that at a distance it appears to be full length."

Miss Nickerson also announced her engagement to James R. Little of Faxon Rd, Norfolk Downs.

SCHOOLS CROWDED

The School Committee named a subcommittee consisting of Dr. Nathaniel S. Hunting, Robert E. Foy and Col. Warren E. Sweetser to survey overcrowding in the Quincy schools, where enrollment was reported up 9 per cent.

One school, the Atherton Hough in Houghs Neck, was said to be 20 per cent over capacity with 65 pupils in one class, 52 in another and 51 in a third. The maximum was considered to be 35.

SERIES TIED

Granite City collected only seven hits but made them good for an 11-7 victory to tie its Brotherhood League playoff series with St. Joseph at one game each with the help of six errors, seven walks and a hit batsman.

The Granite City roster included: Sanderson c, Singler c, Johnson p, Robertson p, Pritchard 1b, Littlewood 2b, Masklison 2b, MacDonald ss, Nichols 3b, Polson of, Lubarsky of, O'Brien of, LaRoche of.

A REGIONAL ECONOMY

By Eric Swider

Staying Relevant

During the next month, Gerald T. Reilly, C.P.A., South Shore Chamber first Vice-President, will be conducting 14 meetings throughout the South Shore to learn from community leaders, business owners, and citizens how they believe the Chamber should employ its 37 person staff and 500 active volunteers during 1978.

We invite you to attend the meeting nearest you. Call the Chamber now at 479-1111 and we'll tell you where it is and place you on the guest list.

In years past, then Chamber first vice-presidents John Blake, Bill Kelley and Jack Conway conducted similar sessions and the whole program of this Chamber has been built around the suggestions we acquired in those sessions.

The Chamber launched a brand new Economic Development Department in 1973 as a result of the input we received in our 1972 round of meetings. The worry in that year was JOBS and we responded with a program through our South Shore Economic Development Corporation, Bridge Replacement Action Team, Job Expansion Team and Land Inventory Committee that has developed such a track record of success that it has become a model for business organizations throughout New England.

In 1974, we dug deeper and financed a full time staff and department to make us activists in securing better transportation for the region as a result of community suggestions that came out of sessions in that year.

Our work on MBTA extensions to South Quincy and South Braintree, our ongoing efforts to secure a real workable Hingham to Boston Commuter Boat and our involvement in bus and expressway problems has resulted in a good return on investment for the region which gets better with each passing month.

It was the series of program of work sessions.

Dentistry Topic On WJDA's 'Operation Health'

Dr. Sumner D. Hirschberg, president of Dental Associates of Quincy, will discuss what everyone wants to know about dentistry on "Operation Health" tomorrow (Friday) at 3:10 p.m. on Radio WJDA.

It's part of a series on the Community Spotlight program featuring a different health topic each Friday, hosted by WJDA personality Win Bettinson.

The series is produced in cooperation with the Quincy Community Action Organization and the South Metro Health Council, the local unit of the Health Planning Council for Greater Boston.

Dr. Hirschberg, who is also a clinical professor of Tufts Dental School, will take up such things as finding a dentist, the cost of dental care and preventive techniques for healthy teeth.

"Friday's program will be of great interest to parents," said Rosemary Wahlberg, executive director of Quincy CAO, "especially those with children still in the baby teeth stage."

In coming weeks, Operation Health will feature informative guests discussing such topics as nutrition, preventive health, mental health, alcoholism, hypertension, diabetes and environmental health.

A list of speakers is available from Madeline Hill, Health Planning Council for Greater Boston, 46 Birmingham Parkway, Brighton, Mass., at 787-5800.

John Walsh Graduates From Navy Specialist School

Navy Operations Specialist Seaman John M. Walsh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew T. Walsh of 36 Stoney Brae Road, has graduated from Operations Specialist School.

The 15-week course was conducted at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill. Students received instruction on the operation of surveillance and search radars, electronic recognition and identification equipment, aircraft approach control devices and electronic aids to navigation. Their studies were designed to prepare them for duty in a shipboard combat information center or at a shorebased fleet training center.

He joined the Navy in October, 1975.

MONEY TALKS

On Home Loan Interest Rates and Service Charges

By Philip J. Lawrence, President
Colonial Federal Savings
and Loan Association
of Quincy, Holbrook & Wareham
8-6 Weekdays 8-7:30 Thursdays

Why are interest rates on home mortgage loans so high? Why do you have service charges?

These are two key questions among the many that savings and loan officers are asked when couples seek financing to purchase a home. They are reasonable questions, and we strive to give satisfactory answers.

Current interest rates are determined by open-market competition among savings and loans and other financial institutions interested in investment in private homes. Unless an association is competitive, potential buyers will seek their mortgage loans elsewhere.

That's one side of the coin. The other is that savings and loans must also be competitive in the interest rates they offer to induce savings. If they are not, savers will deposit their money in other institutions where higher returns are available.

Thus, there is a squeeze between what kind of return you can get on the savings deposited with you and the price you must pay to receive those savings. Old-time managers used to speak of a two-point spread between savings and lending rates as necessary to operate. If they were paying 3% interest on savings, they felt they needed a 5% return on mortgage loans to keep in business.

Nowadays, most managers are grateful for a 1.5 spread. This must take care of all their operational expenses—employees' salaries, building and equipment investments, advertising and other promotional costs, Federal and State income taxes, employees' profit-sharing and pension plans, insurance, legal fees, and reserves to meet governmental requirements.

The service charge is applied toward the many functions performed by the association in the home-buying process. These include the preparation of necessary documentation and the processing of the loan throughout its lifetime. A buyer must be assured that he or she is getting full and clear title to the property: There may be liens against it about which the seller was unaware. A contractor, for example, may have claimed failure to make full payment for home improvements or a furniture dealer for merchandise which the home owner considered faulty. To protect the buyers' and its' own investment the association must serve as watch dog over the home for the duration of the loan, guaranteeing annual payment of taxes and insurance and the general preservation of the property. It must also keep and furnish to the buyer records of interest paid so that he may use them for income-tax purposes.

Purchase and sale of a home is a complex process designed to avoid legal pitfalls. A closing brings together the buyer, lender, seller, and their agents [lawyers and real estate brokers] for the express purpose of protecting all parties concerned. The service charge paid to the savings and loan is small recompense for the role it plays not only up to the closing but throughout the lifetime of the mortgage.

Colby Road

Yard Sale Sunday

The Colby Road Associates, North Quincy, are planning a street-wide yard sale Sunday, Sept. 25, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the yards of residents who live on Colby, Sharon and Milton Rds. Rain date is Oct. 2.

Neighbors have been asked to contribute goods and articles to a neighborhood table, the profits of which will go to help defray the cost of next year's Fourth of July celebration.

Featured at the yard sale will be boats, furniture, ski wear, housewares and clothing.

The Language of Flowers Flower tips from

Andre Moreau

One of the stranger looking succulents around is the String of Pearls [Senecio rowleyanus]. It has carefree ways and is ideally suited to an owner with a love 'em and leave 'em attitude towards house plants. It hangs out in your home producing a string of interesting plastic looking green balls. Its shape and size is handsome though a bit comical with small white flowers sprouting from the long stems. Your string of pearls will flourish with moderate watering and casual feeding. Add a bit of direct sun, an occasional blast of fresh air and you will have a cultured plant to enjoy for years.

Visit NORFOLK FLOWER SHOP, 49 Beale St., Wollaston, 472-7100 and see our large selection of long lasting houseplants and fresh flowers. As your full service florist we are well known for our unique and original floral designs and arrangements. For freshness, a fantastic selection and personalized service at all times rely on NORFOLK FLOWER SHOP. We are multi-lingual so we can assist you in French, Italian or Spanish. "For the Creative and Unusual in Floral Designing". Master Charge and BankAmericard honored. Hours: Mon. - Sat. 8-6, evenings by appointment.

HELPFUL HINT

Do not grow String of Pearls from seed. Take cuttings often—they will root eagerly.

Morrissey Asks Dukakis To Probe Summer Help Hiring

Rep. Michael W. Morrissey (D-Quincy) has filed an order calling upon Gov. Michael Dukakis to investigate the hiring of summer employees through the job lottery.

"The lottery appears to have been ill-planned," said Morrissey. "There is also a definite lack of accountability for those people hired."

"The lottery may have been designed to end patronage in dispensing summer jobs, but there have been numerous complaints in recent months of alleged favoritism to certain job seekers."

"We must correct possible lottery deficiencies before next spring when the Governor plans to use it again. The lottery had a number of holes in it which let people beat the system."

Morrissey criticized the Governor for the lack of accountability and imperfect administration of the lottery.

"The pre-picking of the birthdates was the biggest flaw in the system," he said. "Applicants could assure themselves a job by judging the date on their birth certificates."

"A second major fault of the lottery was that winners were notified of their jobs by telephone rather than in writing. If the job winner wasn't home for two successive calls, he was passed over, but there was no proof that he was or was not called."

"A third major fault of the lottery is that it has taken more than two and a half months for the Department of Employment Security to start an audit of the lottery program."

Morrissey said he has had to fight it out with the MDC personnel office to gain access to those hired under the summer job lottery.

"When the MDC refused to comply with my written request for the lottery names, I had to appeal their denial to John McGlynn, assistant secretary of state," said Morrissey. "The fight to gain the MDC records took over a month."

A recent survey showed that 207 jobs went to 99 families in the MDC under the lottery system, said Morrissey.

Morrissey said his order "also asks the Governor to forward the rules and regulations of any future lottery to the Legislature, 60 days before the effective date."

This will help protect the interests of those people who are applying for jobs under any future lottery."

Security Beef-up Cuts Thefts In Hospital Parking Lot

A woman visitor to City Hospital reported a couple of weeks ago that she believed her purse, containing $800, was stolen from her car in the Hospital parking lot.

Security Officer Frank Froio, unable to find any evidence of illegal entry to the car, suggested that she look around her home; the purse may be there. She did and it was.

The discovery, much to the relief of Froio and the Hospital staff, wiped the slate clean again.

There has not been a single car theft or any personal property stolen from vehicles in the parking lot since the first of the year when a tight new security policy was placed in effect.

Hospital Director Anthony P. DeFalco called it "a 100 per cent turn around in conditions when visitor's automobiles were being stolen at the rate of one a month and thefts from parked cars at a much greater frequency."

One feature of the new security policy is the mobile patrol which augments the regular foot security personnel on a 24-hour basis, keeping parking areas under constant surveillance.

The mobile unit was purchased with funds presented to the Hospital by A. Mario Salvatore, venerable of the Quincy Sons of Italy on behalf of the lodge.

The combination mobile-foot patrols are increased on weekends.

The tight security policy also is in effect inside the Hospital where entrances are no longer open to the public 24 hours a day.

Only two entrances are open between 4:40 p.m. and 8 a.m. and all employees are required to wear identification badges with their pictures, a procedure designed to eliminate unauthorized visitors.

Public Schools To Start CPR Training Program

The Quincy Public Schools is embarking upon a CPR (Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation) training program which will enable biology teachers to offer training to their students by the spring of 1978.

Vincent P. Sullivan, Coordinator of Science for the Quincy Public Schools, was alerted to a joint hospital-school system training effort at a recent National Science Teachers Association convention. "If Milford, Connecticut, can do it, why not Quincy, Massachusetts?" he asked.

Last summer, Sullivan met with John Felci, Education Coordinator for Quincy City Hospital, and Anthony DeFalco, Quincy City Hospital Director, to present his plans and enlist their support.

"I was gratified, to put it mildly, by the enthusiastic and affirmative reply from both Mr. Felci and Mr. DeFalco. They agreed to provide us with mannequins, expert instructors, and other related materials. We just could not have pulled it off without their assistance."

Twenty people, mostly biology teachers, will be trained during a marathon session (1 p.m. to 8 p.m.) Oct. 11.

Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) is a combination of artificial respiration and artificial circulation, which should be started immediately as an emergency procedure when cardiac arrest occurs, by those properly trained to do so. It had been used widely and successfully for some time by doctors and nurses and allied health personnel, and it is now recommended that as many members of the general public as possible be trained in this technique.

The biology teachers to be trained in CPR will then take part in a second program to become certified instructors. This will enable them to offer CPR to their students.

CITY HALL BOARDER NEEDS NEW HOME

A resident of City Hall, is looking for a new place to stay - but it has nothing to do with the upcoming Nov. 8 election.

He is Sleazy, a black, brown and tan German shepherd-collie, who wandered into City Hall about the end of June and never left.

The 4-year-old dog has no collar or other identification.

The folks in the City Clerk's office have been feeding him and he spends his days and nights roaming around the grounds, sleeping on an outside bulkhead.

However, with winter approaching, it is important to find a more stable home for Sleazy.

Anyone who can provide one should get in touch with Margie Leaman at the City Clerk's office.

QHA Tenant Services Office Holds Coffee Klatch

The Quincy Housing Authority Office of Tenant Services held the first in a series of coffee klatches at 9 Bicknell St. recently, with 15 area residents attending.

The group held a rap session concerning various needs of the community and problems.

F. Jean Kennedy, Interim Director explained the functions of Tenant Services. Appointments were made for participants requesting private consultations.

Topaz, the birthstone for November, is the symbol of loyalty. In olden times topaz was considered to have wondrous healing powers under the influence of the moon's cycle. In accordance with the loyalty topaz symbolized, those who wear it are said to be devoted spouses forever. Topaz, one of the hardest of the semi-precious stones, is a silicate mineral. It is best known for its amber-golden hue, although it also exists in blue, violet and colorless varieties. Topaz refracts light doubly, which is an easy way to distinguish it from the stone spinel. If you rub well-polished topaz, you can pick up pieces of paper with it.

Pick out your birthday or other gifts from our fine selection of jewelry at GRONO & CHRISTIE, INC., 536 Adams St., 696-1490. We handle fine brands and take a personal interest in seeing that you purchase a piece you will be happy with for many years. I was recently awarded the degree in diamond grading and evaluation from the GIA. Open: Mon. thru Sat. 9 a.m. - 5 p.m.

Metrobank Offering 60-Day Used Car Loan Special

Quinlan J. Sullivan, Jr., president of the $21 million Metrobank and Trust Co./Norfolk announces Metrobank's 60-Day Used Car Loan Special.

Effective as of Sept. 19, it boasts a low rate of 9.95% [Annual Percentage Rate].

Sullivan noted, "Most consumers can no longer afford to purchase new cars at the current escalated prices. We, at Metrobank, do not feel that used car buyers should be penalized with substantially higher interest rates to finance their car. By having a specially reduced rate, we hope to serve the needs of the community. Metrobank's rate of 9.95% [Annual Percentage Rate] is considerably lower than most competitive institutions."

Cabot Devoll, III, a loan officer at Metrobank, urges people to "shop around and compare the rates...they'll find out that we're the most favorable."

Metrobank and Trust Co./Norfolk has offices in East Milton Sq., Braintree Five Corners, Quincy Parkingway and a special commuter branch at the Quincy MBTA.

RENTING OUT YOUR HOME

Your home becomes a business if you rent it out either for a year or some seasonal period such as the summer. The costs of running the property are subtracted from the rent to determine the net income from the operation - just as would be done in any other business. Among the expenses that can be charged off are interest on the mortgage, maintenance and repairs, agent's fees, utilities if you pay them, insurance premiums, annual depreciation, and improvements.

If you sell a house you rented as against a home occupied by the owner - there are important tax differences.

Depreciation claimed must be subtracted from the cost of the house. You can't defer the profit from the sale by buying another house. However, you can charge off a loss on the sale against your income for the year.

Mahoney Wins QYHA Race

Jake Mahoney won the first 2.3-mile Quincy Youth Hockey Road Race last Saturday in 11:28. Joe Murphy [11:51] was second and Patty Latora [12:08] third.

The first Quincy youth hockey player to finish was Mike Hussey [13:34] in seventh place overall and first in the Bantam Division.

Other winners in their divisions were Patty Latora, first woman; Cathy Stone, first Girls A; Yvonne Eagan, first Girls C; Eric Seamans, first Mite; Bobby Hayden, first Squirt; Jamie Seamans, first Pee wee, and Billy Foley, first Juvenile.

Quincy Oil Wins S.S. Softball Title

Quincy Oil won the South Shore Fast-Pitch Softball League championship by defeating the defending champion Braintree Convenience in the playoff finals.

After finishing first in regular season play with an 11-1 record, Quincy Oil went on to eliminate the fourth place Sports Haven team in a close semifinal series and followed with an upset doubleheader sweep over Braintree Convenience.

A well-balanced attack was the key to the title. Quincy Oil was led in the playoffs by pitcher Jimmy Hatfield, who pitched every inning, including two doubleheaders and posted a 4-1 record. The offense was sparked by Brad Kimball with a .529 average in the playoffs, Bob

MacIntosh (.474), John Menard (.444) and Brian Osborne (.375 and 7 RBIs.)

The defense was paced by Mike Walsh, who made several outstanding plays at first base; Dan Vespaziani at third base, Eric Tuori at shortstop and outfielders Billy Thorne and Ron Bagnulo.

Manager Tom O'Connell and Coach Jimmy Mazzetti presented trophies at a recent cookout.

Frederick Named ENC Soccer Coach

Eastern Nazarene College Athletic Director Nancy Detwiler has announced the appointment of Stafford Frederick as soccer coach.

Frederick, a native of Trinidad and a 1976 graduate of ENC, spent last soccer season as head of the intramural soccer program at Olivet Nazarene College, Kankakee, Ill.

He takes over with seven returning players from a Crusader squad which had a 4-7-1 record last fall.

The Crusaders got their new coach off on the right foot last week when they romped over Boston State, 6-1.

The ENC squad includes three North Quincy players, Co-Capt. Bob Brown, a junior; Randy Calhoun, a sophomore and Walter Melton, a junior, and one Quincy player, John Metcalfe.

Other players are Steve Bonhomme, Tim Cnossen, Jim Flinner, Angel Gonzales, Dale Hausman of Braintree, Lloyd Hayes, Bobby Hooper, Brian Kilpatrick, Tim LaLone, Michael Martin, Lowell Parkes, Amos Saintiche, Michael Shone, George Stinson, Martin Trice and Co-Capt. Dave Wilfong.

The Crusaders will host Nyack College Saturday at 2 and Tuesday will be home to St. Francis at 2.

Their home games are played at Bradley Field located on Wendall Avenue.

'Quincy Look' Columbus Wins

The Christopher Columbus High School football team opened with an impressive 26-6 win over St. Mary's of Cambridge Sunday in a Division IV Suburban Catholic League game.

Columbus is dominated by Quincy representatives, both players and coaches, and quarterback Mark Forrester of Quincy stood out for the Friars.

Columbus scored first when Jack Farma took a Forrester handoff and romped 60 yards on the first play of the game.

St. Mary's came back to tie it late in the opening period when Tom Rizzimond sneaked over from the two.

The second period was all Columbus as Forrester threw a 60-yard bomb to Ricky Zizza for a score and then tossed a 20-yard touchdown to Anthony Gambale.

In the final quarter, Joey Lasko scored on a 30-yard run and Jimmy McLaughlin added the points.

Quincy's Jimmy Hennessy singlehandedly stopped two St. Mary's runs which would have been touchdowns and Quincy's Bob Hester grabbed a deflected St. Mary's punt.

Bob Hennessy of Quincy is the Friars' head coach and his assistant and athletic director is Quincy's Frank Segadelli.

Columbus will open its home season Sunday when it faces defending league champion St. Patrick's of Watertown at 1:30 at Daley Field in Brighton.

Raiders Face Big Test With Taunton

The North Quincy football team's defense was outstanding in a losing cause last Sunday at Milton and it will face one of its biggest tests Saturday when it hosts Taunton in a 10:30 a.m. game at Veterans Memorial Stadium.

While the Raiders were bowing to Milton, 6-0, Taunton was breezing past Plymouth-Carver, 32-0, and hopes to avenge last fall's 7-0 loss to North Quincy.

While Dave Burke's North team has a new look with only a few varsity veterans, Taunton is loaded with experienced players and the Raiders could be in for a busy morning.

"You couldn't fault our defense, it was tremendous," said a disappointed Burke. "But we have to do a lot of work on our offense. We couldn't get an attack clicking because of several fumbles, and penalties also hurt us. We have to improve tremendously on offense."

North got a tough break when Tom Quinn returned the kickoff for an apparent touchdown following Milton's score, but it was nullified by a penalty.

North failed to make any other serious scoring threats, although it got inside Milton's 25 a few times. Kurt O'Sullivan at quarterback threw some good passes but they were dropped. The running backs failed to get untracked and, as a result, the defense was on the field for about three quarters of the game.

The only touchdown of the game came in the third period on John Linsky's 35-yard run.

"You couldn't ask for a better defense," said Ken MacPhee who, together with Jack Rayer, coaches this unit. "It did everything we asked of it and we were very pleased with the performance."

The entire defensive unit came in for a share of the praise, including inside tackles Jim Marinelli and Bob Schaezel, ends Vin Furlong, Ed Evanson and Jimmy Carroll, linebackers Mark Robinson, Jim Hanrahan and Kevin O'Connell, cornermen Bruce Wilson, Kevin Balzarini and Pat Ennis, halfbacks Tom McAleney and Harry Donoghue and safety Tom Burke.

"I think we will come along with a little work," Burke said.

"We are very inexperienced as far as varsity players are concerned and we just have to avoid the mistakes we made at Milton."

North's veteran assistant coach, Ted Sadowski, who does the scouting, came back with a glowing report on Taunton. "They looked awfully good, as Plymouth-Carver doesn't have that bad a team," he said.

The North Quincy and Taunton games had been postponed last Saturday because of field conditions following the rain and both played Sunday.

Presidents Hope History On Their Side

By TOM SULLIVAN

Quincy Football Coach Hank Conroy, beginning his 14th and final season as head coach, is hoping history will repeat Saturday, when the Presidents host Weymouth South in a non-league game at 1:30 p.m. at Veterans Memorial Stadium.

Last fall Quincy dropped a frustrating 7-6 decision to Dedham and then bounced back to defeat Weymouth South.

Last week the Presidents outplayed Dedham by a wide margin but dropped another disappointing 8-6 verdict to the Bay State League entry.

Weymouth South opened with a new coach, Henry Cutting, by dropping a 7-0 decision to Hingham last week.

"This was another frustrating loss as we outplayed them throughout most of the game," Conroy said. "We moved the ball well and the defense was outstanding after their early touchdown. We had a lot of good scoring chances but just couldn't push it over."

Dedham scored after holding Quincy and forcing a punt. A 38-yard pass from Dave Clerkin to Kevin Hathaway set up Clerkin's three-yard scoring run and another pass to Hathaway accounted for the winning points.

After that, the Presidents' defense shut off Dedham's attack while their own offense penetrated deep into Dedham territory several times.

In the opening period, Quincy drove to Dedham's 10, but was stopped and twice in the second quarter Mark Giordani led the Presidents deep into enemy terrain only to be halted again.

In the final period Quincy staged an 86-yard drive which culminated in Giordani scoring from the five but a pass for the tying points failed.

"Our offense was solid with Giordani especially outstanding and Len Picot also running well," Conroy said. "Giordani was also excellent on defense as was Picot. Vin Harte was tremendous at tight end and defensive guard."

Conroy also praised the work of Ralph Pickering on defense, Rick Gilbody both ways, Pete Cassidy on offense, Mike Duggan on offense, Kevin Zambruno at guard and Paul DiGrassi and Dave Eastwick on defense.

Winding Up 25 Years

Conroy To Step Down At Season End

Hank Conroy, in his 14th year as Quincy High's head football coach, announced Saturday that he will retire at the end of this season.

Hank made the announcement to his squad before Saturday's opening game at Dedham.

"I thought it would be better to let the boys know before the season opened rather than wait until the season was over," he said.

Conroy said he had been considering the move for some time.

"I felt it was about time to step down after 25 years in the Quincy school system," he said. "I am in my 14th year as head coach, was assistant for five years and prior to that was in the junior high system for six."

"I have some fine young assistants, any one of whom could do the job, and I felt I wanted to spend more time with my family."

"We've had our ups and downs, our good seasons and bad, but I've enjoyed every minute of it and I've worked with some wonderful boys, many of whom continued on to college."

Conroy led the Presidents to their only perfect season in 1970 and won the Greater Boston League title. Many of his players were all-scholastics and went on to star in college.

Koch Club Expanding Youth Bowling

The Koch Club of Quincy will expand its Youth Bowling Program this fall with the addition of a new boys bowling league.

The new program will begin on Tuesday, Oct. 4 at 1 p.m., at the Wollaston Boulevard Bowladrome, 679 Quincy Shore Drive, Wollaston, and continue every Tuesday afternoon until mid-April when an awards banquet will close out the first season.

Boys in school, grades one and up, throughout the city are invited to join and participate. Each will be assigned to a team following several weeks of bowling for averages and team groups will be formed according to age.

The program will provide a Tuesday afternoon recreational activity for elementary school children and boys in the seventh and eighth grades of parochial and private schools.

Women and men available to assist in supervising and scoring on Tuesday afternoons are needed and may contact Mrs. Marilyn Nestor, 98 Glover Ave., North Quincy.

The Koch Club Saturday morning boys bowling league will open its 15th season Saturday morning, Oct. 1 at 9 at the Merrymount Daylight Alleys, 17 Broad St., Quincy, and all Quincy boys age 7 through 16 years are welcome to register and participate in the junior or senior division assigned according to age.

The league will bowl three Saturdays for averages before forming teams and competition will continue each Saturday until April when the season will close with an awards banquet.

Anthony T. Delmonico is founder and director of the league and further information may be obtained from him at 35 Gannett Road, Adams Shore.

The Koch Club Montclair Girls Bowling League, in its eighth season, meets each Saturday morning at 9:30 at the East Milton Bowladrome, 540A Adams St., Milton, with girls in grades 4 through 9 participating and any girls in the Montclair section wishing to participate may contact Mrs. Howard F. Crowley, League Director, at 139 Highland Ave.

The Koch Club Termites girls bowling league is enjoying its thirteenth year of competition and the girls bowl every Tuesday afternoon at 1 at the Wollaston Bowladrome and includes girls of elementary school age with 100 girls participating. Its older counterpart, the Koch Club Girls Seniors of junior high and high school age bowl on Friday afternoons at 4:45 at the Wollaston Bowladrome.

The Termites and Senior girls under the direction of Mrs. Nestor, league founder, conduct a combined catered awards banquet in the spring of each year at the Sacred Heart School Cafeteria.

The bowling program sponsored by the Koch Club is expected to provide recreational enjoyment for over 500 boys and girls during the fall and winter season.

Face Brookline Friday

Martin In New Challenge As Quincy Girls Soccer Coach

Ron Martin, who coached Quincy High boys' soccer teams to several successful seasons, faces a new challenge beginning Friday when he leads Quincy's first girls' soccer team against Brookline at O'Rourke Field, where all home games will be played.

A 10-game schedule includes games with such Suburban League rivals as North Quincy (also that school's first team), Newton North, Weymouth North and Weymouth South.

"I am looking forward to the challenge and am delighted with the enthusiasm shown by the girls," Martin said. "I had a turnout of 18, and, despite their inexperience, I think we will make a good showing."

Girls' soccer replaces field hockey at Quincy and North. Interest had fallen in field hockey and it was decided to drop the sport.

For forwards Martin has Seniors Sandy O'Connor and Mary DiTullio, Juniors Karen O'Toole and Peg Kirk and sophomore Kelley Morrill.

Halfbacks are seniors Mary Beth Sneldos and Gail McKeon and juniors Nancy Campbell and Marie McAuliffe.

The fullbacks are seniors Emily Sampson and Diane DelVecchio and junior Barbara Campbell and the goalie is senior Jean Campbell.

The First Ladies will play at Newton North next Friday, Sept. 30.

McCall New Coach

North Soccer Team Inexperienced

North Quincy has a new boys' soccer coach and an inexperienced squad this year as the Raiders hope to once again make the state tournament.

Taking over as head coach is George McCall, assistant to Bruce Cochrane last fall when Cochrane, in his only year as coach, led North to the tournament. Lou Ioanilli had taken the Raiders into the tournament several times before.

McCall's assistant is Steve Miller, who played soccer and basketball at North Quincy and Eastern Nazarene College.

"We are very inexperienced with only three returning varsity players," McCall said. "We need a good effort from last year's junior varsity players."

Starting in last week's opener at Weymouth North (The Raiders were defeated, 4-0), were Tri-Captains Sean Jago, Bobby Reed and Jim Moore, all seniors; Seniors Jim Conboy, Mike Colon, Larry Laing and Bill Phelan; juniors Billy Harrow, Dave Donovan and Chris Sullivan and sophomore Ed Kearny.

Other varsity players are seniors Jay Leith, Peter Bourikas, Danny Thompson, Dave Whall and Steve McCarthy and junior Tom Roney.

"The key to our success will be the play of our tri-captains," McCall said. "We have a first year goalie in Bill Phelan, a senior, and we need a good effort from him. I expect a big year from Jago as forward and Moore at sweeper fullback."

North rebounded from its opening day loss to tie Brookline, 4-4.

Scoring for the Raiders were Reed with two goals and Colon with two. Conboy, Harrow and Jago had assists.

Cochrane, incidentally, is now working fulltime as a supervisor with the Brookline Recreation Dept.

McCall feels Newton, Waltham and Brookline, with many veterans, will be the strong teams in the Suburban League. He also feels if his Raiders play up to their potential, they will be in contention for another tournament berth.

The Raiders will host Newton Friday and Quincy Tuesday.

--TOM SULLIVAN

Elks Defeat Panthers, 16-6

The West Quincy Elks defeated the Quincy Point Panthers, 16-6, Sunday in a Quincy Youth Football League game.

It was the Elks' eighth game in a row without a loss going back to last year.

The Elks came from behind with two touchdowns in the final period. Mike Donovan passed to Paul Murphy for 25 yards and the first touchdown and John Toland added the two points.

Murphy scored the second with a 65-yard return of a pass interception and Donovan passed to Dennis Carr for the points.

Reed Vanelli and Kevin Riggs were outstanding for the Elks on defense.

The Elks will play the Manets Sunday at 1 at Veterans Memorial Stadium.

Babe Ruth Tryouts

The Quincy Babe Ruth League tryouts rained out last Saturday for 14 and 15-year olds will be held Sunday at 10 a.m. at Adams Field.

Also, any 13-year olds who missed last Sunday's tryouts may try out at the same time and place Sunday.

SEN. ARTHUR H. TOBIN confers with Cong. James A. Burke [D-Milton] about the 11-week strike at the General Dynamics Quincy Shipyard which is threatening the economy of the South Shore. Tobin visited Washington Washington early this week, meeting with officials and urging new efforts to bring about an end to the dispute.

Tobin, LaRaia Top Spenders

Candidates Raise $118,000 Spend $84,449 In Preliminary

Those candidates in the Sept. 20 preliminary election who have filed financial reports raised at least $118,000 and spent $84,449 prior to Sept. 1.

The leading money raisers and spenders were the two top Mayoral candidates, Joseph J. LaRaia and Arthur H. Tobin, who, between them, collected more than $75,000 and spent more than $40,000.

Tobin raised $41,755 and spent $21,570, leaving him with a balance of $20,185 to carry into the final campaign.

LaRaia raised $24,517 and spent $18,618, leaving him with a $5,899 kitty.

State election laws require candidates to file financial statements eight days before the preliminary election. Some candidates had not filed at the City Clerk's office as of last Tuesday.

A report on the amounts of money raised and spent by the various candidates follows:

There were no preliminary races for the Council seats in Wards 3 and 5 and for School Committee but, under state law, candidates were required to file nevertheless.

Some items of interest from the expense reports filed by

Mayoral candidates LaRaia and Tobin:

Although they did not announce until later, both apparently started to get ready for their campaigns as early as last March.

Tobin reported spending $723.05 on March 22, including $400 for telephone installation and $195 for postage stamps.

LaRaia reported spending $300 on March 31 to rent the Wollaston Theater.

LaRaia's biggest expenditure so far has been to the Edward Group, Inc., of Boston, $7,200 for public relations counsel.

Lists Income At $25,189

LaRaia Urges 'Full Disclosure'

Mayor LaRaia's income for 1976 was $25,189, he disclosed this week, urging other candidates in the upcoming Nov. 8 election to make similar disclosures.

The Mayor's opponent in the election, Arthur H. Tobin, who was in Washington when the disclosure was made, said he would not want to comment on the Mayor's action right away.

LaRaia, in a news conference Monday morning, promised to make full disclosure of both income and assets but later he said it would take some three weeks to get a statement of assets ready.

The Mayor said he was prompted to make the disclosure by "widespread rumors and innuendos that persisted concerning me and other candidates in the primary election."

"I am disturbed," he said, "that irresponsible rumors and innuendos will continue unabated during the next few weeks and I believe this is the best course of action."

"I have always believed the public is entitled to full disclosure of all candidates."

"In this regard I intend to file with the City Council an ordinance change that will require full disclosure by all candidates in the future."

"In this Watergate era, public officials should be more than willing to outline their finances. It is the only way to regain the public's trust."

"I believe it is vital that all candidates in the upcoming election, including my opponent in the Mayor's race, respond to my challenge."

LaRaia presented his 1976 federal income tax return, made out by Robert L. Volk, CPA, listing a total income of $25,189, including $25,000 salary as Mayor and $189 in interest.

Ward 1 Council Recount Set For Saturday

A recount of votes for Ward 1 councillor in the Sept. 20 preliminary election will be held Saturday, 9 a.m., at City Hall.

The recount was requested by James F. Miller Jr. after he lost to David Crowley Jr. by 56 votes for the second qualifying spot on the Nov. 8 ballot behind City Councillor Leo J. Kelly.

Kelly had 2,298 votes, Crowley 887 and Miller 831 in the original count.

Ward 1 ballots were impounded immediately following the count on order of City Clerk John Gillis.

Miller said he figured that the addition of absentee ballots could narrow the margin down to 33 votes

Mission To Washington

Tobin: 'Shipyard Union Ready To Talk Anytime'

By TOM HENSHAW

Local 5 of the Shipbuilders Union is ready to sit down and negotiate with General Dynamics any time, according to City Council President and Sen. Arthur H. Tobin.

Tobin said he got that word from Arthur Batson, formerly of Quincy, now an official of the international union, during a trip to Washington early this week.

He also met with Cong. James A. Burke [D-Milton] and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy [D-Mass] to urge new efforts on their part to settle the strike at the Shipyard, which entered its 74th day today.

"I told them that the strike was not only hurting the families of the men employed at the Yard but it was hurting the business community on the eve of the holiday seasons," said Tobin.

He urged Burke and Kennedy to use the influence of their offices with the federal mediation people to get talks going again.

Tobin said he did not go to Washington before the preliminary election last week because "any statements I made during the campaign would be taken as political."

"But," he added, "once I received a substantial mandate from the people in the primary I wanted to make myself available to do what I can for the sake of the whole economy."

He said he also talked to Burke and Kennedy about senior citizen problems, the Town Brook flooding project, the proposed new Fore River Bridge and federal aid to recreation.

There were also these activities on the strike front in the past week:

Mayor LaRaia met with Peter Gwynn, assistant general manager of the Yard, and Stanley Kyler, president of Local 5, "to discuss the issues and reasons behind the continuing strike."

After Crash Damage

Police, Anderson At

Odds Over Ross

Parking Garage Safety

Public Works Commissioner Paul Anderson and the Quincy Police are at odds over the garage in Ross Parkway which was damaged by a speeding automobile Friday night.

The police opened all but the roof of the garage and the Cliveden St. entrance and stairway yesterday [Wednesday] morning for use by the public.

"Okay, if the police are willing to take the risk," said Anderson. "But I wouldn't do it."

Anderson said he was seeking the services of an engineer who was not involved in building the garage to determine if the building is safe "and if it was built according to the code."

A speeding car crashed into the wall of the top floor, dislodging a 50-foot slab of precast concrete, injuring two men and a woman, occupants of the car.

Architect Owen Trainor, who was called to the scene of the accident, estimated damage at $25,000, possibly more.

Immediately following the crash, Anderson ordered the records involved in the construction of the garage locked up and a police guard was placed on them for the weekend.

The garage was built about five years ago by Gil-Bern Industries of Plympton, which has since gone out of business.

Cerasoli Turns Over QJC

Teaching Salary As Scholarship Fund

At a recent presentation ceremony at Quincy Junior College, Dr. Edward Pierce announced the establishment of the Robert A. Cerasoli Scholarship. The scholarship presented by Cerasoli is to be awarded to students attending QJC.

The scholarship is a result of the donation by Cerasoli of the salary he earns as an instructor in the Division of Continuing Education.

"I am teaching a government course one evening a week at QJC for the challenge and reward I received from teaching, not for the salary," Cerasoli said. "And I've always lived up to my pledge to my constituents to be a full-time representative and have no outside earnings. Thus it is with pleasure that I donate my current salary, as well as any future teaching salary, to the QJC Scholarship fund."

Dr. Pierce expressed the appreciation of the College. "Our students gain immeasurable insight into the political process by having a teacher who knows the practices of politics as well as the theory," he said. He said that whenever possible the Robert A. Cerasoli Scholarship will be presented to a student who will be studying

Cerasoli, a second-term representative from the 1st Norfolk District (Quincy/Weymouth), has a Bachelors Degree from the American University School of Government and Public Administration and will receive his Master of Arts Degree in Political Science this June from Northeastern University. He started teaching this past summer and will continue teaching one course this fall and winter term at QJC.

3 New Transformers Installed At Hospital

City Hospital has purchased and installed three new transformers at a savings of $12,000, it was announced by Mayor LaRaia.

The Mayor said Hospital Director Anthony DeFalco and

Supt. Richard Serafini trimmed the cost from the original estimate of $30,000 to $8,000 by locating surplus transformers and getting a good price.

The new transformers will increase the amperage for the entire hospital and create a surplus which can be used to air condition the Hunting and M & S Buildings and additional space if desired.

They replaced transformers that were 20 years old.

8 Named To New Animal Control Commission

Mayor LaRaia announces eight appointments to the newly formed Animal Control Commission. They are:

Health Commissioner Dr. Samuel Solomon, Chairman; Dr. Alan M. Morse, Veterinarian; Elizabeth Synan, South Shore Animal Protection and Welfare Association; Mrs. M. Griffin, South Shore Humane Society; Carla Keto, 338 Granite St.; Mary Gaeta, 186 Belmont St.; Shirley Sweet, 346 Highland Ave., at large, and dog officer Francis Berlucchi, ex-officio.

The Commission will study and make recommendations on areas such as public education of animal treatment, disease control, leash laws, sterilization and control of animal pests. The newly formed commission is expected to meet this week.

National Average Down

Quincy Aptitude Tests Scores Show Upward Trend

For the past 10 years, all across the nation, the scores recorded by high school students on Scholastic Aptitude Tests, or college board exams, have been going steadily down.

Scores in Quincy have been no exception.

Yet in 1977, for the first time in a decade, the downward trend has been reversed in Quincy.

"We turned it around," said a triumphant School Supt. Dr. Lawrence P. Creedon this week. "Our scores are up significantly. The national average went down two points. We went up 10 points."

Creedon gives most of the credit to the "test awareness program," which was developed in the Quincy schools and instituted in 1972.

It's based on the assumption that tests are so complicated now that it is necessary to learn how to take the test before you take it. In Quincy, they teach you how.

The program was started in 1972 in an effort to arrest the decline in student scores on the California Achievement Test, which measures different accomplishments from the SATs.

"We went to McGraw-Hill, the curriculum publishers, but they didn't have anything available," says Louise B. Forsyth, coordinator of testing in the Quincy schools. "They didn't see any market for it. So we developed the program ourselves."

ourselves."

"It's not simply coaching students in the answers. We teach them the skills needed to take tests. We help them to understand what to do with tests when they get them. We find it's a necessary part of motivating the young."

Favorable results were noticed almost immediately.

"For the past five years our test scores, measured by the California Achievement Test, have gone up," says Dr. Creedon. "In 1974, we turned our attention to the SATs."

"By 1976, our college boards were still going down but by only half the national rate. This year we turned it around."

"We are still below the national norm but if we keep going as we are now we will soon pass them."

On the math section of the test, the national average went from 472 down to 470 while the Quincy scores went from 432 up to 441. On the verbal section, the national average went from 431 down to 429 while Quincy went up from 403 to 413.

For graduates of the Quincy school system, the rise in SAT scores means that they will have a better chance of getting into the colleges of their choice.

"When the guidance counsellors fill out the college forms," says Creedon, "they can remind the colleges that we were the system that turned it around."

JEANS SAFER THAN DRESSES

Some parents may bemoan the fact that little girls don't look like they used to. The old saw about it being hard to tell the difference between boys and girls because they both wear long hair and jeans may have its merits - but not when it comes to burn safety. Your daughters may be far safer in blue jeans or slacks than they are in dresses.

Public Health researchers at Johns Hopkins University have noted a dramatic drop in burn fatalities since the middle 1960's, especially among school-aged girls. They feel the increased popularity of pants among females is a major reason for the change.

In the 1950's, girls suffered a much higher rate of burn fatalities than boys. Dresses that exposed the legs and frilly clothes made of flammable fabrics shared the blame. But by the late 1960's, with slacks and jeans in full-till for the girls, the ratio was reversed.

Happily, the overall rate of fatal burns nationwide for boys as well as girls has fallen sharply during the same period thanks to fire retardant clothing and improved medical techniques for burn care.

The Weight Watchers program is a three-part approach to safe, long-term weight loss. It consists of a flexible, easy-to-follow diet that now includes such "non-dietetic" foods as potatoes, pasta, mayonnaise, oil, ketchup, cocoa, and flour. The second part is a behavior modification program that helps the overweight person analyze and change his eating habits.

The final element is the weekly meeting, which includes a private weigh-in, a short motivational lecture by a trained graduate of the program, and a chance to discuss problems and progress with other members of the class.

Champagne and other sparkling wines can be served correctly in one of three shapes of glasses. The most commonly used type is the saucer champagne. If you are buying new glassware, the saucer champagne is the shape that comes in all stemware patterns. It can also be used for serving sherbert and other desserts. The hollow stem champagne glass keeps the wine bubbling longer than the saucer variety does. The drawbacks of hollow stem glasses are that they are more difficult to clean and are a more expensive purchase. The tulip champagne glass has the shape of a tulip in addition to a hollow stem. When you're ready to purchase crystal, china and pewter for yourself or as a gift come to us at GRONO & CHRISTIE, INC., 536 Adams St., 696-1490. Waterford full lead crystal, Belleek china, Royal Holland and Reed & Barton pewter are available in a fine selection for your choice. We have a Bridal Registry available too...so be sure to check and see if your bride is listed with us before you make a purchase. Hours: 9 a.m. 5 p.m., Mon. thru Sat.

HELPFUL HINT

The tulip champagne glass can be used to serve other wines as well.

'John Adams Study' Painting Presented To Historical Society

Artist Madeline Gibson's painting "John Adams Study" has won a place in the permanent collection of the Quincy Historical Society.

The presentation was made to QHS President William A. O'Connell during the fall art exhibit at the Adams Academy, home of the Society.

Other paintings in the exhibit were submitted by Carol Bottary, Robert Callahan, Bea Hurley, Jane Madden, Cynthia McCloskey, Laura Olson, Anet Paglierani, Helen Shaw, Jean Sheahan, Catherine Smith and Olive Tompkins.

They will be on display for the next month. Judges were Carmen Unger, art director of the Thomas Crane Public Library; Mrs. Rudolf Oberg, vice president of the Historical Society; and H. Hobart Holly, historian of the Society.

Demonstrations of oil painting were given by Anet Paglierani and Cynthia McCloskey, water colors by Olive Tompkins, pastels by Gloria Worthington, pottery by Marsha Klein and macrame by Marcia Oster.

Miss Gibson's painting "Georgetown" was voted the most popular work by the guests attending the two-day affair.

The Language of Flowers

Flower tips from

Andre Moreau

Sugar and spice and everything nice makes a fragrant potpourri or sachet. To give moths a fit, sweet oranges or apples, tart lemons or limes - plus cloves are the ingredients you need. Stud the fruit completely with cloves and let dry for two weeks in a cool, dry place wrapped in white tissue paper. Tie a pretty ribbon around the fragrant and hang in the closet. The moths will hate you! For delicious smelling closets and drawers, collect rose petals, geraniums, jasmine, orange blossoms, herbs and leaves and make your own potpourri. They are easy. All you need is a book from the library and a creative nose. They make wonderful gifts, too!

NORFOLK FLOWER SHOP, 49 Beale St., Wollaston, 472-7100 is well known for their creative and original floral designs appropriate for almost every occasion. As members of FTD and Teleflora we can arrange to deliver your gifts of flowers almost anywhere in the world. Of course, as real professionals we have to meet the high quality standards of both organizations. Daily hospital deliveries. We are multi-lingual and can assist you in French, Italian and Spanish. Master Charge and BankAmericard honored. Open: Mon. - Sat. 8-6, evenings by appointment.

Furnace Brook Flood Project Awaits Engineers Recommendations

The Army Corps of Engineers in Waltham has returned the Furnace Brook Flood Control Project to its main office in Fort Belvoir, Va., for recommendation.

It had been sent to Waltham for a rewrite on the feasibility study and more data to show that the yearly flooding was not caused by inadequate storm drains.

City Councillor James A. Sheets said the project will now go before the Board of Engineers of Rivers and Harbors for a recommendation.

If it's favorable, Sheets said, the chief of the Army Corps of Engineers will make a recommendation to the Secretary of the Army who in turn will recommend the project to the Congress.

Sheets said he will probably talk with the Army Corps people in Fort Belvoir in the next two weeks to insure that everything moves along smoothly.

3 Sisters Born In Ireland Reunited After 30 Years

By ROBIN LORD

Three sisters, born in Ireland, were reunited in Quincy after a 30 year separation.

The three are Mrs. Sheila McDonald, wife of Norfolk County Commissioner George McDonald, of 133 Grove St., West Quincy, Mrs. Elsie Mangan of New York City and Mrs. Joan Albericci of Dublin, Ireland.

They happily marked the occasion with a traditional Irish breakfast at the McDonald home Sunday.

Mrs. McDonald left her native Ireland for the United States in 1947. She has since made several visits to her sister's home in Dublin. Although Ireland remains near and dear to her heart, she says the United States "has been very good to me." She earned her U.S. citizenship soon after her arrival here.

Mrs. Elsie Mangan came to the United States in 1947 also. She is visiting the McDonald's, accompanied by her husband and three children.

Mrs. Albericci plans to be in this country for two weeks. Accompanying her on her first trip to the U.S. is her son Paul, 25. She says she is a Kennedy family follower and hopes to visit the memorials around the area.

She also plans to sightsee in Cape Cod during her stay with the McDonalds.

Her husband owns the Brook Chemical plant in Dublin. She is active in civic organizations and clubs in her hometown.

The three sisters were born in Killarney, Ireland. Their father, Jerry Mahoney, started an acting career at the age of 14 with an American company touring Ireland. Resisting the chance to come to the U.S. when the company returned, he stayed in the old country and continued his career. He became a popular actor known for his role in "Dawn Over Ireland" in the late 1930's.

MDC Investigating Foul Odors At Nut Island

Foul odors that spread through a section of Houghs Neck last week have been attributed to an overproduction of methane gas from the MDC sewage treatment plant at Nut Island.

Usually the gas is burned off, said MDC environmental specialist Martin Weiss, but for some undetermined reason the amount of methane exceeded the capacity of the burners.

The MDC is investigating.

say:

"I have offered my services and those of my office and staff, at any time, to both management and union, in an effort to bring an end to this strike for the benefit of the union, its members and families, General Dynamics and the city of Quincy."

LaRaia also met with Brian Delaney of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's office to discuss the effects of the strike on the local economy and the possibility of a combined effort by the Mayor and the Congressional delegation to end it.

Meanwhile, General Dynamics radio commercials urging strikers to return to work drew protests from the union, particularly claims made that many workers were going from the picket line back to the production line.

Kyller called the assertion false.

500 Scouts To Mark 50th Anniversary Of Camp Massasoit

By HAROLD CROWLEY,
President, Massasoit
Campers Association

Close to 500 Scouts from Quincy, Milton and other towns in the Boston Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be encamped at Camp Massasoit on Elbow Pond in Plymouth over the weekend of Oct. 7-10, to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the camp.

From 1927 until 1965, Camp Massasoit was the property of the Quincy Council and thousands of boys from Quincy spent one or more summers camping there with their scout troop. In 1965, the Quincy Council, joined with the Boston Council and in 1967 Camp Massasoit was closed as a summer camp. Since that time the Camp has been used primarily as a weekend campsite. A full program has been planned for the weekend including boating, handicraft, archery, scoutcraft, and nature.

The 50th anniversary will be formally marked at ceremonies at the camp Sunday afternoon, Oct. 9, at 2 p.m.

Following the ceremonies, all the troops will conduct an open-house and the day's program will conclude with an Anniversary Council Fire on the shores of Elbow Pond. The program is being planned by the Massasoit Campers Association in cooperation with the Boston Council.

All past and present Quincy Scouts and Scouters are invited to visit Camp Massasoit anytime over the weekend to walk again the paths they walked as youngsters and to share the memories that the camp may stimulate.

Many of those who helped to build the camp over its 50-year history are expected to be on hand for the ceremonies. Those planning to spend the day are encouraged to bring along a picnic lunch. A picnic area and coffee will be available at the Camp.

A special feature of the weekend will be the opening of an Anniversary Museum which will display mementoes of the Camp over the past 50 years as well as feature slides and movies of the Camp taken at various times during its long history. A souvenir book will be available, which will include a historical trail based upon the Camp's history.

QHS Juniors Score High In Achievement Examination

Quincy High School juniors scored 118 points above the national average in the American History and Social Science Achievement Examination administered in June.

Their combined average was 618.

The American History Achievement Examination is prepared and administered six times each year under the direction of the College Entrance Examination Board at Princeton, N.J. It is used by college officials to evaluate a student's achievement in a course of study, to determine placement in college classes, and at times as a requirement for admission.

The students who scored significantly above the national average were: David Bann, John Berlandi, Constance Chamberlain, John Connolly, Janice Dexter, Julie Eleuteri, James Finnegan, Christopher McHugh, William Ross and Beverly Veale.

Mass Thursday For Atty. John P. Flavin, 75, Former City Official

A funeral Mass will be celebrated at 10 a.m. today [Thursday] at Our Lady of Good Counsel Church, Merrymount, at Atty. John P. Flavin, of 14 Neponset Rd., Merrymount, a former state representative, city councillor and city solicitor who died Monday at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital. He was 75.

He was the senior member of the law firm Flavin, Corcoran, Davis and Sulla, and a member of the Norfolk County, Massachusetts and American Bar Associations.

Elected to the City Council in 1925, Mr. Flavin served seven years, resigning in 1932 to run for state representative, a post he held for two years. He later served three years on the School Committee.

In 1942 he was appointed city solicitor by Mayor Charles A. Ross and remained in that position for seven years.

In 1953, Mr. Flavin was named a member of the City Planning Board and served in that capacity for eight years until his resignation in 1961.

Mr. Flavin had a number of business and civic interests in addition to his political career, including two years as president of the Quincy Chamber of Commerce and directors seats for the Quincy Motor Co., Stiphen Motor Co., Rowan Motor Co., and the Quincy Chamber.

Treasurer for the Bruton Development Co. and the Quincy Auto Exchange, he was also associated with the real estate and insurance firm Flavin and Flavin.

He was a director of the Family Counseling and Guidance Centers, a member of the Quincy Chapter of the Knights of Columbus, the Quincy Neighborhood Club and the Wollaston Golf Club.

He also served as vice president of the Industry Council Association, Inc., organized to advocate plans in economics and industrial relations consistent with Papial social encyclicals.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Dorothy M. [Myatt] Flavin, a daughter Mrs. Jane P. Leary of New York, four grandchildren, two brothers, Edward M. Flavin of Whitman and George V. Flavin of Quincy and two sisters, Mrs. Kathleen J. Smith of Quincy and Mrs. Genevieve M. Hack of Quincy.

Following the funeral, burial will be at Mt. Wollaston Cemetery.

Visiting hours at the Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy will be on Wednesday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9.

Donation in his memory may be made to the South Shore Family Counseling and Guidance Centers, Inc., 40 Independence Ave., Braintree.

Forty-one pints of blood were collected at the blood drive at the George F. Bryan VFW Post recently.

Twenty-one of the pints were donated directly to the Post.

Members of the Post Auxiliary assisting were President Flora Van Meter; Flora Robbins, senior vice president;

LaRaia Needs Political Miracle

Joseph LaRaia's campaign slogan proclaims him "The People's Mayor".

He must still be wondering where most of them went to Sept. 20. They weren't around to publicly acknowledge it.

Arthur Tobin's campaign theme is an appeal to "Restore Pride and Progress in Quincy". And apparently most people second the motion. Enough of them, anyway, to go out on a blowy, rainy day to endorse him and his call for a change in captains at the city's helm.

It has been a long time -- if ever -- since an incumbent Quincy mayor has taken such a trouncing in a preliminary election.

Few political experts really expected it. Most of them figured the margin of victory at no more than 2,000 votes and some as slim as 1,000. And they weren't too certain who the margin would go to.

Tobin surprised -- if not shocked -- them with his smashing 4,805 vote victory [12,216 to 7,411] over LaRaia while capturing about 56 per cent of the mayoral vote in a six-man field.

When Tuesday broke wet and rainy, the experts called in "LaRaia weather". They thought his followers would come out even in a blizzard for him. While Tobin supporters might be inclined to sit back and wait for the Nov. 8 finals figuring he was sure to get one of the nominations anyway.

What the experts forgot, apparently, was that 40 per cent of the "undecided" voters who kept showing up in various polls right up to the last week before the election.

Apparently a good many of the undecided became decided and felt strongly enough about it to get out and vote, regardless of the weather.

There is little doubt that Tobin got most of the "undecideds" who did go to the ballot box and newcomer Atty. Thomas Barron got the next best chunk of them in his 2,552 vote total.

The consensus now is that perhaps as much as 90 per cent of the Barron votes will shift to Tobin in the final election. If they did not want the incumbent the first time around, they will not want him the second is the way most observers see it.

The 46.6 per cent voter turnout was one of the biggest ever -- maybe the biggest -- in a Quincy preliminary election. So it has to be considered a pretty accurate barometer for what's coming Nov. 8.

Well, can LaRaia come back?

Nothing is impossible but he could find it as difficult as trying to rebuild the Great Wall of China between now and Nov. 8.

LaRaia probably needs a miracle, or two, or three. Something real drastic like Tobin getting caught beating up someone's favorite grandmother or accepting the Adolph Hitler Man of the Year Award or pronouncing Quincy "Quin-ccc."

That may sound facetious. But the fact is it apparently would take something really absurd for LaRaia to turn the tide now rolling against him.

If anything, subsequent events may work against him -- not for him. The extortion case, for one, involving two of his appointees is scheduled for trial in federal court in October. If the headlines from it are black and bold, it will hurt LaRaia.

The preliminary election results would seem to indicate voters are fed up with all the bickering and feuding that has been going on at City Hall for nearly two years.

And it would seem they are laying the blame -- or most of it -- at the Mayor's doorstep. The indication is there, not only in the Tobin-LaRaia figures, but also in some of the other preliminary election results.

Three LaRaia critics -- Leo Kelly [Ward 1], Daniel Raymondi [Ward 2] and James Sheets [Ward 4] all rolled to easy victories.

A majority of the voters, it would appear, are siding with the City Council and not with the Mayor. Maybe it's the baseball theory: if the team is going poorly, get rid of the manager.

LaRaia has a Herculean task ahead of him in trying to turn the tide around. He will have to pull out all stops, most observers agree.

This puts an additional burden on LaRaia. What kind of a campaign it will be from here on in, depends largely on him. On how high a plane it will be waged will be pretty much up to him.

Employ The Handicapped, Citizen Advocacy Weeks

This is Citizen Advocacy Week in Quincy, so proclaimed by Mayor Joseph J. LaRaia.

And next week is National Employ The Handicapped Week.

The first "commends the efforts of individuals involved in the Citizen Advocacy Program and endorses the encouragement of disabled persons to attain independence with their capabilities which is the main concern of Citizen Advocacy."

And the second directs the people of Quincy to "celebrate this National Employ the Handicapped Week with increased efforts to eliminate those barriers to the end that all handicapped individuals have access to maximally satisfying and productive employment."

Grass Roots Look At Preliminary Election:

Tobin Sweeps 34 Of City's 39 Voting Precincts

City Council President and Sen. Arthur H. Tobin won all six wards and 34 of the city's 39 precincts enroute to his top heavy decision over Mayor Joseph J. LaRaia in last week's preliminary election.

They will face each other again in the Nov. 8 final election with the winner taking over the Mayor's chair for the next two years.

LaRaia's heaviest vote came in Ward 2, his home ward until he moved a dozen years ago. But he lost the ward to Tobin, 2,022 to 1,918.

The Mayor captured three precincts in Ward 2, winning Precinct 1 by 28 votes, Precinct 3 by 48 votes and Precinct 6 by 20 votes.

Ward 4, containing his current home at 54 Grogan Ave., West Quincy, gave LaRaia a strong vote, too. But he lost it to Tobin, 1,674 to 1,535.

He took two precincts in Ward 4, winning Precinct 5 by two votes and Precinct 6 by 114 votes. His home Precinct 3, however, went to Tobin, 378 to 352.

Tobin, who won the preliminary balloting by 4,805 votes, rolled up his biggest margins in Ward 5 where he prevailed by 2,077 to 747.

He topped LaRaia by better than 3-1 in Ward 5, Precinct 3.

A week before the election, a knowledgeable observer told The Sun to watch Ward 4, Precinct 7, where LaRaia would have to win big or be in trouble.

Tobin won the precinct, 149 to 114.

Two years ago, in the preliminary election, LaRaia took the precinct by 122 to 116 over Walter J. Hannon. He repeated the win 304 to 204 in the final.

It was also predicted that Ward 2, Precinct 2 would show the results of the battle for the votes of senior citizens, with the Martensen St. and 1000 Southern Artery housing complexes there.

Tobin captured the precinct, 565 to 400. LaRaia won it in the 1975 final over Hannon, 973 to 836.

Prior to the election, Ward 6, including Squantum and North Quincy, was picked to be the key battleground, with lingering resentments remaining from the fight over North Quincy High School.

Tobin won it handily, 2,119 to 1,038.

QUINCY'S YESTERDAYS By Tom Henshaw

Firefighters Salary Hiked To $3,200

The City Council voted Quincy firefighters a $200 raise to wipe out the differential in pay between the Fire and Police Departments. The new annual wage for privates would be $3,200.

William Edmonston, executive secretary of the Quincy Taxpayers Association, voiced his organization's objections to the raise.

"If the firemen get the raise of $200 then the policemen will demand a 40-hour week and all other city employees will want more liberal working conditions," he said.

"This will mean a $4 raise in taxes."

NEW WORK FOR YARD

The Bethlehem Steel Co.'s Fore River Shipyard was reported to be in line to receive contracts totalling $50 million for the construction of two ships for the Moore-McCormack Line.

The Yard issued a call for 150 carpenters and joiners, 25 pipfitters and 12 sheetmetal workers to bring the work force to 7,500 men. The wartime high was 32,000.

INDUSTRY EXPANDS

The Raytheon Manufacturing Co. announced plans to open an assembly plant in the vacant section of a building at the corner of School St. and Parkingway, the first new large industry in Quincy in a decade.

At the same time, Proctor and Gamble announced plans to build a six-story, $350,000 addition to its plant in Quincy Point and to increase its work force by 25 per cent to 80 employees.

LARSON TACKLE WINS

Dean Larson tackled Dedham fullback Bill Sanford in the end zone for a safety in the fourth period to give North Quincy an 8-7 victory at Municipal Stadium.

Candidates Spend Over $84,000

Tobin paid David Duffy of Providence, R.I., $4,000 for advertising. He has also spent $1,690.10 on postage stamps. LaRaia's stamp bill was only $250.

LaRaia's printing bills were heavy, including $1,125 to the North End Press, 7 Prince St., Boston for a tabloid newspaper. Those LaRaia T-shirts that you've seen around town came from Noble Sporting Goods, West Quincy, at a cost of $420.

Tobin's campaign food bill is large, including $472.50 for shrimp at Hines and Smart Corp., Boston. He also spent $535.45 on balloons.

Tobin spent $2,128.74 on telephone calls; LaRaia spent $779.90

READER SPEAKS OUT

Commends Youths For MDA Dance Marathon

Editor, The Quincy Sun:

I take my pen in hand, to write about a very special group of young adults. On Saturday, Aug. 6 noon to Sunday, Aug. 7 noon, at the George F. Bryan Post 613, Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall in Quincy, a very dedicated young lady and her committee took time out from going to the beach and all other things young folks do on weekends, to run a dance to help make money for a very worthy cause—the fight against Muscular Dystrophy. At this time I must mention the name of Miss Mary Pickering who undertook this project, "To Dance For Those Who Can't".

A day does not go by that one cannot pick up the paper or hear on the radio or see on TV in the news about the young adults that are in some kind of trouble or having some kind of demonstration against society.

One might stop and think that this is all young adults do but being at the VFW on Aug. 6 and 7th I found that to be very untrue. I witnessed a group of young adults whom I believe represent the majority, but never receive any credit or publicity for all good they create. To the best of my knowledge no city fathers were in attendance, this I find to be pretty pathetic. No TV cameras were clicking to show the stamina and determination of these young adults that was put into this to make the project a success.

As long as there is a generation of young adults that I saw, I say our precious way of life to help others who cannot help themselves will go on and on.

Thank you very much for taking the time to read this and once again I must thank you, Miss. Pickering, and all your committee for a job well done.

I hope all the adults that read this realize the ability of our youth today.

Sincerely yours,
Thomas M. McDonald
State Dept. Jr. Vice Commander

7 NQHS Seniors Receive

National Scholarships Commendations

Principal Peter J. Chrism, announces seven North Quincy High School senior students have achieved commended student status in the 1978 National Scholarship Program.

This honor is the result of each student's outstanding performance on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test [PSAT] and the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test [NMQST].

The students are Donna M. Chiampa, Christyna A. Copeland, Bernadette M. Feeney, Susan A. Morash, Andrew M. Paven, Julie A. Sheridan and James H. Stockless.

Although these students scored slightly below the level required for Merit Program participants who are named semi-finalists, each commended student has shown exceptional academic promise.

Commended students do not continue in the Merit Scholarship competition. But to increase their opportunities for college admission and financial aid NMSC offers each an opportunity to have identifying information sent by the corporation to two higher education institutions selected by the student.

Pet Stock Show At Massachusetts Fields School

The Massachusetts Fields School will hold its annual pet stock show Saturday, Oct. 1, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the school, Rawson Rd., Wollaston.

In addition to the games and

This is the 19th in a series of articles written

By Rep. MICHAEL W. MORRISSEY

The House of Representatives over-rode the Governor's veto of the Doyle/Flynn bill. The sponsors of the bill have attached an amendment to the supplementary budget now before the House.

The supplementary budget totals over $17 million. The biggest chunk of this budget is the money the state owes the state employees because of their bargaining settlement. The House has tried to add additional amendments and riders to the budget.

I voted for 3 important amendments that were narrowly defeated. I voted for 2 amendments that would have returned $46 million and $29 million to local cities and towns. The Commonwealth ended fiscal 1977 with a $72 million surplus. Many people have stated that they expect the Commonwealth to have a surplus next year. If $46 million was returned to local cities and towns, it was projected that Quincy would have received $648,484.60. This would have meant about $2.50 on your tax rate.

In July I voted to lower the meals tax from 8% to 5%. The Senate and House worked out their differences and decided upon the compromise of 6%. On January 1, 1978 the meals tax will drop to 6%. I recently voted for an amendment to the supplementary budget which would have lowered the meals tax to 5%.

The bill I filed to allow automobiles to turn right on red has passed the House and is now in the Senate. I will have more on Court Reform in a few weeks.

I hold office hours at my district office, 69 Billings Road on Monday, Wednesday and Friday 8:30 a.m. to 10:00 a.m. and Wednesday 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. I can be reached by calling 328-0900 or 727-7035.

Handicapped Persons Working With Police Dept. Through CETA

The Quincy CETA program continues to be a source of employment for the handicapped.

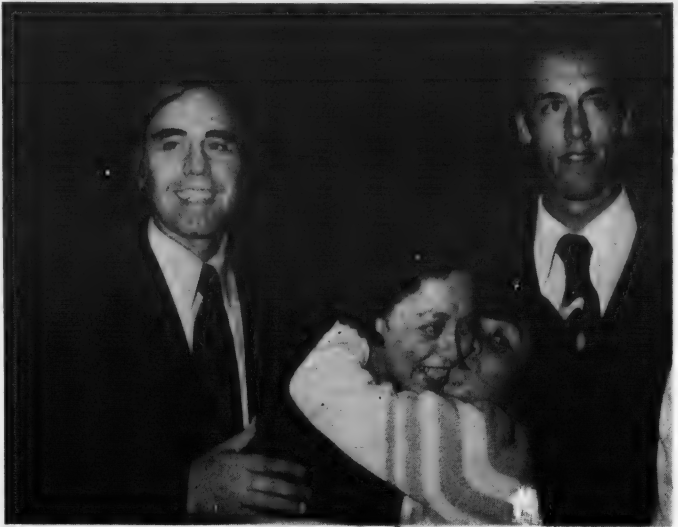

Persons with a handicap can be placed in positions through the various offices throughout the state because of their status as being unemployed or underemployed.

Police Chief Francis Finn, working with Linda Hazen of the Quincy office of the Massachusetts Rehabilitation Commission, has initiated a program using CETA project grants of more than $214,000.

Hugh Finley, head of planning and research for the program, reports 40 persons were interviewed for the 19 job openings made for persons over 45, women and handicapped. Of the 18 selected for the positions, 10 are CETA applicants, two are wheelchair handicaps, and the rest are lesser handicapped persons.

These handicapped workers will be employed by the Communications Center of the Quincy Police Department in the communications and dispatch area. Supervised by coordinator Gregg Sullivan, the workers will fill clerical and front desk positions. They will answer phones, filling out incident cards as they are reported, work with the dispatcher, typing the daily journal and filing. They will be working one of three shifts that run 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

The program, in operation since Aug. 29, is funded for one year. The Police Department benefits because these extra personnel relieve police cadets for use in the crime prevention program. It is the hopes of the Massachusetts Rehabilitation Commission that with the effective long-term cost benefits for Quincy, the city will assume the projects cost within the departmental budget.

VICTORY HUG is given Mrs. Shirley Tobin by son, Matthew, 12, at celebration following Senator-City Council President Arthur Tobin's impressive triumph in City Preliminary Mayoral election. Senator Tobin is at left and son, Mark, 19, at right.

'Williamsburg Sampler' Film Series At Historical Society

The Quincy Historical Society will present a film series, "A Williamsburg Sampler", Tuesday evenings at 7:30 p.m., in October at the Adams Academy Building, 8 Adams St. Dates and films to be presented:

Oct. 4 - "A Williamsburg Sampler". The history, architecture, crafts, music, gardens and furnishings of the restoration are accompanied by brief comments.

"Hammerman in Williamsburg". Seen in detail are the work and life of a colonial blacksmith.

Oct. 11 - "The Musical Instrument Maker", the many stages in making a violin and spinet - from raw materials to finished product.

Oct. 18 - "Gunsmith of Williamsburg", a complete documentary of the fashioning of a rifle of the 1770 period.

Oct. 25 - "Colonial Clothing", shown are the clothes of the third quarter of the 18th century when people wore banyans, stomachers, knee breeches and stays.

"Flower Arrangements", the creation of the celebrated flower and fruit arrangements of Williamsburg.

A complete film series ticket is $7.50 per person; tickets for individual evenings are $2.50 per person. The public is invited. For further information call the Adams Academy office (773-1144).

Film Programs For Children At Main Library Saturdays

Saturday morning film programs at 10 a.m. are another new service the children's room of the Thomas Crane Public Library, Quincy Sq., is offering to its young patrons.

The new series of films for children seven years old and older began last week, with a special first day showing of three films, "Santiago's Ark", "Stuart Little", and "Orphan Lions".

The films to be featured during October are on various crafts such as crayon, watercolor, puppetry. After each film showing children will have a chance to explore the craft technique just demonstrated.

The Oct. 1 film is about puppetry and presents various methods of making puppets from simple stick puppets to more difficult paper mache puppets. The film for Oct. 15 is "Paper Construction" showing how paper can form three dimensional shapes. Two films will be shown Oct. 29. "Crayon" demonstrates such techniques as rubbing, agrifito, printmaking, and batik, and "Water Color" illustrates the many ways in which this painting medium may be used.

Quincy Booters Off To Slow Start

This was supposed to be the year for the Quincy boys' soccer team but, despite a senior-dominated lineup, the Presidents were 0-4 going into this week's games.

Last week, Jim McGuire's club lost to Weymouth North, 3-0, and Brookline, 2-1, following losses to Cambridge Rindge and Latin and Brockton.

Despite the slow start, McGuire and his assistant, Mike Priscella, hope to rebound and improve on last year's 5-10-3 Suburban League record.

League all-star Peter DiCenzo is back at fullback and other backs are Mark LaFleur, Randy Nord and Joe Chludzinski. Co-Capt. Steve Ayer is at halfback with Joe DiVello.

At the forward spots are Co-Capt. Peter Martin, Bill Norton, Joe Zimmerman, Vin Lorenzano, Joe DiCesare and Gary Wilcox.

Bob Praetsch and Brian Donovan are taking care of the goalie duties.

Quincy will host Newton North Friday and Waltham next Tuesday.

Junior Baseball League Revises Tryouts Schedule

The Quincy Junior Baseball League announces the following revised schedule for tryout sessions for the 1978 season:

Saturday, 9 a.m., Artery Field, 9 years old; Saturday, noon, Artery, 11 year old outfielders; Saturday, 2, Artery, 10 years old; Sunday, 9 a.m., Artery, 12 years old; Sunday, 10, Adams Field, 14-15 years old; Sunday, 1, Artery, 9 years old; Sunday, 3:30, Artery, 10 years old.

Anyone not attending tryouts previously scheduled must attend these sessions to be eligible to play next year. In the event of any sessions being canceled, boys are asked to report to the same fields the following weekend at the same days and times.

Gallery, Riordan Spark Girls A Team, 9-2

Susan Gallery and Mary Ellen Riordan sparked the attack with two goals apiece as the Quincy Girls' A hockey team defeated Malden, 9-2, Sunday at the Town Line Twin Rinks in Danvers.

Joan Lewis, Marie McAuliffe, Shawn O'Leary, Nancy MacDonald and Kathy Flynn had the other goals. Lewis and McAuliffe had two assists each and Gallery, MacDonald and Lauren Apollo one apiece.

Raiders Hope To Rebound At Weymouth N.

North Quincy's inexperienced football team ran into a buzz saw last week when it bowed to a speedy Taunton team, 20-7, at Veterans Memorial Stadium.

The Raiders hope to rebound Saturday at Weymouth's Legion Field where they face Weymouth North in their Suburban League opener.

Coach Dave Burke's North team could be in for another busy afternoon [1:30 p.m. kickoff] as Weymouth appears much stronger than a year ago and opened its season with a 19-16 win over Braintree.

North, a 6-0 loser to Milton in its opening game, was out-classed by Taunton, which had walloped Plymouth-Carver, 32-0, in its first game and now has won 10 in a row after losing its first two games last fall, one to North Quincy.

The Raiders' offense was again stopped cold and the defense was given a going over by Taunton's speedy runners, who gained nearly 250 yards on the ground.

The only bright spot for North came with the game actually over. On the final play of the game Kevin Cobban passed to John Wilkinson, who raced 80 yards to complete an 87-yard touchdown play.

Time ran out before Wilkinson scored the Raiders' first touchdown of the season. Kevin Greene kicked the extra point.

"Maybe that play will give us a boost and help perk up our attack," Burke said. "We just haven't been able to move the ball. I was pleased with the way Cobban ran the club in the second half when I saw some improvement. We have an inexperienced line and it just hasn't been opening the holes for our backs."

North went into the single wing for a good part of the second half and Burke is expected to use more of it in the future.

Wilkinson and Colin McEachern did well on offense, while Mark Robinson, Jim Hanfahan and Vin Furlong were praised for their work on defense. The secondary also came in for praise.

"We just have to pick up the pieces and put it all together," Burke concluded.

Ed Perry scored the first Taunton touchdown from the two and Jack Westcoat kicked the point.

Perry also scored the second from the two and Westcoat again kicked the point.

Quarterback Bob Gray scored the final TD from the two.

Ken Fisher, who scored four touchdowns against Plymouth-Carver, was a thorn in North's side. Although not scoring, he picked up a good part of the running yardage.

Joseph Berman's Sudden Death Saddens N.Q.-Taunton Game

Last Saturday's North Quincy-Taunton football game at Veterans Memorial Stadium was marred by sadness when Referee Joseph Berman of Hull collapsed in the second period and was pronounced dead on arrival at Quincy City Hospital.

The popular 62-year old official had just placed the ball down following a Taunton touchdown and raised his arm to signal resumption of play when he collapsed.

He was given emergency treatment on the way to the hospital but was dead on arrival.

Mr. Berman was in his 30th year as a high school official and was one of the most respected officials in the state. He had worked as referee for the Quincy-North Quincy classic for the past 14 years. He was formerly athletic director and physical ed director at Hull High School.

Everyone at the morning game, players, coaches and fans alike, were stunned by the unfortunate incident.

"It was a terrible thing to have happen and we were all shaken up by it," North Quincy Dave Burke said.

One of those deeply affected was Quincy Coach Hank Conroy who was watching from the press box and rushed to Berman's side.

"Joe was one of my closest friends and this is a great loss to me," Conroy said. "He and I officiated together in semi-pro ball and we were very close. He not only was an outstanding official but a true gentleman."

UP AND OVER — Quincy's Rich Gilbody goes over the top for a short gain in Sunday's win over Weymouth South. At right is the Presidents' Pete Cassidy.

MARK ON MOVE — Mark Giordani, one of Quincy's standouts in Sunday's win over Weymouth South, goes around left end for a sizeable gain. Giordani did some excellent running throughout the game.

[Quincy Sun Photos by Art Milmore]

Quincy 16, Weymouth S. 8

By TOM SULLIVAN

Quincy High's football team presented a potent one-two running combination last week when it topped Weymouth South, 16-8, at Veterans' Memorial Stadium for the first win of the season.

Coach Hank Conroy hopes to add a passing attack to go with the running Saturday when Quincy faces a tough Revere team in a non-league game at the stadium. Kickoff time is 1:30 p.m.

Revere, a Greater Boston League entry and a former league rival of the Presidents, romped over Haverhill, 34-0, in its opener, but bowed last week to Arlington, 21-6.

"We did some good running against Weymouth but we must do better in the passing department," Conroy said. "Mark Giordani did some great running today but didn't do much through the air. I put the pressure on him starting him for the first time at quarterback and I know he will improve his passing. He also is an excellent defensive player."

The Presidents' big gun against Weymouth South was Len Picot who, in addition to doing the punting and playing well on defense, was the workhorse on offense, carrying 25 times for 110 yards.

Giordani picked up 48 yards on nine carries and sparked the opening touchdown drive.

"Picot and Giordani did some excellent running and the offensive line was outstanding," Conroy said. "Mike Duggan, who has done a fine job for us for three years, was tremendous blocking and he did a great job against South's big (Chris) Lindstrom, who was much bigger than Mike. Don Heath, Rich Coose and Vin Harte also did well on offense."

"As far as the defense was concerned, Ralph Pickering, Dave Eastwick, Rich Burnes and Tom Conine did a terrific job."

Quincy was hurt considerably by costly penalties.

Quincy showed some weaknesses in pass defense and this will have to improve Saturday. "Revere has one of the best passers I've seen," Conroy said.

Quincy drove from Weymouth's 33 for its first TD following a short Weymouth punt. Runs of 16 and 13 yards by Giordani sparked the drive and Picot scored from the two. The kick for extra point never came about as the pass from center was bad.

Weymouth came back a few minutes later to take the lead, marching from its 45 following a Picot punt.

Quarterback Greg Burr sparked the drive with runs of 13 and 11 yards and he scored the touchdown from the six. The try for point failed but a Quincy penalty gave it another chance and Jim Hatfield rushed for the tie-breaking points.

The Presidents drove 60 yards for the winning touchdown, picking up four first downs in the process.

Picot carried on five occasions for 49 yards, including the final five for the score. Giordani started the drive off with a 12-yard run. Giordani passed to Rick Gilbody for the points.

Quincy Rugby Club Defeats Groton, Bows To Concord

The Quincy Rugby Club broke even in its first two games of its eighth season.

The team defeated Groton, Conn., 10-9, in the opening game, but dropped a 22-15 decision to Concord.

Quincy's winning score in the first game came when Colin Riley converted a 36-yard penalty kick with a minute remaining in the game. A 10-yard run by Dick Kennedy finished off a long drive for the other points. Durable forward Lou Trubiano played in his 85th consecutive contest.

In last Saturday's loss to Concord, Quincy scored on two

The turning point in the game came on the next to last play of the third period when a Pecot punt was allowed to roll dead and it stopped on Weymouth's one. It appeared the ball was returnable but no one made an attempt to catch it.

On the first play of the final period Eastwick tackled Mark Salvucci in the end zone for the final two points of the game.

Quincy had a net of 179 yards on the ground to only 56 for Weymouth. Weymouth, with Burr and backup quarterback Hatfield showing great potential, picked up 85 yards through the air with 5 for 12, while Quincy had only 24 yards on two for eight. Quincy had 10 first downs to eight for Weymouth, two of which came on penalties.

Prior to the kickoff, a moment of silence was observed in memory of Joe Berman, who collapsed and died Saturday morning while refereeing the North Quincy-Taunton game at the stadium.

runs by John Kennedy. Field goals by Riley accounted for the other points.

Quincy is led by its tri-captains, Brian Morrissey, Brad Martinson and Paul Wilson, along with veterans Chris Connors, Pete Barbadoro, Trubiano, Riley, Kennedy, Tom Quinn, Rick Bertoni, Peter Raymer, Dick and Paul Wilson, Doug Connors, Soupy Campbell, John Farin, Ken Perrin, Bob McCormack, Paul Hunter, Mike McElaney, Chris Reilly and Doug King.

First year players who have done well are Dick and Bob Kennedy, Ed Lee, Frank McGinnis and Mark Barry.

Quincy's next home game will be Oct. 8 at 1 p.m. at Merry Mount Park against Brown University.

Babe Ruth Tryouts

The Quincy Babe Ruth League tryouts rained out last Saturday for 14 and 15-year olds will be held Sunday at 10 a.m. at

Also, any 13-year olds who missed last Sunday's tryouts may try out at the same time and place Sunday.

North Girls Swim Team 'Optimistic'

North Quincy girls' swimming coach Bill Walker was greeted by a fine turnout of 35 including 19 returning lettermen.

Despite a 108-61 loss to Waltham in the opening meet, Walker feels he has a stronger team than last year and expects a fine season.

"I see our early meets as difficult because of the new swimmers, but I think we will come along," he said. "The girls worked hard during the summer and all returned at the same level they left off at last season."

"I am optimistic that we will have a favorable season."

Walker's Raiderette squad includes seniors Bernadette Feeney, Betsy Johnson, Kathy Leonard, Ann Joyce, Berth McDonough and Jeanine Rich, and juniors Ann Marie Boness, Marjorie Donlan, Cathy Murphy, Maureen Santry, Maria Sullivan, Barbara Toland, Donna Walsh and Linda Wilkins.

Also sophomores Sheila Beck, Cathy Boudreau, Marianne Buckley, Maureen Clasby, Elizabeth Leonard, Kathy MacDonald, Eileen McKenna, Carolyn O'Toole, Paula Stohlberg, Jill Sweeney and Mary Tenney, and ninth graders Ann Marie Conner, Lisa Costello, Carol Ann DeLuca, Julie Evanson, Marie Green, Kit

Harrow, Donna O'Toole, Joan Ouellette Jackie Pike, Karen Sorenson.

In the opening meet at Waltham, Maureen Santry won the 50-meter freestyle and 100-meter freestyle.

Taking second places were Mary Tenney in diving, Jill Sweeney in the 500-meter freestyle and Betsy Johnson, Kit Harrow, Jackie Pike and Jill Sweeney in the 400-meter freestyle relay.

The Raiderettes will host Randolph Friday at 6 and next Tuesday will be home to Newton. All home meets are held at the Lincoln-Hancock School pool.

ENC Soccer Off To Good Start

The Eastern Nazarene College soccer team is off to a good start under new coach Stafford Frederick with a 2-1-1 record.

ENC last Saturday defeated Nyack College, 4-0, with Bobby Hooper scoring two goals and Amos Santiche and Lowell Parkes one each. Tom Cnossen and Tim Lalone had assists.

In the previous game Stonehill handed ENC its first loss, 3-1, with Lalone having the lone goal.

Previously the Crusaders had tied Northeastern Bible, 2-2, with Hooper having both goals and Lalone and George Stinson having assists.

ENC had opened with an impressive 6-1 win over Boston State with Stinson scoring three goals, Brian Kilpatrick two and Hooper one. Lalone and Marty Trice had two assists apiece and Randy Calhoun and Parkes one each.

ENC will be home to Southeastern Mass. Saturday at 2 and Tuesday will play at New Hampshire College at 3.

SOI Bantam A's

Defeat Milton In Opener, 9-5

The Quincy Sons of Italy Bantam A hockey team opened its season with a 9-5 South Shore Conference win over Milton.

Milton opened the scoring but less than a minute later Rob Zanardelli scored the first of five unanswered Quincy goals with Chuck Marshall and John Toland assisting. The other first period goals were scored by Bob Beniers, with Mike Sullivan assisting; Rich Stevens, assisted by Kev Craig and Mike Quigg; Zanardelli, from Mark Boussy and Marshall, and Paul Flynn, with Beniers and Joe Rathgeb assisting.

In the second period Milton scored twice to cut the gap to two goals but Quincy bounced back with four goals in the third period. Dan Boyle scored with an assist for Craig, Rathgeb scored with Beniers and Flynn assisting, Marshall tallied with Boussy and Zanardelli having assists, and Rathgeb scored with Beniers assisting.

Squirt A's Win, 3-0

Quincy's Squirt A hockey team defeated Milton, 3-0, on goals by Mark Basch, Bob Kane and Jim Milano. Kane, Basch and Pete Furtado had assists. Tim Collins and Sean Toland played well in goal and the defense was outstanding.

Despite Saville, Barrett:

Tozzi Concerned Over North X-Country Prospects

Despite the acquisition of Quincy's top distance runner, John Saville, who transferred this fall, North Quincy cross country coach Lou Tozzi is concerned about the season.

"I am very concerned for a number of reasons," Tozzi said. "First, we have only one of our top eight back from last year; secondly, double sessions have left us with a squad of only nine, and thirdly, the Suburban League continues to be extremely strong."

Last year Tozzi's Raiders were 10-1, and were fourth in the state meet but lost Bob and Marty Levenson and Mike Morin, state meet medalists. North has been 28-7 in three Suburban League seasons with a first and two fourths in the state meets.

Despite the return of Capt. Mike Barrett, running as first man, and Saville, number two, Tozzi's fears were borne out in last week's opener as North tied Waltham, 28-28. This shouldn't prove discouraging, however, as Tozzi rates Waltham a title contender.

Barrett is the only varsity returnee. He placed 13th in Class B a year ago and was voted to the league all-star team after an eighth place finish in the league championships.

"A very hard worker, we feel Mike will follow in the footsteps of the outstanding distance runners we have had here since entering the Suburban League," Tozzi said. "Mike is not only a superb runner but a very intelligent student and a national award-winning ROTC cadet."

Saville, who sparked in cross country, spring and winter track the last two years while at Quincy, placed both years in the Class A outdoor two-mile.

Bill Murphy has proven the surprise of the team, moving up from the jayvee squad. He ran the 880 last spring and Tozzi is pleased with his progress.

Paul McCormick was the top newcomer in track last year but has no cross country experience. Tozzi feels he has great potential and will place among the league's top 20.

Rounding out the squad are John Ricciuti, up from the jayvees and greatly improved, and newcomers John McGuigan, Jim Coughlin and two sophomores, Mike Ricciuti and Peter Rizzo.

"My picks for the league title are Weymouth South, Brockton and Waltham in that order," Tozzi continued. "We are obviously concerned about our small squad, but we refuse to let double sessions or anything else act as an excuse for poor efforts on our part.

"We have a long way to go, but the spirit is excellent and we are looking for steady improvement toward a possible winning season despite our inexperience."

Saville was the winner in the Waltham meet with Barrett third, Murphy sixth and McCormick seventh.

The Raiders will be home to perennial power Brockton next Tuesday.

HN Legion Presents Junior, Babe Ruth Awards

Houghs Neck Legion Post recently held its annual Junior League and Babe Ruth League combined awards cookout for the post-sponsored teams.

A father-son game was held at LaBrique Field prior to the awards.

The cookout for the players and their families was prepared and served by legion and auxiliary members, headed by Post Comdr.

Mary H. Timcoe and Unit 380 President Jessie Morrill.

Junior League Coaches Tom McLaughlin and Ace Abboud presented the batting trophy to Kevin White. The Coaches Trophy went to Glen Oriola and the MVP award to Marty McLaughlin.

The Babe Ruth League awards, presented by Coaches Dave MacMillan, John Duffy, Art

Giordani, and Kevin Mitchell were: all-star certificates to Jeff Giordani, Dave Nagle and Dean Prescott; Coaches Trophy (the Ed Kenney Memorial Trophy) to Joseph Feeney, and the batting trophy to Dean Prescott.

Jackets also went to Feeney, John Casey, Prescott, Nagle and Giordani, who are graduating from the league.

Track Club Opens Fall Season Saturday

The Quincy Track Club opens its fall season Saturday at 10 with the first of six development cross country meets sanctioned by the New England AAU and open to any runner aged 5 to 15. Entry fee is 50 cents.

Age groups and distances are: Squirts, 7 and under, half mile; Bantams, 8 and 9, one mile; Midgets, 10-11, 1.25 miles;

Youths, 12-13, 1.5 mile, and Intermediates, 14-15, two miles.

The top five finishers in each group, boys and girls, will receive ribbons. The club is looking for additional members, especially in the 9 and under group for girls and 14-15 boys. For more information call Jeff Hennessy at 472-5537 or Mrs. Irene Kelly at 479-7032.

Forrester, Hennessy, Hester Spark Friars

Christopher Columbus High School's second straight football win Sunday again had a decided Quincy flavor as the Friars defeated St. Patrick's of Watertown, 20-6.

It was a big win, not only because it kept Columbus atop the Catholic Suburban League, but because St. Pat's is the defending champion and was the only team to top Columbus last season.

Quarterback Mark Forrester of Quincy did another superlative job and Quincy's Jimmy Hennessy, named as one of the Stars of the Week last week, came up with a key interception and made many tackles.

However, this week's Quincy Star must go to Bobby Hester.

Late in the third period with Columbus leading, 14-0, Hester was playing in the tough Columbus defensive unit and St.

Pat's was pressing deep in Columbus territory. Hester came up with a big interception on the 15 and sped 85 yards for the touchdown which iced the decision. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hester of Arnold Rd.

Columbus scored its first 14 points in the opening period. St. Pat's was on offense to start the game and on an attempted punt, Columbus' Jimmy McLaughlin tipped it, picked it up and ran 12 yards for the score. Forrester passed to Ricky Zizza for the points.

Jimmy McLaughlin scored the second TD from the three.

Also in the lineup was Sean Dennis of Quincy. The sophomore is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Dennis of Curlew Road.

Sunday Columbus travels to Hudson for a 1:30 league game with Hudson Catholic.

Midget A's Edge Lexington

Quincy Youth Hockey's Donnelly Advertising Midget A team is playing this year in the Middlesex League out of the Charles River Skating Rink.

In their opener the Midgets edged Lexington, 6-5, with Bob Hayes having the hat trick and Robbie Craig, Tom Joe Connolly and Tom Brennan a goal each. Connolly had two assists and Brennan, Bill Flynn, Hayes, Jimmy Sears, Chris Daley and George Mackey one apiece.

Also playing well were Scott: Richardson, Bob Malloy, Paul

McDermott, John Mullen, Mike Furey, Danny Gorman and goalies Bill Oakes and Jimmy Campbell.

Coaches are Dick Reinhardt and Boh Hayes.

Pee Wee B's Breeze, 12-0

Quincy's Adams Shore IGA Pee Wee B hockey team breezed past Milton 12-0.

Bill Hughes, Dave Allen and Bill Campbell had two goals apiece and Steve Denelsbeck, Jim Kelly, Paul Marshall, Tim Barry, Keith Smith and Kevin Greene one each.

Chris Hurley, Dennis Croke and Barry had two assists apiece and Brian Chase, Kelly, Smith, Steve White and Bill Glavin one each.

Quincy Property Part Of $7.5 Million Acquisition

Six parcels of commercial property in Quincy have changed hands as part of what has been called one of the biggest real estate transactions in the history of Greater Boston.

The entire deal involves the acquisition for $7.5 million of 78 parcels in 27 Massachusetts cities and towns, including downtown Boston, and two Connecticut communities.

The buyer is Interim Realty Trust, a division of Main Streets Realty Associates Inc. of Braintree, and the seller is Investment Realty Co. of Wellesley for the Arthur Nelson Estate.

The parcels in Quincy are located at 1468-1478 Hancock St., 31 Beale St., 9-19 Beale St., 29 Cottage St., 37-39 Cottage Ave., and 45-48 Billings St.

The Quincy Savings Bank is one of 10 financial institutions involved in financing the venture.

Bernard C. Cohen and Charles S. Rosenblum, trustees of Interim Realty, said Main Streets Realty will retain most of the properties with remodeling and renovation programs planned.

Creative Communications Sold To Vaporpak, Inc.

Creative Communications, a public relations firm with Quincy offices at 124 Main St., has been sold to Vaporpak, Inc., of Exeter, N.H., and will serve as the media division of the company that markets fuel systems, furnaces and boilers.

Vaporpak President Harold F. Cail Jr. said Joseph Freedman, founder and president of Creative Communications, will serve as chief operating officer of the media division and as public relations director of Vaporpak.

JOSEPH FREEDMAN

Freedman, a Quincy resident, was in charge of planning and coordinating the observance of Ruth Gordon's 80th birthday in Quincy in 1976. He has also been public relations advisor to Mayor Joseph J. LaRia.

Creative Communications, which was founded by Freedman in partnership with David Geller, a pioneer Boston public relations man, provided the first PR for Brandeis University, the Hebrew Rehabilitation Center for the Aged and the Israel Bond organization.

Richard Settles Committee Chairman For Glass Show '77

Richard C. Settles of Settles Glass Company, Quincy, has been appointed chairman of both the Tennis and Transportation Committees which will be welcoming thousands of visitors from all over the world to Boston for the Glass Show '77.

The fourth annual event will be conducted concurrently with InterGlassmetal '77 [IGM], at Hynes Auditorium, Boston, Sept. 30 - Oct. 2.

The Settles Glass Company was founded over 50 years ago by Settles' grandfather. "The exposures generated by this extremely important meeting will have a far-reaching effect on the industry in general, and more especially in our immediate area," Settles said. IGM is the first international industrial exposition of its type to be held in North America. It has been held bi-annually in Dusseldorf, Germany, for the past five years. The U.S., however, has become an attractive marketplace for industrial glass, as well as a home for extremely competent and highly qualified producers. By professional demand, the show is coming to this country for the first time.

Both shows will be devoted to flat glass, architectural metal fabrications and processing machinery, glass and metal handling equipment, and related materials.

William Craft Promoted At Reliance

William A. Craft, recently promoted to field auditor manager of Reliance Insurance Companies, has been assigned to the Boston Branch Office in North Quincy. His responsibilities will include the premium audit department for the entire New England area.

Craft is a member of the Boston Chapter of the Insurance Auditors Association. He joined Reliance in 1967 as a field auditor with 11 years prior insurance experience in two major stock companies, and in 1974 became supervising field auditor.

WHAT IS 'GRI'?

Have you ever noticed the letters GRI following the name of a Realtor? Not unlike the letters CLU which follow the names of some insurance specialists, GRI is the indication of a great deal of extra, concentrated study in all aspects of the intricate field of real estate.

The GRI title confirms that the Realtor has successfully completed the Graduate Realtor's Institute - a three year course of study given by top professionals in the field of real estate. It is sponsored by the prestigious National Association of Realtors and conducted by the state boards in 48 of the 50 states.

In real estate, the very foundation of success and the ability to render greater and broader service, is in keeping abreast of the dynamic changes occurring in the concept and handling of real property. The Realtor with the GRI certificate is doing just that.

The Campaign Trail. . .

Lack Of Consistency In Schools, Collins Says

Mrs. Mary Collins, a candidate for School Committee, says she feels a lack of consistency exists in Quincy schools in two areas - assignment of homework and emphasis on subject matter skills.

"School Committee members are elected at-large and in talking to parents from different sections of the city I find tremendous differences in these areas," she told a coffee hour at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Plante, Farrington St., North Quincy.

"When parents hear how other schools are assigning homework at elementary levels and how basic skills are treated in greater depth at other schools, they wonder why their schools are not doing the same things."

"Consistency in these areas is a must and it is the responsibility of the School Committee to insure that administrative policy with the school system will provide this consistency."

Mullaney Cites Background As School Committee Candidate

J. Thomas Mullaney has cited his background as a financial analyst and his experience dealing with large budgets as a plus in his campaign for election to the School Committee.

"This background makes it very easy for me to deal effectively with the $32 million school budget," he told a candidates' night at the Atlantic Neighborhood Association.

"The voters should be looking for balance on the School Committee. The current School Committee lacks members with a background from private industry."

Mullaney said that the three candidates up for reelection to the School Committee are or were employees of the federal government and two other members are or were educators.

"If Frank McCauley is elected to the Quincy City Council," he said, "the need for a strong financial man on the School Committee should be clear to everyone."

McCauley, who is president of the Presidential Cooperative Bank, has another year to go in his term on the School Committee. If he is elected to the Council he will have to give up his Committee post.

Reception For McCauley Oct. 4

A fund-raiser reception for School Committeeman Francis McCauley, candidate for City Council at-large, will be held Tuesday, Oct. 4 from 5 to 8 p.m. at the Neighborhood Club, Quincy.

Cocktails and hors d'oeuvres will be served. Tickets [$30 each] may be obtained by calling Mrs. Pamela Craig [471-8968].

Brownell Bill To Abolish MDC Posts Passed

Thomas F. Brownell (D-Quincy) announces his bill to abolish the posts of associate commissioners of the MDC has been passed by the State House.

"This sorely needed reform of the MDC organization has taken almost two years to secure the approval of the House," he said.

"It is my hope that the Senate will give it speedy approval. There is no reason why we should be paying four associate commissioners about $10,000 a year for about 10 hours of work each week.

"The only statutory responsibility of the associate commissioners is to approve contracts executed by the commissioner. Contracts, however, are already scrutinized by an in-house staff, so the work of associate commissioner is nothing but a duplication."
